MRS. MARGARET M. SMYTHERMAN

Mrs. Margaret M. Smytheman, widow of Thomas Smytheman and a former well known resident of this town, died Saturday morning, June 28, at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn. She had been making her home at 128 Winn street in Woburn with her granddaughter, Mrs. Alexander Hendrickson.

Mrs. Smytheman was 92 years old and a native of Ireland. For about 45 years she lived in Winchester on Swanston street, conducting with her husband a grocery store connected with their home.

After the death of Mr. Smytheman 12 years ago she had made her home with her granddaughter, Mrs. Hendrickson, and when the latter went to Woburn about a year ago, she accompanied her to that city. She had been in poor health for some time.

Besides Mrs. Hendrickson, she leaves a niece in Lynn, Mrs. Edward McGrath and several great grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from her granddaughter's home, with solemn requiem high mass in St. Charles Church, Woburn. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. FANNIE B. SPURR

Mrs. Fannie B. Spurr, widow of Thomas Sinclair Spurr, treasurer of Winchester from 1890 to 1911, died Tuesday, July 1, at her home in Hyannisport at the age of 89. A funeral service will be held Sunday afternoon at her late residence at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Spurr was born in Hyannisport, the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Browning K. Wood. She and her husband were for many years residents of Winchester. Mr. Spurr, besides holding the office of town treasurer, having been town auditor, a member of the Finance Committee and master of William Parkman Lodge of Masons. The family home was at 24 Grove street.

After Mr. Spurr's death Aug. 25, 1912, Mrs. Spurr left town and latterly had been living in her native town of Hyannisport. She was actively identified with the Unitarian Church while in Winchester, was a member of the Ladies' Friendly Society and of the Fortnightly Women's Club. She leaves a son, Rev. George Browning Spurr, minister of the Universalist and Unitarian Church at Yarmouthport.

LIBRARY TRUSTEES AND STAFF AT LIBRARY CONFERENCE

The trustees, librarian and members of the staff of the Winchester Public Library attended the American Library Association annual conference held in Boston recently.

"Is Your Library Alive?" was the general theme for the Trustees' Section meetings. A challenge to trustees was given by Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton, Jr., president of the Iowa Library Association. Following are some of the topics that were discussed by trustees at their group meetings: "Tendencies of the Libraries in Our Community to Provide Educational and Community Services Other Than the Lending of Books," "The Library and Community Relationships," "The Library as the Center of Community Activity," "The Role of the Library in a Democratic Society."

Mr. Ralph T. Hale, member of the Board of Trustees of the Winchester Public Library and Vice-Chairman of the Trustees' Section of the American Library Association was prominent in activities at the conference. Mr. Hale presided at a meeting for trustees of large libraries. One of the "highlights" for trustees was a tea at the Authors' Club of which Mr. Hale is president.

Each member of the library staff attended as many meetings as possible and particularly those devoted to the special type of work which each is carrying on.

Miss Janet E. Dewar, Catalog Librarian, attended sessions on Order and Book Selection, Lending Problems, Cataloging and Classifying. Under discussion were such topics as "How Well Does Your Catalog Serve the Public," "Interpreting the Catalog to Your Public."

Miss Cynthia Lawrence, Reference Librarian, attended round table discussions on reference materials and practices. Miss Laraway ushered at one of the General Sessions and was active on a Junior Members Committee.

Miss Doris Maxwell who is in charge of library service to young adults, attended two sessions on Young People's Reading. These discussions were tied in closely with the Section of Library Work with Children and School Libraries Section.

Mrs. Doris Lloyd, Children's Librarian, attended three sessions: "Library Reading Guidance and Cooperation with Boy Scouts," "Young People's Reading," and a joint meeting of the Section of Library Work with Children and the School Libraries Section. Mrs. Lloyd was an usher at the joint meeting. Mrs. Lloyd and Miss Evelyn Kivestrom attended the award giving at which two medals were awarded to two of each of whom wrote and illustrated their own book. The Newbery Medal was awarded to Armstrong Sperry for "Call It Courage" and the Caldecott Medal to Robert Lawson for "They Were Strong and Good. Each book makes a definite contribution to children's literature. One with its ideals of courage and perseverance, the other with its realistic American background. Each gives children a sense of the true values which need emphasis in these troubled times.

Miss Corinne Mead, Chief Librarian, was in attendance at the conference at all the general Sessions and every day at round table discussions on "The Public Libraries Place in National Defense," Adult Education and the Library, Public Relations, Wider Use of Libraries and Administrative Policies and Problems.

JUNIOR GIRLS' OFFICERS INSTALLED

Before a large group of members of the women's and men's lodges of the Order Sons of Italy in America, initiation of 40 girls of the new Winchester Girls' Junior Lodge No. 22 was held Monday evening at Columbus Hall. The ceremony of initiation was conducted by John Guarino, President of the Junior Commission of the Grand Lodge and Jerry Colaninno, Junior Commissioner, assisted by Pasquale Cagiano, Anthony Marino and Peter Nucio of the Lynn Boys' Junior Lodge.

Granting of the charter followed the initiation with the charter being presented by President John Guarino to the three charter members, Angelina Battilo, Josephine Tibundo and Mary Marchesi.

Installation of officers was then conducted by the Junior Commissioners assisted by the drill team of the Dante Junior Boy's Lodge of Lynn. The following officers were installed: Vice-President Mary Marchesi, 1st. Vice-President Josephine Tibundo, 2nd. Vice-President Angelina Battilo, 3rd. Vice-President Mary DeToro, Treasurer Josephine Tibundo, Secretary Mary DeToro, Public Relations Officer Rose Pantaleo, Palumbo, Past Master Beatrice Guarino, Katherine Palumbo, Sergeant-at-Arms Yolanda Sabatino, Sentinel Francis Uno.

ATTENDING MATHEMATICS TEACHERS' COUNCIL

The Star received on Tuesday of this week a visit from Mr. Arthur E. Butters, head of the Mathematics Department of the Winchester High School, who had come on from his summer camp at Bay Side, Me., to attend the meeting and luncheon of the National Council of Mathematics Teachers at the Hotel Vendome in Boston. The council met in connection with the 76th annual convention of the National Education Association, held this year in Boston.

Besides Mr. Butters, Miss Gertrude Carmichael and Mr. William H. Rodgers of the Winchester High School faculty attended the mathematics teachers council meeting and luncheon.

MARCHESE-LEBEAU

The marriage of Miss Denise R. LeBeau, daughter of Mr. Alphonse LeBeau of Gorham street, Lowell, to Ralph Rosari Marchese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Marchese of Holliston street, took place Sunday afternoon, June 29, at St. Peter's Church in Lowell with Rev. Joseph McCabe officiating. Music for the entrance of the bride party was played by Raymond Kelley and the soloist was Mrs. Ida Hatch, who sang "Ave Maria" by Millard before the ceremony and at its conclusion "Bless Them Father."

Miss LeBeau had for her honor attendant Miss Catherine Marchese of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom. Bridesmaids were Miss Grace and Miss Angeline Marchese of this town, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Nora LeBeau of Lowell.

Dominick DiCenzo of Milford was Mr. Marchese's best man, and the ushers were Russell Stott, Roger Stott and Victor LeBeau, all of Lowell.

Miss LeBeau wore an Empire style gown of white satin, trimmed with Irish lace and having a court train. Her veil of tulle was arranged with a simple cap and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and orchids.

The honor man wore pink tulle and the bridesmaids wore dresses of the same material, all wearing yellow, one blue and one orchid. All wore hats and slippers to match their gowns and carried bouquets of garden flowers.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was held at the home of the bride's father and a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Winchester. After a Canadian honeymoon, Mr. Marchese and his bride will make their home in this town.

The Isle of Pines

The Isle of Pines has an area of 1,180 square miles and a population of 5,000. It is located about 50 miles south of Cuba, of which it is a part. The land is virtually all owned by Americans. The chief towns are Nueva, Gerona and Santa Fe. The island produces citrus fruits, pineapples and potatoes. Cattle raising is the chief industry.

ELKS BLANKED AT LAWRENCE

The strong Roche Club blanked the Winchester Elks in an exhibition game at Lawrence last Sunday. The Roche Club has won the Lawrence City League crown for the past two seasons and early this year were expected to enter the New England League. They combed the offerings of Rex Kendrick for 11 hits while the Elks could get only four off Bernardin. Riley getting two of those, including a double.

MRS. LOCHMAN IN RECITAL

Mrs. George H. Lochman, organist and musical director at the Second Congregational Church, gave a recital Wednesday afternoon at her home on Kenwin road, benefitting a scholarship fund. Displaying her musical versatility, she presented a program in three parts, for piano, harp and organ. Each part of the program was rendered in a finished manner with a musician's regard for the varying moods of the individual selections. She was warmly applauded by an appreciative audience.

Following is the program:

Minus both its president, Royal L. Teale, and its chief harker, Edna J. E. Flaherty, the Palmer Beach Horse and Auto Association settled down to an unusually quiet round of matches last week-end. Extreme heat caused the play to be somewhat streaked, both with perspiration and mediocrity, but the team of "S. Wiloughby" and "S. some pretty fair pitching contributed by "S. Wiloughby" Mohs and "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, until he got tired.

The membership was considerably reduced by the high temperature and partners were changed after each session. The team of "S. Wiloughby" emerged as the champ of the day. Frequent mention was made of the defection of President Teale, and the hope was expressed that he was do-

Walter Benham and William Black won the John Abbott trophy emblematic of the four-ball championship of the Winchester Country Club last Saturday afternoon in a closely contested match with the youthful team of Harry McGrath, Jr., Boston College sophomore, and Dave "Tyke" Wilcox of Arlington.

Polly Kimball and Helen Carroll Won Doubles Crown At Longwood

The Longwood Cricket Club courts at Chestnut Hill last Saturday. The losers, 6-3, 2-3, 2-3, indicated that they had plenty of competition along the way, but their win was to a certain extent foreshadowed by their victory in the semi-final bracket. The first sister team of Percy and Barbara was defeated by the winners, who topped, 8-6, 6-4, in a tight lipped struggle.

Winchester Elks lost a tough 8—decision to Melrose in an Eastern Mass. Twi League baseball game on Manchester Field last Friday evening after leading 5—3 going into the final frame.

Joe McKee, on the hill for the Elks, went well for five frames, but in the 6th developed a streak of wildness, which, added to Keady's vicious smash that went through Albie MacDonnell in left for the circuit, an error and a successful "squeeze" gave Melrose five big tallies. Concan, Melrose hurler, retired the Elks in one-two-three order in the home half.

A matter of fact, Mons. Comeau pitched a nice game for the red uniformed visitors. His support was wretched, and aside from the two runs that resulted from Slicker Cos. soporific homer to the right of the handstand with Rod MacDonnell on base, the Elks didn't earn a tally.

The hitting of Keady, big Dartmouth boy at first for Melrose, was good for a couple of earned runs, but these aside, the visiting tallies were mostly on the seamy side. It was very hot, and the heat evidently affected both clubs though the game was a good one to watch. Demontie played a nice third base for Melrose and Slicker Coss made a couple of sparkling plays at first for the Elks though losing them both to Umpire "Mex" Kelley.

Taking full advantage of an ideal wind and weather week-end, the Snipes at the Winchester Boat Club turned out en masse to enjoy another in the unprecedented stretch of perfect sailing weather. Those with long memories may recall that up to this point last season, the weather man had dashed out a heart-breaking stretch of deluge, gales and dreary calms calculated to ruin the spirit of the most ardent devotee of the fish and bill.

Saturday's set-to offered the maximum in thrills and chills to those who like their wind on the strong side and their water generously sprinkled with white caps. The absence of ex-Commodore Simonds, whose string of eight consecutive victories had begun to build up heavy odds in his favor, brightened the hopes of some of his less suc-

The race turned into a spirited struggle against stout nuffs that kept the boats on their beam ends and whipped the small craft around the course in short order. Top honors went to Dick Merrow in "Don't Duck," 1940 champion, with Charlie Reeves, whose "T. Allegro" was hardly more than a few hours in the water, providing the principal competition. Complete results are as follows:

Sunday's race lacked some of the boisterous gustiness of Saturday's event, but what the wind lost in force, it made up in shiftness. To Dick Merrow, however, it turned in to another chance to give the fleet lesson in nursing a slight advantage into a commanding lead. Starting poorly, and enjoying only fair to mediocre luck in the first half of the windward leg, Dick managed to make the most of every shift and soon worked out a very comfortable lead. Ted Burlleigh in "Tea Bees" and Johnnie Maynard in "Bojo" provided the incidental competition.

The Golden Text will be "I am the Lord thy God, the High One, of Israel, the Savior." (Isaiah 45:1) Bible selections will include the following passages from Revelation 1:1-3: "Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy, for all nations shall come and worship before thee: for the judgments are made manifest."

One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon, reads as follows: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." "One infinite God, soul, mind, and nature, creates the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scriptures; loves the neighbor as himself; unites man and Christian duty; whatever is strong in soul, civil, political, and social ends, establishes the series; annals the chaos of man, and leaves nothing but the good, safe, he is unchained or destroyed" (p. 240).

HELGOLAND, BOMBED BY BRIT. FLIERS, IS GERMANY'S NORTH SEA SENTINEL

The tiny island of Helgoland, scene of a daylight raid by British bombers, has been Germany's North Sea sentinel for a half century, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

Lying 28 miles off the northwest corner of the German mainland, Helgoland is a defensive outpost for the ports of Hamburg, Bremen and Cuxhaven, and the Kiel canal. Once Helgoland is believed to have been five times its present size, but the sea gradually has cut away the rock.

Two-story town has elevators in defiance of the Versailes Treaty. Within these diminishing borders, the town of Oberland is huddled on one corner of the little plateau. The houses, overhanging a second part of the community—on a steeply sloping at the base of the cliffs, steps and elevators join the two parts of the town, which is inhabited by rugged fishermen and pilots and their families.

In peacetime a thin stretch of sandy beach projecting into the sea was a popular surf and sunbathing resort. Before the present war, however, the island was closed to visitors, leading to the general knowledge that it had been re fortified in defiance of the Versailles Treaty.

Helgoland was traded by England to Germany in 1890 for Zanzibar, an East African colony 3000 times as large. The exchange was ridiculed by some as an entire suit of clothes swamped for a trouser button. But the "trouser button" became a strong German symbol in the World War. Not far away, on a misty morning in August, 1914, occurred the first serious naval clash of that war. A British battleship, the Versailles, was wrecked.

Definitions of "Dollars" Joe Tunkins says one reason finance is so hard to understand is that the word "dollars" may have millions of definitions, ranging from ham and eggs to the equipment of an army.

STRUCK BY CAR ON GROVE STREET

Roberto Del Grosso, 61, of 33 Holland street, was painfully injured Saturday morning shortly before 8:30 when he was struck while at work on the water department job on Grove street by an automobile driven by Jost J. Michelson of 15 Grove street.

Mr. Michelson reported the accident to the police, stating that he was headed south on Grove street and going at a low rate of speed when the accident occurred. He and William L. Flynn, a fellow worker of Del Grosso's took the injured man to the office of Dr. Richard W. Sheehy where he was treated for contusions and abrasions about the head and body. He was afterwards taken to his home.

WINCHESTER RESIDENTS GRADUATED FROM DEFENSE SCHOOL

Five Winchester residents graduated last week from the Women's Defense School which has been conducted in Boston for the past several weeks. They are Mrs. Beatrice Balm of Blackhorse terrace, Miss Ellen Doyle of 282 Main street, Miss Virginia Hill of 51 Washington street, Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes of 7 Ravenscroft road and Mrs. Janet L. Walker of 24 Fells road. All will act as instructors in the Women's Defense School which will be organized early in the fall in Winchester.

The School was under the direction of Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott and her assistants will be Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, Mrs. John Kingman, Mrs. William L. Davis, Mrs. A. S. MacDonald, Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen and Mrs. Albert Haskell. They will make plans for the courses of instruction, place of meetings and the division of teaching responsibilities.

A Men's Defense School is also in process of organization under the direction of Samuel M. Graves, who will also work with a group of assistants. Graduates of the Men's Defense School which was concluded in Boston Tuesday will act as instructors.

Chairman Harold S. Fuller of the Winchester organization said this week that his organization is practically completed and that he hoped to have it ready for publication next week. Enrollment of auxiliary police and firemen is still going on, and the appeal for volunteers is still continued.

INDIAN RELIC

Selectman James A. Cullen of Bacon street brought to the Star of fire Tuesday afternoon what appeared to be the stone head of an Indian war-club. He found it along the bed of a small brook in the west of Cambridge street north of Russell's farm. Washed free of dirt it showed clearly where it had been hollowed to receive the handle of the club with a corresponding groove around the stone for lashing it firmly. The stone was fairly heavy and in the hands of a powerful savage would have been a formidable weapon.

Can't Compel Thrift

While an employer may compel those who work under him to save a certain portion of their earnings actual experience along these lines has shown that this practice arouses resentment and prejudice and that infinitely more harm than good is done.—Thrift Magazine.

There were 164,252 pupils enrolled last year in private and parochial schools in Massachusetts.

BOY SCOUTS
Troop 1

The American Legion troop of Boy Scouts have been active in outdoor activities. So far this summer, after a training hike to Mt. Monadnock, two major hikes have been undertaken.

The first three-day hike was to Waterville, N. H., where the climb of Mt. Tripynad was made. This was over the weekend of June 13, 14, 15. The following Scouts made in the party: Nils Anderson, George Hammond, Chris Morris and William Sullivan. Although it was rather a hard climb the boys all came through without trouble. Scoutmaster Stafford Rogers brought the boys home on many of the back roads of New Hampshire, giving the boys a chance to see some new country.

The next trip was over last weekend, June 27, 28, 29. This was a regular "he-man" trip as all equipment had to be carried. Friday the party left Winchester and proceeded to the beginning of the trail to Mt. Liberty about five miles beyond North Woodstock. The trail was then made to Liberty Spring Shelter, which is near the summit of the mountain. Although at the shelter was enticed by a family of rabbits who kept coming into the shelter to visit us. Sometime during the night they ate most of two pounds of cheese that had been put into the spring to keep cool. Who ever heard of rabbits eating cheese? These did!

After breakfast the next morning the climb to the summit of Mt. Liberty was made. Then the trip over the Franconia Ridge Trail was begun. This scenic trail goes over the summits of Liberty, Little Haystack, Lincoln and Lafayette, most of the way above timberline. Although it was quite hazy, many wonderful views were obtained. Through the kindness of the hut boys at Greenleaf we were given a hearty welcome and plenty of water which was very much appreciated. After descending Mt. Lafayette by the Old Berdell Path the party was treated to a heavy thunderstorm and had to make the best of it while Scoutmaster Rogers hiked the car.

After supper at Waterville camp ground it was decided to return home as it looked like a rainy night and also a rainy day. Sunday, the party arrived in Winchester about 1 a. m. tired but full of memories that will long be remembered. A hard trip like this one is always looked back on with more pleasure as time softens its hard spots. All are ready and anxious for the following Scouts: Rudy Fiore, Christopher Morris, George Hammond, George Sullivan; Scoutmaster Stafford Rogers, accompanied by Ralph Joslin, chairman of the Sons of the Legion Committee of Post 97, A. L. Ralph Jr. and Paul O'Keefe.

PONY ON THE LOOSE

Last Saturday evening Sgt. Joseph Derro and Patrolman Henry P. Dempsey, while on patrol duty in the East section of the West side were told by a resident of Arlington road that considerable damage had been done his newly seeded lawn by a pony that was wandering about the neighborhood. Subsequent investigation disclosed the fact that the pony had cut up the 4th and 5th greens of the golf course at the Winchester Country Club as well as damaging several other lawns on private estates.

The police rounded up the animal and Officer Dempsey, one of the police department's best cowboys, caught him on High street. While chasing the pony, the patrol car joined the casualties with a cracked windshield, resulting from a stone, kicked up and thrown by the animal's hoofs. The pony was returned by the police to its owner with a detailed report of the damage.

Community chest leaders gathered at the Brae Burn Country Club. Left to right (1st row) J. Chester Hutchinson, president, Lexington Community Chest; Charles Francis Adams, president, Greater Boston Community Fund; Mrs. Leslie B. Cutler, secretary, Needham Community Chest; (2nd row) Henry Hixon Meyer, president, Community Federation of Belmont; Robert M. Prouty, president, Hingham Community Chest; Harold A. Cahalan, president, Arlington Community Chest, Inc.; (3rd row) James Nowell, president, Winchester Community Chest; Henry S. Rothfeld, president; Willesley Community Chest, Inc.; H. LeBaron Sampson, president, Cambridge Community Federation; (4th row) William V. M. Fawcett, president, Newton Community Chest; and William H. Eckert, director, Community Federation of Watertown.

Winchester leaders and volunteer officials of nine other community chests, all members of the Greater Boston Community Fund, met for the first time last week at the Brae Burn Country Club in Newton.

Speaking for the 10 Metropolitan Community chests, represented at this meeting, William V. M. Fawcett, president of the Newton Community Chest, traced the development of the community chest movement.

"In years gone by," Mr. Fawcett told the 90 chest representatives, "volunteers did the work of nursing and tending to community problems. There was need for centralization of effort, particularly in fund raising."

"Our suburbs were all connected physically," Mr. Fawcett continued. "The people in the 10 communities thought alike, lived alike and worked alike."

SELECTMAN'S NOTES

The town hall will be closed all day Saturday, July 5.

The American Legion has been granted the use of the town hall on the morning of the 4th for a children's entertainment.

For the information of those organizations using the General Committee room, the Board advises that after Sept. 1 this room will not be allocated for advance dates owing to its demand by town committees.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. MacDonald of 10 Hill street was appointed registrar of voters from July 1 to April 1, 1944. John S. Pearson and John T. Horn have been appointed special police officers, at the request of the Park department, for the season.

Public hearings will be held on July 7 at 7:30 on the petition of the Edison and N. E. Tel. companies for locations for five poles on Grove street either side of Canterbury road.

In checking over exemptions for jury duty the following statistics were unearthed:

There are approximately 156 aliens in Winchester; 90 lawyers; 86 in military or naval service; 46 physicians; 68 teachers.

Etching Defined

Etching is the producing of original pictures by drawing on a copper plate covered with an acid-resisting ground; allowing the drawing, whose lines have bared the copper, to be eaten into the plate by immersion in an acid bath, rubbing a stiff ink into the sunken lines and then taking from this, by means of an etching press, a limited number of proofs.

Seat of Chin Dynasty

Until the advent of the airplane, Honanfu was considered quite inaccessible to invaders, and consequently its location was prized as a seat of government. In the third century B. C. it was the capital of the China Dynasty, from which the name China is derived. Some 200 years later it again became the capital under the Han Dynasty, at a time when paper was being invented and literary developments in China were being stimulated by the rulers. At various subsequent times it was used either as the capital or as a subordinate government center.

Honanfu's narrow, dusty streets are surrounded by ancient stone walls, relics of the days when all northern Chinese cities had to protect themselves against attacks from barbarians. On the plain just east of the city is the first temple erected in China to Buddhism. It is the famous "White Horse Temple," commemorating the spot to which literature of Buddhist missionaries was carried from India on horseback.

WINCHESTER REGISTERED 55

Fifty-five young men who had reached the age of 21 since Oct. 16 last year registered Tuesday for military service under the Selective Service Act at local Headquarters in the Town Hall. The local board also maintained an office in the Stoneham Town Hall, 40 signing up in that town, to make the total for this district, 95.

Volunteer workers at local Headquarters included Wendell C. Carlisle, Samuel M. Graves, Harry D. Bean, Mrs. Annie M. Haulon, Mrs. Sara F. Riley, and Charles N. Eaton.

Other volunteers who were ready to serve were not needed because of the lightness of the registration.

Mrs. Margaret Harbright was in charge of the Stoneham office and was assisted by volunteer workers from that town. The Board expects to have the cards of the registrants serial numbered by July 9.

HALF TON OF LEAD STOLEN

Meredith W. Palmer of 86 Main street, notified the Police Monday evening that approximately half a ton of lead had been stolen from a shed attached to the barn on the old Russell Farm, which he now occupies. He believed the metal was stolen sometime between 6 o'clock and 7:30 Monday evening.

The metal in small pigs, or bars, was packed in 100 pound bags, ten of which were missing. Police say the building had not been locked. Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy was assigned to conduct the Police investigation.

PAST NOBLE GRAND CLUB

The Past Noble Grand's Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge, 178, were entertained on Wednesday evening, July 2 at the attractive new home of Sister Bragdon, the former Margaret Parker at 91 Elm street, North Woburn.

The business meeting was presided over by our President, Sister Jessie Ripley and it being the final meeting for the summer, the business of the club was all disposed of. The club voted to drive to Salem Willows on the evening of July 29 for dinner and a general good time.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her husband and mother, Sister Foster. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of our president, Sister Jessie Ripley on Wednesday evening, Sept. 24.

The members left for home at a late hour, wishing the happy couple many years of happiness and prosperity as they journey down the road of life together.

DEFENSE SAVINGS CHAIRMAN APPOINTED

For the purpose of carrying out the National Defense Savings program it is going to be necessary to have a defense saving organization in every city and town in the country.

In Winchester the Board of Selectmen has requested the Civilian Defense Committee to assume this responsibility in addition to its other defense duties. This assignment has been accepted and Chairman Harold S. Fuller has appointed Maurice F. Bird, chairman of this sub-committee, Mr. Bird will be assisted in this work not only by other members of the committee, but also by the Public Relations and Planning Divisions of the Defense organization. Definite plans for future activity are now being made.

INJURED IN ANDOVER CRASH

Two well known Winchester young men, Everett Kimball, Jr. of Westley street and "Buddy" Metelodrick of Kendall street, narrowly escaped serious injury during the early morning of the holiday when the Ford cabriolet in which they were riding crashed into a parked automobile in Andover center. The impact drove the parked machine into another parked car, all three being badly damaged.

Kimball's machine, which he was driving, was completely wrecked and both he and Metelodrick were badly bruised and cut about the head. They were taken to the Lawrence Hospital where their injuries were dressed and later were brought home by Kimball's father, Fireman Everett W. Kimball.

VOIGT-FEELEY

The marriage of Miss Anna Sise Feeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Feeley of Andley road, to Henry Karl Voigt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Voigt of Lebanon, Ohio, took place at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, July 5, in St. Mary's Rectory with the pastor of St. Mary's Church, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, officiating.

Miss Feeley, wearing white tulle over tulle with a finger-tip veil falling from a Juliet cap of pearls and carrying yellow roses with baby's breath, was given in marriage by her father. Her honor attendant was Miss Amy Chisholm of Malison, Wis., and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Susan P. McLean, 2nd and Miss Susan Johnson, both of West Medford.

Miss Chisholm wore a full skirted dress of pale blue batiste with a matching hat and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers. The bridesmaids wore dresses similar to that of the honor maid, one wearing yellow and the other, aqua. Both wore hats to match their gowns and carried mixed flowers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, who assisted in receiving with the parents of the bridegroom.

Following an extended wedding journey through New England and Wisconsin, Mr. Voigt and his bride will make their home in Lebanon, Ohio. Both are recent graduates of the University of Wisconsin, the bride having been a member of Alpha Omicron Pi and Mr. Voigt, Psi Kappa Sigma. He is associated as an industrial engineer with the Remington Arms Company.

LUSIGNOLLO-JULIANO

Miss Elizabeth M. Juliano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Juliano of Irving street and Joseph F. Lusignollo, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lusignollo of Nahant street, Wakefield, were married Sunday afternoon, July 6, at 3 o'clock in St. Mary's Church by the pastor, Rev. John P. O'Riordan.

Miss Juliano was given in marriage by her father and attended by Miss Julia Vespucci of Winchester. Angelo Lusignollo of Wakefield was groomsmen and the ushers were Franklin DeCecia of Wakefield and John Juliano of this town.

The bride wore a gown of white mousseline de soie with a long veil of tulle and lace, and carried a bouquet of white gladioli and orchids. Miss Vespucci wore a shell pink marquisette dress with delphinium blue accessories and carried a bouquet of blue delphinium and briarcliff roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Upon their return from a honeymoon in New York Mr. Lusignollo and his bride will make their home at 64 Valley street in Wakefield.

We had a subscriber stop his Star last week—which seems to be news, since it is the first subscription stopped in months. He is leaving town. However, in the same mail with his discontinuance we received a new subscription and within the hour another new subscription was telephoned into us. This evening things up. The first of this week we placed three more new subscribers on our list. Winchester people evidently like the Star. It can be placed in your mail box with the full approval of Uncle Sam, since he delivers it to you each and every week.

This week's Star carries, for the first time, the complete organization which has been set up for local civilian defense. Under the sponsorship of a committee of 100 prominent citizens, probably more than have ever before joined for a common purpose, Chairman Harold S. Fuller has built an organization which is adequate to cope with any local emergency. Many members of the group have been attending State-sponsored classes for several weeks in order that they may be prepared to re-instruct other citizens in first aid and rescue work, in the handling of explosive and incendiary bombs, and in all the services which would be needed in any disaster. Evidence of the widespread recognition of the value of this effort is found in the readiness with which volunteers have enrolled for all types of work or have indicated their willingness to serve on the many committees. The organization which is now being used as a model and an incentive to other cities and towns in the Commonwealth, is a tribute to the standards of citizenship which have long made Winchester an outstanding community.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The Immaculate Conception Church has been granted licenses for amusements at the garden party on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Sheridan circle south will be barred to automobile traffic from 6:30-11 p. m. on Friday and from 2-12 p. m. on Saturday as a precautionary measure for the safety of pedestrians.

Lewis L. Wadsworth, Jr. and Harold B. Richmond have applied to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for incorporation under the name of New England Industrial Research Foundation, Inc. to be located in Boston.

Public hearings will be held on July 21 as follows:

7:30 on petition of N. E. Tel. Co. for buried cable in Grove street, west side, from a point approximately 12 feet southerly from Bacon street, approximately 90 feet to pole 11-2; and 7:40 on petition of N. E. Tel. Co. for buried cable in Washington street north-west side near Ridgeway, approximately 10 feet southeasterly.

The telephone company has been granted permission to abandon and remove five poles on Cambridge street, west side, from Thornton road, southerly, from 284 feet to 774 feet.

There will be a hearing on July 14 at 7:30 p. m. on petition of Edison and N. E. Tel. companies for joint location on Winthrop street extension, approximately 85 feet south of Myrtle terrace.

"TOD VON" ON THE OCCUPATION OF IRELAND

Along with comments by leaders of all nations, the following comment by Mr. Theodore von Rosenzweig of Wellesboro avenue, Royal Danish Consul in Boston, upon the occupation of Ireland by the United States Naval forces will prove of interest to "Tod" many Winchester friends. When asked for a comment by Boston newspapermen he said:

"I am sure the people of Ireland will welcome it as they did the British occupation. In these times of danger it is nice to know that Ireland is in good hands."

JUST LEONARD!

To the Editor of the Star:
A popular and well liked neighbor on Governors avenue played host to several of the neighbor's children, and their parents on the holiday evening.

After the last fireworks, sky rockets and such, had been fired, it was a most fitting and appropriate suggestion of this host to ask all present to join in singing our National Anthem.

It was none other than Leonard MacNeill.

CHART OF DEFENSE ORGANIZATION

In addition to the personnel of the Civilian Defense Organization as shown on the chart, over four hundred citizens have registered for volunteer service in time of an emergency. Unfortunately limited space prevents the publishing of this list.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Eleven members were absent from the meeting of July 10.

Summer vacations are in full swing and many of our members are taking advantage of the opportunity to see new places and change of scene. Also there comes the opportunity for many of these travelers to visit other Rotary clubs, make new acquaintances, new old friendships and acquire many valuable suggestions for the promotion of Rotary service, or can we say, service to mankind.

Visits have a beneficial effect on the faltering summer attendance record of our community. Time old adage concerning two birds and one stone is peculiarly applicable when our traveling members go a-visiting.

President Mal Bennett today announced that he had received a nomination for service during the year ahead. We note that every member of the club is slated for duty either as a speaker or on one of the committees or in an appointive position. Evidently President Mal has given pain-taking and thought to these appointments. His co-operation on the part of the appointees will assure a constructive program for club activities and a well rounded service program; pursuit of the well known doctrine of passive resistance will undoubtedly result in just another year of successful service to mankind.

Winchester Rotarians wish to have their club engage in worthwhile service and carry through effectively. If any member does even a little more this year than he did last year there will be no reason for regret when the year has passed. Yours for a big job.

Past District Governor Francis J.

Flag who acted as proxy for this club at the Denver Convention of Rotary International kindly consented to come to Winchester today and make his appearances at the Convention. He was very enthusiastic about the generous hospitality of the members and the excellent arrangements made by Denver Rotarians to meet the requirements of this great assembly.

The registration of more than 3500 was one of the largest of Rotary history. It was due to the favorable conditions prevailing in the eastern hemisphere. One Rotary consumed three months time in getting to Denver from the district of Lebanon in the eastern Mediterranean area.

Apparently the business transacted at the Convention was notable for the absence of highly debatable proposals rather than for the adoption of measures of extreme significance to the future of Rotary, and the future of the world.

The business sessions were conducted with a maximum of despatch and orderly discussion. Previous to the meeting of the International Convention Assembly, consisting of International Official and District Governors, held a week of intense sessions for the study of the instructions coming officers in their prospective duties.

The next Convention of Rotary International will be held in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, August 2-4, 1941.

Percentage of Attendance July 3, 1941-75 per cent.

IDA M. RICHARDSON POWERS

Mrs. Ida M. Richardson Powers, widow of Clark M. Powers and a native of Winchester, died Tuesday, July 8, in the Massachusetts General Hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Powers had been making her home at 36 Winthrop street, with her son, Ernest Powers. She was the daughter of Moses P. and Sarah (Martha) Richardson, was born Oct. 7, 1866 in Winchester and married a girl in the Richardson household at 125 Forest street.

Following her graduation from Winthrop High School and Bridgewater Normal, she taught school, first in Winchester and later in Waltham and Malden. On Dec. 22, 1894, B. Wilson of New York, and three marriage lived in Somerville and Medford. Mr. Powers died several years ago.

Besides her son, Ernest, she leaves a son, Ernest Powers of Quincy; a daughter, Mrs. Doris Harris of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and a brother, H. Earle Richardson of this town. Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon at the E. J. Gaffey Memorial Home in Medford by Rev. Harold C. Kelly of Arlington. Interment was in the Richardson family lot in Woodland Cemetery.

WILLIAM FRANCIS WILSON

Funeral services for William Francis Wilson, a native of Winchester, were held Saturday morning, July 7, at 10 o'clock in the Kelley & Hayes Chapel with Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiating. Interment was in Woodland Cemetery.

Mr. Wilson died July 3 at a hospital in Brattleboro, Vt., after a long period of poor health. He was born Nov. 16, 1881 in Winchester, the son of Capt. John T. and Pleasantine (Cushman) Wilson. His father was for many years commander of A. D. W. Post, G. A. R. of this town and his mother was one of the early presidents of the Fortnightly Women's Club. He left Winchester about 39 years ago.

Until his health forced his retirement he had been a farmer in Oxford, N. H. He leaves a brother, Earl B. Wilson of New York, and three sisters, Mrs. Charles Dawes of Oxford, N. H., Miss Jane Wilson of Concord and Mrs. Fred Ham of New York.

KELLY AGAIN K. C. DEPUTY

Mr. Dana J. Kelly of Mystic avenue has been reappointed District Deputy Grand Knight of the 14th district, including Malden, Arlington, Newburyport and Stoneham, by State Deputy Walter G. Powers. His appointment was one of a number chosen for their outstanding work in behalf of the order.

Mr. Kelly is starting his third year as district deputy. A past grand knight of Winchester, he has been active in many ways since he came to town. He is a practicing attorney in Boston and former Harvard football player, who, as a schoolboy, captained and quarterbacked that many believe was Winchester High's best football team, the Mystic Valley championship eleven of 1922.

The new deputy of District 21, which includes Winchester, is John W. Medwitt of Malden.

STRIKERS DESTROY WINCHESTER BAKERS' WARES

A baker's truck, owned by the Swanton street bakery of this town and driven by James Laungo of 19 Vermont avenue, was held up by five men on Main street at Campbell street in Woburn yesterday morning and its contents strewn around the street.

Laungo had parked the truck to make a delivery of bread at a store when two automobiles pulled up on Main street at Mann's court. Five men left the machines and converged upon the truck, seizing its contents, including 35 loaves of bread, and scattering them upon the street. Laungo offered no resistance.

The Swanton street bakery is not involved in the strike, being like several other small local plants, making their own bread and taking care of their own deliveries.

The Woburn Police were notified of the trouble and responded, but the two automobiles involved had left before their arrival. Numbers of both machines were taken and given to the Police.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Harold Costello, 18 Border street has been appointed a measurer of leather.

Interesting books of poems by English authors were received from representatives of the publisher in Bristol, England. There are several references to Winchester, Eng., and other points probably visited by our townspeople. These books will be available at the library in a short time.

WINCHESTER GOLFER ELECTED

Mrs. Maurier F. Brown was elected a member of the Women's National Golf Association last week.

LIEUTENANT BARNES ACTS AS AIDE

Lieut. Maribel Barnes of Ravenscroft road, recently graduated from the Massachusetts Women's Civilian Defense School, was in uniform at the second annual New England Conference on Tomorrow's Children, at Sanders Theatre, Cambridge, Wednesday evening, when she acted as aide to Mrs. Charles Payne Zimmerman, mother of Prof. Carl C. Zimmerman of the Department of Sociology at Harvard.

Professor Zimmerman, who makes his home on Cliff street, was in charge of and presided at the conference. Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, wife of the President, being the principal speaker. The theatre was packed to capacity, it being estimated that 2000 were present.

Mrs. Zimmerman and Lieutenant Barnes occupied reserved seats during the conference program, but were called to the platform just before the singing of the National Anthem, remaining there with the speaker during the singing. Lieut. Barnes, in uniform, stood at salute.

At the conclusion of the program both Mrs. Zimmerman and Lieut. Barnes were introduced to Mrs. Roosevelt and found the First Lady as charming a person as she had been an interesting speaker.

SELECTIVE SERVICE NEWS

Two additional registration cards, the result of a canvass of July 1 of young men who registered out of town, have been received by the Local Selective Service Board, and have been assigned Serial Numbers as follows:

8121 Louis Ernest Yeager, 9 Bacon street, Winchester.

8122 John Adam Finer, Jr., 14 Mystic avenue, Winchester.

The complete list of the July 1 registration with their local Sequence number and local Order number will be available and posted on the Bulletin Board of the Local Board as soon as the official result of the drawing in Washington is received. It is assumed that questionnaires will get out immediately that order numbers are available to these July 1 registrants, and that they will be classified as soon as possible.

The Local Board has received advice to the effect that no men are to be inducted from this area during the month of August, and that the next quota to be filled by the Local Board will be inducted in September.

Information concerning the advisability of volunteering for immediate induction by the July 1 registrants will be gladly given to the registrants by the Local Board.

WILL OF FREDERICK W. BRIDGE LISTS PUBLIC REQUESTS

Local institutions will ultimately divide more than $100,000 under provisions of the will of Frederick W. Bridge, late of 22 Wolcott road, who died June 4.

The will, offered for probate last Friday in Middlesex Court, names the testator's widow, Mrs. Alice M. Bridge as chief beneficiary. She is bequeathed real estate and $30,000 in cash, and is named as life beneficiary of a $100,000 trust fund.

After her death $10,000 each will go to the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion, the Home for Aged People in Winchester, the British Charitable Fund of Lexington, the Salvation Army and the Morgan Memorial; while $5,000 each will go to the Home of the Good Samaritan, the Annual Rescue League and the Home for Incubates in Ashmont.

Immediate payments include $2000 to the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities and the Royal Home Association of Melford; and $1000 each to the Home for Aged People in Winchester, the Winchester Hospital and the Winchester Unitarian Society.

SUMMER ART EXHIBIT AT LIBRARY

The Winchester Art Association's summer display is now on at the gallery of the Public Library is given this year by members of the Boston Guild of Artists. It includes studies in several media, the largest of which some of its predecessors is qualitatively another good show. Work by all favorites like Aldro Hibbard, William Raulin John Enser, Herman Dudley Murphy, Little Littlehale Murphy and Marguerite Pearson is shown with other interesting studies by artists not so familiar here.

Very clean cut is "Brice's Farm" by Loring W. Coleman with its house and weatherboard box-like barn in sharp relief against the sky, each set on high land at either side of a narrow rutted country road with a leaning mail box, dead tree and bit of washing behind the house for homely color.

John P. Benson contributes a fine marine, showing a tall square rigger with dark blue water under a white-sweet, pink tinged sky.

Action abounds in "Broken Waters" by A. J. Shelton, showing greenish-blue, white-capped rollers dashing in on jagged gray rocks under a sky showing patches of blue between heavy threatening clouds.

On a line by Arthur Spear is a fine study of a young girl wearing a loose green gown, perched on the limb of a tree with a large red and blue bird, a parrot, on its back. The Break Up by Aldro Hibbard is a striking winter study, done in white and green, showing a bit of choppy water breaking into the open between snowclad banks under low, lying overcast. The feeling of cold is successfully captured by the artist who is noted for the rugged strength of his canvases.

William J. Kaula's "New Ipswich Hills" is one of those panoramic landscapes he paints so beautifully. Full of warm natural color, lightened with the yellows and oranges of changing foliage, it shows farm buildings set in the middle foreground with blue hills in the distance under a sky of fleecy clouds.

Strongly painted with sweeping lines and fine perspective is "Late in the Day" by John E. Enser. The dull greens of the rolling country and foliage with the deep, cleverly lightened gray of the highland and the sudden sky hint strongly of the coming fall.

"Lady with a Guitar" by Marguerite Pearson is painted with a deft touch. It shows a lady in a voluminous lavender gown playing before a window with a patch of sunlight on the floor, a high-lighted green glass, a shadow on the window sill, and a small white cat in the corner.

Ernest Major has an interesting pastel study of woman standing in the shadow before a blue and white background. A study of flowers shown against a striking golden hue drape with several small pottery animals.

Herman Dudley Murphy shows one of his beautifully painted flower studies and there is another by his deceased wife, Nellie Littlehale. Murphy, whose recent work has been a touch of sadness to her study of iris in a Ritz blue vase.

Other flower studies are those of Elizabeth Taxman, painted with a soft silk being cleverly shown, and Henry H. Brooks whose picture shows an arrangement in a white bowl. Mr. Brooks' picture shows a fine study of Gertrude Fisk in an arresting snow picture, broadly done in blues and whites with touches of yellow and lavender for character. It shows a railing, gabled house seen through the trunks and branches of trees along a stone wall.

A Ballet Girl at the conclusion of her dance by Louis Kronberg, a fall landscape by Charles Curtis Allen and an interesting small study by an unidentified artist, showing gulls and water, are a real gem in the show. A lady, complete, a show that is well worth seeing. It will remain at the library through the summer and is open to the public.

OPENED SUMMER HOME AT SOUTH HARPISWELL

MRS. LAURA E. SOMES

Mrs. Laura E. Somes, wife of David A. Somes and for nearly 50 years a resident of Winchester, died suddenly Monday morning, July 14, at her home, 11 Glen road. She was stricken shortly after arising.

Mrs. Somes was born July 21, 1871 in Gloucester. She was the daughter of Charles H. and Hannah (Swift) Poirer, and came of a prominent old Gloucester family, her father having headed one of the leading wholesale druggists in the city. She received her education in the Gloucester grammar and high schools, she was graduated from the University of Massachusetts in 1901, and on Oct. 20, 1891, was married, coming to Winchester the next year. Until 1921 her home was at 24 Cabot street. Since that time she had lived at her late address, 11 Glen road.

Mrs. Somes was of a retiring disposition. Her interests were centered in her home and through the years, her chief concern was always for the care and well being of her family.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Fred C. Herson of New Bedford, and a son, Mr. Richard H. Goodwin of Arlington. Mrs. Judith Herson, Frank S. Herson, both of Winchester; and Miss Mary Goodwin of Ossipee, N. H. There is also a great granddaughter, Miss Gail Goodwin of Arlington.

Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday by the Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church. Cremation followed the services.

ALUMINIUM CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Harold S. Fuller, director of Civilian Defense announced this week the appointment of Forrest R. Cook as chairman of the Aluminum Campaign in Winchester. Mr. Cook is Director of the Materials Division of the Defense organization and is also manager of Filene's Winchester store.

The other members of this committee are Ralph H. Bonnell, Selectman; James A. Colton, Mrs. Harrington, Mr. Loring P. Nichols, Chief William H. Rogers and Cmdr. Richard M. Rush.

This national campaign for excess aluminum, which starts Monday, July 21 and ends July 30 will be conducted actively in Winchester by the committee with the cooperation of the War and Police Departments, boys and girls scouts and many other groups.

A public aluminum bin will be erected on Mt. Vernon street opposite the police station on the grounds of the Recreation Center where citizens may deposit their donations during the period of the campaign.

If a person is unable to carry their aluminum to this depository, a telephone call to the police station, Win. 1241, will bring a car to collect it.

The War Department has announced that aluminum donated by the public would go directly into the manufacture of aircraft, machine tools, kitchen, and sheds for old spare aluminum parts, utensils, broken fixtures, hair brushes, combs and mirrors, vacuum cleaners, cutlery, ice trays, thermos bottle covers, toys, waffle iron grids, etc.

MISS REEVES ENGAGED TO MR. SHEAN

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Everett Reeves of 10 Robinson park announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Emma Reeves, to Mr. David W. Shean, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Shean of Arlington.

Miss Reeves was graduated from Pine Manor Junior College and attended the Katherine Gibbs School. She is a member of the Phillips Andover Academy and was graduated from Harvard with the class of 1938, where she is a member of the Iphiomai and Phi Kappa Phi. She is an ensign in the United States Naval Reserve.

WINCHESTER BOY IN HARTFORD HOSPITAL

Douglas Edwards Injured in Automobile Accident in Early Spring

Douglas Edwards, former well known Winchester boy, now living in Hartford, Conn., where he is employed at the airplane plant of Pratt & Whitney, is still in the Hartford Hospital recovering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident early in April.

Sherman Dodge of Vine street visited Edwards last week-end and reports that the latter was injured when an automobile in which he and a friend were riding went off the road and struck a tree with terrific force. Increased acceleration was caused by the driver's foot being jammed between the accelerator pedal and a foot-rail as the car left the road, and both occupants were badly injured, the car being demolished.

Edwards sustained a fractured right arm and a bad leg fracture above the knee as well as multiple cuts and bruises. The leg fracture has proved especially troublesome and it is expected that it will be at least another month before he can leave the hospital.

FUNERAL RITES FOR GEORGE ROBERT BLAKE

Funeral services for George Robert Blake of 37 Grove street, widely known building superintendent who died at his home July 12 after a long illness, were held Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, officiating.

Business associates, representatives of the firm and employees of the Sawyer Construction Company of Boston, of which Mr. Blake was general superintendent, attended the services, and there were many beautiful floral tributes, indicating the esteem in which the deceased was held by his wide circle of friends.

Bearers were Mayor William E. Kane of Woburn, Michael J. McEneaney, William P. O'Connor and James T. O'Connor, also of Woburn, and John H. Murphy and John H. Murphy, Jr., both of Winchester.

Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Mr. Hadley. Mr. Blake was 50 years old and a native of Woburn. Educated at Woburn High School and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in New York, he had been for 35 years identified with the building trade in New England as a building superintendent, many large buildings in and around Boston as well as in other larger cities having been erected under his supervision. He was a member of the Winchester Country Club and of the Boston Engineer's Club.

Mr. Blake had lived in Winchester for 12 years, coming here from Woburn. He leaves his wife, the former Henrietta B. O'Connor; two daughters, Mrs. Richmond F. Bostwick and Miss Barbara B. Blake; and three sons, G. Robert, Jr., Paul G., and Kenneth A. Blake, all of Winchester.

MRS. WOOD LEAVES TWO DAUGHTERS RESIDING HERE

Mrs. Susan Freeman Wood, widow of William E. Wood and one of Arlington's oldest residents, who died on Wednesday, is survived by two daughters living in Winchester: Mrs. Dunbar F. Carpenter of Rangely and Mrs. James Nowell of Stratford road. Mrs. Wood died at her home, 25 Lombard road, Arlington, where services will be conducted this Friday at 2:30 p. m. by the Rev. Dr. Grady D. Feagan, pastor of the First Baptist Church of that town. She was born in North Bridgton, Maine, daughter of John Doane and Elizabeth (Brown) Freeman, but lived most of her 90 years in Arlington. She was a constant attendant at the First Baptist Church during the 50 years her husband was the organist there.

Survivors are five sons, John Freeman Wood and Howard B. Wood of Arlington, William Thornton Wood of Hudson, N. Y., Ellis Gray Wood of South Duxbury, and Oliver Winward Wood of Winthrop; two daughters, Mrs. Dunbar F. Carpenter and Mrs. James Nowell of this town; 13 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Sandy Bay Historical Society and Museum, Inc., will hold its annual silver tea from 3 to 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon July 23, on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Herman G. Halsead, 32 South street, Rockport. Instead of admission tickets there will be the usual silver collection.

Mrs. Eleanor G. Fornan of Danvers will talk on Bonnets.

Should the weather not be clear the event will be postponed. Inquiries to telephone Rockport 2464 will be answered 10-12 o'clock of that morning.

BREAKS REPORTED AT GROVE STREET HOUSE

The Police were notified last Saturday morning that a quantity of enamel and shellac, two paint brushes and a carpenter's tool kit had been stolen from a house in process of construction at 41 Grove street.

The house had been twice entered, according to information received by the Police, access having been gained once by forcing a cellar window, and again by forcing a porch door.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF Winchester Unit

"Can you use me?" These words opened the conversation Wednesday of two women who had never seen each other before. The speaker was a new volunteer for British War Relief, who, unaccompanied, unaccompanied, unaccompanied, had marched up on her own two feet to the central work-room. There she soon saw how the hours she could give each week would fit in, and in a jiffy she had met some of the quietly busy women at one of the tables and was at work. Her coming was suggested by a faithful and valuable worker who will no longer be residing in Winchester. She was filling the place in the ranks which she was compelled to leave.

Do you get heart sick at hearing people voice the cynical doctrine that human nature is unchangeably selfish, and that you and others do and think nothing that is not to your own self interest, national, economic, class, or party? Just for an antidote and a restorative, try a working visit to places like the central work-room for British War Relief or the Red Cross.

Each case of warm garments sent to Britain from our country now carries these sentences:

This case is sent with the best wishes of Americans to their friends in Great Britain. May they receive as much satisfaction in using these things as we have had in preparing them.

The Winchester workers have a three-fold satisfaction in what they are doing. First, the satisfaction of doing a thing that is thrifty, complete and pretty. This week's consignment had excellent examples of saving what might have been wasted. There was the sweater which somehow got itself knitted (once upon a time in the pre-war days when one knitted for her sight) but came out and went to the central work-room. Then a brisk and skillful knitter corrected the mistake and the sweater will be off against the son to his sister's business of keeping the shivers off somebody's young shoulders. But it won't go alone; it will go along with Winchester-made skirt that, haphazardly with its lovely blue, will make a pretty and complete dress for some war-robbed British woman.

In the same way a brown used sweater and two little beige jerseys, blouses were supplied with harmonizing skirts that made them pretty and complete costumes. Lengths of wool too short for a dress are, however, combined. But not haphazardly not as for mere thrift. Carefully and with good taste the scraps are being fashioned into pretty dresses.

Always all that the Winchester unit makes is done as for friends, for folks just like ourselves, as indeed we know they are.

What seems one small woolen article in your closet or bureau drawer can come to complete and pretty usefulness through British War Relief. On Wednesdays it will be received at the Epiphany parish hall; at all other times by Mrs. Fred Cameron, 47 Church street.

TWO ACCIDENTS SATURDAY

The first of two accidents reported to the Police on last Saturday took place at 11:15 in the forenoon when a Chevrolet sedan, being driven south on Washington street by Dominie Errico of 39 Loring avenue was in collision at the intersection of the Parkway with a Chevrolet coach being driven east on the Parkway by Leslie Curtis of 36 Oneida road. Errico, who reported the accident to the Police, stated that both machines were slightly damaged and that he and his son were injured, Mrs. Errico having been treated by Dr. A. L. Maietta.

Three passengers complained of injuries Saturday night at 11 o'clock when the Packard sedan in which they were riding, driven by Richard N. Beaton of 757 North avenue, Woburn, Pa., was in collision at the intersection of Church and Fletcher streets with a Ford sedan, driven by William B. Boyland of Chesterford avenue, Billerica. According to the Police the Ford was heading west on Church street and the Packard, entering Church street from Fletcher street.

Both cars were damaged and Barbara Martin, 17, of 2 Green street, Virginia McDermott, 15, of 52 Garfield avenue and Frederick H. Gibson, 8, of 3 Cleveland avenue, all of Woburn, and passengers in the Packard, complained of injuries to their heads. Neither operator was injured.

RUNAWAY CAR

Considerable damage was done to shrubbery and trees on the property of Mr. Amos W. Shepard at 12 Fells road Thursday morning when an automobile owned by an out-of-town party rolled down the driveway at the home of Mr. Ralph H. Bonnell at 10 Fells road and onto the Shepard grounds. The brass had been set on the car but somehow the car rolled down the driveway and onto the grade and through the Shepard shrubbery, finally being stopped by running into a tree. Fortunately no one was injured.

MAPLE LEAF FUND

A small but enthusiastic group of the Winchester Committee of the Maple Leaf Fund meets on Thursdays in the Unitarian Parish House for sewing and knitting. Visitors welcome. Come early and enjoy these morning hours 10 a. m. spent for the great cause.

Mrs. Grey will be on hand to furnish summer knitters with wool, or you may telephone Win. 1047.

Mrs. Marjorie Rousure, executive secretary of the Mass. Maple Leaf Fund, was the guest of the Winchester Committee at its meeting yesterday.

SONS OF ITALY INITIATE FIVE

At a recent meeting of the Winchester Men's Lodge No. 1580 of the Order Sons of Italy, Joseph Garcia, J. Fiocciello, Paul Lentine, M. Marone and Gaetano Mistretta, were initiated into the Order. Venerable John A. Volpe presided, and Dr. Angelo L. Maietta was the installing companion. The ritual used was the one composed by Dr. Maietta, which included his new theme song, both of which were used for the first time at this initiation.

The Outing Committee reported at this meeting that the outing will be held on Aug. 21 at Camp Fellowship, Amesbury. Bus tickets are now available and members and friends may contact members of the committee for reservations. John J. Juliano is chairman of the Outing Committee.

This year's convention of the Order Sons of Italy in America will open on Sunday, July 26, at Brockton, Mass. At least 300 delegates from the 131 lodges throughout the Commonwealth will be present, and the Winchester Lodge No. 1580 will be represented by Carmine Frongillo and James DeLuca. Opening of the convention will be conducted by Grand Venerable Joseph Gorrasi, of Woburn, at the War Memorial on West Elm street. A large wreath is to be presented to Comdr. John S. Mara of Brockton Post, A. L., in honor of deceased veterans, to be hung in the memorial room of the War Memorial and tribute will be paid to departed members.

Sixty three per cent of the $294,187, 229 paid by the State government for welfare relief in 1940 was contributed by the Federal Government.

NIEMAN—KELLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Kelley of Lechman street announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Christine, to Mr. John G. Nieman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nieman of Main street, Woburn, on July 3. Mr. and Mrs. Nieman will make their home in Woburn.

ELKS AND STONEHAM IN 3-3 TIE

Winchester Elks and the Stoneham Merchants, battling for first place in the Eastern Massachusetts Two League game, played a 3-3 tie Tuesday evening on Manchester Field, a real carian finish by the local men making the game one of the best of the season from a spectator's point of view.

The game was a pitcher's battle between the youthful Peter Provinzano of Winchester and the blue-jawed Mike Buono of Stoneham, and for five frames the latter had a shade the better of the going. It wasn't until the 6th that the fork-handed offerings of the sturdy Buono who seemed destined for a shutout if not a no-hitter.

Meanwhile Provinzano had been the victim of some very sour support which had enabled the Merchants to hang up three unearned tallies when ordinarily good ball would easily have held them scoreless. In the face of Buono's effective hurling those three runs loomed pretty big as the game wore along.

To Peter's credit be it said, he never faltered. Errors behind him only made him pitch the harder and when his umps missed what looked like a good one he simply kept his head and bore down.

Huono didn't keep his temper as well and he can attribute the loss of the game to this fact as much as to any other. There is no question that Empire Gentle missed a ball and then, but that is generally the rule in sandlot ball and the pitcher who can't retain his poise "irregardless" is at a disadvantage.

Stoneham put over its first counter in the second when Truesdale got a life as Coss juggled and finally dropped Rod MacDonnell's fly pop on a routine hopper, the runner going all the way around when Chase's hot shot to center went down Len Riley's legs. An error by Sam S. Provinzano, some loose throwing, Joe Dineen's hobble on a double play ball and a costly miff in the sun in left field by "Albie" MacDonnell accounted for the other Stoneham tallies in the 4th.

From then in Peter was master of the situation, setting down the visitors in one-to-three over in the 7th. Hurley threw out Peter to start the Winchester 6th. Rod MacDonnell drew a pass and brother Albie slapped one a mile-a-minute to right which the veteran "Jigger" Kingsley misjudged and finally muffed. Coss walked to fill the sacks.

Lennie Riley drove a clean single to center, bringing in the MacDonnells. Coss holding up a second. Peckham muffed up S. Provinzano's small little hopper at third and the sacks were loaded again.

Buster Kendrick was sent in to bat for Joe Dineen and hit a slow bouncer to center, which he strangled enough threw to first. Coss scoring the tying run. Joe McKee hoisted to D. Peckham.

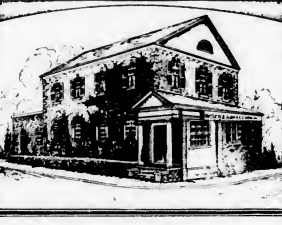

The Elks tried hard in their 7th. Murphy fanned, but Pete Provinzano dropped a single in left. Rod MacDonnell popped up to Chase, but Albie MacDonnell slipped the pass first and Provinzano reached third. "Slick" Coss worked the count to three and two and then hit a towering fly that Hurley bobbled up to end the game.

In the Stoneham 8th, the team Kingsley laid down what looked like a safe hunt, but Empire Gentle ruled the ball had hit him in fair territory and called him out, refusing to permit the runners to advance. Buono was then thrown out by Peter Provinzano at first on a very close play, the Stoneham boys receiving extreme disgust on both decisions. The summary:

NEW ENGLAND WEATHER

New England weather has a way of occasionally taking things apart. Which does blow the rest of the country occasional good in a telephone way.

The telephone industry began in New England where "the weather changes while you are discussing it." So New England Telephone people have always had to figure on getting around or through the weather. The telephone cable, for instance, was put through some rough roulets in this territory. New England weather taught early experimenters some valuable lessons that speeded the development of this important improvement.

Telephone communication is better protected from pranks of Nature than ever before. Some 96.7% of the 5,778,248 miles of New England Telephone wire are now enclosed in cable. More than three-fifths of that cable is below ground.

Such protection of your voice-ways against the New England weather is a year-round, year-after-year job of your Telephone Company.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Seventeenth Season at Camp Fellsland

Last week commenced the seventeenth season of Camp Fellsland, local Boy Scout Camp, located in Amesbury, Mass. Registrations to date top any year during the past ten, and the Council is undoubtedly going to have a very successful year.

The first week of camp was filled chock full of activities, supplemented by the Salisbury Beach Trip, the Carnival, Movies, Baseball, Croquet, Camp Rowing, and publication of the first edition of Publication 2 of the Camp Bugle, weekly camp newspaper. This newspaper was published for the first time last year, and is now a 10 page weekly, with all the official news of Camp. Copies are on sale at 5c per copy by writing Camp Fellsland, Coombs Corner, Amesbury, Mass.

For this second week of camp we have 92 scheduled. Regular scouting, including crafts, nature, pioneering, camping and water sports, in addition to the late evening campfire programs, are on the program of the week. Highlights of the week will be the Bird Hike, Up-river Trip, Dewy Sea trips, Surprise Beach campfire, Indian Tribal campfire, Auction, Masquerade, Movies, Visiting speaker, Fourteen mile hike, Games with Camp Powwow, and Initiations.

Wednesday night was set aside as annual meeting night at camp, with over 85 visitors, sitting down to a grand dinner at 7 p. m. Our new cook, Mrs. Hilda Magnusson served a delicious supper, followed by community singing and brief reports from the committees. A program of entertainment followed, with the guests leaving late after enjoying one of the best Annual Meetings mid-summer times at Camp Fellsland.

Indian Lore

For the first time at Camp Fellsland, there has been organized a program in Indian Lore. The program started off with ten Charter Members and in the course of the 12 days has grown immensely. The ten Braves now finished making their Indian head dress and held their initiation at the Indian Campfire. The organization is: Douglas, Sugamores, Mohawks, headed by the Good Indian Council. From the way things are going, it looks like a goodly number of Indians at Camp this year.

The next weeks of camp are nearly filled to capacity, and any boys wishing to register should do so immediately.

RED CROSS SWIMMING AND LIFE SAVING

Next week Wednesday afternoon the Red Cross Swimming instructor has planned some fun for the swimming classes in the form of a swimming meet with some boys and girls from one of the neighboring towns. The Park Department of the town is cooperating in plans for the meet. The events are for both boys and girls and will begin about 3:00 p. m. according to the present arrangement. Some of the outstanding swimmers this year are:

Edith Dover, Anna Moffette, Shirley Brackett, June Murray, Helen McGowan, Rose McGowan, Richard Eric Creedon, Frank Power, Robert McGrath, Ed McGrath, Happy Wilson.

Those who are showing great improvement are: Thomas McGowan, Paul McGowan, Jack Foley, Phyllis Lindberg, Charles Watson, Jim Young, Patricia McElhinney, Marie Frotten, Mildred Spofford, Emily Spofford, Billy Thomas, Carole Hawkins, John Nebecker, Madeline Dyson, Franceline Cullen, Joan Capone, Lorraine Lafontaine, and David Shiverick.

At the present time June Moffette and Edith Dover are hard at work preparing an exhibition of Chinese Life Saving for the final Swimming Carnival. Low water in the Leonard Pool has been accounted for by some painstaking work on the part of Thomas McGowan who has discovered that bottom infiltration has been seriously affected by illegal damming of certain waters near their source. This week Friday, Edith Dover is entered in a Junior 50 Yard Free Style event where she will be up against some of the top ranking Massachusetts Juniors at Canobie New Hampshire. The meet starts at 8:00 p. m. In both bath houses at Leonard and Wedge can now be found a summary of all events boys and girls for the final swimming meet of the Red Cross season August 23rd.

Massachusetts motorists apparently are anticipating a shortage in new automobiles for the coming April 21-29 passenger cars were sold in the State compared with 15,716 in April last year.

The State Planning Board, with the co-operation of the National Park Service of the United States Department of the Interior, has just completed and published a comprehensive study of recreational facilities and needs in Massachusetts.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Last Tuesday morning a group of 125 children from both Leonard Field and Loring avenue playgrounds left Winchester by bus to spend the day at Nahant Beach. The better part of the morning was spent in the water, after which the children did full justice to some very hearty lunches. The afternoon was spent playing games on the beach and all reluctantly left at a late hour asking for more picnics.

The Senior League is showing some red hot basketball these days as the winner is going to be the recipient of a White Mountain overnight trip. At the present writing the Cubs and Elks tied for first place with the former team having a percentage edge in games played and won. The Millionaires, who lost a close game at Wakefield by a 4-3 score are in third place having lost one game, in league competition. The Shamrocks have an opportunity to move out of fourth place this week as they are reputed to be getting some new men. The Orioles and Rotary are tied for the collar.

The outstanding prospect of the baseball season is a young man named Bob Goddu, a second team high school pitcher, who appears to possess every qualification that a young pitcher needs. The writer has worked with a score of pitchers including Francis Tansey, Artie Johnson, Pete Provizano, and Mark Kelley. None ever had a better arm than Bob and it is this writer's prediction that a brilliant pitching future awaits this bespectacled mound star.

The baseball roll of honor this week includes the following names: Joe Errico, the stellar second baseman of the Millionaires, who gave a startling performance in the Wakefield game; Charles Slack of the same team who bids fair to become another Ted Williams; and "Sunny" Walsh of the Cubs who certainly shows that he is a chip off the old block when it comes to rearing around the bases.

In the Junior League the Wildcats and the Giants are tied for first place, Downey and "Pytkak" Keefe of the Giants and Stan Dolbs and Billy Mearls of the Wildcats were the sluggers for their respective teams last week.

In the Junior League the Bees have a comfortable lead over the aggressive rivals the Pirates. A new team from Canal street under the capable management of Tommy McGowan is entering this ground and the competition is going to be much keener.

Classes in model boat building under the direction of Mr. Moody have started and are well filled.

PUBLIC LIBRARY AN INVITING PLACE

The Winchester Public Library is especially inviting at this time of year. The building is cool and quiet and abounds in things of interest for its patrons.

The newer books are more readily available because while people are vacationing away from town those who remain in Winchester have the advantage of finding many of the current books on the shelves.

There is a fine collection of current magazines for use in the library while the periodicals issues are available for home use.

Now is a good time to become acquainted with the handbooks and other reference books so that when the busy fall and winter seasons arrive they will find you prepared to meet the challenges of club programs and study groups. The summer time is right for leisurely exploring your public library.

If you have visitors in your home, why not bring them to the library to see the fine building and the many interesting things that it houses? The water color paintings now on view in the art gallery will remain through July and August. These are from the Boston Society of Water Color Artists. The permanent collection of paintings and etchings by Winchester Artists, the replica of King Arthur's Round Table, the murals and other objects of art are all worthy of inspection. In the balcony facing the mural are to be found the working drawings used by the artist, A. Lassalle Ripley, in doing the mural that depicts the "Purchase of Winchester from the Indians."

It is suggested that persons visiting the library ask at the desk for a list of interesting things that may be seen.

The percola on the library lawn overlooking the Aberjona River is a pleasant place in which to read or write or paint. Tables and chairs are placed in the percola every pleasant day so that people may enjoy the peace and pleasant surroundings. Books and magazines may be charged at the main desk in the library for use in the outdoor reading room.

In planning a vacation hooks can be of service. Places to go, things to see, how to arrange for a thousand and one other bits of information are available in books that may be borrowed from your library.

For the person returning on vacation it is fun to read about places and things that you have seen. Doing so prolongs the pleasure and tempts happy thoughts in planning for future trips and holidays.

This is the season when books may be taken out for an extended period. Winchester people vacationing away from town may take any reasonable number of books. It is necessary to ask to have such books charged on the vacation plan so that they will not become extra charges. Two weeks time. The library is glad to mail books to Winchester people if a deposit is made to cover postage. Books from non-vacation lists may be sent or the librarian will select books for individuals. To date about 700 books are out on the vacation plan. The summer reading lists are available to patrons of the Young People's Library.

This is a good time to "catch up" on things that you have always meant to read!

A $400 Gift for U.S.O.—District Attorney Robert F. Bradford of Middlesex County, chairman of the Greater Boston Committee of the United Service Organizations, (standing), receives a check for that amount from Harold E. Fellows, general manager of Station WEEL, Boston. The check represents the station's donation to the $10,765,000 fund now being raised to staff and operate 360 service clubs for men in uniform on leave from Army posts and Navy training stations. Mr. Bradford is thanking Mr. Fellows not only for the check but for the station's generous donation of radio time during the U.S.O. campaign.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION GARDEN PARTY

While rain fell intermittently through Saturday afternoon and evening it failed to dampen the ardor of the big crowds that attended the second day of the big Garden Party in aid of the Immaculate Conception Parish on the church grounds at Sheridan circle. Gaily colored electric lights and decorated booths in the midway made a festive setting for the affair which moved successfully, both in a social and financial sense.

Games and novelty events occupied the attention of the children during the afternoon on Saturday and commencing at 5 o'clock supper was served by the Catholic Daughters of America under the direction of Miss Helen Regan. Despite the threatening weather the grounds were crowded at closing time Saturday night.

Weather conditions Friday were ideal and big crowds were on hand that evening. The pastor of the church, Rev. Fr. James Fitzsimons, was honored head of the many committees who worked hard to ensure the success of the party.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The "Union Signal" of May 31 gives an account of "Move Launched by Clergy for Peace Through Mediation." More than two thousand people crowded the auditorium in Orchestra Hall in Chicago on May 28. The speaker was the world famed missionary, Dr. E. S. Jones, constantly interrupted by prolonged applause. With less than half a dozen dissenting voices, this Resolution was adopted:

Resolution to the President of the United States:

We earnestly petition the President of the United States to use the great powers of his office to keep this nation out of the war now raging in Europe, Asia, and Africa. We make bold to present this petition in view of the Presidents repeated and solemn promises that the armed forces of the United States would not become involved in the war.

We note with anxious apprehension that the policy of aid to Britain carried the nation to the brink of belligerent participation, and that the country and the President now face a crucible decision which will profoundly affect the destiny of America. We affirm our conviction that America's responsibility to the world is to keep her out of the war. We implore the President to require the maintenance of her own peace and the preservation of her democratic way of life.

We implore the President to revive the role of mediator for himself and our nation, and to adopt no further policy in aid to Britain which will carry the hazard of American participation in the war. The American people are overwhelmingly opposed to belligerent participation, and we look with grave concern at any action by the Government which will plunge a divided nation into war.

Dr. Albert W. Palmer, President of Chicago Theological Seminary and chairman of the Ministers No War Committee states their purpose. To help keep America out of war and to demand that the United States take the lead in seeking to negotiate peace in Europe.

They plan mass meetings to be held across the country under church auspices as long as necessary. Most of us are not pacifists. The plan evolved of a retreat at Chicago Theological Seminary conducted by Dr. J. Edgar Hoover.

Formal announcements state that in America formal hour of decision 28 Christian leaders are working with their might to keep America out of war.

Arrange for a meeting in your city. Organize! Publicize! Register your will in Washington, they say. The Union Signal is in the Winchester Library.

EIGHT PRESIDENTS STARTED WITHOUT INAUGURATION

While Franklin D. Roosevelt experienced his third gala public inauguration and inaugural parade up Pennsylvania Avenue, historians recalled that not all presidential inaugurations have been inaugurated. Eight men have had to enter upon their duties as Chief Executive of the United States without large public inaugurations. They are listed in a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Only two of the eight were re-elected and given an inaugural celebration on the second occasion.

John Calvin Coolidge, then Vice President, was quietly sworn in as President of the United States by his father-in-law, a Notary Public, after the death of Harding in 1923. After his return to the White House by the next election, Coolidge was regularly inaugurated at Washington. Theodore Roosevelt's presidential career was a somewhat beginning and second chapter. He rushed to Buffalo, N. Y., from a hunting trip in the Adirondacks to be sworn in as President after McKinley's assassination, and four years later had a Washington inaugural.

Washingtonians well remember how President Taft was cheered out of a lavish public inaugural by a severe blizzard, that drove the curtailed ceremony indoors to the Senate Chamber. Rutherford B. Hayes, after his challenged election had been awarded to him by a special electoral commission recounting the votes of several States, was privately inaugurated at the White House in 1877 late on the Saturday night of March 3.

The four other men who entered the White House without a large public inauguration were Vice Presidents taking over upon the death of their chiefs. After the one-month term of Harrison, John Tyler was sworn in as President at the Indian Queen, Hotel, also known as Brown's, on Pennsylvania Avenue six blocks northwest of the Capitol. Fillmore, succeeding Taylor, took his oath of office in the Capitol in what was the Blue Chamber, now Statuary Hall. A few hours after Lincoln died on 10th Street, Andrew Johnson was sworn in at a block away in the Kirkwood Hotel, on the site now occupied by the assassinated President Garfield, in New Jersey, General Arthur took the President's oath in New York City at his home on Lexington Avenue.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Seven members were absent from the meeting of July 17, three of whom are out of town. We anticipate several more make-ups.

Harry Winn is on his way home but still has about 200 miles to travel before we can greet him. He has forwarded a make-up notice from Victoria, B. C. Charlie Murphy and George Webb, reports from Kennebunk, Me., and Pat Walsh had grand times both on his trip north and his visit to Woburn Rotary.

Past President Ralph is noted for his excellence as an after-dinner speaker and graciously consented to address the club today to explain various reasons for his success as an active and useful citizen in our thriving community. Why, then, should club members arise in a body and rush for the exit immediately on Ralph's introduction in the role of speaker? We have never excellently in the line of solving riddles and therefore are content merely to state the facts of the case. But naturally we are a bit bewildered.

We take pleasure in announcing that the summer assembly of District 196 will be held at the Winchester Country Club on Tuesday, July 29 with the Rotary Club of Winchester acting as host to the assembly. Naturally we feel that our club has been accorded a signal honor by reason of its selection for this important duty. There are many circumstances have been such that club has been given a very short arrangement in which to make necessary arrangements for the occasion. The selection of the assembly but this difficulty is being overcome by the enthusiastic support of club members who are taking the time to have everything in readiness at the time appointed.

The purpose of the annual District Assembly in the early months of the Rotary year is to provide means for the instruction of newly during their term of office. Therefore the assembly is concerned mainly with the business at hand and lacks certain of the social features characteristic of the district conclaves, conferences and banquets so vital to the continued progress of Rotary. The coming assembly will be held at the Winchester Country Club and will be held on Tuesday, July 31.

Every Rotarian will be welcome to attend the entire program with special emphasis on club officers and committee chairmen. The Winchester club has determined to merge its regular weekly meeting of July 31 with that of the assembly and it is particularly requested that every Winchester Rotarian who is in town shall be present to welcome in person our prospective visitors, offer them the hospitality of the club, which comprise District 196, District Governor Frederic R. Willard and his staff.

July 24, when he will be prepared to announce fairly complete details of the assembly. Don't miss this meeting. All constructive suggestions for bettering our preparation will receive careful attention. Winchester has been given an opportunity in the interests of a great organization which stands for unselfish service of world-wide proportions. We must really do our best.

Percentage of attendance, July 19, 80 per cent.

Edwin Mackay, first mate on the S. S. Holland, of the freighter which docked in Boston yesterday with the 22 survivors of the torpedoed American freighter Robin Moor, was in town yesterday.

She and her husband were among those who greeted him at his Belmont home last night. He is sailing today for New York.

Mrs. C. C. Atwood of Swan road were among the guests at Digby Pines, Digby, N. S., who participated in the symposium held on Digby Neck Wednesday. Guests attended as clowns, fishermen, policemen and sailors took part in a long list of sports.

Mr. Patrick E. Croughwell, veteran employee of the Health Department, commences his annual vacation Monday and is reported as headed for Charlottesville, P. E. I.

The postponed Junior Legion baseball game scheduled for last night will be played tonight on Manchester Field. The 4 in Winchester caption nine is also playing tonight on Leonard Field.

Work was begun the first of the week on the removal of the old houses at the northerly end of Horn Pond in Woburn. It was expected that the 6 houses would be torn down and removed within a week or thereabouts.

The houses, which must have stood on the shores of the pond for at least half a century, were for years owned by the late George W. Conroy, who finally sold out to the Metropolitan Life Company. The cutting and storing of ice at the pond was discontinued a few years ago and the houses have been idle. Their removal will greatly improve the appearance of the pond and its surroundings.

Reclining on the porch of the old house on Widge Pond located at the rear of the residence of Contractor Thomas Quinn, Jr., it burned down years ago and was never replaced. Parts of the old foundation may be seen today and occasionally some of the old timbers was used in the house is turned up.

BABY SEAL AT STONEHAM

The baby seal picked up in Boston Harbor several weeks ago by Contractor George M. Byrne and kept at his home on Copley street until recently, is now at the Middlesex Fells Zoo in Stoneham. The little fellow is the sickly seal, constant attention and particularly likes to be picked up and held. If ignored by any one near him, he will cry until noticed or if possible, crawl over to where he can touch the person whose attention he wishes to attract.

The Vichy government has apparently bowed to Japan's demands and is giving it French Indo-China. The honors of France must be preserved.

The social security donation for the welfare of the nation from this office amounted to $149.06 this month. We don't get any of it though.

With everybody getting it, the railroad workers are now casting their in the ring and demanding more money. The bakers-strikers are now staging their battles in front of police stations. The aluminum strike, so satisfactorily settled months ago, seems to have been a good thing if all factors are considered—including the public donations so freely coming in. Non-strikers should step up peremptory, now is the time.

Several of our citizens have commented this week upon the failure of securing anything like 100 per cent response to the drive for old aluminum in Winchester at this time of year. It is true that many houses are closed right now, making it impossible to get much aluminum which otherwise would find its way into the bin at the Recreation Center. The hands of local collectors. That the town will meet its obligation goes without saying. Winchester is like that! But its contribution will not be as heavy as it would be at a more auspicious time.

To us the important news of the day is the report that a United States Senator sent out a million post cards under his franking privilege. To us that is quite an item. Furthermore it appears that some, if not many, of these post cards went to army men and officers. This appears to be an improvement upon the Russian system. In the Russian system the soldiers meet and decide whether they will fight or not. Of course neither Italy nor Germany allow such mail. In the Russian system, but here in the good old U. S. A., patterned after democratic lines, it appears that the closer we approach Russian lines, the more methods the nearer we are to utopia.
By the time we finish with strikes, overcoming material and labor shortages, and iron and steel and other bottlenecks, the war will cease to hold much interest. Apparently we can place every confidence in our great leaders in Washington.

NEW ROAD MARKINGS

Many car drivers have noticed the recently erected road markings about the State. Few of them have been able to interpret them. The new signs with the markings "P4 or P5" etc., have been puzzling. Recently at the State Department of Public Works reveals that they refer to the new "pleasure routes" as defined by the recently issued regulations of the department. These routes lead to various historical places in Massachusetts.
Thus if you are making a trip to Plymouth, to Provincetown, Dorchester or Gloucester, you may, by following the simple "pleasure route" marking, reach your objective by a direct and scenic route. The marking recently issued may be obtained of the Public Works Department.

Another sign found in various parts of the State, usually close to adjacent to our army camps, reading
"Off Limits" are posted in connection with the maneuvers of the army.
In carrying out these maneuvers there is restricted territory wherein such maneuvers may not be carried out.

CONSTANCE BENNETT'S MES- SAGE TO THE LADIES OF WINCHESTER

My Dear Friends:
As part of my campaign to become better acquainted with the users of my cosmetics and to create a new co-operation of the Winchester Theatre, Winchester, a complete 15 piece set of my personal cosmetics absolutely free.

To every lady who attends the Winchester Theatre on Wednesday, matinee or evening performance, and purchases an evening price, will be given a different article in the set, each week. These are not sample sets, but the full-size retail packages and are worth well over $17.50 each.
The complete set retails for $12.15 and will bring to your dressing table the same cosmetics that are on mine.
I know that once you have tried these specially produced beauty aids you will adore them, as many thousands of women do now.

Why not take advantage of this unusual offer, and have every item on your dressing table and at the same time enjoy a fine show at the Winchester. Remember it is every Wednesday, starting July 23. It's absolutely free of charge.

Goodbye and loads of loveliness to you.
Sincerely,
Constance Bennett

THE STORY OF THE TOWN HALL DRUM

Last week the Star carried an item headed "Drum found at Town Hall" and no one seemed to know how it got there or to whom it belonged.

Inquiry developed that it is the property of the maker, one William F. McIntosh of Charlestown, now in the radio repair business.
He advises that some years ago he made 100 of these drums with suitable locked boxes for the "Drummer's Club of Boston" and placed them in many public halls throughout the state for the use of their members when called upon to play in those localities, thus saving the very awkward necessity of transporting them on street cars, trains, cabs, etc., each member having a key to the boxes.

The Drummer's Club at one time had 80 contributing members but is now down to 30.

Mr. McIntosh will call shortly for his drum and there will be no storage charges.

INJURED IN FALL FROM TREE

James Weaver, 19, son of Mr. Eastman A. Weaver of 326 Main street, was injured Tuesday evening when a rope, on which he was sliding from a tree at his home, broke, causing him to fall to the ground.

Young Weaver was in the tree fixing one of the ropes of a swing. He had rigged a rope and when he had completed his job, he started to slide down it to the ground. The rope, however, broke causing him to fall some little distance.

He complained of injuries to his back and side. Dr. Alexander Aitkin, who attended him, ordered him removed to the Winchester Hospital for X-rays to determine possible spine injuries.

He was taken to the hospital in the Police ambulance by Patrolman James F. Noonan and his father.

SELECTIVE SERVICE CLERKS VISITED EDWARDS

Thirty-three members of the Selective Service Clerks of Middlesex County, headed by President Alfred
E. Allen, visited the Winchester-
Thursday by bus from Harvard Square for Camp Edwards and authorities of the base to which they have sent many of the local se-lectees.

Following their tour of inspection the clerks were super guests at the camp, having an opportunity to taste
Armychow for themselves. Al
Sweet, an old campaigner, took along his mess kit just in case.

With the clerks as their guests were Major Arthur V. Harrington and Capt. George Morin of the Selective Service Headquarters in Boston, and Chairman W. Allan Wilde of the Winchester-Stoneham Board.

chey in the District Court at Woburn last Friday morning, sentence being suspended for one year. She was also required to pay costs of court.

Pipe Line Links U. S. and Canada to Save Tankers Time

SAVING its way across 236 miles of forest and mountains, the first crude oil pipe line in the Northeast United States will link Portland, Me., and Montreal, Canada, to aid the nation's defense efforts. Construction of the continuous welded steel tube, whose route is shown above, will be started at Georgetown, N. H., this week in June, according to officials of the Portland Pipe Line Co., which has been organized by the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) to construct the American end of the line.
The new $60,000,000 pipe line will pump approximately 50,000 barrels of crude oil daily to the refineries of Montreal. Under the Lease-Lend Act,

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB SANG AT EXCLUSIVE NEW HAMPSHIRE SHIRE CLUB

The Mystic Glee Club, Winchester-ter's popular male chorus directed by William Cruger, gave a concert last Saturday evening at the exclusive Bald Peak Colony Club in Melvin Village, N. H., for the benefit of the British War Relief Unit there. Members of the club married to Melvin Village during the morning and afternoon of golf, were dinner guests at the Bald Peak Club, of which Mr. and Mrs. George Leghorn of this town are managers.

The concert was given in the recreation lodge before an enthusiastic and appreciative audience. The program followed closely that of the club's formal Winchester concert this spring, among the most popular numbers being the Musquito Song and the Yale Whiffenpoof Song. Another selection that was well received was the classic Calico Cattle Me, in which the solo was sung by Stephen Hanscom, baritone. William Elmer was accompanist.

Added color was lent the concert by the appearance of Ewen and Fergus Cameron, ex-cathed sons of Mr.
and Mrs. Donald Cameron (Donnie Burnham) of Kirby Muxloe, Leicester County, England, who attended the concert with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Burnham of Everett avenue, with whom they are living "for the duration."

Besides the Burnhams and their grandsons, several Winchester residents summing in or near Melvin Village were at the club for the concert, which was followed by dancing.
The concert was very successful, musically, socially and financially, more than $300 being realized.

Members of the Glee Club were overnight guests at the Colony Club.
Mr. Daniel Barnard, a member of the Glee Club, and Mrs. Barnard, whose summer home is at Melvin Village, are the hosts for the club.
Mrs. Roland Greeley and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hinton.

RUNAWAY CAR

An unusual accident took place at Semmes Corner Tuesday afternoon when a Packard, parked in the driveway of its owner, Mr. F. Francis Sullivan, 3 Bruce road, rolled backward down the slope of the driveway and down Bruce road, across Everett road, over the sidewalk and through the yards of Mrs. Anna De-Wolf and Dr. John R. Wallace, 5 and 7 Edgell road, finally plunging over the high embankment wall to land right side up on Main street.

While not completely wrecked the Packard had to be towed away. Mrs.
DeWolf's property was badly damaged by the runaway machine and some damage was also done to the shrubbery on the Wallace property.
Fortunately no one was injured.

BIG NEWS

MISS ELLA M. O'CONNOR
Miss Ella M. O'Connor of 48 White street, a life-long resident of Winchester, died Wednesday night, July 23, at the Winchester Hospital, following a month's illness. She was in her 81st year.

Miss O'Connor was the daughter of Felix and Ellen (Slavin) O'Connor. She was born in Winchester and educated in the public schools, graduating from Winchester High School in the class of 1919. She was an honorary member of Winchester Court, Catholic Daughters of America, and a member of the Ladies' Sodality of the Immaculate Conception Church.

She leaves a sister, Miss Katherine F. O'Connor, with whom she made her home and two brothers, Joseph E. O'Connor, retired Winchester letter carrier, and James W. O'Connor of Stoughton.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning from the residence of her brother, Joseph, 901 Main street, at 8:15 o'clock. High mass of requiem will be celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in the family lot in Calvary cemetery.

WINCHESTER GIRLS AT TEDESCO

Anna Murray, Lois Ladd, Elizabeth Packer, Helen Carroll and Ann Nichols, were Winchester entrants in the Women's North Shore championship tennis tournament which opened Wednesday at the Tedesco Country Club in Swampscott. Anna and Elizabeth, the latter playing out of Great Neck, L. I., were eliminated in the first round. Helen and Ann were put out in the second. Lois survived both the early rounds of play in both singles and doubles, winning in doubles with Ruth Carter of Everett from Elizabeth Packer and Ann Nichols. Helen Carroll and Jane Sawn of Newton won their second round doubles match from Janet and Carolyn Murphy of Waverly.

Polly Kimball, who was entered in singles and in doubles with Helen Carroll, was unable to compete because of the death of her grandmother.

ELKS WON AT MALDEN, 4-2

Behind the pitching of Bus Kendrick the Elks broke up a scoreless tie at Malden last night, with a four run uprising in the fifth inning, to win 4-2.

Johnie Murphy with a triple and a single was the big stick for the Elks. Joe Dineen and Paul Connors each had two hits also. The folding of Sam Provinzano was the feature of the Elks defense.

MYSTIC LAKES LOW

The cause of the lowering of the level of the water in the Mystic Lakes has been discovered. It seems to be in leaking out between the sluice boards at the dam in Medford faster than it is coming down the river. The Metropolitan Commission is being asked and will no doubt correct it in a few days.

NEWSPARAGRAPHS

It is reported that the new super market on upper Main street which is to be occupied by the First National Stores, will be ready for occupancy about Aug. 1.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF
Winchester Unit.

The central workroom had a visit on Wednesday from one of its knitters who had been known previously only by works. A beautifully knitted afghan had been sent in several months ago, which would have commanded attention for its own artistry and craftsmanship, and which had additional interest because the maker was in the 80's and over the divide toward 90. But that afghan was news in another way: the knitter with the 86 birthdays was a man.

In Maine 80 years ago there may have been here and there feminine voices—a little shrill as pioneers in social reforms tend to be—who were preaching equal rights for men and women, but one Maine woman was practising those rights, and her small son learned to do with skillful hands what were usually women's crafts, spinning, weaving and knitting. There came a lifetime of busy years when he was occupied with factory and machines, superintending the making of watches. Then, when new leisure and the old energy and ingenuity, he one day picked up an old knack, and began knitting for fun, sometimes by patterns of his own designing. Granddaughters playing on snowy Mass. hillsides flashed or floundered in ski socks that their grandfather had made. When a civilian army began to assemble in United States homes and villages, to knit and sew in defense of British folk against suffering from the cold he joined the knitters for British War Relief. Since his first gift of the afghan his knitting has gone on while he lists to the radio. A second afghan is well under way, and if there is delay in getting wool for that, he goes in for smaller things. For example, Wednesday his needles were busy on an R. A. F. mitten. He had made a characteristic speedy take-off: what was a skein of yarn at the central workroom at 11 o'clock, at 12 o'clock was wound and was already a stretch of ribbed wrist. There is no lag between the will and the deed in this worker, Mr. Frank Eldredge of Church street.

On display Wednesday was an attractive afghan knitted and given by Mrs. Alfred Wallace of Lewis road. So almost weekly the statistics change, the count of those cheering and comforting gifts Winchester has made and sent.

Speaking of afghans always brings to mind our chief in this field, Miss May Wilson, who has put together so many of the little four-inch blocks of which they are made. So here is another invitation to hunt up scraps of yarn and knit them, as easily strined as your fancy dictates, and bring them to the central workroom. Miss Wilson will hurry them off to be useful in shivery places.

By the way, when recently the headquarters of the New England area sent out letters thanking workers who had done outstanding things, one of these came to Miss Wilson, deservedly.

And vacation knitting? One Winchester woman took with her yarn for a dozen pairs of socks. Should anyone absent-mindedly go away without yarn, she can get herself out of her embarrassing predicament by writing back to Mrs. Fred Cameron, 47 Church street.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Troop 1

Five members of Troop 1 enjoy a hike up the Southern Presidential of the White Mountains over the last weekend. The group consisted of the following: Scoutmaster Stafford Rogers, Nils Anderson, Dante DeTese, John Pietromanti and Billy Sullivan.

Leaving Winchester Friday noon, the party drove to Crawford Notch where the car was left and the ascent of Mt. Clinton was made by the Crawford Path. The night was spent at the Mizpah Spring Shelter, an open front log shelter, a short distance below the south summit of Mt. Clinton.

The party awoke Saturday morning to find that the clouds had shut down and the visibility was about 50 feet. However, after breakfast the party started a trip over Mts. Clinton and Pleasant. It was very interesting to walk through the clouds and the hike was much enjoyed. After a lunch on the return from Mt. Pleasant, the group was treated to a heavy rain that lasted until the shelter was reached, needless to say, everyone was soaked through but soon dried out before a large fire in front of the shelter.

Sunday morning dawned bright and clear and after breakfast the party left the shelter for Mt. Jackson and Mt. Webster. Many interesting views were obtained on this part of the trip, especially from Webster down into Crawford Notch.

The car was reached about 1 o'clock and the group went to Newfound Lake by way of Franconia Notch. Here the boys enjoyed a swim in the crystal clear waters of New Hampshire's most beautiful lakes. The return to Winchester was uneventful and everyone was home for a good supper early in the evening.

RED CROSS NOTES

Attention Surgical Dressing Workers

The Unit of the Surgical Dressing Workers meeting every Thursday in the General Committee room at the Town Hall will discontinue their work on Thursday for the summer months and will work with the group meeting there on Tuesday.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

Sixty-eight happy girls, registered Girl Scouts and Brownies, found time for their last day of the last week's Girl Scout days, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, to enjoy the full program outlined for them. The plan carried out was as follows:

9-10 Swimming at Palmer Street Beach.

10-11:30 Sports and athletic activities at Ginn Field.

11:30-12 Morning circle, flag raising and salute.

12-2 Lunch and rest period.

2-3 Crafts and folk dancing.

3-4 Capers.

4 Goodnight circle.

The new day camp director, Mrs. George Erich, who served camp last year as Miss Gregg, is being assisted by Miss Katherine Meserve and Miss Leora Richardson.

The increased registration has made it necessary to enroll additional helpers and the following took over their duties on Tuesday:

Mrs. Arthur Thad Smith, who is handling the dramatics period; Mrs. Ruth Poland Tansey, former coach of girls at Stoneham High School, who has charge of the Brownies, and is directing their activities; Miss Mara McDonald, former basketball and field hockey captain at Lowell Teachers' College, who is in charge of sports and crafts for the 12 year olds; Mrs. J. B. Harris, director of the 9 to 11 year old group, who is doing a fine job in crafts training; and Miss Cynthia Foote, an able assistant with a fine spirit of work.

Swimming is progressing under the teaching of Mr. Alfred Pennell, instructor of swimming at our local beaches. He is assisted by Mrs. H. Kelsa Moore.

The committee in charge of the work includes Mrs. G. N. Albree, camp and cabin chairman; Mrs. Stephen Nolley, Mrs. H. Kelsa Moore, Mrs. John Rutherford, treasurer; and Mrs. Edward Kenerson. These ladies are doing a fine job.

The day camp is able, this year, to take on a much more rounded program due to the coordination of activities made possible by the cooperation of Chairman George T. Davidson and other members of the Park Department. Playground facilities have been made available: the beach at Palmer street and the tennis and athletic field at Ginn playground. The Park Department is further co-operating by having three of its summer directors assist the Girl Scout program during a part of each of the three camp days. Their supervisors, all experienced in their work, are of inestimable value and help in broadening the program. They are: David Riley and Margaret Mary McDonald, who handle tennis and Peggy Shinnick who assists Mr. Pennell with swimming lessons. The Red Cross is co-operating through Mr. Pennell's swimming instruction. It has been fine to have the use of the Park Department's varied equipment: croquet sets, tennis rackets and balls, volleyball and net, basketball, bases and base balls. The girls don't have any worries about a possible rainy spell for in the event the Recreation Building has been put at their disposal by the Park Department.

This whole coordination of supervised summer activities has been aided by Supervisor Joseph Tansey, at the request of the Girl Scout Committee, and with the permission of the Park Department. It is working out beautifully, and shows how adaptable the summer playground program is.

The girls who attended the Scout Camp this week had a splendidly healthful and thoroughly enjoyable experience and, on their side, contributed much to the success of the plan. Every part of the program was well carried out. The campers' hour when the girls' imagination is given full play, creates much merriment. The highlight this week was Tuesday's charade contest, in which two groups were so good in their acting that the prizes were necessitated. The winning groups were: Thanksgiving Day, Marjorie Shaw, Nancy Reynolds, Mary Ryan, Sevil Dufon, Joan Laverty, Nancy Laverty.

Valentine's Day, Joan Thomas, Ann Albree, Ellen Kenerson, Anril Davis, Betty Rutherford, Shirley Fellows, Evelyn Kakes.

The Girl Scout Committee, Mrs. Albree, Mrs. Kenerson, and Mrs. Rutherford, have set themselves an ambitious program, which is progressing very successfully. The places to see these happy Winchester youngsters are: Palmer Beach, Ginn Field, the Girl Scout Cabin on the Brookside Estate, and in case of rain, the Winchester Recreation Building. The time: Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

H. R. BAUKHAGE

NOTED RADIO COMMENTATOR SAYS WEEKLY NEWSPAPER A TONIC

H. R. Baukhage, noted radio news commentator whose assignments are wars, political crisis, national campaigns and conventions, has one sure recipe for calm and contentment. It is reading the country weekly.

Not long ago, Baukhage, who spoke Monday evening in the Harvard Summer School lecture series, interrupted his usual news report to listeners on the nationwide Farm and Home hour to pay a tribute to the rural press.

"The country weekly," he said, "is the most American thing in America. I've been reading many of them lately to get my mind off the world's troubles and you don't know what a tonic it is."

He quoted from numerous weeklies: "the Epworth League is getting on fine"; "I see here in the 10 years ago column that the fire company got a new hose"; "I read about somebody painting a new barn."

"Such items," declared Baukhage, "are America."

Known in the nation's capital as the "V-P" of rural America, Baukhage rejoices in the title which, incidentally, doesn't mean vice-president, but does mean "voice and pen." It's an apt designation for Baukhage, maintains a double contact with millions of men and women in small towns, villages, and farms throughout the nation. He talks to these folks every week-day over the Farm and Home hour and every week he writes to them through their "home-town" papers for, as chief Washington correspondent of the Western Newspaper Union, Baukhage's column appears in more than 2000 weekly newspapers.

Born in LaSalle, Ill., Baukhage is proud of his small-town background and in a recent interview declared "why shouldn't any man or woman rejoice in a small-town origin? It's the sort of a background that seems to give a person a continuous and a sympathetic interest in life. We have a sentimental political phrase that says, 'America is at the crossroads.' Well, I like to transpose this both in phraseology and in meaning to say that so long as America has crossroads where men and women, their roots deep in the soil of our country, can meet and work toward a solution of our problems, the America we know and love will continue to endure."

As one who has successfully combined the technique of the typewriter with that of the microphone, Baukhage can look back on a quarter-century of activity in collecting, appraising, interpreting and reporting news. In his early days, he hoofed it as a humble reporter, but of late he has figuratively worn 7-league boots with two trans-Atlantic clipper trips and innumerable flights in his own country. His newspaper career covers two hitches as a foreign correspondent, service with the Associated Press, and the National Broadcasting Company.

It is a significant thing that a big-time journalist and broadcaster, a man who has fought in wars as well as reported them, should turn for solace and tranquility as well as inspiration to a paper like the one you now hold in your hands.

PAYS YOUR GAS TAX FOR YOU
At present Federal tax rates, the savings on gasoline effected by Compound Carburetion are usually more than enough to pay Federal taxes on the gas you buy.

TAKE a good look at this stunning straight-eight pictured here—in one important way it's like no other in the world.

It has two "noses" to breathe through.

One of them is the forward carburetor of Buick's Compound Carburetion!—a thrifty, smaller-size gas-and-air mixer that handles all your normal driving with the greatest of ease and the maximum of thrift.

The other is a second carburetor with a very special mission.

It waits, unused, until you want action.

Maybe to take a hill. Maybe to pass a truck. Maybe to spurt through a sudden opening in traffic.

Whatever the need—you just press down the gas treadle.

The extra "nose" opens. Your engine breathes deeper. And z-z-z-z!—you're away in an extra burst of reserve power no other car in the world can provide.

Sounds good? Naturally—but that's only part of it.

Facts are, your engine is more efficient with Compound Carburetion's extra "nose" for action. Owner-experience shows that you actually go as much as 10% to 15% farther per gallon than you did in previous Buicks.

So better go try it. Try out Buick's bigger size, greater room, extra comfort at the same time.

Then ask delivered prices. Instead of being higher you'll find them actually lower than you'll pay anywhere else for anything like equal value.

Available on Buick Special models at small extra cost, standard on all other Buicks.

for the Business Coupe

MRS. SARA ELIZABETH CHEVALIER

Mrs. Sara Elizabeth Chevalier of 27 Elm street, widow of Louis Chevalier and a native of Winchester, died Saturday night, July 26, at the Winchester hospital.

Mrs. Charles March was born in Winchester, Mass., March 13, 1881, the daughter of Andrew J. and Susan (MacNeill) Libbey. She was educated in the Winchester schools and was graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1899, later attending Lowell Teachers' College, where she prepared for a teaching career.

Following her graduation at Lowell she taught in the Peterborough, N. H., schools before returning to Winchester to accept a position in the Winchester School Department. Until her marriage she taught in and was principal of the Highland School on Highland avenue.

On Sept. 4, 1906, she married Mr. Chevalier and for 20 years after her marriage she and her husband lived first in Detroit and later in New York. From the latter city they returned Winchester in 1926 when Mr. Chevalier became Boston manager for the New York firm of Hageman & Harris. For a time they lived on Baker street and later for some years on Copeland street until Mr. Chevalier's death Jan. 4, 1936. Latterly Mrs. Chevalier had returned to live in her childhood home on Elm street.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Robert G. Mable of Waltham, and Mrs. George G. Taylor of Woburn; by a sister, Mrs. John Walsen of Arlington; and a grand daughter,

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the late residence with a high mass of requiem celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Samuel Mathews, S. S. J., of Washington, D. C. Soloists for the mass were: Melba Macdonald Maguire, soprano, and Elder Fitzgerald Cullen, soloist. Bearers were Edward J. McDevitt, Jr., William J. Croughwell, Leonard MacNeill and Dr. Milton J. Quinn. Interment was in Wildwood cemetery.

WAS MOTHER OF MRS. NEWTON

The sudden death of Mrs. Annabelle Sinclair, widow of Ramsay Sinclair and mother of Mrs. Clarence J. Newton of Forest street, will be noted by her many friends in Winchester with great sadness. Mrs. Sinclair, affectionately known by her undername of "Auntie," estimates 17. Jeannie and Grammie," was 74 years old. She was a native of Scotland and came to this country from Thurso as a young girl, settling in Berkeley. Her gray spirited smile and eager enthusiasm was always a welcome to her visitors and friends. She had an unusually active mind, having been usually receptive mind, having been well educated in Scotland, and could always "hold her own" with any who discussed world events, history and other things which she knew thoroughly and loved dearly.

George MacAlpine of Peabody, Mrs. Larry Partridge of Dunwoody, Mrs. Harold Butcher of Cincinnati, Ohio, Miss Christine Sinclair of Boston, Mr. Ramsay Sinclair of Inwood and Mrs. Clarence G. Newton of Winchester, and eight grandchildren.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. MARY ANN WOOD

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Louisa Winn, widow of Dennis B.

GIRL SCOUT DAY CAMP

The Scout Day Camp still continues to hold the interest of those Scouts and Brownies who registered for this worthwhile outdoor summer activity. As the cabin entered its final week we have seen the competition grow keen among the girls for the final awards in both their athletic and craft programs.

Tuesday morning we spent our last day on Ginn Field with the girls competing in Volley Ball, Croquet, Soft Ball and Tennis. Our champion croquet player was Mary Ryan with Joan Laverty a close second. Barbara Donaghey, Lisa Staffieri, Marguerite Derro and Carol Ordway have shown progress in tennis. Nancy Stevens, Margery Shaw, Norma Berquist, Mildred Spofford, Patsey Mawn and Betty Fitzgerald are our champion Dodge Ball players and Mary Jane Halvart, Joan Thomas, Jean Fitzgerald, Sally Bernall, Martha Feinberg, Jean Kelley, Jean Monson and Jean McKinley excelled in Volley Ball. We wish to again express our appreciation to the officers of the Park Department and the playground supervisors whose contribution of time and equipment assured the success of these activities.

On Tuesday afternoon a music memory contest was held with all the girls showing an excellent knowledge of music. However, Nancy Stevens was our best student having a score of 14, with Barbara Donaghey, Margery Shaw and Marguerite Derro second with scores of 13, Lisa Staffieri and Alice Chafalo third with scores of 12 each.

Perhaps the highlight of this extremely well planned summer program was the swimming meet held Wednesday morning at Palmer Beach under the able direction of Mr. Eganell. We are certainly all very much indebted to Mr. Eganell and the local Red Cross Chapter for the time and instruction they have received. The value was evidenced by the competition Wednesday.

The results were as follows:

Prone float, time 11 sec.; first, Jean McKinley; second, Joan Roberts; third, Betty Fitzgerald.

Prone float with kicking, 8.2 sec.; first, Jackie Koefe; second, Dottie Kelley; third, Mildred Spofford.

15 yard side stroke, 10 sec.; first, Nancy Stevens; second, Marjorie Bergen; third, Nancy Grant.

25 yard handicap, 20 sec.; first, Barbara Donaghey; second, Ann Dillingham; third, Mary Jane Halvart with Ann Albee very close.

The climax to the meet, a balloon race and the nighttime relay, were lots of fun for the spectators. Barbara Dunbury was first in the balloon race with Mildred Spofford second and Jackie Koefe third. The winning relay team was captained by Ann Albee and its members were Mary Ryan, Janet Briggs, Jean Richardson, Joan Thomas and Lynn Akens.

Judges were Peggy Shinnick, Kay Merserve and Ruth Tansey.

However, this was not the only activity planned for Wednesday. We were to have a cook out but owing to the rain our plans had to be changed and instead of cooking out, we cooked in. And from the cabin the chance of program did not dampen the spirits of our Scouts. The remainder of the day was spent finishing the craft work in preparation for the closing exercises and exhibition which is to be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The girls have done some very commendable work under the direction of Mrs. Frick, Mrs. Harris, "Dinny" Foote, Jean Stillman, Miss Salice and Miss Merserve.

We were very sorry to lose two of our assistants this week, Miss Maria Macdonald, who left for Hyannis Monday, and Miss Leora Richardson, who is ill. We have all missed them a great deal.

Tuesday, 10 of our 12 year old group were absent from camp during the afternoon. We were glad that the members of our group could help in making Winchester go over the top.

Thursday will see the closing of the camp for the summer season and this program will be reported on in detail in next week's Star and at the same time a report will be made of the picnic to be held at Marlborough for those girls who have had perfect attendance for the camp season.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The highlight of the playground season to date was the championship game played between the Cubs and Millionaires, winners of the first half of the Senior League. An account of this game will appear elsewhere in this paper but suffice to say this was a hotly contested game. Over 500 lined Washington street with their own leasur, watching a game which obviously meant a great deal to the contestants. P. Allen, proprietor of a local milk business said that when he heard "the kids" voice, he was filled with a nostalgic wave-filled with sandbank memories, swept over him. Incidentally, "Mac" has never lost his zest for sport and takes great pride in showing these youngsters what to do.

Community Service of Boston has presented us with an opportunity to join the Braves Knot Hole Gang. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 16 inclusive may join. A paymaster, Mildred Spofford, will be in charge and allows him to attend certain scheduled Braves games. This schedule, which includes games with Brooklyn, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Philadelphia and New York, is posted on the playground bulletin. Any pass issued to a member may be revoked if the conduct of the bearer warrants such action.

On Friday morning at Leonard Field the Cubs are to meet the Arlington Braves, champions of the Millionaires. The girls softball team will meet the Lexington playground team next Tuesday afternoon at Lexington.

An impromptu exhibition of sailing and craftwork was held last Thursday morning when a group of visitors from the Weld Community Center of Boston came to inspect our work. Mrs. Dana, Miss Shinnick and Miss McDonald have shown very hard this year and deserve much credit for their accomplishments.

All arrangements have been made to show the American League baseball picture at the local theatre. This has been made possible through the generosity of the American League, Mr. George Carter. We expect to announce the date next week.

COLLISION AT BACON STREET AND FENWICK ROAD

Saturday morning shortly before 11 o'clock a Chevrolet sedan, being driven west on Bacon street by Charles J. Stuart of 61 Yale street, was in collision at Fenwick road with a Duxton truck owned by H. P. Hood Co., Inc., of 500 Rutherford avenue, Charlestown, and being driven from Fenwick road onto a crossing street, West Medford.

After the collision the Chevrolet continued ahead for some 30 feet and then stopped. The truck was overturned on its left side. Both machines were disabled and had to be towed away.

No injuries were reported at the time of the accident, but early in the afternoon the Police were notified that Mr. Stuart had been injured. Both drivers stated they were going slowly at the time of the accident.

WEEK-END FIRES

The fire department answered two alarms over the past week-end, the first coming in at 1:30 Friday afternoon from Box 7-31 for a brush fire on Park Department land at Cross street opposite Forest street.

The second alarm at 2 o'clock Saturday morning was for a smoldering fire, being discovered smoldering near the J. O. Whitten Co. gelatine factory off Cross street. Inspection disclosed that the fire had apparently been struck by lightning during Friday night's storm and had been smoldering deep in the trunk since that time. The fire finally eating its way through the partially rotted wood until it could be seen.

The firemen had to raise ladders and cut away quite a bit of the tree before the fire was finally put out.

BRASS STOLEN FROM STORE-HOUSE

Tuesday morning shortly before 2 o'clock Patrolman Archie O'Donnell and William Callahan in Patrol #2 discovered what was apparently a break at the old light house on Swanwick street, now used by Chas. Bros. local plumbing firm, as a storeroom. A heavy screen over a window had been partially ripped away and the window partially forced open.

The officers secured the window and notified the owners who in making a checkup discovered that 300 pounds of scrap brass had been stolen.

MURMANSK, ARCTIC TERMINUS OF MOST NORTHERN RAILROAD

Murmansk, German objective in a drive from northern Finland, is Russia's only ice-free Arctic port. It is the terminus of the world's most northern railway, winding 900 miles northward from Leningrad, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

The city enjoys virtually the same temperature as Moscow, 925 miles to the southeast, because of warm currents from the Atlantic Ocean. For the same reason the sea approach is practically free from ice floes, though Murmansk is farther north than Iceland.

Because of its nightless summers, Murmansk is now free from any surprise night attacks. For six weeks or more the sun gives 24 hours of unbroken light every day. In mid-winter a sunset glow to the south at noon marks the sun's nearest approach.

The beginnings of the settlement, less than 30 years ago, were not unlike those of frontier towns in America. The buildings, mostly one story, were constructed of unheated logs chinked with native moss. The closing of Russia's Baltic ports during the war increased shipping through Murmansk. At the close of the war its population was 20,000; today this progressive city numbers 129,000 inhabitants.

Iron Deposits Affect Compass

The needle of the compass was the diving tool that disclosed the immense deposits of iron in the vicinity of Murmansk, which form the basis of the city's industries, and make sailing by compass impracticable in the region. In addition to the metals industries, Murmansk has a phosphorus works, ship-building yards, canning factories for the thousands of tons of fish brought annually to the port, a cold storage plant, an electric power plant, furniture and other wood products plants.

The railroad which promoted Murmansk has been completed since 1914. Its construction through dense forests and over swamps, bogs, and frozen lakes was an engineering achievement. The northern section from Kadalaksha across the Kola Peninsula to Murmansk was the work of British engineers. The railroad required some 1110 bridges.

The importance of the port was enhanced by the development of the northern sea route from Murmansk through Arctic waters north of Siberia about 6000 miles to Vladivostok on the Pacific Coast. For three months of the year this route shortens sea distances to Vladivostok by more than half.

Murmansk is situated on the eastern shore of the deep Kola Fjord, 30 miles south of its opening into the Barents Sea arm of the Arctic Ocean.

GOT DRIVER WITHOUT LICENSE

Tuesday morning shortly before 3 o'clock Patrolmen James E. Farrell and John E. Hanlon noticed an automobile without lights pulling out of a driveway on Cambridge street near the Gustin home. The officers gave chase in the scout car and stopped the machine.

Finding the driver had neither license nor registration, they took him to headquarters where he gave his name as William S. Halloran of 37 Elington street, Roxbury. Investigation disclosed the fact that his license to operate had been suspended Sept. 27, 1935, and had never been restored. He was driving a Packard sedan, registered to his wife.

Halloran was locked up on the charge of operating after his license had been suspended. He appeared in court later Tuesday morning when he was fined $30, by Justice William Honchey. Police say he is on parole from State Prison and has a long police record.

POLE FELL ON VERANDA OF HOUSE

An unusual accident took place last Saturday afternoon when an Edison Light Company pole toppled over and fell onto the piazza roof at the home of Mr. Alfred Capone, 51 Swanton street, damaging the wooden gutter.

Wires were pulled down by the pole in front of several houses along the street and Officer Edward Bowler was sent from headquarters to stand guard until the arrival of Edison repair crews. According to the Police the pole had rotted at the base.

RIDE INTERRUPTED

Last Saturday evening the Police were called to the Highland Station of the Boston & Maine Railroad to take charge of a man who had been discovered stealing a ride on one of the big through freights out of Boston. Officers John Boyle and James Noonan went to the station and arrested a man who gave his name as Frank E. Greenhalge of Lawrence. At the Station he was booked on a drunkenness charge and held overnight, being released in the morning.

GAS THEFTS REPORTED

In addition to thefts of gasoline reported from private cars in that vicinity, the police were notified by Michael McGoigne, of 369 Cross street that some time last Friday night the gas line on the tank at the sand pit of Cross street had been broken and an unknown quantity of gasoline stolen. Again Monday night thieves visited this tank, unsewing the vent ran and taking between 10 and 15 gallons of gasoline. The police are investigating.

GREENLAND IS SOURCE OF CRYOLITE

Early Danish explorers in southwest Greenland discovered a colorless or snowy-white translucent rock. Eskimans regarded it as a peculiar kind of ice, because it looked like ice and melted readily.

This rock, named cryolite by scientists from the Greek words for "ice" and "stone," is one of the reasons why the United States is interested in Greenland, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

Essential in Aluminum Production

Cryolite fills a small but vital role in the defense program, for it is essential in the smelting of aluminum. It also has uses in the manufacture of glass, enamels, and insecticides.

Although the world's only profitably worked cryolite mine is in Greenland, the mineral is not included among the so-called strategic materials. Cryolite did not "make" this strategic list because the mineral can be produced artificially. In fact, more than half the cryolite used in the world, and a considerable percentage of that used in the United States, is a manufactured product. Because it can be made free of impurities, the artificial kind is often preferred.

Winchester Unit

"It's Wednesday and I'll go down and get news of the neighbors," was one Winchester woman's remark as she was making room in a July week for a visit to the Epiphany parish hall, the central workshop for British War Relief. Sure enough there always is news of this new neighborhood in which some people live, a neighborhood not geographical, not denominational, not determined by one's place of birth or one's way of amassing oneself. Somebody recently said a nation was a group of people united by great things they had done together in the past and by their certainty that there are great things they will want to do together in the future. For great substitute a more modest adjective, good or kind and the definition will fit a neighborhood. Needs that their hands and hearts have met in the past and the work that lies there, visibly for their hands, and invisibly for their thoughts, unite the British War Relief neighbors. And the news is always good news.

Sometimes it concerns a well known neighbor who has again come to the fore generously. This week, for example, it is again news of Max and his staff, who put the button-holes in the eight blazers that the workroom had finished except for these news gratefully received. Sometimes it is news of some efficient dovetailing of skills and references, as in the case of the partners who knit sea-bottle stockings, one knitter doing the long legs and turning the stocking over to a friend for the interesting heels and toes. She seems very unsoldish to any knitter who likes to have breaks in monotony. But efficiency before personal preferences. Which way gets the more war stockings off to Britain is the real question.

Sometimes the news is of a new kind of work. For example, this Wednesday the faithful found the privilege of sewing for new babies, making of soft blue cotton flannel sleeping bags.

The special mention of shoes recently brought gifts of serviceable used shoes. Practical shoes for men, women or children may be brought to the workroom on Wednesday, or will be received at any time by Mrs. Fred Gray, 27 Church street.

Notpaper from 25c up at Wilson the Stationer.

The "Jonker Diamond of the Fur World," an $11,000 platinum fox skin, was donated to The British War Relief Society by its owner, I. J. Fox, who bought the fur piece for the highest price ever paid for a single skin. The platinum, which was presented to Lord and Lady Marley, was sold for $1,000. The fox skin, which was presented to Lord and Lady Marley, was sold for $1,000. The fox skin, which was presented to Lord and Lady Marley, was sold for $1,000.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

Union Signal, July 29, Unto the Least of These.

Even during the beautiful summer weather these tiny British tots have to be kept in the underground shelters. Heartful feeding is desperately essential to make up for lack of sunshine and outdoor play. W. C. T. U. members and friends will be interested in the statement made by the "Save the Children Fund" of London, England, to the Save the Children Federation, Inc. of New York.

Sponsoring a child, the adoption or God-parent plan. There are innumerable cases of children who hang on to the very edge of life, underprivileged children whose essential needs must be met, children of gentle people of reduced circumstances and of those who lost all their possessions in the war. One does not actually adopt a child. The money is spent on milk, butter, eggs, medicinal foods, shoes, clothing. To underfed children milk is most useful.

For children under 5, shelter houses, residence nursery centers. The main purpose is to help meet the urgent problem of protecting the civilian population with provision for children from 2 to 5 years of age, apart from their parents in places of relative safety from enemy attack. Certain areas are barred. Nursery school training is furnished to large numbers of children who would not as a rule enjoy this advantage.

Through this agency gifts of W. C. T. U. members and friends are forwarded. A check for $65 was sent May 1, receipts for April. To date $519.67 has been forwarded by National W. C. T. U. for British children. The need continues.

Mrs. Frances Lin, who is supporting a refugee home for orphans in China, in memory of her husband, Dr. Herman E. C. Lin, writes: "It has been so sweet of the dear Union Signal readers to respond to my call. I wish I could send each a word of appreciation and tell them how happy their gifts have made the orphans in our care. A draft for $113.29 was sent to Mrs. Lin by air mail May 1, making the total to date for Chinese refugee children $1905.79.

ACRE, WHERE SYRIAN WAR ENDED

The little Mediterranean port of Acre, Palestine, where the armistice ending the Syrian campaign, was signed was the most important city built up by the Crusaders and their last foothold on the mainland, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

Acre was taken by the Crusaders after a siege of two years and at a cost of thousands of lives. Richard the Lion-Hearted participated in the siege, after stopping to conquer the island of Cyprus.

This kingdom of the Crusaders endured for nearly two centuries. Acre was the last spot in Palestine held by the Crusaders, and they left their mark in the hospital, the castle of the Knights of St. John, and a chapel which they built, still well preserved. The castle is now a British Mandate penitentiary with one of the oldest dungeons converted into an ultra-modern death chamber.

Acre had the only natural harbor along the coast of Palestine, and long enjoyed great trade. Merchants were not slow in following the Crusades. It became a great source of musk, ginger, and other spices from China and Tibet, brought to the port by long camel caravans. Heavy goods were shipped to Egypt from the East, but the lighter and more costly goods came by camel to Acre.

Today, ghostly-white Acre with its ruins of massive buildings and a population of less than 10,000 is like a circus or fair grounds the morning after. A little work is carried on in the making of brass and copper utensils. A mile north of the city old abandoned Turkish barracks serve as stables for the pure breeding of many Arabian horses. Acre's active trade in grain was ruined some 30 years ago by the building of railroads that favored other ports. Its once-proud harbor, now fast filling up, shelters a small fishing fleet.

SUPPLIES FOR SOVIET
Sent From U. S. to Vladivostok Would Half Encircle Globe

Vladivostok, Soviet Pacific port and eastern terminus of the Trans-Siberian railroad, which more than doubled in size during the first World War, may experience again the frenzied handling of war supplies, if the United States undertakes to provide material for the Soviet forces. It is a city of about 200,000 persons. During the first year of the World War, the imports received at Vladivostok were practically twice the amount received the previous year, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Supplies shipped from the United States alone were valued at $55,000,000.

Vladivostok is about 6200 miles from San Francisco and fast steamships normally would require some 20 days to make the trip. From the Siberian port, transportation of freight across the Trans-Siberian Railroad to the west part of Russia usually takes at least 10 days, if the supplies are given preferential treatment and shipped at express speed.

The distance from Vladivostok to the western border of the U. S. S. R. is about 6350 miles, so that supplies for the present Soviet front would have to travel about 11,000 miles from San Francisco. Supplies from the United States accordingly would go nearly halfway around the world to reach their destination, and would require a month and more in transit.

The port is located on the Sea of Japan, hemmed in on the east by islands of the Japanese Empire. Shipping to Vladivostok must pass through straits formed by the islands, the shortest routes being through La Perouse or Tsugaru. The Vladivostok harbor freezes over toward the end of December, and the ice does not disappear until the middle of April. During most of this period ships enter and leave the harbor in the wake of ice breakers.

OPEN HARBORS AND MILD CLIMATE BELIEVE ICELAND'S ARCTIC LOCATION

United States forces sent to Iceland by order of President Roosevelt are not getting as cold an assignment as they might imagine, points out a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

In spite of its name and its location just below the Arctic Circle Iceland, some 650 miles from the mainland, is warmer than those in many areas of the Temperate Zone. The Gulf Stream swings north and eastward toward Iceland, warming the air which blows over the land and keeps open its harbors throughout the year. Furthermore, the hot springs under-lying the island's volcanic rocks prevent the inland lakes from freezing over, so that seaplanes can come down on them at any time.

2600 Miles From New York

July is the warmest month for Icelanders, with the temperature ranging around 50 degrees. Even in January the thermometer in the coastal towns—the interior is only sparsely inhabited—seldom goes more than a few degrees below zero.

By direct ship from New York it is 2600 miles to Iceland, which lies 750 miles northeast of Greenland's coast, almost across the equator. Norway is 680 miles to the east, while the northern tip of Scotland is almost 500 miles southeast. Three little vessels, the Icelandic Steamship Company recently have kept the island in contact with the outside world. One has made regular trips to England, while the other two have been periodic visitors to New York.

The surface of the island, a rough oval about the size of Kentucky, is being compared to that of the moon. It is pitted with thousands of volcanic craters, some of which are active. Ancient lava fields are bleak and barren. Together lava flows and glaciers cover nearly a quarter of the surface.

Much of the land is a plateau, whose outer borders produce enough grass to feed the summer to feed the small amount of livestock. Rivers are numerous. Although they are useless for navigation, they are valuable sources of hydroelectric power. One of the most forbidding regions is the northwest peninsula, its edges are gashed by deep bays. Rocky floors along parts of the coast are shot in by walls of dark basalt rising nearly 3000 feet perpendicularly from the sea.

Grandmother of Parliaments

This nation of less than 120,000 persons is proud of its long record of democratic government. Settled in the ninth century by such varied groups as Vikings and Irish monks, it established as early as 930 an elected assembly called the Althing. This "grandmother" of parliaments has continued to function for more than a thousand years.

Since 1918 the country has been technically independent, although it remained united with Denmark to the extent that the Danish king was also king of Iceland. In May, 1941, however, the Icelandic Government decided to cancel its union with Denmark and become a republic. Throughout its history Iceland never has had a foreign war.

In spite of the ever-present economic problems of meager soil and poor mineral deposits, the hard-working and thrifty Icelanders have made considerable modern progress. Electricity has been widely installed.

Since coal has to be imported at high cost, residents of the capital heat many of their buildings with hot water piped from nearby geysers. Water from subterranean hot springs also has been used for a public swimming pool and a laundry. It is piped into greenhouses, where Tomatoes and other vegetables are raised.

Population is Literate

Hay, potatoes, and turnips are about the only crops that can be grown in the generally poor soil without this special hot water treatment. Timber is found in very small quantities because the few trees on the island are dwarfed. A birch tree is a giant if it stands 15 feet high. About the only mineral found in commercial quantity is sulphur, but its mining is not profitable.

Like the people of many northern regions, the Icelanders have capitalized on fishing for a livelihood. Iceland's fisheries produce cod and herring valued at $3,000,000 a year.

Nearly all Icelanders can read and write, for schooling is compulsory. There is no jail, no army nor navy. In Reykjavik, where a third of the country's people live, a University is one of the most imposing buildings. The city itself, however, is not a picturesque town, for lack of lumber has forced the inhabitants to build their Danish-type houses partly of sheet iron, painted brown. Newer buildings are of stone.

Food Elements in Apple Skin

The apple skin, which is usually so blithely pared away, contains many health food elements.

Top Gem Melon Cup With Mint
BY BETTY BARCLAY

Melon balls, canned Hawaiian pineapple gems, and their syrup, to which a dash of lime juice has been added, is as refreshing as the summer rain.

You will find that a generous supply of canned Hawaiian pineapple gems in your refrigerator this summer will help in creating many fruit desserts with a pleasing, tangy flavor. These pineapple chunks of luscious fruit are just the right size to combine with sliced or diced fruit and are particularly nice with melon balls.

Try pineapple gems combined with cantaloupe and honey dew balls. Add a dash of lime juice for punchy of flavor and a little chopped mint for its aromatic bouquet.

GEM MELON COOLER
1—14-ounce can Hawaiian pineapple gems
1-cup honey dew balls
1-cup cantaloupe balls
2-tablespoons lime juice
8-spices of mint

Put pineapple gems and other fruit into a bowl, add melon balls and lime juice. Cover and place in refrigerator until fruit is very cold. Serve in sherbet glasses. Top each serving with a sprinkling of chopped mint and a sprig of mint.

One cup of watermelon balls may also be added to the above ingredients to increase the number of servings to eight.

PSKOV, BOMBED BY THE GERMANS

Psikov, on the road to Leningrad from the south and the victim of heavy bombing by German air forces, is a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. It lies about 150 miles from Leningrad.
Psikov gains strategic importance by its location close to the south end of 60-mile long Peipus (Chudskoe) Lake, which forms most of the boundary between Estonia and the Leningrad area of western Russia, says the bulletin.

Struated along both banks of the Velikyaya-Leningrad railroad. Other rail lines radiate from the town of Riga and Moscow, and to the Gulf of Finland and White Russia. Peipus Lake accents the place of Psikov as a focus of communications by funneling all land transport south or north of its broad waters.

As early as the tenth century, writ-ters mentioned Psikov. Later it was a dependent sister republic of nearby Novgorod. But as a way station for trade between Novgorod and Ri-ga, with its own merchants and trade associations, Psikov grew strong enough in the 13th and 14th centuries to rank as Novgorod's equal. In the 14th century when it became a member of the Hanseatic League, Psikov had a population of 60,000; today it has 52,000 inhabitants.

Psikov was one of the pawns in the long medieval struggle for power between Russia, Germany and Lithuania.
Finally, in the 16th century, it was brought under the rule of Moscow. Deprived of self-government, Psikov's fortunes declined. In 1703 Peter the Great against Poland and later Peter the Great heavily reinforced its defenses.

From its old Kremlin, 13th-century walls descended to the river shore. The often rebuilt cathedral in the kremenlin contains graves of bishops and princes of Psikov. The city has a busy trade in furs, wax, and leather. It turns out machinery, linen, leather and rope.

ROTARY DISTRICT ASSEMBLY

As announced last week the Rotary Club acted as host for the summer Assembly of District 196, Rotary International, Tuesday, July 29. The meeting was held at the Winchester Country Club on a perfect summer day and the attendance was considerably larger than the ordinarily registered at our District Assemblies, the total being approximately 200, most of which were present at the noon luncheon.

One of the club's famous steak dinners was served shortly after noon and courteous attention from the staff was available at all times.

The business session was opened at 10 a. m. by President Malcolm D. Bennett of the Winchester club with a salute to the nation's flag and an invocation by the Rev. Paul H. Chapman of this town. After the singing of patriotic songs Selectman William J. Swers, Jr., welcomed the Assembly to Winchester in a brief address after which President Malcolm turned the meeting over to District Governor Frederic Willard of Lynn. The Assembly was honored by the presence of Percy Hodgson of Pawtucket, R. I., Director of Rotary International.

AMERICAN FORCES IN ICELAND

Back-Tracked Route of Leif Ericson

Leif Ericson, who is said to have discovered the North Atlantic, was recently back-tracked.

The U. S. Congress in 1893 passed a law which authorized the U. S. Navy to send a ship to Iceland with a statue of Leif Ericson, which stands in the city of Reykjavik. The U. S. Navy in 1893 designated Oct. 9 as Leif Ericson Day, after a resolution passed by Congress, as a fitting tribute to the most famous of the Norsemen.

Leif's hot-tempered father, Erik the Red, was one of the Norsemen who had colonized Iceland after S. A. D. in 980. It was said that Erik the Red was banished from Iceland in 984 for feeding a wolf's head to a man.

Erik turned westward and discovered a larger land, which he named Vinland. He was the first of the Norsemen to reach America, and he was the first to establish a colony there.

Erik's three sons, who were named Leif, Thorvald, and Thord, were the first to reach America, and they were the first to establish a colony there.

COLLECTOR NICHOLS AIDED IN FRAMING NEW TAX LAWNow Possible to Get Separate Bills and Descriptions

Winchester's Tax Collector, Nathaniel M. Nichols, aided in framing the bill, passed by the Legislature in an emergency measure, and signed by Governor Saltonstall on July 31, establishing Section 22A of Chapter 6 of the General Laws, authorizing collectors to give separate tax bills for separate parcels of real estate and specifically providing that the lien on the parcels shall be upon the payment of the tax for each parcel.

Under the provision of the new Section 22A it is directed that the collector shall carry a clear and accurate description of the parcel upon which the tax is being paid. Collectors are authorized to request and receive from the owner a description of each parcel so that where required is made the collector can give a receipted bill, indicating on the face of the tax bill the parcel to which it is removed by the payment of the amount stated.

It is further provided that if a person applies before the collector for a bill, the collector may obtain from the Assessors the description of the individual parcels owned by the person assessed with the bill. The collector can then frame the tax and separate bills can be issued for separate parcels.

Where the tax bill has been issued, a receipted bill can be issued for a single parcel upon payment of the amount of the tax on that single parcel, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 22 of Chapter 6 of the General Laws, the payment so made to be credited to the persons assessed. Partial payments are permitted in respect to the tax on separate parcels just as if it was the single tax bill of the owner of record.

Collector Nichols was one of the assisting Tax Commissioners Henry F. Long in drawing up the bill, under which the above provisions became law. Also assisting were James J. Casco of Cambridge, D. W. Credman, director of local taxation, and Harold S. Lyon, deputy commissioner of taxation. The bill was passed by the Legislature on July 31, 1941.

The new bill will not affect Winchester as much as it will many other cities and towns, since the Town has long had a by-law providing that descriptions be given on all real estate. However, a State bill was interpreted by Commissioner Long, provided that but one tax bill and that containing no description of the property, be given to owners, no matter how many parcels they had, and last year Winchester adhered to this ruling, excepting that separate bills were given for separate pieces of property.

Considerable confusion was caused by adhering to the Commissioner's interpretation of the law, especially because under the new law of several parcels of real estate made payment on a single parcel, with payment made on each parcel, on any piece of property outstanding on the other pieces.

Under the new law an owner can have a separate bill, with workable description, on any piece of property he can pay ten per cent of the amount of the bill, provided the amount is over $10, and if complete payment is made, regardless of what the amount may be outstanding, that particular piece of property is cleared.

Collector Nichols told the Star he has always followed this procedure, which is more or less common practice. Commissioner Long held, however, that there was no foundation in law for such action and that cities and towns have refused to follow it. The new law will make such action uniform and mandatory.

Under the old law an owner having a home and for example, business property, could not by complete payment of that individual tax remove the lien from his business property, also made complete payment on the business property as well.

FRIENDS SHOWER MISS MARY CROSBY

Miss Mary Crosby was tendered a surprise shower last Friday evening at the home of her cousin, Mrs. John Quinn, 40 Avon street, Wakefield by a large number of relatives and friends.

The house was beautifully decorated in rainbow colors and the honor guest was seated beneath a large wedding veil which shrouded her in a cloud of petals. A very attractive wishing-well contained many lovely gifts which were opened by the bride-to-be, after which refreshments were served from a decorated table centered with a large bride's cake.

Miss Crosby will become the bride of Mr. Joseph M. Flaherty of Woburn at a nuptial mass in St. Patrick's Church, Monday, Sept. 1.

GASOLINE THIEVES CAUGHT

Officer Barnard Got Youths in the Act

Two Woburn youths, accompanied by a Reading girl, were interrupted by Officer Alfred Barnard of the Police Department as Police allege they were in the act of stealing gasoline from a sand loader at the site of Michael McGonigle, 350 Cross street shortly before 11:30 o'clock Sunday night. The youths, two with two two-gallon cans, the Police of thefts of gasoline from machines at his pit located off Cross street and the authorities have been on the lookout for the offenders.

Officer Barnard was on the alert Sunday night when he spotted a car driving in the main gate of the yard. He watched the machine crawl, he pit and finally back up to one of the sand loaders. Approaching he flashed his flashlight on the machine and found the youths with two two-gallon cans and a length of hose for siphoning the gasoline out of the sand loader.

With the youths was a 17-year old Reading girl, who was arrested.

Marching the trio to the Highlands Station, Officer Barnard called for a patrol car in which he escorted them to Headquarters. With Officer Jan E. Noonan, Officer Winthrop Palmer went to the sandpit and picked up the siphoning equipment.

When the youths were brought back, charged with larceny of gasoline. They gave their names as Paul Rigo, 18, of 21 Vining court and John Rigo, 18, of 11 Bedford road, both of Woburn. The girl with them was not held by the Police. The machine in which they were riding, a Pontiac convertible coupe, was registered to Rigo's father. It ran out of gasoline on the Shore road as Police were trying to drive it to Headquarters.

Koster, a juvenile, was turned over to his mother and was to appear in a juvenile session of the court on Thursday. Rigo was arraigned in court Monday morning when his case was continued until Thursday.

JOHN C. HAARZ

Founder of Conservatories Died in Campton, N. H.

John C. Haarz of 64 Edgemoor road, Belmont, a former resident of Winchester and widely known as the founder of the Winchester Conservatories, died Friday, Aug. 1, following a heart attack at his summer home in Campton, N. H. Mr. Haarz was born 60 years ago in Somerville. He was educated in the Somerville schools, graduating from the Somerville Latin School in 1901 and later from the evening division of the Lowell Textile School.

For a time he was in business with his father, the late Frederick Haarz, in a cloth sponging establishment on South street in Boston, but later he organized his own firm, J. C. Haarz, Inc., in 1914, and later he established a mill in New Haven, Conn. He was actively identified with this firm as president until 1924 when he resigned to organize the Haarz Auto-Fabric Company and the Haarz-Mason-Grover Company, both of which companies and served in this capacity until his death.

Mr. Haarz came to Winchester in 1916, purchasing the estate in 1917, and he was a natural liking for flowers, which attracted many visitors. He gave up his active interest in the Conservatories about the time he left Winchester.

Mr. Haarz made his home while in Winchester at 33 Wedgemoor avenue. Since leaving town he had been living in Campton, N. H. and for the last few years in Belmont. He was the owner of Albion Gardens in Campton, his farm there being nationally known for its flowers and vegetables.

Mr. Haarz was a 32nd degree Mason, William Parkman Lodge and was also a member of the American Horticultural Society and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna Maria Haarz, a son, John C. Haarz, Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. Charlotte Marinelli and Mrs. Marjorie E. Randall, all of whom live in Winchester. He also leaves three grandchildren and two sisters, Miss Louise D. Haarz of West Somerville and Mrs. William Haarz of Seattle.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon in the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Rev. H. H. Lunt, officiating. Honorary bearers were Stuart Manich, Louis O. Haarz, Karl Haarz, Robert N. Butterfield, and Kenneth H. Butterfield. Interment was in Wilburd Cemetery.

FATHER ROGERS DEAD

Watertown Pastor Formerly at St. Mary's

Rev. Fr. Frank E. Rogers, pastor of St. Theresa's Church, Watertown, died yesterday afternoon at the age of 28 years service in the priesthood. He was stricken ill two years ago while hard at work gathering funds for the completion of the exterior of his church on Mt. Auburn street and never fully recovered but despite poor health carried on courageously with the problems of his parish to his very death.

Father Rogers was the son of Timothy and Mary Rogers. He was born in 1878 in Billerica, received his early education in the Billerica schools and his training for the priesthood at St. Charles College, Billerica.

He was ordained in Boston Dec. 18, 1903, and soon after came to Winchester where he served as curate until July, 1921, when he went for a time to St. James in Salem. From there he was transferred to St. Charles in Woburn and in 1927 went to Watertown where he established St. Theresa's Parish, ground for the church being broken Sept. 9, 1928. When he first went to Watertown there was no church, and through his efforts masses were held in the East Junior High School while with inadequate funds he pushed the work on until 600 church structure, which unfortunately he did not live long enough to see completed.

Father Rogers leaves seven sisters, Mrs. Mary Hayes, Miss Catherine Rogers, Miss Annie Rogers, Miss N. E. Rogers, Miss Elizabeth Rogers and Miss Mary Rogers, all of Billerica and the Rev. Mother Agassiz of the Carmelites in Roxbury.

Funeral arrangements were not completed when the Star went to press.

HATS OFF TO BOB HITCHCOCK AND HIS KAYAK

Winchester might well be proud of her boys and innumerable instances come to light from time to time which show that they can hold their own and do the best thing at the right time. Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Hitchcock of 121 Church street, are to be congratulated that their son, Bob, who was born at home last Saturday afternoon when the heavy surf and the undertow almost took the lives of the boys, who were out on the water at Biddeford, Me., off shore from their summer place.

We have it on the authority of Mr. W. C. Balsor, Bob's grandfather, who says that they ran the boat out, it was not his boy scout training which saved the situation, but natural bravery and unusually quick thinking. Bob was busy engaged in repairing a damaged rowboat when suddenly the air was pierced with loud cries for help, and the boat which had been caught in the undertow and was being carried out to sea by the heavy surf. The boat was out of the undertow, and the outlook was indeed for at least two people. But with lightning thought young Bob rushed for his kayak and jumped the boat in a single stroke. He was 14 years old, and paddled like a veritable Eskimo until he reached the sinking pair, just in time. There's no sinking in a kayak, and young Bob and his father were busy engaged in repairing a damaged rowboat when suddenly the air was pierced with loud cries for help, and the boat which had been caught in the undertow and was being carried out to sea by the heavy surf. TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF GIRL SCOUT CABIN

Ten years ago under the able direction of Mrs. Harrison Lyman and her committee, a new portable log cabin was erected on the beautiful Brook Estate to be used by the Winchester Girl Scouts.

The flag raising took place April 29, 1931, with all Winchester Scouts present. The pole was a gift of Mrs. John H. Joy and the flag a gift of Mrs. Lyman, chairman of the cabin committee. At the flag raising, a number of day exercises were held and a blue spruce planted, the gift of Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, commissioner at that time.

Since the building of the Cabin, it has been a very necessary and worthwhile contribution to the out-of-door program of Girl Scouting.

The Day Camp has closed a very successful season on its 10th anniversary. Eighty-two Brownies and Scouts registered and an average attendance of 65 has been maintained. Of these, 32 had perfect attendance and the majority of the others missed only one or two days.

Meetings were held on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of each week for four weeks in July under the inspiring direction of Mrs. George French. Mrs. French, formerly Miss Eva Gregg, has been in charge of the Day Camp for the past three years and has endeavored herself to all who share in the Day Camp program. Her untiring enthusiasm, able leadership and delightful personality have contributed in large measure to the success of the camp.

Surrounded by a corps of able assistants life at the camp was gay, happy and always worthwhile. Songs, games, folk dancing, cook-outs in the out-of-door kitchen, dramatics, craft treasure hunts and many other activities rounded out a day's program leaving each girl at night with the desire to return to camp the next day.

Several new features were added to the program this year which, though adding to the expense of running the camp, nevertheless, were of great value. A physical examination by Dr. Allan Cunningham on the opening morning of camp, assured us that each Scout was in good physical condition.

The transportation by bus to Wedge Pond for swimming, taken up to the Cabin for the day and back home at night made it possible for many girls living at a distance to enjoy the camp.

The swimming under the competent instruction of Mr. Alfred Pennell whose services we were able to engage, was a very popular addition to the day program and seemed to round out the camp activities.

The use of Gim Field for a sports program for an hour each morning, gave opportunity for a variety of games under supervised instruction. To all who in any way contributed to the successful operation of the Girl Scout Day Camp, the camp and cabin committee extends grateful appreciation. We feel certain that whatever expense and effort is put into youthful recreation, worthwhile projects and happy hours for our girls will be returned in large measure in the character building of our young womanhood of tomorrow. The Community Fund of Greater Boston from whom we receive an apportionment for our Girl Scout work here in Winchester we express our gratitude.

The Winchester Public Library was very cooperative in lending to the camp 100 books which the children enjoyed reading in their rest period. Their careful selection of books suitable to the variety of ages of girls was greatly appreciated.

Thursday, the closing day of camp, dawned gray and doubtful but the cabin was a busy spot getting ready for the afternoon when mothers and friends of the girls were invited for the closing exercises. Chairs in a semi-circle under the trees in front of the cabin made the guests comfortable while they watched the program of the three camp units.

There was group singing, tap dancing, solos, both vocal and piano, motor reactions, folk dancing, acrobatic dancing, skits and a variety of entertainment planned by the girls and cleverly carried out. A group of older girls under the direction of Mrs. Thelma Smith gave a play "Screaming the News."

In the cabin the crafts were attractively displayed and a variety of articles made by the girls were on exhibition. Refreshments were served to the guests and girls.

As a reward for perfect attendance at camp the names of 92 girls were announced who were to have the privilege of going by bus to Marblehead for a picnic and swim in the salt water.

After good-night circle and the singing of tans another successful season of the Day Camp came to a close. One could not help but feel grateful for the privilege of having this group of girls to build sound minds and healthy bodies in the tranquility of our good United States.

GARDEN DAMAGED

Vandals damaged a large garden located on Jefferson road to the extent of $100 sometime during Sunday night. corn, peppers and cabbage plants being destroyed and potato plants being pulled from the ground.

The owner of the garden, Mr. Salvatore Maccio St. Lawrence street, reported the matter to the Police who are trying to learn the identity of those responsible.

FRED W. PARSHLEY
Former Resident Died in New Jersey

Fred W. Parshley, a former resident of Winchester, died late Saturday, Aug. 2, in Merchantville, N. J., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alfred S. Willets. He was 74 years old.

Mr. Parshley was born in Stratford, N. H. From 1911 to 1929 he was superintendent of the composing room of the Herald-Traveler in Boston, making his home at 15 Stevens street from 1924 until 1939. Later he founded the Evening Bulletin in Merchantville, but had retired from its management.

Mr. Parshley was a charter member of Fourth Estate Lodge of Masons, the Boston Newspapermen's Lodge and also a member of the Signatore Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of West Medford, and of the Typographical Union.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Christina Anderson Parshley, two daughters, Mrs. Willets and Miss Mildred P. Parshley; and two sons, Frederick A. and John E. Parshley.

Interment was in Rochester, N. H.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. MARY L. WINN

The W. C. T. U. wishes to pay tribute to Mrs. Mary L. Winn, as a devoted member since 1879, only a few years after the national union was organized. She was a faithful attendant at our meetings and took part in the one held at the Baptist Church in September 1939, celebrating Frances Willard's Centenary birthday in a program giving various episodes in her life.

Mrs. Winn read a poem, "Little People," written by Miss Willard's mother when she was 85 years old, for the W. C. T. U. organization of little folks, the Loyal Temperance Legion, a poem recited all over the world by the little soldiers newly mustered into fight the army of temptation and of sin. Their slogan was "Tremble, King Alcohol, we shall grow up." They did, and helped to bring in Prohibition, in many ways no failure, as proved by the fact that the 1932 overturn was planned by the liquor interests in Europe, and their plans here. Their disappointment certainly acknowledged the power of Prohibition. We remember how well Mrs. Winn read that little poem.

Winchester was once a part of Charlestown and was known as Waterfield, later it became part of Woburn, called "Woburn Gates" and in 1850 was incorporated as Winchester.

Boston's tax rate for 1941 is $39.00 which is 81 less than in 1940, and is estimated to raise $57,847,000.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

On Friday afternoon 250 youngsters will be taken to the Red Sox-Washington baseball game at Fenway Park. All tickets to this game must be accepted before Thursday afternoon of this week. A charge of 10c as usual, is being levied which will help pay transportation expenses. Tickets may be procured from field instructors.

The drawing for the scout scooter cycles took place Saturday morning on both playgrounds. Miss Ann Delory of High street, Woburn won the Leonard Field contest and James Gibbons of Wendall street won the Loring avenue award. This affair was a huge success as over $40 was realized. All this money will be turned over to a local bus company for future transportation.

A tentative date of Tuesday, Aug. 12, has been set for the showing of the American League baseball picture at our lecture. This show which has been made possible through the generosity of Manager George Carter, will start at 9:45 a. m. There will be no charge for this showing.

CARS CRASHED AT CAMBRIDGE AND CHURCH STREETS

Monday morning shortly before 8:30 a Chevrolet coach, owned and operated by Gerald J. Rosenfeld of 14 Colburne Crescent, Brookline, was in collision at the junction of Cambridge, Church and High streets with a Packard sedan, owned and driven by Frederick E. Farquhar of River street, Billerica.

According to the Police the Chevrolet was traveling north on Cambridge street while the Packard was headed south on Cambridge street and making a left turn onto Church street.

Both cars were so badly wrecked they had to be towed away. Rosenfeld sustained a cut on the back of the head and was taken in the Police car to the Winchester Hospital where his injury was treated.

TWO FIRES SUNDAY

The Fire Department answered two alarms Sunday, the first coming in at 7:53 in the morning for a fire at the home of James A. McLaughlin, 17 Glenwood avenue. Upon arrival the firemen found that a chair which had caught fire in the house had been thrown out onto a back porch, setting that ablaze. The fire was an inconsequential one and was extinguished with but slight damage.

Sunday forenoon at 11:50 Box 142 was sounded for a fire at brush fire on Robinhood road. A tool shed, the property of Charles A. Gleason, was set afire and burned down before the arrival of the apparatus.

KOBE IS CENTER OF JAPANESE SHIPYARDS AND FOREIGN TRADE

The excellent deep-water harbor of Kobe, Japan, closed to foreigners for 10 days by the Japanese Government, is one of the Orient's great ports and shipbuilding centers, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Shanghai dispatches describe the city as a likely point of embarkation for Japanese troops in any movement against French Indo-China.

Both merchant ships and naval vessels have slid down the ways of Kobe's vast shipyards, which make the waterfront a network of scaffolding. One company alone claims an annual capacity of 300,000 tons of shipping.

Because of its location on the Inland Sea at the head of Osaka Bay, Kobe commands the trade of a great part of central Japan. Railroad connections to other parts of the island are excellent, and coastal shipping is heavy. At Kobe raw materials are received for manufacture in the industrial metropolis of Osaka, less than 20 miles eastward. Tokyo is about 300 air miles northeast.

Considerably westernized in appearance by its contacts with the world-at-large, Kobe is one of Japan's half dozen largest cities. Its population approaches the million mark, and its factories have grown rapidly. It is the center of the country's match-making industry, and there are spinning mills and factories for making hardware, paper, glass, and electrical equipment.

Along with other preparations for war, the C. I. O. is still doing its bit.
Now comes a strike at Kearny, N. J., in a defense plant employing an estimated 18,000 men. The plant was closed yesterday, so reports read, and only maintenance men, guards (?) and a few payroll men were permitted in.
Thus home front war work is being the brave folks on under New Deal guidance.

The gasoline situation turns out to be as much of a problem as the other
New Deal schemes of playing with a Nation. We read last week that gasoline was to be rationed at five gallons a week. Three days later we read that a gasless period from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. is declared. Four days later we read that rationing is to be tried at 15 gallons a week. And after all we have read various extracts from oil officials' opinions that if the Government had only have let the industry alone, without butting in, to solve its problems itself, there would be no gas shortage! Furthermore, we now read that gas is going up two cents a gallon. In other words, you can't have it, but if you do get it you will pay more money. Who gets the increase in money? With such a hedge-podge mess it is no wonder that the one pays an attention to a gas shortage, although a drive from Fort Devons Wednesday night certainly revealed that fewer cars were on the road on that stretch than any other.
New Deal has played with so many schemes, surrounded the people with so many restrictions and so they are destroyed public confidence. In every branch of morals and life and liberty, that no one expects any of its games and rules to work anything but hardships. No wonder we are now the loom friends of Russia.

MEMORIES OF 50 YEARS AGO

To the Editor of the Star:

Fifty years ago I joined the First Congregational Church of Winchester. The church and town have been much in my thoughts of late. My connection with Amherst College started when I was very young. I recall that the first boy I met was very fond of Dr. Alonzo Chapin of the Amherst class of 1826, the fifth class to graduate. Dr. Chapin lived on the next door to my old home on Church street and a few doors away lived Dr. Daniel March of the Amherst class of 1865, whose father also named Dr. Daniel March was a member of the class of 1838 at the college to which he had sent his son.
Dr. Edwin Cone Russell, Amherst
Class 1855, ended his master's work in Winchester the year I was born and my chum's name gave me special interest in this pastor for whom he was named. Rev. D. Augustus Newman, Amherst '79, found soil well prepared for his Amherst planting.

Speaking of Dr. Chapin suggests the missionary atmosphere of the church life. He had been a missionary in the Sandwich Islands. We were encouraged to give toward the successive "Morning Stars" (missionary ships); there were monthly missionary meetings in the vestry.
The Seek and Save funds held each year on February 22d were grand occasions. "Ed" Holt and I were one of the lemon eight for lemon in the Holt's barn, from which massive lemon, lemonade was sold; I think for missionary funds. Dr. Holt's other initiative into the vestry was the "church criticism" which teaching helped me much in later years.

Among the farmers in the Winchester Church who have influenced my life were Judge Tyler, Principals
Scott and Lovering, the Cutters, Walter D. Middleton (the money he spent on my young rascals), the diners he gave us! David Nelson Skillings, (builder of Rangle's) Samuel Elder, Admiral Thatcher, Harrison Parker, Dr. Frederick Winsor, Charles Redfern, Henry Ordway (my pen refuses to list any more, but I am really surprised at the length of the unprinted list).

I understand that a brilliant life of Admiral Thatcher exists in verse, but that it is yet unprinted. The path of unrecalled past has never allowed to me. To I know that was just across Wedge Pond. Commodore Spicer's home was nearby on that same shore and Gen John M. Corse of Albany and his family were there. Certainly they still influence me. I enjoy thinking of the Sunday School picnic, and other school memories. I recall the unending details of the ones held down Boston harbor, and on one occasion we were run into by, or ran into, a small harbor steamer, and men decided to eat not only our own ice cream but that belonging to some other organization.

When I went to the Yale Divinity School the gifts from the church of my boyhood helped a lot. Frequently I "preached" at Winchester Highland. Yes, and the random memories flashed in as that of the James A.
Garfield Memorial service, and that of the funeral of a whole family killed long before the days before mobile accidents. In more cheerful vein I can never forget Holmes Kendall, gentleman sexton. How I loved to stay with him on the night before July 1. I have written just as memories have come to the surface.

With the utterly devoted Rev. Mr.
Parker living only a lot next to our home how could I fail to become deeply interested in the Home Missionary Society of which under its later name
Dr. Frederick Park became the brilliant president. His wife's maiden name was Grace Conant. I went to Mr. Conant's house to collect my pay for pumping the organ and I saw the young minister courting his daughter.
It has fallen to my part for the past two score years to be located in a very "wet" section of a very "wet" city where liquor has played a most ful part in politics. I learned to hate the traffic at the meetings of the Reform Club. There I first heard Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, then a student at B. U. There I saw and heard John Hemenway, a Winchester man whose life had been endangered by his struggle against illegal liquor selling. Then there was that beautiful wedding of "Nellie" Holt and of William Northern Holt. Surely there has never lived in Winchester a woman more permeated with genuine friendliness at least to small boys than was Madam Redfern.

I cannot imagine any community or any church which could have given me a better background for leadership in this absolutely unique downtown church with which Mrs. Robinson and I have been connected for almost 40 years. Our High School motto was Ad Astra Per Aspera.
Lives which had taken it would finishing, lives which had accomplished the impossible lived in Winchester. We of the class of 1892 firmly expected "to follow in their train."

As Winchester Rotary reached the heights of the summer season, yesterday's meeting was one of the smallest thus far this year, although undoubtedly the recorded attendance both in surrounding towns and elsewhere, will show an interest among its members well in keeping with the percentage attendance.

Yesterday's meeting at the Country Club was adjourned to the Winchester Hotel, through courtesy to the club's secretary, "Frank" Knight.
Frank had the misfortune to fall down a darkened flight of stairs, badly bruising his shoulder, and was attended to by his bedside, where the formalities of closing were conducted.

Although X-rays revealed a broken bone in Frank's shoulder, it is expected that he is in his own home by now.

President "Milt" Bennett read the following letter during the meeting from Harry Benson, one of Winchester Rotary's absentee members in the service of Uncle Sam:

At Sea, Aug. 3, 1941

Dear President Milt:
Greetings to all the boys in Winchester's Rotary Club. I certainly would be glad to be able to sit down with you all on a lunch this day, but I am afraid many Thursdays will come and go before I shall have that pleasure again.

For obvious reasons I cannot tell you where I am, but I have enjoyed every minute of my travels. Fortunately we have had excellent weather and that fact, plus the fact that we have had a seaworthy ship, has prevented anyone from being seasick. While the days are usually quite warm, the evenings are cool and the nights are a pleasant breeze blowing.

There are about 200 men and officers on this ship and I am the only one who has not been seasick. I have not been kept very busy and have had no major accidents nor illnesses. Consequently, I find considerable time for my bathing, reading, exploring the ship, etc.

Most of our trips have been short, but our present cruise is the longest one so far. We haven't been out yet for about 11 days and may not come into another one for several more days. We have covered several hundreds of miles since our ship was commissioned in June.

Best wishes to everyone for a pleasant summer and happy vacation.

Sincerely,

Harry
E. (Gee) Harry L. Benson,

THE SWING WILL BE O. K.

Aug. 1, 1941

To the Editor of the Star:

Thanks for your mention of my tumble in the July 25 issue; I did break a couple of vertebrae and a bone in my hand.
But I'd like to reassure the many patrons of our big swing that the accident was my fault and not an example of the strength of the swing.
I was too fat to fit a line in the connection, but was called down before I could even start. I trusted to the reserve connection and started pulling the rope hand over hand, it broke. When I awoke up again, even the reserve rope will be stronger!

Yours truly,

FATHER AND SON TOURNEY
WON BY MONMANS

Judge Joe and Joe, Jr. Take Third Title

The Monmans of Belmont, Judge Joseph and Joseph, Jr., held their annual Father and Son golf tourney, pitched excellent ball and was well handled by Beanie Perry. He fanned seven, while walking three and might have pulled out with a victory but for the sun which blinded left fielder Flora on two occasions, with men on bases. The makeshift team behind him made three errors which didn't help matters. Joe Styrski covered the initial ball well and proved a hard man to pitch to by getting two walks.
Joe Styrski, Jr., lined a double down the left field foul line from the port side, also drew a pass and scored a run. Rallo and McHugh played excellent, each tallying one. The game was a tough one for Rallo to lose, pitching four hit ball against the older Malden team which boasted a 23 year old married catcher with a baby son.

BATTLE OF BIRDS ON AGAIN!

The battle of the birds is on again!
For several years countless kites have taken up their residence among the trees on Wedgewood avenue. People who live on that street object to their noisy and careless conduct and our police department has been called on to persuade these birds to move elsewhere. Kite candles have been shot up into the trees where they roost but these birds seem to enjoy the pretty stars which sail up among the leaves.

A few years ago very fine bird shot was used and after some had been wounded and killed they all moved to Wedgewood Cemetery where they disturbed no one. New black cartridges are being used and it seems to disturb only the inexperienced among the birds. These fly to the street trees and settle down for the night. The great majority think the noise is wonderful and without moving from their perch indicate in louder and more chirps and cackles.

SANDOWN, N. H. OLD HOME DAY

167th Anniversary Old Meeting House

The Old Meeting House Historical Association and the Selectmen of Sandown, N. H., announce the annual opening of the historic Old Meeting House on Sunday, Aug. 10.

The event annually attracts hundreds of visitors from all over the United States. Unpleasant crowding has been eliminated by the holding of two services, one at 11 a. m. and the other at 3 p. m. (D. S. T.). Free parking for all cars.

In the morning, a patriotic address will be delivered by Harold F. Drew of Keene, N. H.

In the afternoon, the sermon will be delivered by Rev. Edward F. Miller, D.D., of Chicopee Falls, Mass.

Music at both services by the Webster Male Quartet of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Percy F. Benedict, organists.

Solely for the convenience of the visitors, a catered luncheon will be served in the Town Hall at 1 o'clock. The Old Meeting House itself is priceless. Built in 1733-74, it is a rare example of early American architecture, retaining all of its original charm, never having been altered nor restored.

Slave pens, deacon's pew, exquisite paneling, the superb high old grooved pine pulpit with sounding board, the "Indian" doors, marbled columns, and the thousand paneled windows never fail to thrill the lover of early New England life. Even the beautiful, original hand-wrought hardware is still intact.

The Old Meeting House is thought to be the only one in New Hampshire remaining in its original condition. The edifice is still the property of the town although the Historical Association helps maintain it. No regular services have been held since 1881, when the Congregational Society dissolved.

Noted speakers have graced its pulpit, among these, Josiah Bartlett of Kingston, signer of the Declaration of Independence; Mary A. Livermore, the late Rev. Willis P. Bliss, D.D., formerly of Calvary Church, New York City; Bishops Hamilton and Hughes; the Rev. Phillips Endicott Osgood, D.D., of Emmanuel Church, Boston; the Rev. Vaughn Dabney, D.D., dean of the Andover Newton Theological School, Newton, Mass.; former Governor Winans; former Governor Francis X. Murphy; Congressman Tobey; and other leaders of the various religious denominations.

The annual meeting of the Historical Association at 430 ends the Old Home Day celebration.

Ecuador and Peru Fight AGAIN OVER OLD TERRITORIAL DISPUTE

Ecuador and Peru again have resorted to force to protect their respective boundary rights. Border forces of the two republics have clashed in the Chacras region of El Oro province near the point where their uncertain boundaries reach the Pacific Ocean.

President Roosevelt accepted the role of arbitrator of the Ecuador-Peru territorial dispute in 1934, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. But no satisfactory agreement has yet been reached, although in May, 1941, a peaceful settlement seemed probable when Argentina, Brazil, and the United States offered their friendly services to help arbitrate the differences. These involved no narrow border area, but a huge piece of land about the size of New Mexico at the Amazon headwaters. Both countries accepted the mediation terms, but Peru made reservations, which in effect canceled her acceptance.

Present flare-up near Pacific Coast. Although the present trouble is apparently confined to Pacific coast regions, the much larger and more valuable area east of the Andes is at stake in any long-term solution of the dispute.

If the eastern region of overlapping claims, which Ecuador calls the Oriente (the East or Orient) and Peru terms the Montana (the Mountain Region), were assured to Ecuador, that country would find its territories clasped in Peruvian pincers.

For Peru, by agreements with Colombia and Ecuador, has possession of a long thin arm of land, 400 miles long but on the average less than 40 miles wide, reaching northwestward from the upper Amazon River in the watershed of the Putumayo River, which forms the boundary with Colombia.

Rich in wild rubber trees, valuable tropical woods, and with resources of gold and possibly oil, the thinly-peopled Oriente region appears as a part of the Peruvian map, while Ecuador charts it as part of her territory. Ocean-going steamers reach the Peruvian port of Iquitos after a 2,000-mile voyage up the Amazon.

With about 40,000 inhabitants, Iquitos exports tobacco, cotton, coffee, wax, penicillin, gold, sarsaparilla and vanilla, and walnut, mango and cedar. Barbados, a poisonous root which Indians have long used as an insect-killing, is shipped for use as an insect-killing.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF

Winchester Unit

Aug. 14, Winchester people will have a chance to hear a report on two of their investments. They will learn about returns on some their dollars, the dollars they gave for Rolling Kitchen of Britain. At the Statler Hotel, Boston, at 12:30, a Dutch treat luncheon will give an opportunity to hear two speakers who are said to be "the women who know the most about the Battle of Britain." These are the M. T. C. the mechanized transport corps) an organization of volunteer women drivers and mechanics, are Mrs. Pat Macleod and Miss Winifred Asford. As drivers of ambulances and rolling kitchens they have been where Hitler's total war rained most misery on civilians. They have brought the wounded out from under a rain of bombs. They have brought the rolling kitchens up to feed those fighting the fires and those digging into the new ruins to rescue the trapped wounded and to remove the dead. They have hurried the kitchens and their comforting hot food to lines of weary, chivering, bogared people whom night's destruction has robbed of everything.

But they have not come to harrow their hearers but to hearten them. Their story is not of the pain inflicted on British civilians, but the courage with which they have met it and the help which gifts like ours of ambulances and rolling kitchens have given. Those interested in hearing Mrs. Macleod and Miss Asford are invited to make reservations for the luncheon through Mrs. Fred Cameron, Win. 1984.

By vote of the workers on Wednesday, Aug. 6, the central workroom will be closed on Aug. 13 and on each successive Wednesday through Sept. 3. Individual workers will continue in their homes.

Knitting will be in charge of Mrs. Francis Booth. Yarn for all kinds of garments will be available, sweaters and socks for land, air, or sea forces, in the khaki color, horizon blue, or navy blue and white for the sea boat stockings. A knitter who will call Win. 2084 will be supplied.

On Sept. 10, the central workroom will open again in the Epiphany parish hall, Church street.

MASS. CO-OPERATIVE BANK LEAGUE

Substantiated by the Bank Commissioner's report, Roger W. Nutt, chairman of the Co-operative Bank League Advertising Committee, points out a remarkable record for these banks during the past year ending June, 1941.

A year ago real estate held through foreclosure by Co-operative Banks constituted 10 per cent of the assets of the banks. At the end of last month this figure had been reduced more than 25 per cent to a present book value of $29,295,102.51. This means that the general public appreciates the advisability of investing in home ownership and is rapidly depleting the supply of available houses.

During this same year Co-operative Bank real estate loans have increased over $13,716,000 and now represent 78 per cent of all assets. Most of these mortgages were written on the Direct Reduction Plan, by far the most popular of all mortgage plans in Massachusetts.

In addition to the substantial decrease in the number of foreclosed properties and the big jump in real estate loans, Co-operative banks have increased reserves for losses $24,954,146.98 or 628 per cent of all liabilities.

Mr. Nutt further points out that Co-operative Banks have become one of the country's foremost banking groups, is now in a particularly favorable position to serve the people of Massachusetts.

VITEBSK RUSSIAN RAILWAY JUNCTION

Embattled Vitebsk, which has been the center of fighting for two weeks, is an important Russian railway center, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society. Its recent occupation by German troops severed the railroad line from Leningrad to Kiev at its midpoint.

Situated in the northeastern corner of White Russia, Vitebsk straddles the West Dvina River at its junction with the Vitba, continues the bulletin. Another important railway from Riga passing through the city on its way to Smolensk, 85 miles farther west, was also affected by the German's capture.

Napoleon Occupied City
Vitebsk is the center of a sizable agricultural machinery and implement industry. Glassware, boots and shoes, flax sewing needles, spectacles, and brushes are also produced there.

War is not new to Vitebsk. For the last few centuries much fighting has taken place in and around the city. Levied by fire three times in wars between Poland and Russia, it has always rapidly risen from its ashes. Napoleon's army occupied the city on its way to Moscow. It became Russian a few years before the signing of our Declaration of Independence.

A city approximately the size of Hartford, Conn., Vitebsk's residents are nearly half Jewish, according to Russian census figures. The remainder are White and Great Russians.

This Month's STAR RECIPE

By BETTY BARCLAY

Ridiculous bread pudding as much as you please but here is a bread pudding recipe that is entitled to "star" rating for the month. Try it once and you'll have an entirely new viewpoint on bread pudding as a dessert. Today is an excellent time to make this pudding, for the market is well supplied with those juicy Valencia summer oranges.

Sunny Bread Pudding

3 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups orange juice
4 cups cubed from day-old bread
1/2 cup grated coconut
2 tablespoons raisins
Combine eggs, sugar, salt and orange juice. Pour over bread. Sdr in raisins and coconut. Bake in buttered baking dish (350° F.) about 30 minutes, or until set. Increase heat (450° F.) to brown peaks. Serve with orange sauce. (Serves 6.)

Orange Pudding Sauce

1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter
Mix cornstarch, sugar, peel and orange juice. Boil 5 minutes. Remove from fire. Add lemon juice and butter. Serve hot. (Serves 4-6.)

1872

It was quite an advance in fashion when they made the first dress of straw with a row of heavy Mackinaw braid, woven by Michigan Indians and sewed in the shape of the popular beaver hats.

1885

The flat top was adopted from the dress hat of the British navy tars—hence the term "sailor's" and "sailor's" hats.

1890

This shape came from the English schools, where it was a uniform at the regattas and other summer holidays.

1897

The derby became the popular year round hat, so they tried the shape in straw.

1910

The first so-called "College" hats brought in this narrow brim and fancy band as companion.

1920

For a time, in the early 1920's, the men who couldn't make them wide enough—then—

1880

Straws of the 80's were heavy, coarse braids made of straw still made in felt hat shapes.

1900

Only in recent seasons have they succeeded in making straw hats truly the essence of summer comfort.

Old Fighting Term

The "Fighting Hope" associated with battles is primarily a military detachment, commissioned or voluntary, for some especially dangerous or desperate service. The term has come to be employed for any enterprise having little prospect of success.

COMMANDER RUSH TOLD VETERANS SHIP BUILDING AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Comdr. Richard M. Rush, of 6 Woodside road, told superintendent at the Boston Navy Yard, Sunday night told several hundred members of the Disabled Veterans of the World War that the shipbuilding program was "ahead of schedule."

Speaking unofficially at the annual banquet at the Parker House, Commander Rush told of the "satisfactory progress" being made in the building of the various types of ships for the navy's "first line of defense."

Personal at the yard numbers 12, day working in three shifts every day of the week, he said. "As soon as one craft is launched, the keel of another is laid almost instantly. The workers are willingly sacrificing their customary leisure on return to their all-important jobs of meeting the government's demand for ships and more ships to that our vision of a two-way navy will become a reality."

He was introduced by John A. Colbert of Somerville, state commander, and after the afternoon session, the department officers endorsed a statement which condemned the use of hyphenated titles in designating organizations whose members are of common racial origin.

"We feel," the statement read, "that the usage of hyphenations by societies made up of various nationalities are not in the interests of our country and do not make possible a real amalgamation that is necessary for the carrying out of the program of national unity and strength."

Most widely grown American wheat came from Russian Ukraine.

The Ukraine, Russian bread basket which is the target for the Germans, is the origin of the grain that dominates in wheat fields of the prairie west of the United States, says a report from the National Geographic Society.

The variety known as Turkey wheat, now the most widely grown in the United States, was brought to this country 75 years ago by immigrants from the section of the Ukraine east of the Dnieper River, Germany, Monmouth, originally settling in that region in 1866.

Great's promise to relieve the military service, obtained the patent seed from Turkish neighbors; hence its name. About 1870, 100,000 exemption from army duty was granted some 100 families moved from the plains of southern Russia to the Ukraine.

Many of them, at the instance of railroad agents, bought railroad land for their farms at 80 an acre.

Each family brought a peck or more of seed wheat, which the children had been taught to select laboriously by grain by grain. Because of similarity of grain, the Turkey wheat from Russia grew abundantly in spite of drought. Kansas was a corn State then; the Monmouths' introduction of wheat was a Russian wheat made it the leading wheat of the State.

Turkey, a hard red winter wheat, made good harvests possible in extensive regions where other wheat could not thrive. Now hard red winter types principally of Russian origin account for almost half the wheat acreage in the United States, chiefly in the central and southern sections of the Great Plains region. Other varieties of hard winter wheat, either derived from or similar to Turkey are Karlov, Ukrainka, Belogolova, Michkov, and Nebraska No. 6.

Several additional important varieties were obtained from Russia by scientists sent out from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Telephone Companies in Five States

We call ourselves the New England Telephone Company. But there are 120 other telephone companies in the same territory.

These other companies serve communities ranging from tiny hamlets to sizable towns. All are "telephone people," devoted to a common purpose — the best possible service for the lowest possible cost.

About twice a year representatives of these telephone companies in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine get together for shop talk about new methods, new telephone techniques and apparatus — and afterwards a little sociability — town-meeting fashion.

Traveling or telephoning around New England, you'll find telephone people everywhere anxious to serve you. That's the way telephone people are.

TO SETTLE IN SAN FRANCISCO

Stanley Mobbs Has Been With Blanchard's 20 Years

Mr. Stanley W. Mobbs of Lake Street, for the past 20 years in the employ of the George W. Blanchard Company, local lumber dealer, recently severed his connection with this old line Winchester firm and on Monday left for San Francisco, Cal., where he has accepted a position in the lumber department of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

When Mr. Mobbs left Blanchard's he was acting as yard foreman. Stanley, expect to follow him to San Francisco sometime during the fall but have made no definite plans as yet.

"Stan," as he is known to a host of friends, is a Winchester boy. He graduated from high school with the class of 1913 he made baseball history by pitching and winning from Medford High School, the great "A" Davidson opposing him.

He had a long record of army service, joining the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia in 1917, and with the 4th Infantry until 1917. At the time of the World War he served overseas for nearly a year with the rank of supply sergeant, taking part in the Meuse-Argonne drive with the 3d French Army Corps.

Since the war he has been actively identified with Winchester Post 97, American Legion, and with the Waterfield Lodge, I. O. O. F. He takes with him to his new position on the west coast the best wishes of his many friends.

FRYE-CARRUTHERS

Miss Edith Margery Carruthers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carruthers, was married on Saturday afternoon, August 9, at the home of her parents on Pine Street in Medford, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Fyre of Water Street, Medford. Rev. Alexander Henderson of the First Baptist Church of Medford performed the four o'clock ceremony which took place in the music room of the house in front of a screen of smilax bunched on the walls and white gladioli, Easter lilies and ferns.

Miss Carruthers was given in marriage by her father and was attended only by Miss Evelyn Carruthers of this town.

The bride wore a gown having a fitted bodice of white emmentine and a full skirt of white mousquetaire. Her fingertip length veil of white tulle was held by a diamond of lilies of the valley and bouquet and her crescent shaped bouquet combined white orchids, white bouvardia, pom pom asters and baby's breath.

The honor maid wore a blue mousquetaire dress with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, flowered waist and a full skirt. Her hair was styled like that of the bride except that the flowers were sweethearts roses with a cluster of Marguerites.

Philip Gray of Medford was Mr. Fyre's best man and the ushers were Kenneth Dunn of Arlington, George Graves of West Medford and Harry Fyre of Medford.

A reception was held after the ceremony out of doors on the lawn of the Carruthers home, the parents of the bride assisting in the bride room, the honor maid and the best man.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended the Boston University in Middlebury College where she was a member of the Sigma Kappa sorority. Mr. Fyre is a Medford High graduate, class of 1933.

WINCHESTER GIRLS IN TENNIS EXHIBITION

Miss Helen Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Carroll of Lincoln Street, and Miss Peggy Shinnick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Shinnick of Washington Street, are to give a tennis exhibition Saturday afternoon at Hopelade in connection with the finals of Community Tennis Tournament and the awards will be given for the season at the town courts there.

Miss Carroll, State Junior Doubles champion with Polly Kimball and a member of the Winchester High School girls' unbeaten tennis team for the past three seasons, will play with R. E. Sargent student who is well known locally as a coach and teacher of tennis. After playing their singles match the winner and runner-up in men's singles as partners. Hopelade has been trying to boom tennis as a community sport and around the town courts are buzzing behind the men in interest and ability. Seeing the two local girls play is expected to fire the Hopelade fire, and tennis aside, Peg and Helen are nice girls to have around anyhow.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Monroe Cuyt of Westfield, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Dorothy Jane Cuyt to Mr. William Irvin Thompson, son of Mr. William Thompson, of Winchester.

Miss Cuyt was graduated from Swarthmore College in 1940.

Mr. Thompson is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and completed graduate studies there in 1937, receiving the degree of Doctor of Science.

Mr. Thompson is associated with the Standard Oil Development Company and is at present making his home in Westfield.

EDWIN N. LOVERING LEAVES WINCHESTER

Principal Emeritus of Winchester High School to Live in Penna.

Mr. Edwin N. Lovering, who for many years has lived at 6 Hillside avenue, and who is known and universally beloved as principal emeritus and "grand old man" of the Winchester High School, left town last Friday to make his future home with his daughter, Mrs. Marion M. Linton, at 828 Turner Street, Drexel Hill, Penna.

Mr. Lovering's departure from town will occasion general regret. A Harvard man, class of 1877, he came to Winchester from Ohio in 1887, when the faculty was very few in numbers and there were but 45 pupils in the entire student body.

For 22 years he served as principal of the high school and taught latin, retiring as principal to become a big testimonial reception on June 6 in the high school assembly hall and presented with a purse of money by friends and former students and with a set of resolutions adopted by the School Committee.

When it became known he was to leave Winchester the En Ka Society, of which he is an honorary member, presented him with a handsome traveling bag as a token of the affection and esteem in which he is held by Society members and the entire town.

Few teachers in Winchester's history have attained a greater degree of popularity and respect than "the Gent" as he was, and always will be known by his former pupils.

His presence at their athletic games in recent years, was a splendid example to the students, while his superb command of the English language, a victory of defeat.

He left Winchester with regret at all these years and that regret is shared by his home in Drexel Hill, where he has a home and where he will extend to him their best wishes for health and happiness in his new home.

LIEUTENANT DOWNES AND MISS MANAHAN WED

At a very simple ceremony in the Chapel at Fort Knox, Kentucky, in the presence of the officers and staff of the Eighth Battalion, Miss Edith Manahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Manahan of Winchester, became the bride of Lt. J. Edward Downes Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Downes of High Street, on Friday, August 8, at 10 o'clock.

Miss Manahan is a graduate of the Newton Country Day School, Harvard College, and Harvard Law School. He is a member of the Lampton and Speaker's Club.

Following a brief wedding trip to French Lick, Indiana, Lt. and Miss Downes will live in Louisville, Kentucky.

Lt. Downes has recently been appointed Assistant Trial-Judge-Advocate of the Eighth Battalion of the American Forces Amphibious Training Center at Fort Knox.

AT MOOSEHEAD LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Baldwin of 5 Ardley place, are at Moosehead Lake in Maine, where they are registered at the Squaw Mountain Inn. Mr. Baldwin's sister, Miss S. Elizabeth Bowman of Woburn, last week-end they were the guests of Mr. Gay P. Gannett, Portland, Maine publisher at his summer estate, Forest Lodge at Lily Bay. The Baldwins made a trip from Greenville to Lily Bay in Mr. Gannett's amphibious plane, and were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Wheeler of Lexington, Mr. Wheeler is managing editor of the Boston Herald. The Baldwins are also registered at Squaw Mountain Inn.

NO ITALIAN DAY CELEBRATION THIS YEAR

Aside from the usual religious services held upon a feast day in the Roman Catholic Church there will be no local observance of the Feast of the Assumption today such as those formerly held by the Italian citizens of the town. Years ago thousands of people thronged to Winchester to witness the fireworks display which always concluded the celebrations.

NO DRAFT CALL IN SEPTEMBER

The Star was informed by clerk Alfred E. Sweet at Selective Service Headquarters in the town hall yesterday that so far as the local board has been able to ascertain there will be no call for draftees in the Winchester-Salem District during September.

SYLVIA CAMPBELL WON EASTERN YACHT CLUB SINGLES

Lois Ladd in All-Winchester Final

Polly Kimball Mixed Doubles Winner

Mrs. Cortland E. Campbell of Detroit, the former Sylvia Hatch, one of Winchester's best girl tennis players in her high school and post high school days, won the women's singles championship in the Eastern Yacht Club tennis tournament at Marblehead by beating another Winchester entrant, Lois Ladd, in the final round of play last Sunday, 6-2, 6-1.

Both Mrs. Campbell and Miss Ladd displayed a fine brand of tennis in their match in the championship bracket and the fact that the winner dropped only four games in the match by no means indicates that they were one-sided. Lois played brilliantly as she did throughout the tournament and was picked by many of the Western ones as the likely winner going into the final.

The more experienced Mrs. Campbell, however, proved a bit too steady for her younger opponent and reserved her victory with grace and possession for one year of the Eastern Yacht Club Challenge Bowl. This handsome trophy must be won three times to become a permanent possession. Mrs. Campbell's name, bears that of another Winchester girl, Polly Kimball, who won the trophy in 1938.

Mrs. Campbell, who came east with her small daughter, Bonnie Lee, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hatch of Cabot street, has proved her name considerably since leaving Winchester. She now ranks with the best women players in Detroit and is a finalist in the Western Michigan tourney, reaching the semi-finals in the Michigan State tennis tournament in Detroit. Two years ago she won both the Western Michigan and Western Ontario finals.

Her victory here in singles at the Eastern Yacht Club Mrs. Campbell was a finalist in women's doubles, playing with Frances Keyes, former Western Yacht Club champion. Miss Ladd and Ruth Carter of Everett in a three set match, 5-7, 6-4, 2-6.

This was another corking match with all four participants playing well with Miss Keyes contributing some especially fine play in support of Mrs. Campbell. The Ladd-Carter team had been greatly favored to win after their early round showing and played true to form with the chips down in the final bracket.

Winchester's entry in the championship from Eastern with Polly Kimball paired with Julius Appleton of Springfield to win the women's doubles crown from Mrs. Lenzie of Marblehead and Jack Parker of Swampscott, 6-4, 6-3. Polly once again gave evidence of her ability as a doubles player by her efficient support of her partner in a match that was closely contested all the way.

After their local entrant, Helen Carroll, though winning no title contributed some fine play to the mixed doubles. Paired with young Shirley M. Gannett of Weymouth, the premier girl swimmer, gave a young all around exhibition, actually carrying her partner along to the semi-finals, but was eliminated.

The tall Evonka was very tired when he took the court at Eastern, having previously won the North Shore tennis tournament in a long drawn-out match that included one 12-10 set.

His brilliant play kept the crowd in the going through the early rounds and for a time in the semi-finals he gave a good imitation of Phil Nott tried to give her the necessary support and they finally succumbed after making a game fight of it.

All in all Winchester did pretty well at Eastern, winning three of the four first prizes for women and taking three of the four runner-up awards. Six out of eight prizes were won by Winchester girls, but it seems that "Bill" Parker, who has been, was trying to figure where those other two went and was looking ahead to a clean sweep next year.

CANCER CONTROL COMMITTEE ELECTS

Mr. Wade L. Grindle of Lincoln Street was elected chairman and Mrs. William E. McDonald of Hill street, secretary of the Winchester Cancer Control Committee, which was organized at a recent meeting of this local group which is functioning with and under the direction of the State Department of Public Health.

Mrs. Grindle and Mrs. McDonald are ex-officio members of the local committee. The other members of the committee are Mrs. Harold V. Farnsworth of Central Green, Mr. George B. Gannett of Chisholm road, Mr. Thomas J. Travers of Park road and Mr. John A. Xpelle of Highland avenue. Every organization of Winchester is to have the opportunity during the coming year to hear some physician speak upon the control and prevention of cancer.

ENGAGEMENT OF WINCHESTER INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Whitmore of Pelham Manor, N. Y., and Rev. George Whitmore of Pelham, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Shirley Lewis Cooke, to George Roy Dunning Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dunning of Pelham. Miss Cooke is the grand-daughter of Mrs. Fiske Bradford of Cambridge street.

MRS. RHODA SKILLINGS KELLEY

Mrs. Rhoda Skillings Kelley, wife of Mr. Kelley, died at her home in West, died Saturday, August 9, after West, for some time in poor health.

Mrs. Kelley, a member of one of the prominent families, was born in Winchester April 29, 1877, the daughter of Mrs. Lucy M. (Heustis), and the late James W. Skillings. She was educated in the Winchester schools and in Boston, making her home with her parents in Rangely until her marriage to Mr. Kelley on January 7, 1903. Practically all of her married life had been spent in her home on Sheffield West. She was a member of the Church of the Epiphany, of Mrs. William's Guild and of the "Flora" Crittenton League in Winchester.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Kelley is survived by her mother, who is 90 years of age and by a sister, Mrs. Joseph C. Kennedy of Wiscasset, Me.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the church of the Epiphany with the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, officiating. Delegates were present from the Medford Rotary Club, of which Mr. Kelley is past master, and from the Winchester Rotary.

The Schubert Quart sang three favorite hymns, Face to Face, Our Jesus, and the Hallelujahs. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Phelps of St. John's Church, Arlington, was organist. Interment was in the Skillings family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

Robert Kitchin, Harvard student and son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Kitchin of Winthrop street, last Saturday received his third individual prize in the Photography contest being sponsored this summer by the Boston Post. His first prize was won last year in the contest for a bathing suit. His second prize came the first of July with a photo of Ann J. Woodward at Crane's Beach, and his third, last Saturday, was awarded for a snap of a small dog sitting up on his haunches to show a snowy white "shirtfront".

These three awards entitle Kitchin to have the photographs he has submitted in the contest judged for two $1000 national award, and his many friends will be wishing him the best of luck in his future work.

His pictures were taken with a big Graflex which he has earned himself and with which he has already picked up quite a few prizes. He does his own developing and printing so that his pictures are his own from start to finish.

Winchester High School, is planning to return to Harvard this fall. He has been taking a course in cartography at Harvard this summer.

HOOKED BIG TUNA FIRST TIME OUT

Mrs. Harry E. Damon, Jr., of Forest street had the distinction of hooking and landing a 61½ pound tuna off Bailey's Island, Maine, Monday, August 11, at 10 o'clock. He followed a red and red. Accompanied by his wife, she was in a 32 foot motor boat when she hooked the big fish which she battled for an hour and 20 minutes before landing.

Mr. Damon had harder luck with his wife. He too hooked a big fish, perhaps even a bigger one than Mrs. Damon's, but he never knew for after a tough two and a quarter hour battle, during which Mr. Damon was lugged around the boat and bruised more or less, his fish broke the rod with which he was playing him. For 20 minutes Mr. Damon held on with his line, but finally working up near the shore he was able to get the line against the gunwale and plunged out of sight.

GUESTS AT DUXBURY

Rev. and Mrs. Dwight W. Hadley again shared the pleasures of their summer residence in Duxbury with a group of their Epiphany parishioners on Tuesday of this week, when the Synnemes Corner Group was invited for a day's visit. Those who were unfortunately able to accept were Mrs. Francis Booth, Mrs. John Burt, Mrs. Francis Gallagher, Mrs. Gerald Hills, Mrs. Walter Hawkes, Mrs. Kenneth Hiscoe, Mrs. Guy Livingston, Miss E. Louise Nardin, Mrs. Ambrose E. Reasoner, Mrs. Bernard Swieler, and Mrs. Frances Votaw.

NEW SELECTIVE SERVICE REGISTRANTS RECEIVE QUESTIONSNAIRES

All the questionnaires for the 122 boys who registered from Winchester and Stoneham on July 1st have been mailed by the office of Local Board No. 141 and must be completed and returned by the 18th of this month.

As soon as they have been classified, the young men will be advised and those who are to be physically fit will be notified about 10 days in advance.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT OF MISS JANET FULLER

Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Fuller of Fletcher street announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Janet Fuller, to Mr. John Fulford Dexter, son of Mrs. Alvin S. Dexter of Brookline.

Miss Fuller is a graduate of Colby Junior College and the Nursing Training School of Boston. She will be a graduate from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. A fall wedding is planned.

SENATOR RICHARDSON AS GASOLINE CHAIRMAN FOR WINCHESTER

The Civilian Defense Committee added one more job to its rapidly increasing list this week when Director Harry S. Truman announced the appointment of Senator Harris S. Richardson as chairman of gasoline conservation in Winchester. With the assistance of the Public Relations, Planning and Supplies Divisions it will be Senator Richardson's first duty to conduct an educational campaign in the town in the hope that citizens will cut down voluntarily their consumption of gasoline. This will include the elimination of non-essential trips, reduction of speeds, proper adjustment of ignition and carburetor systems, the sharing of transportation, and the use of substitute means of transportation wherever possible.

Chairman Fuller announced this week that opening sessions of the men's and women's defense schools will take place in the high school auditorium on September 16th with Samuel Graves and Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott as the respective directors. The Civilian Defense Committee under the leadership of Chairman Fuller and Wardens Leo Garvey and Richard Morley is meeting each Monday night in the Selective Service rooms at the Post Office to make certain arrangements of air-raid posts in each of the areas and neighborhoods in the town, and they report that the work is progressing rapidly.

Civilian Defense work in general has been expedited by passage by the Legislature of an act "to authorize the city and town boards to make appropriations in time of war or national emergency, and to raise and appropriate such sums of money as it may deem necessary for the procurement of health and protection of persons and property; to purchase equipment, uniforms and supplies for auxiliary fire and police units; to purchase and maintain fire-fighting equipment, and other essential units of defense; to provide for the training of its citizens in first aid and other matters essential to civilian defense; and to provide for such other means as may be necessary in the national emergency for the protection of the people and property in such city or town."

Plans are likewise progressing rapidly for the meeting of citizens to be held in the Town Hall on September 16th to discuss the work of the immediate need and plans for all phases of civilian defense training.

FRANK WILLIS ROBERTS

Frank Willis Roberts, a resident of Winchester, died at his home on Monday morning at his home on Washington street after a brief illness. While not in the best of health for some time, he had been able to get out and around town for some time, recently returned from a vacation at Salisbury, Maine.

Mr. Roberts was born in Easton, N. H., October 19, 1866, the son of John H. and Amelia (Hatch) Roberts. He was educated in the Eaton schools and at Tilton Academy, later learning the shoemaker's trade. He followed during most of his active life, specializing in the field of shoe making.

For years he was in the employ of the Grafton Shoe and Leather Company of Boston and also for a time was employed by the Reese Button Hole Machine Company of that city. He was also years ago in the employ of the late Arthur T. Dwyer and John Perry in the old W. Chester Laundry. He was a former member of William Parkman Lodge No. 104, F. & M. S. of Winchester.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Raymond S. Strawbridge and Miss Olive P. Roberts, a son, Walter P. Roberts, all of Winchester; and two brothers, Charles H. Roberts of Portland, Maine, and George P. Roberts of Miami, Florida. His wife the former Alma E. Pratt, died August 21, 1914.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley officiating. Interment was in Wildwood cemetery.

ENTERTAINED LONDON GUEST

Mrs. Earle E. Andrews of Highland avenue, president of the Doll Collectors of America, Inc., entertained a group of Doll Collectors from England at Shaker Glen on Wednesday.

Mrs. Jackson who is a well known author of many books now out of print, is in America for the duration of the war. Among some of her books published were "Toys of Other Days," "Toys of the Past," and "Toys of the Future."

Her daughter in London is doing hospital work and a son is with his regiment in Scotland and a grandson of 17 is a prisoner of war in Germany. Her oldest son was killed in the 1st World War.

Mrs. Andrews' guests included Miss Blanche E. Eaton of Everett, and Mrs. Harry Sawyer of West Newton.

MISS RICHMOND DIED FROM AUTO INJURIES

Further details of the death last Thursday of Miss Mabel A. Richmond, recorded in last week's Star, reveal that she died from injuries received in an auto accident the previous afternoon.

The automobile accident happened at Kaler's Corner in Walldorf, Me., and Miss Richmond's companion in the car, Miss Angie L. Purinton, who lived with Miss Richmond at 14 Western avenue, Augusta, Me., also received injuries, including a leg fracture. Miss Purinton is at the Augusta General Hospital and Dr. M. Teche, Shelton, the attending physician, stated Thursday her condition was favorable. Miss Richmond died Thursday at the Augusta General Hospital as the result of injuries including chest injuries and fracture of the skull. The car in which the two women were driving was driven by Herman J. DeBosier, Me.

Miss Richmond was born April 5, 1881 in Monmouth, Me., the daughter of Cyrus E. Richmond and Sarah E. Richmond. She was educated from Monmouth Academy in the class of 1899 and from Bates College in the class of 1902. She received her Phi Beta Kappa at Bates College.

Miss Richmond was engaged in teaching over 44 years and her first teaching was in part time work in Monmouth during 1897 to 1902. Her first full-time teaching position was at Patten Me., where she was located during the school year of 1902-1903. The next two school years Miss Richmond taught in Rumford, Me. For three years and was in the class of 1906. Miss Richmond was a member of the Grafton, Mass., High School faculty, being located there from 1906 to 1910. She was also in the class of 1910. She remained until Nov. 1, 1912.

For the next 16 years Miss Richmond was located at Winchester High School, where she was professor in English.

During the time that her professorship was her away from her native State she showed her interest in Maine, and it was in 1924 that she returned to take up her teaching duties at the High School in Augusta, where she had since been located.

Those who were Miss Richmond's classmates at Bates College were Misses Mabel A. Richmond, who was in the class of 1902, and Misses Mabel A. Richmond, who was in the class of 1902, and Misses Mabel A. Richmond, who was in the class of 1902.

Miss Richmond's interests were in the field of English and in the study of the history of the United States. She was exceptionally successful in her work with the students, having a keen understanding of their problems and a deep understanding of their needs.

Miss Richmond was a member of the Augusta College Club and the Augusta Teachers' Association. In two years, Miss Richmond and her colleagues have reached the retirement age. Survivors include an aunt in the West and a cousin, Reginald Fiske of Monmouth, Me.

Interment was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Lowell.

FAVORITE RECIPES FROM CAMP ZAKOLO
Since the directors of Camp Zakolo at Harrison, Me., have had so many requests from mothers of campers for these famous "Zakolo" dishes, they decided to print the recipes which contain many healthful ingredients. All mothers will no doubt find them helpful and nutritious.
French Toast: One loaf of bread, cut lengthwise, and then cut into chunks of two inches in thickness. Make a batter of eggs and milk and allow bread to absorb the mixture. Then fry, cover with simple syrup, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with maple syrup.
Summer Snacks: Cut squash into round slices of about 1 inch in thickness, dip in flour, then dip in egg-milk batter. Roll in bread crumbs and fry.
Apple Crisp: Peel and slice apples, sprinkle with granulated sugar. Mix butter with graham cracker crumbs and sugar, sprinkle mixture over apple slices and bake.
Apple-Oatmeal Bars: Sift 1 cup flour with 1/2 teaspoon soda, and 1/2 cup brown sugar mix with 1 cup quick-cooking oatmeal. Cut in 1/2 cup shortening until crumbly; spread half the mixture in a greased baking dish, dot with 2 tablespoons butter and sprinkle 1/2 cup sugar and apples. Cover with remaining crumb mix. Bake in moderate oven for 40 to 50 minutes. Cut in squares or bars and serve warm with lemon sauce, or serve cold as a cookie.

FRUIT TAKEN FROM TRUCK
Saturday forenoon shortly after 11 o'clock Peter Sullas of 2 Cudworth street, Medford, reported to the Police that while at the corner of Highland avenue and Eaton street a basket of peaches and melons had been stolen from his fruit and produce truck.
Officer James E. Farrell investigated and learned the registration of an automobile, the occupants of which were said to be responsible for the theft. The number was found to be that of a Woburn man whom the Police contacted.
In reply to questioning he stated that he had loaned his machine to young fellows who knew nothing of what had occurred after they took it. In court Tuesday morning he could not produce the young fellows whom he claimed had his machine, but agreed to make restitution for the fruit stolen from the Sullas machine.

HIT-UP ACCIDENT REPORTED
Mrs. Ronald Wyman of Westland avenue reported to the Police that while she was driving her automobile north on Cambridge street last Sunday the machine was sideswiped and damaged by another car, headed south, the operator of which failed to stop after the accident.
The number of the hit-run car was secured and given to the Police who checked with the Registry and found that it was registered to a man living at a Massachusetts avenue address in Cambridge. The Cambridge Police were notified and checking from that end, reported that no such party had ever lived at the address given. A further investigation is being conducted.

TRAIN STONED
Boston and Maine authorities reported to the Police on Monday that the 902 north-bound train on August 6th was stoned between the center crossing and the main line bridge at Swanton street, resulting in a window being broken and a woman passenger being struck on the left arm.
Officer William E. Cassidy and Sgt. Norberg of the Boston and Maine police investigated and located a 10 year old Winchester boy whom the authorities say was responsible for the stoning. The boy's mother was notified and agreed to keep the youngster at home nights.

WINCHESTER BOYS AT CAMP ZAKOLO
Willis Carrier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Carrier of High street, vacationing at Camp Zakolo, Harrison, Me., qualified for his marksmanship medal. Young Willis has been a rifle enthusiast taking as many hours of private instruction as Cadet William Price 3d of the United States Military Academy and Capt. Elmer Ellsworth, U. S. Army reserve, believe good for him.
Young Earl, Willis' six year old brother, passed his 229 yard swim under the able instruction of Coach Hal S. Ulen, coach of the Harvard swim team and associate director of the Zarakov Club. "Pill" is a natural player and is learning the finer points of the game quickly and never forgets, either, said Coach Zarakov, who has been saving many a game for Harvard and Excelsior Academy.
Marshall, Carl's brother of seven, won the picture of the week award from Ed Darling, Dartmouth, for his teaching at the Belmont Junior High School and instructing in photography at Camp Zakolo.
Marshall is the youngest boy to have a camera and gets good results, too. "The boy has an eye for his work and remembers what he is doing all the time," said instructor Ed Darling, who was with the Cape Playhouse at Dennis last summer with Richard Aldrich and Gertrude Lawrence.
Jack Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Barnes of Ravenscroft road, passed with honors his first swimming test to the season under the expert tutelage of Coach Hal S. Ulen.

BRISBANE, HOST TO U. S. SAILORS, LOOKS AND ACTS LIKE AN AMERICAN CITY

United States sailors given shore leave at Brisbane, Australia, while their two heavy cruisers refueled might think they were in Miami, Fla., or some other southern American city. March, the City Hall was the National Geographic Society.
Although its streets and buildings have British names, Australia's easternmost port has an American appearance. Back of the picturesque Brisbane River, which the city straddles about 14 miles from the sea, are warehouses, meat packing plants and factories. Beyond them, in an amphitheater formed by a half dozen hills, tall, modern business buildings rise where a century ago black men pitched their camps.
Carnival Day for U. S. Ships
As capital of the State of Queensland, Brisbane is the site of a Parliament House, a treasury, and other imposing government structures. Dominating its skyline is the tower of the commodore City Hall. It is 320 feet high, nearly as tall as St. Marks campanile in Venice.
When units of the United States fleet made a good visit to Brisbane last March, the City Hall was one of the most gaily decorated buildings. Red, white, and blue hunting and American and British flags decked the entire business district. Crowds gave the white-clad sailors an enthusiastic welcome, throwing confetti and streamers as the men paraded. As a result, in the Lord Mayor told the visitors:
"Apparently it is not only a common language we possess, because I think it is Australia speak your language just as much as you do."
Port Serves Just Farming Area
Florida's sub-tropical atmosphere is noted in Brisbane's rows of rustling palms, its flowering acacias, mangrove, and poinciana trees. Rose-bloom throughout the year in the extensive system of public parks, which attract the city's 225,000 residents. In October blossoms of Jacaranda trees bathe the streets in purple.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

MERROW'S "DONL DUCK" LEADS WINCHESTER TO MARBLE-HEAD RACE WEEK
TRIUMPHBoat Club Snipe Sailor Sweeps Plean.
Eastern, Boston and N. E.
States SeriesMerrow-Simonds Mystic Lakes Race-Off to Settle Corinthian Cup Tie

By Telltale

Once again, the land-locked, fresh water sailors of the Winchester Boat Club, sailing against salt water veterans from Boston Bay and Stage Harbor in the International Snipe Class Division during Marblehead Race Week, handed the competition a thorough-going object lesson in the fine art of small boat racing on the grey-green waters of Salem Bay.

Outstanding performance of the week was turned in by Richard Merrow whose white-hulled Donl Duck swept the three day Eastern Yacht Club Series, set the pace in the Sunday Plean Race for Juniors, walked off with the Wednesday Boston Yacht Club event and kicked a pair of firsts to a third to the with Don Simonds, sailing Sinbad, for the Corinthian Yacht Club mug. This string of victories, which hardly missed being a grand slam, earned Merrow undisputed right to the 1941 New England States International Snipe Class Championship title and the Winchester Boat Club's association trophy for the second consecutive year.

Race-Off Sunday, August 24
Runner up in the Race Week regatta was Sinbad, the Don Simonds Sr. entry, whose excellent and highly consistent record throughout the entire week deserves top praise, if not tangible recognition. Sinbad more than a job sheet length behind the winner and almost invariably finishing in the money, Sinbad spiced a pair of seconds to a very fine first in the Corinthian Series to establish equal rights with Donl Duck to possession of the Corinthian trophy.

The two-boats race for undisputed claim to the cup is tentatively scheduled for 3 p. m. Sunday, August 24 and will be sailed over the regular Boat Club course in Salem Bay. With both boats tuned to fighting fettle and the skippers primed for an all-or-nothing race, this event should prove one of the highlights of the 1941 racing season.

Other Skippers Finish Well
Others among the nine-boat contingent of Winchester who traded their craft to Marblehead and had a hand in the Race Week activities include: Merton Ober, Jr. whose good ship Siron finished fourth in the top point score standing; the Burlington Senior and Junior, whose "Two Bees" finished fifth; Charles Reeves and Bill Croughwell, whose "Bee" finished sixth; George Wiswell Jr. whose By George finished eighth; Don Simonds whose Worm won 8th; and Harold Pynn whose Pinwheel finished 14th. Jim Snow was unable to get down to the head more than twice during the week yet managed to do well enough in two races to finish 18th in a field of 21 boats.

Race Week "Head" Lights
The weather man smiled broadly on both the contestants and spectators throughout the entire week and scheduled 8 days of perfect August weather. From a sailing standpoint, it was also probably far better than average for while an overabundance of soft and fluky winds left something to be desired, there were no flat calms to cause postponements and only one brief squall to cause hazy conditions.

The squall that struck just before the Snipe start in the final race had the boats heeled over at an angle to train speed. It lasted long enough to give the gang a merry ride on the first leg reach and to complicate tactics on the beating but did not get entirely on the down hill finish. Most of the boats relied on the incoming tide to cross the finish line.

Monday's moderate breeze came closest to the duster that can be expected at least once during the annual regatta. Except for a torn job in the Tee Bees and a couple of over-swingings, the Winchester fleet suffered no casualties.

Yachting reporters from the big city journals are usually well concerned with the antics of the Q's, 8-Meters, 30-Squalls and other high priced racing machines to notice the designs of the smaller boats. Dick Merrow's new record and the fact that a group of Winchester landlubbers were beating the tar out of the Boston Harbor sailors made them sit up and take notice of the Snipe Class on several occasions.

National Defense precautions made it necessary for the U. S. Army to close to the boats the harbor out Neck Lighthouse Reservation, traditional rideside seat at the annual Race Week Regatta. Followers of the Winchester Fleet retired to the pier across the harbor where they found themselves not only more comfortable but actually enjoying a better view of the starting line than the crowded courses. Even though officials tented on the last three days and opened Lighthouse Point, the annual Boat Club Race Week Picnic Supper was held at the new location.

While Winchester out-sailed the competition, many of the Boston Harbor boys proved to be smart competitors and were mighty hard to beat. However, the disgruntled Southie lad who grumbled that they couldn't be expected to beat the rich kids from Winchester who could afford fancy equipment might be surprised to know that Dick Merrow's boat is one of the oldest at the Boat Club. Maybe Dick can work that rich kid appellation hard enough to borrow five until pay day.

Johnnie Sprague, Boat Club Alumnus, ex-Snipe Sailor who graduated to the Star class, collected a nice second place total score in a field of 20 boats and in the face of the hottest kind of competition. John calls his boat "Lucy" but your humble observer doubts of their luck will put any boat on top or even close to it in a seven-race contest.

Taking the Winchester boats against the rest of the field which consisted of 12 boats, the final point score totals stood: Winchester, 682 points; 478 points. Actually, the Others was a Nor H Andover entry and another was started only in the final race by a couple of N. H. water sailors who had just bought the boat and raced it at Marblehead en route to their home lake.

Lock for better starts and closer finishes on the Lake does wonders for the boys who compete there. Wonderful string sailors have even pushed over top light skippers after a little Race Week experience.

MARBLEHEAD RACE WEEK

Corinthian Series

Winchester skippers again led the way in the Corinthian Series of Marblehead Race Week last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. John Worcester's Baracuda, winning the top prize in the Fish Catboat Class, while in the International Snipe Class two Winchester Boat Club sailors, Dick Merrow in "Donl Duck" and Don Simonds in "Sinbad," tied for top honors. HOME FROM CAMP EDWARDS

"Bob" Treacy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Treacy of Winchester Place, has returned home from Camp Edwards where he has been spending the summer as a mascot with the 182nd Infantry, going out with the company on maneuvers and generally living a soldier's life.

Treacy, who is 16 and a junior at Winchester High School, returned to town packing 165 pounds of wild distributed weight which should help him when he reports to Coach Knowlton for football drill with the Winchester High squad this fall.

A LITTLE COMPENSATION

After the upper Mystic Lake was dredged, a most unsightly hole in the water between the Everett and Lakeview road shore—in a much-improved former beauty spot, Monday morning a very beautiful white crane chose this spot for an alight—which would compensate for the "hill" if the crane would only make it his home permanently.

CAPTAIN BARNES IN DEMAND AS SPEAKER

Capt. Muriel Barnes of Ravenscroft road, a graduate of the Massachusetts Women's Civilian Defense School, was the speaker Tuesday evening at a meeting of the executive board of the Defense Committee in Melrose.

On Monday Captain Barnes was among those who attended the luncheon given for the Massachusetts Women's Civilian Defense Corps by Col. Natalie Hayes Hammond at her estate in Gloucester. After luncheon the Corps was invited to attend Gloucester Day at Gloucester Park where they gave an exhibition of civilian defense which included the use of gas masks, stretcher bearing, coming through a smoke screen, and fighting incendiary bombs in teams of three with stirrup pumps. Both the Mayor of Gloucester and the Chief of the Gloucester Fire Department were interested observers of the drill which was followed by an exhibition by the firemen who showed the correct way to handle incendiary bombs.

Captain Barnes has been much in demand for speaking engagements and defense school work. She is especially popular in the Melrose and Swampscott where out of an enrollment of 50 only four "flunked" their first examinations.

RANDETT JOINS NAVAL RESERVE

Royce H. Randlett, son of Mrs. John H. Nichols of 30 Church street, has enlisted in the United States Naval Reserve, class 1, under the name of Randlett, according to Lt. Comdr. H. A. Ellis, public relations officer for the First Naval District with headquarters in the North Station office building in Boston.

Class V provides college graduates with at least one year of college matriculation an opportunity to qualify as deck or engineering officers of the line in the United States Naval Reserve. Candidates must be between 20 and 28 years of age on date of enlistment, unmarried, native born, and of high moral and physical standing.

Members of Class V-7 are enrolled as apprentice seamen for 30 days and if qualified, are given a two-year enlistment. After 90 days as shipmen, if qualified, they are commissioned ensigns.

Randlett graduated from Winchester High school in 1933, playing tackle on the football team and participating in track. He later graduated from Dartmouth where he was on the lacrosse team.

TUFTS-WATTERS

ELKS TO ASSIST IN "KEEP 'EM FLYING" PROGRAM

At the request of the Adjutant General of the Army, the entire national strength of the Elks, totaling over half a million men, will rally behind the "Keep 'Em Flying" program. The Army Air Corps and the Army Recruiting Service to assist in securing qualified applicants for aviation cadet training. Frank P. Hurley, Executive Director of the Winchester Lodge, No. 1115, declared today.

On behalf of the War Department, I am writing to you to express sincere appreciation to you and the Order of Elks for your splendid National Defense Program and current plan of aviation cadet training. The procurement of army aviation cadets "Keep 'Em Flying".

E. S. Adams, Major General, "The Winchester Lodge of Elks is solidly behind the plan, and will do everything in its power to further it. A program of co-operation is now being initiated between the Commission and the Army Recruiting Service," Mr. Hurley stated. "I learn from Chairman Nicholson that it is the intention of the Adjutant General's Department, and of other qualified branches of the Army that the control of the air is of the utmost importance in the present war. It is, therefore, unquestionably one man in the air with in the next year will be equal to ten men in the future." "Our lodge," Mr. Hurley continued, "is anxious to assist in the training of young men in the aviation field. In a short time we will be in a position to announce the definite program which will make our order the first fraternal organization in the United States to formally accept this responsibility."

"DICK" RULED HOME ON LEAVE

Mr. Richard Riley surprised his family and friends in Winchester this week by a visit on a leave of absence from his duties as a major, aviation officer for the United States Air Force. By virtue of superior ability in mathematics and air strategy, Mr. Riley was selected for one of the most difficult branches in the defense services.

He left today for the University of Miami, Florida, where he will receive instruction as a flying cadet. He was transferred to Florida from Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Riley has been one of the outstanding tennis players in Winchester, last year serving as president of the local tennis association.

WINCHESTER WOMEN SCORED IN GLADIOLA SHOW

At the annual two day exhibition of the New England Gladiola Society, at the Hotel Lincoln, Boston, Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood won for the Winchester Better Homes Garden Club the bronze medal of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society for the best arrangement in the show. Shades of lavender, purple and cerise gladioli, with a background of purple cabbage leaves strikingly arranged in a large pot against a gold screen achieved for Mrs. Kirkwood the added distinction of being the first woman to win the medal of the Men's Garden Club of Villa Park, Ill. The exhibition of 185 men who boast they are the only exclusively masculine garden club in the country.

In other classes open to Garden Club members only, Mrs. Albert Crockett and Mrs. Norman Mitchell won further honors for the Better Homes Garden Club. Mrs. Crockett won a first prize for her arrangement of gladioli for a dinner table. Mrs. Mitchell won second prize in a monochromatic study of gladioli and honorable mention for her arrangement in the Still Life class.

TRAFFIC CIRCLE FOR CENTER

The work of the Boston & Maine Railroad in relaying the tracks in the center with its resulting confusion, has aroused the usual complaints over the traffic situation, and in this connection the plan for a traffic circle in the center has again come to the fore. Report has it that town engineer Holbrook is willing to try the idea out. He has the experiment made to make with the approval of State authorities. Whether anything will come of the agitation or how the Selectmen view it, is unknown. In any event, the provision must be made for foot traffic. The circle idea was tried out some years ago under the direction of the late chief of police, William H. Smith, but at that time it was opposed by the State engineers and after a short try-out was abandoned. Whether under the present circumstances the scheme would give better service remains to be determined.

FIFTY YEARS IN SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton S. Hall of Lawrence street are enjoying the month of August at their summer home in Salem, New Hampshire. Mr. Hall was honored last Saturday by the John Carter Company, with whom he has been associated for 50 years, for the employment of the company after graduation from English High School, as an office boy, and becoming one of the members of the firm when it incorporated.

Collector of Taxes Nathaniel M. Nichols is spending this week-end in the Cold River region of New Hampshire, where he is having a new trout stream under the auspices of the Appalachian Mountain Club. He is making his headquarters at the Cold River Camps.

ELKS TO ASSIST IN "KEEP 'EM FLYING" PROGRAM

At the request of the Adjutant General of the Army, the entire national strength of the Elks, totaling over half a million men, will rally behind the "Keep 'Em Flying" program. The Army Air Corps and the Army Recruiting Service to assist in securing qualified applicants for aviation cadet training. Frank P. Hurley, Executive Director of the Winchester Lodge, No. 1115, declared today.

In making the announcement, Mr. Hurley quoted the text of a telegram received to the Honorable James R. Nicholson, Chairman of the Elks National Defense Commission with headquarters in New York City which reads as follows:

On behalf of the War Department, I am writing to you to express sincere appreciation to you and the Order of Elks for your splendid National Defense Program and current plan of aviation cadet training. The procurement of army aviation cadets "Keep 'Em Flying".

E. S. Adams, Major General, "The Winchester Lodge of Elks is solidly behind the plan, and will do everything in its power to further it. A program of co-operation is now being initiated between the Commission and the Army Recruiting Service," Mr. Hurley stated. "I learn from Chairman Nicholson that it is the intention of the Adjutant General's Department, and of other qualified branches of the Army that the control of the air is of the utmost importance in the present war. It is, therefore, unquestionably one man in the air with in the next year will be equal to ten men in the future." "Our lodge," Mr. Hurley continued, "is anxious to assist in the training of young men in the aviation field. In a short time we will be in a position to announce the definite program which will make our order the first fraternal organization in the United States to formally accept this responsibility."

"DICK" RULED HOME ON LEAVE

Mr. Richard Riley surprised his family and friends in Winchester this week by a visit on a leave of absence from his duties as a major, aviation officer for the United States Air Force. By virtue of superior ability in mathematics and air strategy, Mr. Riley was selected for one of the most difficult branches in the defense services.

He left today for the University of Miami, Florida, where he will receive instruction as a flying cadet. He was transferred to Florida from Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala.

Mr. Riley has been one of the outstanding tennis players in Winchester, last year serving as president of the local tennis association.

GRADUATE FROM BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Miss Mary-Elizabeth Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton S. Hall of Lawrence street, was among those graduated last Saturday from the summer session of Boston University.

More than 200 students received degrees from the University. Daniel L. Marsh, Jr., announced exercises held for the first time in the University's new Charles Hayden Memorial auditorium on Commonwealth Avenue.

Mrs. Hall who holds the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education, received the degree of Master of Arts from the Graduate School.

TO EXHIBIT PAINTINGS

Mrs. Paul H. Howard of Winchester will exhibit this third annual exhibition of oil paintings at New London, New Hampshire this coming week. The gallery is in the Tracy Memorial building between the Everett and Lakeview road shore—in a much-improved former beauty spot, Monday morning a very beautiful white crane chose this spot for an alight—which would compensate for the "hill" if the crane would only make it his home permanently.

WINCHESTER FIREMAN INJURED AT BLAZE IN WOBURN

Fireman Walter Carroll of the Fire Department was painfully injured early Sunday morning while a Winchester engine company from the Central Station was assisting the Woburn Department with a two-alarm fire that badly damaged a three and one-half story building at the corner of High and Main streets in Woburn.

Fireman Carroll was in the attic of the building chopping a vent in the roof, while on a short ladder placed against a pipe chimney. Without warning the chimney collapsed with a crash that was heard outside at some considerable distance from the building. The ladder on which Carroll was standing was pitched forward, and despite the efforts of his mates, he was thrown between the rungs, badly scraping his legs, splitting the knuckles of one hand and dislocating a finger.

Accompanied by Fireman J. J. Flaherty, Jr., of the local department, he was taken by the Woburn Police to the office of Dr. John F. Maginnis in Woburn where he was given first aid. He then returned to quarters in Winchester where he was taken by a police cruiser to his home. His injuries while not serious have proved stubborn and he was not able to return to duty this week.

The local department received their call to assist at the fire at 12:27 Sunday morning. Engine 3 answered with Deputy Chief John J. Gorman commanding and Walter Skerry driving. Chief David H. DeCoursey also responded with the Chief's car. The Winchester firemen worked their lines from the Woburn pump. Engine 3 remaining ready to care for any emergency that might arise.

The building was tenanted by stores on the first floor with families occupying the second story. All were gotten safely from the building. Damage was estimated at between $15,000 and $25,000.

PRESIDENT LANDED AT O'HARA WHARF

Upon the return from his conference with Winston Churchill, President Roosevelt's yacht was tied up at the O'Hara wharf at Rockland, his yacht, the Potomac, being moored alongside the O'Hara fishing boat "Queen of Peace." All of the old O'Hara boats have been taken by the Government, and the Queen of Peace is one of two new boats just delivered to the firm.

The oldest animal is probably the Galapagos island tortoise. While figures on the longevity of animals are not very accurate, it is estimated that these giant tortoises live to the age of 200 years.

New Funeral Home of Moffett & McMullen
WINCHESTER FIRM HAS NEW FUNERAL HOME

Patrons of Moffett & McMullen, funeral directors and embalmers, are expressing the greatest satisfaction with this Winchester firm's new funeral home located at 177 Washington street, easily accessible, yet removed from the actual business center of the town.

In business here since 1924, Moffett & McMullen were located for several years at the corner of Thompson street and Waterfield road. Their quarters there, while adequate and well equipped, were small, and the location with the trains near at hand and a constant flow of traffic, was not especially desirable.

Consequently when the opportunity presented itself last February, the firm acquired the old Wilson property on Washington street, formerly owned by Capt. John T. Wilson, Civil War veteran and for many years commander of the A. D. Weld Post, G. A. R., of this town.

Moving to the 14 room house 30 ft. to its present location, Moffett & McMullen set about remodeling and renovating to produce a funeral home in keeping with their increasing business and the standards of the town.

The finely built old house was completely done over inside and out, that part of it devoted to the funeral home being all that the most exacting could demand.

There is a funeral parlor, which has been purposely designed and appointed to afford a home-like atmosphere, though it seats 80 persons in comfort and has the most modern system of lighting and ventilation. A completely appointed family room is also available with another room especially for the use of men—visitors or delegates from fraternal or business organizations. An office and a preparation room, containing every modern facility for modern service completes the funeral suite, all furnished in cream woodwork, neutral walls, deep wine drapes, chrome hardware and floors of rubber tile. A circular drive extending completely around the building ensures privacy and obviates any necessity to interfere with traffic. The exterior of the building has been attractively landscaped with a new lawn and shrubbery, and a new funeral car has been added to the firm's equipment.

Manlio G. Moffett and William H. McMullen, partners in the firm, have had long experience as undertakers and embalmers. Both learned their profession under the late Daniel Kelley of the firm of Kelley & Hawes, by whom Mr. Moffett was employed 22 years and Mr. McMullen 23 years. Both are registered embalmers and a lady assistant is always available.

Mr. Moffett, a native of Winchester, is a World War veteran, a member of Winchester Post, 97, A. L.; Winchester Lodge of Elks and of Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus. Mr. McMullen is a graduate of the New England Institute of Anatomy, Embalming & Sanitary Science. He is also a member of the local Lodge of Elks and of the Winchester Council, K. of C.

MISS PROVINZANO SHOWERED

Miss Catherine Provinzano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pietro Provinzano of Florence street, was given a surprise shower last week Thursday evening at Blinstrub's Village in South Boston, in honor of her approaching marriage.

Guests included Angelina Provinzano, Emma Giuliani, Santa Procopio, Philomena Della Svetura, Mary Girona, Angelina Marrone, Marion Ciruso, Angelina Galuffo, Angelina Battistoni, Elizabeth Marabla, Teresa Muraco, Antonette DeTese, Philippina Orlando, Philomena Giliotti and Anita Tucci.

During the evening Miss Provinzano was presented with a beautiful floor lamp, for which she graciously expressed her thanks. The serving of dinner and general dancing brought the party to a pleasant close.

Miss Provinzano has chosen Sunday, September 21, as the date for her marriage to Philip Pizzo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pizzo of Mt. Pleasant street, Woburn. The ceremony will be performed in St. Mary's Church.

DEMONSTRATION OF NEW ELECTRIC ROASTER

Special demonstrations of the new model Westinghouse electric roaster will be conducted at the Winchester Edison Shop at 2 Mt. Vernon street, from August 25 to August 29 inclusive, by Miss Gertrude Firth, a member of the Edison domestic science staff. Throughout the day, Miss Firth will reveal the complete versatility of this modern electric cooker, with actual demonstrations of its ability to bake, broil, roast, stew, or cook a complete oven dinner. The electric roaster is portable and has a special appeal in the summer months as a means of keeping the kitchen cool.

Members of the Edison home service staff are currently engaged in bringing the advantages of electric cooking to all homemakers in greater Boston. The electric range, electric oven and electric roaster are all being featured at local Edison Shops.

SULLIVAN-HICKEY

Miss Elizabeth M. Hickey, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Hickey of Garfield avenue, Woburn, and Joseph E. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of Cross street, were married on Friday evening, August 15, at 7 o'clock in the rectory of the Immaculate Conception Church by Rev. Fr. James E. Leahy.

Miss Hickey was attended by her sister, Miss Barbara Hickey of Woburn, and Richard Sullivan of this town was his brother's best man.

The bride wore a gown of white marquisette, made princess style with a fitted bodice and full skirt that extended into a train. Her fingertip-length veil of tulle was arranged with a simple cap and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and babies' breath.

The bridesmaid also wore a princess style gown of embroidered aqua organza, with a matching hat, and carried a tallman roses tied with wide aqua ribbons.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother. Upon their return from a wedding trip through the White Mountains, Mr. Sullivan and his bride will live on Garfield avenue in Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Woburn High School, class of 1938. Mr. Sullivan is stationed with the United States Army at Camp Edwards, Falmouth, where he is a private, first class, in Company B of the 101st Quartermaster Regiment.

WINCHESTER GIRLS SCORED AT SONS OF ITALY OUTING

Winchester entrants made a fine showing in the sports program which featured the big annual outing of the Junior Lodges, sons of Italy in America, held last Sunday at Merry-mount Park in Quincy with an attendance of about one thousand.

Miss Mary Penta, duplicated her feat of the Fourth of July games in Winchester by winning the watermelon eating contest by a goodly margin. Miss Flourea Faieta won the blueberry p. eating contest, Miss Antonette Muffo won the 25 yard dash and Miss Rose Penta, the fat ladies' race.

Miss Mary Penta, with a candid camera and her sister, Rose, a purse and compact, Miss Faieta also won a purse and compact and Miss Muffo, a camera.

WIRES DOWN! You're on the air!

When a wholesale disaster destroys many miles of telephone line, your telephone calls can go through just the same. Not immediately, perhaps, but as soon as telephone trucks arrive at the broken ends of the line... Portable two-way radios are set up, with gasoline motors and power generators; connections are made with the good wires... a switch is turned... and soon there's a "line," across a radio bridge. This system has been developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories. New England Telephone crews take special study courses in the emergency telephone technique... and rehearse its use out in the field all over New England at all seasons. ELKS LIQUIDATE MERCHANTS AGAIN

Win Over Stoneham Gave Locals League Lead

Winchester Elks went into undisputed first place in the Eastern Massachusetts Twilight League last night evening when they slugged out an 11-7 victory over the Stoneham Merchants on Manchester Field.

"Jugger" Kingsley, a great all-around athlete in his day and generation, started on the mound for Stoneham and before the first inning had rolled into the discard the Elks had 9 runs, sparked by homers driven into the river by Slick Cross and Frank Provinzano.

Howie Chase relieved Kingsley and held the Elks to a brace of runs after the first but the damage was done and though the Merchants rallied sharply in the fifth, their three run surge was still four runs shy.

Robbie Farrell hurled for the Elks and until the whole local team got careless at the end of the game was away ahead of the visiting batters.

From the spectators angle the feature of the game was the insertion of "Dave" Ahern to bat for Bus Kendrick in the Elks' fourth and his subsequent play in center field. "Dave" looked them over carefully and took three healthy cuts, much to the crowd's delight. In the field he had one hard chance on a line drive that "Howie" Truesdale really tagged in the Merchants' fifth.

"Dave" didn't make connections with the drive but his grave sense of his younger team mates an excellent example of dogging it after the ball, retrieving it in time to hold the juggernaut Truesdale third.

Many thought "Dave" would retire after his strenuous exertion but that had. Recovering his hat, he assumed a real DiMaggio stance in the center garden and waited for the next belt in his territory. None came on the wing, but he was called on to stop a couple of ground hits over second, which he did in the most approved fashion.

PARK DEPARTMENT SPONSORS SWIMMING MEET

Saturday afternoon at 2:30, August 23, the Park Department will act as hosts to the boys and girls of Winchester at Wedge Pond where the swimming meet that winds up the Red Cross season of instruction is to be held. Reviewing this year's developments, a new 25 yard course has been installed at Wedge for the young hopefuls and has proved most popular. This new course has been responsible in good part for the astonishing success of the Winchester swimmers in outside competition. They have not only an unblemished record for the season, but their victories include triumphs over Lexington, heretofore never defeated and the redoubtable Corinthian Yacht Club at Marblehead, and, parenthetically, two victories over Woburn.

As usual, the waters of both Wedge and Leonard have been tested by the State and okayed without question as far as purity is concerned. Low water at both Wedge and Leonard has marked this season because of the dry weather this part of the country has experienced. The only thing needed to make the swimming set up for ambitious youngsters perfect is an indoor pool, which might be something for the future in conjunction with a new recreation building.

A word or two about the meaning of Life Saving with the picture in mind of a handsome hero dashing to the rescue of the heroine with a powerful and speedy stroke reminiscent of Johnny Weissmuller or, more currently, Bill Smith. Probably most of these people would be surprised to find that out of 20 rescues made, not only one of these would be a swimming rescue. The divers and wading assistants, boats rescues, etc. Of course, real Water Safety means guarding against accidents which require rescue. This means having all swimming areas properly equipped, good safe sandy bottoms, life boats well equipped, life lines, up to date equipment for swimming and diving, ring buoys, etc. Winchester is well in front as far as equipment is concerned. However, the best feature here is the unusually high level of service. Avoiding younger than most, the Winchester guards have the wisdom of professionals many years their seniors. For some of their successes in recognizing symptoms of possible danger and stepping in before they start. With an eye trained to every spot in the swimming area, they might break trouble the Winchester guard is able to catch the trouble before it begins. If you have found then a little stern, remember it is for your own protection.

ELKS WON FROM STONEHAM SUNDAY

Victory Put Winchester in League Top-Ten

Winchester Elks won a slugfest from the Stoneham Merchants Sunday afternoon at Stoneham, 14-7, the victory boosting the local nine into a tie with Stoneham for first place in the Eastern Massachusetts Twilight League.

Buster Kendrick, veteran right hander, went the route for the Elks and after a big fourth gave him a seven run lead coasted in, despite a four run uprising in the Stoneham seventh.

Joe Dineen was Winchester's big star, driving in six runs with a homer, two doubles and a single. Big Bob McIntyre showed a complete recovery from his beating in the Sineclairs' game by belting out three hits. Slick Cross and Kendrick himself also got three hits out of five times.

Buono, swarthy lefty, worked for Stoneham and wasn't the puzzle he usually is to the Elks. Following is the summary:

ELKS FINALLY BEAT SINECLAIRS

Pete Provinzano's Pitching and Riley's Homer Feature

The Winchester Elks finally caught up with their old nemesis, the Woburn Sineclairs, beating the invaders from the erstwhile town of 7-3, Wednesday evening in an exciting Eastern Massachusetts Twilight League game on Leonard Field.

The victory was a stunner for the Elks, hold on first place in the league standing and they can thank their youthful right hander, Pete Provinzano, for the win. Pete, after a wobbly first inning, during which he yielded three runs, only one of which was earned, pitched great ball, refusing to crack when his support seemed at times and bearing down hard to get himself out of a couple of bad holes.

Pete was rather wilder than usual but he was really putting something on the ball all the time and his performance must rank with the best of the season. When a team like the Sineclairs can have two men on and no one away and fail to tally the pitching is not so dusty.

Pete got both good and bad support from his mates, his two brothers, Sammy and Frank, coming nobly to his rescue, the former with an unusual double play and the latter with a great running catch of a ball just off the right field foul line that might have meant trouble.

Sammy's play was a honey. With one away and Crosby on first by virtue of a pass, O'Sullivan hit a bounder to the right, second base and Dineen was out of position for the rap but Sammy crossed the bag like a shot and scooping up the ball, tagged Crosby on the line and rifled to Cross at first for a twin killing.

All the defense sparkle wasn't on the Winchester side. Eddie Desmond robbed Frankie Provinzano of a homer by catching a line drive in short right center, and Bobby Higgins took a hit away from Sam Provinzano with a stooping running catch of his twisting bid for a Texaco League.

The Elks scored two cheap ones in the first when Len Riley singled in a couple of walks that advanced on a wild pitch. They tied the count in the second when big Bob McIntyre singled, advanced on a wild pitch, help up while Murphy skied to Desmond's clear single to left.

Fitzpatrick tossed out Rod MacDonald to start the Elks winning fifth, Frank Provinzano laced a curve ball to short center that Eddie Desmond reached but couldn't hold. Frankie pulling up at second, "Slick" Cross fanned. Then came Mr. Riley's "hey peak of so highly" and Lenie lofted an O'Sullivan fast one high and far over the center field fence for a two-run homer. Joe Dineen slapped a line hit to left center that fast fielding by "Doc" Gillis held to a single. Sammy Provinzano really tagged one, the ball going to the tennis courts in right center for a triple. Gelineau replaced O'Sullivan and smashed on right center at Fitzpatrick that landed in the ball but falling as he got it badly off balance, S. Provinzano scoring on the hit. Murphy hoisted a fly to center that was caught by Provinzano.

Provinzano fanned both Gelineau and Crosby in the Sineclairs' sixth. O'Sullivan, however, singled past Provinzano's clear single. Sammy fumbled Bob Higgins' easy roll to there were two on. Desmond also rapped to Sam, but this time the shortfielder came up with the ball and tossed to Dineen for a force play on Higgins to end the game.

The Winchester Selective Service office takes more than a casual interest in the work it is doing and Clerk "Al" Sweet believes that he and his staff stand squarely between the government and possible selectees with the avowed purpose of being as helpful to each as is humanly possible. Yesterday when the Star reporter called he was trying to straighten out things for a 19 year old boy who had been refused a job because he missed the draft writing two years. Not long previous he had occasion to advise a firm that was taking in a preferred industry a young man placed by his father in Class 1-A. The two attitudes on the part of industry just did not make sense as Mr. Sweet said: refusing a man a job who might be drafted and taking on a man who was sure to be drafted. He hoped that he had the answer for the boy seeking the job and knew he had in the case of the eligible selectee who had entered industry.

We have great respect for our good friend Frank Goodwin, and recognize along with all other motorists the excellent work he has accomplished in making the roads safe for auto driving and in issuing conservative and constructive rules for safety. We were in full accord therefore in complying with his order in the interest of the road and gasoline, ruling that our speed should not exceed 30 miles in the towns and 40 miles on the open road. That he meant it was amply demonstrated by the penalty announced. On our weekly trip to the Cape Cod area, therefore, we were interested in our observation of the workings of the law. Religiously observing the 30-mile limit from Winchester to Route 128 in Needham, we found that a large number of Massachusetts drivers from New York sailed by us. We found the remaining drivers, if such, were 29-milers. Reaching 128 we cut in on an army convoy headed for Camp Edwards. Holding our place in line until the trucks pulled up for a rest, we logged the line at 30 to 50 miles per hour, running spaces of 200 to 300 feet between 35 and 45. Pacing a truck on 138 into Stoughton we found it travelling 15 on the grades, 50 on level stretches and 57 on the grades. Tailing onto a passing bus, we speeded long enough to log it at 55. This is a conservative report of several such instances, for we found in the army convoy in the Bridge-water area held the same comparative speed. We are voicing no objection to it and have only the highest praise for the careful driving of the boys on the trucks. We found what we termed the 40-milers bunched up in lines of six to 15. Tagging on we found that we traveled from 20 to 35 miles an hour with an average speed much less than 30. Passing these groups, which were reminiscent of motoring in the 20's, we saw the many drivers, who, we suppose, were driven frantic by the 20-mile stretches and cut in and out of the line at a possible 60 or 70 mph. Their speed on the open road may have been a little under 50. If we were to express an opinion, which we do with all humility, we would remark that we fail to see the desired gas curtailment and do see an added danger on the roads. Registrar Goodwin has done as good a job regulating automobile traffic in Massachusetts as anyone in a similar position could. We are sorry, however, to see him attempt to limit our great New Deal Fables in Washington in their actual gear of playing with gasoline. Thus far the gasoline situation, from our viewpoint of course, has been the usual New Deal mess. Mr. Goodwin has the respect and a 50 per cent co-operation of all our motoring public. Perhaps the New Deal has also, but we think this 30 mph rule will not work, no matter how many exasperated motorists are taken into court.

EIGHT POINT PLAN OF WIDE SCOPE

To the Editor of the Herald:

There is an eight point program right here in this country which should be attended to at once.

1. Everyone should be taxed according to their incomes.

2. Stop strikes.

3. Stop the CIO from running this country.

4. Uphold the right to work in spite of unions.

5. Get rid of communists in both labor unions and in government.

6. Labor unions should be taxed.

7. Let business alone.

8. Eliminate all non-defense unnecessary expenses.

ARTHUR A. KIDDER

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Winchester Trust Company held August 19, 1941 the following resolution in memory of Arthur A. Kidder was read and unanimously adopted.

We record with sorrow the death on July 22, 1941, of Mr. Arthur A. Kidder, a member of our board. Mr. Kidder was first elected a director of the Winchester Trust Company on September 19, 1917 and served until February 2, 1921. He was again elected on August 18, 1931, and continued in office until his death, making his total length of service about 23 years and four months. Throughout this substantial period of time in the history of the Trust Company, Mr. Kidder was most helpful in promoting the growth and welfare of the bank. He possessed keen insight; he saw through sham and pretense. He had good sense, sound judgment and unshakable honesty—qualities which are essential in positions of trust. He was of the conservative type, inclined to abide by established policies. He opposed any step that seemed to him to involve any departure from the safest banking practices.

From Mr. Kidder's viewpoint, a bank director was a public servant, as well as a private servant. He thought of the depositor as well as the bank. His interest in the institution was akin to his interest in public affairs and town government; and it is appropriate to recall that he served this community as well as this bank, generously and efficiently in the many public offices which he held throughout the best years of his life.

We know that the high esteem in which Mr. Kidder was held by all who knew him was well deserved. We regret especially that death came at a time when he had barely passed the prime of life.

To us Mr. Kidder was more than a valued associate on this board. He was our friend and to some of us a friend of many years' standing. We shall miss his genuine cordiality. We shall miss his wholesome and delightful companionship.

It is ordered that as a tribute to Mr. Kidder's memory this statement be spread upon the records.

G. Dwight Cabot,
Clerk of the Board.

MRS. MARY EMMA CORWIN

Mrs. Mary Emma Corwin, widow of Charles Russell Corwin, died Monday night, August 18, at the home of her son, Arthur R. Corwin, 15 Ridgefield road, after a long illness. She was in her 84th year and had made her home in Winchester since last fall. Mrs. Corwin was the daughter of Henry and Mary (Moyle) Cleveland. She was born in Chelsea, Vermont, and spent her early life there, later moving to Southbury, Conn., where she lived for more than half a century. She was a member of the Winter Hill Congregational Church and its various societies, and was active in the Woman's Republican Club of Boston.

Besides her son in Winchester she is survived by three grandchildren, Charles R. Corwin, Mrs. Ellsworth G. Nichols and Mrs. Jacob W. Bond, all of the town, and by four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Wilson Chapel on College avenue in West Somerville. Interment was in Mt. Auburn Cemetery.

NO DRIVING BY PERSONS UNDER 20

To the Editor of the Herald:

Two ways to save gasoline this winter could be adopted with no real hardship.

First, cancel all licenses to drivers under 20 years of age until April, 1942. This would be a minor tragedy to the youngsters, but a tremendous saving of gas. Those with legitimate business needs could be provided with a special license.

Second, insist that all parents stop chauffeuring their children to and from school when the schools are in session, and make it mandatory that our school committees take a stand in enforcing this idea. It would reduce the traffic hazard and also save thousands of gallons of gasoline.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES, AUG. 18

The following letter was received from the local Red Cross representative:

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen Winchester, Massachusetts: Gentlemen:

The Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross, extends to you its sincere thanks for your kindness and generosity in allowing the use of the rooms in the Town Hall for Red Cross activities.

Because of the large amount of work requested of the chapter and the need of a place that was central and spacious enough to accommodate the groups of workers necessary, this room has been ideal.

We deeply appreciate the co-operative spirit of your Board in this humanitarian work which we are engaged.

Thanking you again, I am, Gladys F. Dutton (Mrs. George A.) Chapter Chairman

MRS. FLORENCE E. BUTTERWORTH

Mrs. Florence E. Butterworth, wife of Chester W. Butterworth, died Sunday morning, Aug. 24, at her home, 6 Grove street, after a long illness.

Mrs. Butterworth was the daughter of Elias and Mary (Chase) Cummings. She was born Nov. 14, 1883, in Somerville and was educated in the schools of that city, attending Somerville High School and later Bradford Academy.

Mrs. Bradford came with her family to Winchester more than 30 years ago and had since made her home here. Infirmary health had caused her to give up all activities outside her home in which she had formerly been interested.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Butterworth is survived by a son, Stanley C. Butterworth of this town and by a brother, Francis C. Cummings of Belmont.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Berglund Funeral Home in Arlington with Rev. Erasmus Green of the West Somerville Congregational Church officiating. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

JAMES F. CARROLL

James F. Carroll, 86, formerly for many years a resident of Winchester, died Sunday Aug. 24 in a Boston Hospital following a short illness.

During his active life Mr. Carroll was employed as a chef. He had been retired in recent years and had been making his home in Boston. He was widely known among older residents of Winchester.

Mr. Carroll was a widower, his wife the former Margaret Nicholson, having died some years ago. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. John Mulnean, Mrs. John Ryan, both of Winchester, and Mrs. John Spear of Somerville; a son, James F. Carroll, Jr., of Reading; nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Because of illness in the family, the funeral was held from the Lane Funeral Home, 750 Main street, Wednesday morning, with high mass of requiem in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery.

"Gates of Sorrow"

Babel Mosaic, a host of water with a name meaning "gates of sorrow" is a strain connecting the Indian ocean and the Red sea. It separates the southeastern part of Arabia from the continent of Africa. Near the African coast are the volcanic islands, Eight Brothers. The strait offers so many dangers to small vessels that the name meaning gates of sorrow was given to it.

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL WED AT BOOTHBAY HARBOR

Miss Martha Stephenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barton K. Stephenson of New York, formerly of Winchester and Boston, was married last Saturday, Aug. 23, to David E. Huggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Ellsworth Huggins of Montclair, N. J. The simple outdoor ceremony was performed at the summer home of the bride's parents on Mouse Island in Boothbay Harbor, Me., by Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York. Only the immediate families and a few close friends were present at the ceremony and the reception which followed.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and had as her only attendant her sister, Mrs. John W. Carlisle of Locust Valley, L. I. Mr. Gordon Huggins of Holyoke was best man for her brother.

After a motor trip through Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Huggins will make their home in Philadelphia.

NEW POST FOR J. B. THOMAS

Mr. Josiah B. Thomas, son of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Simonds of Main street and a former resident of Winchester, who has for many years been manager of the United States Chamber of Commerce in the Argentine Republic, has been granted by the Board of Governors of that body leave of absence for from three to six months to take up a new position as manager of the "Corporacion para la Promocion do Interamido." He will henceforth be active in promoting the export of Argentine products to the United States.

Although born in Boston, Mr. Thomas has many friends in Winchester, having made his residence here for a considerable period. He has been manager of Fisk Cia, Argentine de Nauticos and during several years, special representative of the Fisk Tire Export Company in Colombian Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia.

With his many years experience in Latin American commerce, Mr. Thomas has for a very long period as manager of the Chamber of Commerce devoted his time to trade expansion. He has been especially interested in opening up new markets for Argentine products in the United States. His experience makes him well fitted for the position as manager of Trade Promotion Corporation.

SONS OF ITALY LODGE HOLD OUTING

The Winchester Men's and Ladies' Lodges of the Sons of Italy held its annual outing at Camp Fellsland, Amesbury, on Sunday, Aug. 24. Two buses, filled with members and friends left the club house at 9:30 a. m., and many others attended by automobile.

After luncheon the old timers challenged the youngsters of Boy Scout Troop 5 to a game of softball and were trimmed 24-11. Mingle Frongillo pitched for the big fellows.

A program of games followed the softball, which were won as follows: Girls 100 yard dash: Marguerite Derry. Boys 100 yard dash: Anthony Staffieri. Race for Children: John Garcia. Men's Race: Emilio Staffieri. Men's 3-legged race: Joseph Ficciello, Barney Vespucci. Girls' 3-legged race: Theresa Beneditto, Anna Gambino. Women's Race: Theresa Beneditto.

The weather was excellent for an outing, and many took advantage of the swimming facilities at the camp. The committee, under the direction of Chairman John Juliano, worked hard to insure a good time and from all indications, its work was well done. Due to a prolonged business trip to Washington, John Volpe, president of the Men's Lodge, was not able to be present at the outing, and sent the committee his regrets by telegram. However, Jeanette Garbino, president of the Ladies' Lodge, dug right in and worked as hard as the committee to keep things going.

ARLINGTON GARDEN SHOW

The Arlington Garden Club will hold its 10th annual flower show in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Arlington Centre, on Wednesday afternoon and evening, Sept. 10, from 2 to 10 p. m.

The show will be open to the general public. Mrs. Harry S. Baker of 14 Avon place, Arlington, will be in charge of the entries. Mrs. Arthur Pulsford is general chairman of the classes which will be divided into two main groups, decorative and cultural classes. One of the interesting features of the flower show will be a class for neighboring garden clubs "Pedestals." These are to be arranged suitable for a hallway, church or auditorium.

SUSTAINED BADLY CUT ARM

Herbert Smith, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rev. H. B. Smith of Lawson road, got a badly cut left arm Tuesday afternoon when he tripped and fell on a pile of crushed stone along the railroad tracks where the men were at work north of the crossing in the center. A freight conductor, whose train was stopped at the rear of the Shell Gas Station told the Police that young Smith fell upon a bottle of mineral oil which he was carrying. The resulting cut bled profusely.

Young Smith gamely went to Hevey's Pharmacy where Clerk William Sheehan dressed the cut and gave him first aid. He was then taken home by Patrolman James P. Donaghy in one of the police cruisers.

Not on Mainland

Cape Horn is not on the mainland of South America, as is generally supposed. It is located on the point of the most southerly of the Wollaston Islands, more than 100 miles from the Strait of Magellan.

GREGORY-DEFILIPPO

Wearing a white satin gown with a long veil of tulle caught to a crown of orange blossoms and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses and baby's breath, Miss Rosalie Marie DeFilippo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso DeFilippo of 905 Main street, was married on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 24, at the rectory of the Immaculate Conception Church to George Edward Gregory of East Hartford, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gregory of New Bedford. Rev. James E. Leahy performed the marriage ceremony at 3 o'clock, and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary DeFilippo, who wore a dress of rose colored tulle with a coronet of blue flowers and carried a bouquet of tallinn roses and baby's buttons. Ernest Gregory, Jr., of Bangor, Me., was his brother's best man.

At the conclusion of the reception Mr. Gregory and his bride left on one of the planes of the American Airlines for a wedding journey to New York and Washington. Upon their return they will make their home in East Hartford, Conn.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and until her marriage was employed at the Hotel Statler in Boston. Mr. Gregory, who is employed at the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft factory in Hartford, Conn., attended the New Bedford High School and graduated from the Boston Trade School.

ERICSON-EDWARDSON

Miss Phyllis Thorne Edwardson of Cambridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Edwardson of York Village, Me., and Gustave George Ericson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Ericson of Dunster lane, were married Sunday afternoon, Aug. 24, at 4 o'clock at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Wintertown by the pastor, Rev. Edgar W. Anderson.

The bride, wearing an Empire style gown of moire tulle with a fingertip veil and carrying white roses and sweet peas, was attended by Mrs. Dorothy Arsenault of Cambridge. Her gown was of pale blue printed organza, with which she wore a large matching picture hat and carried pink roses combined with blue larkspur and baby's breath.

Carl Ericson of Winchester was his brother's best man and the ushers were Elmer Bubler of Belmont and Walter J. Arsenault of Cambridge.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church parish house, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Upon their return from a wedding trip through New Hampshire, Mr. Ericson and his bride will make their home in Waverly.

The bride is a graduate of Waterbury High School. Mr. Ericson, who is employed as a bank clerk, is a graduate of Winchester High School.

WELDON-MAY

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Loring May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon May, to William Humphrey Weldon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester R. Weldon of Park road, took place Saturday evening, Aug. 23, at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on Hillside avenue in Stoneham with Rev. Mrs. Strickland, pastor of the First Congregational Church in Stoneham, officiating. The ceremony took place in front of a vine-covered trellis banded on either side with bouquets of mixed flowers.

The bride, wearing and orchid sheer redingote and carrying a bouquet of white roses, was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by her sister, Miss Marion May of Stoneham, who wore a green sheer dress and carried yellow roses. Robert Weldon of this town was his brother's best man.

A small reception was held following the marriage ceremony, after which Mr. Weldon and his bride left on a wedding journey through New Hampshire and Maine. Upon their return they will make their home at 10 Hersam street in Stoneham.

The bride is a graduate of Stoneham High School and Burdett College. Mr. Weldon graduated from Winchester High School in 1932 and from the Bentley School of Accounting & Finance.

ELKS IN FIRST PLAYOFF GAME SATURDAY

Play Wakefield at Leonard Field

Winchester Elks, finishing the regular season at the top of Eastern Massachusetts Two League, play their first game of the championship playoffs tomorrow afternoon on Leonard Field at Wakefield. The two teams will meet again Sunday at Greenwood and should a third game be necessary it will be played Wednesday at Greenwood, this having been decided by a toss of a coin.

Manager Paul Quigley will send his right hander, Pete Provizano, after Saturday's game. The poker-faced little right hander ranks with the league's elite, having the very high class record of seven earned runs in 72 innings. When you consider that Provizano's most effective pitch is a curve, which he breaks across the knees of the batter, a had that none of the league arbiters would under any circumstances call a strike his chucking looms as even more gift edged. Many a batter had Pete in a hole through the season when competent umpiring would have set him down on strikes.

The veteran Buster Kendrick will go after Sunday's game at Greenwood, with Bob Farrell working the odd game if one is necessary.

ELKS BLANKED MELROSE

Victory Clinched First Place in Final League Standing

The Winchester Elks bounced back from their Malden defeat Thursday to blank Melrose last Friday evening on Leonard Field, 2-0, with Bobby Farrell up.

The red-suited visitors arrived in town about two men, John Murphy, Elks regular catcher, filling in at second base and Lance, ex-Arlington Cubs boy, playing third.

Farrell gave the visitors only three hits, one by Murphy, while fanning 12. After the first frame only one scratch hit was garnered off his delivery and he scored the first of the Elks' two runs himself.

Bob MacDonnell scored the second in the 5th, driving out a triple and coming in on Frank Provizano's long outfield fly.

The victory gave the Elks undisputed claim to first place in the Eastern Massachusetts Twilight League for the regular season.

Up in Rockland, Me., there has been some criticism over the fact that the President's automobile was driven all the way from Washington and back just to convey him from his ship to the railroad station. This in the face of the gasoline shortage. It is pointed out however, by the Rockland Courier-Gazette, that the car brought Col. Starling, head of the Secret Service, who had some business with the management of the President's Rockland visit. Something was missed here in the line of publicity, for a horse drawn brougham would have solved the problem to perfection, and Col. Starling could have flown to Maine.

This country seems to us to be worse than France ever was before she entered the war. And we are tired of having the word "Democracy" constantly drilled into us. We were born here and have lived here for our 42 years, seven months and 28 days, and we know what our Democracy was up to the time our great ruler took the throne, with all these foreign born patriots telling us what it is. When a shipbuilding plant is taken over by our government after two rival labor unions refuse to work through a fight among themselves, and the excuse is that the management of the plant refuses to fill government orders, it may be called democracy, but it is not the democracy we lived in for over 50 years of our life. The greatest miracle we can imagine in this mad world is that we are able to find a single instance of a business man or a business firm being found right in a labor dispute. And we don't have to wait an American flag nor carry a stick announcing "I am an American" to say otherwise.

Opening oneself to criticism or harping upon a subject, we are going to repeat our opinion on the 40 mile proposition of auto driving. I, you ask us (and many have) we will fail to recognize the new ruling as a gas saving device. It is an added driving danger and an increased time consumer. In driving to the Cape last Friday we consumed over an hour more time than we average. On returning we took an hour longer than usual. We have never felt that we are a "fast" driver, and our average time is the result of many trips over this route. Furthermore, we have no objection at all to driving not over 30 in settled territory, nor 40 on the open road. This problem is one of these things that can be approached. That a car driven at 40 miles consumes less gas than at 50 or 60 miles an hour, appears unquestioned. The point is, does a driver at an average speed of 40 miles, consume more or less gas by driving over a period half again longer at 20 to 35 miles? Being unable to find the answer, we are left with the fact that mileage owing to distant gas stations, we do not know our exact mileage, but from our dash indicator it appeared, to be considerably more than usual. As a safety factor, the new ruling still appears to lack any important feature. Observing the 40-mile ruling, we traveled both Friday and Monday at an average speed, stretches previously covered in high. In our first hour's driving we covered just 19 miles. On numerous occasions the speedometer indicated 20 to 10 and 15 miles an hour. On the open route the cars grouped in bunches and traveled at 20 to 35 miles, being passed and overtaken by individual drivers. Between Needham and Noughton we counted 32 cars speeding by our individual bunch, including three buses and a ton truck. However, at the 30-40, one usually drives over 40, thus laying himself open to a suspicion of his license. New York, we found, has no knowledge of either a gasoline shortage or driving rules, and information to this effect might well be given to the drivers from the empire state. For some distance we followed a car which rolled along at a speed well over 40 on the open road, slowed to 30 or 35 on every curve or in passing, took one step at a time, and hesitated to pass a mile over passing a horse drawn wagon. To pass this impediment without driving over 40 was practically impossible. It was accomplished when the lady passed the car at all of her driving an inattentive moment. Such factors are of course common in today's driving. The point is, one used to be able to escape time, whereas now the driver lays himself open to a serious penalty. We saw three accidents where a car made a stop and a bunch of cars caused a car to ram the one in front of it. Up to the present time this year we found the driving convenient and as safe as in any year; some feel it is to be sure, but it is to stand out in traffic and lay themselves open to arrest by any officer. We have not driven over 40 miles in settled districts and on the open road is no hardship. To attempt to do this, however, is laying a driver wide open to a serious penalty. To add over two hours to a usual trip of 8 hours or 30 to 40 mile speed, if it is in our opinion to save much on gas, gasoline. To drive at 25 to 35 miles, with an open stretch of unbroken distance ahead of the leading car, is an exasperation and an invitation to exceed the 40-mile rule. The traffic situation on Monday was noticeably improved all the way from the Cape, and undoubtedly many former drivers are keeping off the road—which in our opinion is one real way to conserve gas.

WHO WILL DEFEND WHAT?

To the large number of men and women who have worked through the summer months to organize and perfect the plans for Civilian Defense Work, the word as a whole is a debt of gratitude. The defense group is not working on any hysterical theory which maintains that enemy bombs or sabotage will strike the town in the near future. Rather, it approaches its task in much the same spirit that moves a man to carry fire insurance on his house. Fire is unpredictable, but it is possible, and the smart thing is to be protected against its effects.

It does not suffice to let a neighbor carry insurance on his house. Each individual must do his own part. It is to be adequately protected. In the same way, Civilian Defense is something in which the whole town should share. The altruistic service of a few cannot do the whole job.

On Sept. 16, in the Town Hall, the plans which have been worked out during the summer will be presented to the town. The discussion calls for many hands and hearts, working together in a task which has a many-sided appeal, ranging from a personal interest to protect one's own property and family to the broader instinct of joining in a true community enterprise. It should make its appeal to every citizen.

That of course will never happen, because there will always be someone who will say to himself "the fellow next door is doing his share, and I'll let him look after my house and my family if any trouble occurs." If you're not sure he's at the Town Hall on the evening of Sept. 16, better still, be there yourself and discover what you can do to carry your own part of the load.

WARNINGS

The "Herald's" famous columnist, Bill Cunningham, rendered a great public service by writing and publishing in the "Boston Sunday Herald" on July 27 a warning to the people of this country not to underestimate Hitler and his allies at this time. He explains so carefully what we are really up against that we feel that no one who reads the article will be convinced of it and so act and stop talking.

Bill was in the first World War and was present for some time at the Olympic Games in Germany and saw at close range the magnificent equipment and the superb morale of these mighty forces, and knows whereof he speaks. Our country is far from being even partially aroused. There is a vast amount of slack between the virtually wartime business of the industry and the tempo, severity, bettledom or whatever it is of the general public. If we are not careful we shall have nothing but a barely unarmad mob that will be slaughtered easily as a force of boy scouts, if we ever run into mechanized forces.

A week later in the same paper he warns the citizen soldiers of our is rapidly on the decline, "preparing to fight, if they fight again," he says, "the most powerful, most ruthless, most perfectly organized, most murderously equipped, hardest hitting, and most ingeniously destructive force the world has ever seen."

He says: "We have held a minor role in uniform for almost a year, at enormous expense, and if they were to attack us, we would be a little better off than so many juveniles, on a semi-serious dupe racket. The truth of the matter concerning our military equipment is that we don't know, perhaps, rushed these young men into the service with almost nothing for them to do, and, as a result, they are not prepared to do it with. I know that the morale of this great citizen army of ours is low—very low. The reason is that it feels it is wasting its time. It is ready to do it with our nation is in danger, it wants to be ready. It is not getting ready. It has nothing to get ready with."

Some fifteen years ago one of our brightest and carefully educated young men became in twenty-four hours the idol of this nation. "Lindy" was shot from the heavens, presented to the academy of thought to the greatest hero of the age as he was. After flying over practically all the civilized world (and most that was not yet derelict civilized) he spent considerable time in Germany and was astonished at what he saw there. As a high-grade and loyal American citizen he came home and told the nation what he saw. There would be another World War; that the Germans were making airplanes of the thousands; that they were building a bomber in a matter of weeks; that they were training multitudes of young men for pilots of these planes; that the next day the German army would be in the air and teaching the young men born and trained since the last World War that they were a superior race of men and could conquer the entire world—and they believed it. Lindbergh was turned down and hardly allowed to be heard. Discussion concerning the possibility of war could not be tolerated in this country. There was more important business under consideration at that time. It was over two hours of a usual trip of 8 hours or 30 to 40 mile speed, if it is in our opinion to save much on gas, gasoline. practical leading politicians who want to spend their time and influence getting ready now for the presidential campaign four years away.

Disgusted and irritated he was an easy victim for these dyed-in-the-wool politicians, and has temporarily been ruined by the way he has been treated. And that has been the result of failing to heed his warning everybody knows. It isn't necessary to go into details.

Shall we again fail to heed the warning of another man, himself perfectly well acquainted with war and with the German activities in all their phases? I write under Bill's shadow, my country. The of These I have quoted freely from his articles. I detect and abhor war, and believe I felt sure that the present administration was leading us slowly, cautiously, but surely into war. I did my best to defeat it in 1940. But the majority must rule, and under the circumstances in which we now find ourselves, I shall support the present foreign policy of the administration to the best of my ability. I am too old to take the field, but I am ready to give every dollar I possess, rather than live in an American slave to the present German ruler. Even at this late date we may avoid war if we present a solid front. In war, as in football, there must be perfect cooperation to win the game. Our greatest foe of this time is within our own borders.

I saw it in '32 and '33 the blue shoulder the old Springfield and march off to the Southland. Every man knew what he was ready to do to preserve the Union and drive slavery forever out of this country, and they did it. I saw the rough riders and their associates ride to the front eager to drive the Spanish from us—and they did it.

Twenty-four years ago, representing the Town of Winchester, I bade our boys God Speed to the front to win a war for true democracy, and we promised to support them to the end, to care for their dependents at home, and if they gave their lives, to see that their memory was not forgotten. Our country has not done again now, and we have kept our promise.

I believe in young men, and if we support these young fellows and give them the training and training that they deserve, they will win again, either with or without war. Let politicians for the present give way to the men of every man and woman in this country forget all else and determine that our first duty is to defeat Hitler and his allies. This duty is done we can begin a new civilization.

The warnings mentioned above refer to a relatively short period of time, but a learned professor of our university, who has been in the service with us with all our defenses, and in 20 or 30 years later lose the next one, if we don't have more soldiers, and like the old slave of some more virile race. It says that in 1933 the American fertility rate was 100 per cent. Families produced on an average of 2.1 children. This is a normal increase in the population. Three years later it had dropped 6 per cent, and is still dropping. It is not withstanding the influence of the draft. At the last tabulation it stood like this:

- 15 of married white women had 1 children
- 20 of married white women had 2 children
- 25 of married white women had 3 or more

The immensity of war transfers the discussion about babies from the realm of academic thought to the realm of national morale and physical equipment. "Morale," he defines, is a willingness to do things for the good of the nation at the expense of personal sacrifice, and this is what he calls on the men and women of the next generation or two to do. He says that the nation must maintain as relatively static a position among the nations of the world as we do today.

APPEASEMENT

To the Editor of the Star:

England muddled right along trying to appease Germany and Russia. An academic theory, drunk with the sight of power, having completed his plans for conquest after years of intrigue, toil and scheming is not to be deterred by the possibility of appeasement of any kind. Conciliation promotes his plans. Neither justice nor mercy nor kindness nor pity nor the love of God can soften or mitigate one jot or tittle the iron grip of Hitler and his kind. Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C., Aug. 26, 1941

Honorable Harold Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

Again I respectfully call your attention to the fuel oil and gasoline shortage in Massachusetts and New England. According to my information available reserves are able to supply only for a few days. It is my understanding that there is no shortage of these necessary oils in the case of supply, but that the shortage in New England is due to lack of transportation facilities, because of the fact that many of the oil tankers are now being used for this area now placed in transportation service to Great Britain. It is my understanding that the problem appears to be that of transporting these necessary oils to New England.

After a thorough study of available transportation facilities, I find that there are approximately 18,000 oil tankers on railroad sidings now idle, which if placed in immediate operation, would transport sufficient oil for this area. There are some ship tankers which could be employed temporarily to help build up the reserve for this section. Also it is possible to use a number of oil tank trucks if necessary. Transportation facilities are available now.

As you know, Massachusetts and New England winters are long and severe. Heating problem extends over ten months period. Many thousands of our people are completely dependent on oil for heating their homes. Many of our industrial buildings and factories, where thousands are employed on a National Defense work are heated entirely by oil. Oil is not a luxury in this area but a basic necessity. If oil reserves are not sufficiently built up for the coming winter, many of our people will suffer and our industry will be forced to cease operations.

I realize fully that many of the tank cars now idle are not the property of the railroads, consequently the problem is not primarily one of securing the railroad. Many of the tank cars are owned by oil companies and other corporations. Regardless of ownership, since these cars constitute the major transportation facility now available, they should be used at once. Fuel oil and oil products are needed in this area now. Available carrier facilities are employed to transport this oil, and as immediately as possible, I ask for a sweeping and detailed investigation of the oil situation.

IS GERMAN DRIVE ON MOSCOW STUCK IN GEOGRAPHIC BOTTLENECK?

In the Smolensk sector, the Russians' prolonged resistance to the German drive on Moscow is aided by geography, according to a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

The parallel courses of two rivers across the Russian plain west of Moscow form a geographic bottleneck, says the bulletin. The Dnieper river on the south and the Volga on the north, with its Mela tributary, outline the best approach to Moscow from the West—a corridor between 50 and 60 miles wide. This "Moscow corridor" is relatively open ground, in contrast with the Dnieper's left-bank marshes on the south and the Volga's numerous swamp-fed right-bank tributaries to the north.

Bottleneck 45 Miles Wide

The Western entrance to the corridor, about 285 miles west of Moscow, is only 15 miles wide. To funnel the forces from an entire front into this bottleneck may create a traffic jam, but it saves crossing and recrossing many winding rivers, their actual width increased by the marshy shores which are periodically inundated by floods.

It is the preference of Moscow-bound armies and commerce for the "smooth going" in this corridor, with the Dnieper ports of Orsha, Smolensk, and Vyazma spared along its south side, that has given Smolensk the title, "Key to the Gate of Moscow." The transcontinental railway from western Europe to Moscow traverses the corridor.

The superiority of this aged-old traffic lane is due to a slight elevation above the rest of the flat Russian plain—the southern spur of the Valdai Hills. Though nowhere reaching an altitude much above a thousand feet, the gently rolling Valdai highlands are the "roof" top of northwestern Russia. Their slopes create rivers instead of the swamps found in the flat country around them.

The Dnieper River rises where the Moscow corridor crosses the highlands, between Nikitinka and Sychevka about 140 miles due west of Moscow, and meanders southwestward past Smolensk to Orsha, where it turns sharply south. Barely ten miles north of the Dnieper's headwaters is the source of the Mela, which flows southeast to join the Dnieper and outline the north side of the "Moscow corridor" as far as Vitebsk. There the Dnieper turns northward on its course to the Baltic.

Armies pushing across White Russia toward Moscow, from the Lithuanian and Polish invasions in the Middle Ages to Napoleon's campaign in 1812, have faced three possible routes. To approach Moscow through the northern, or Dnieper, sector, moving west from Polotsk, would mean crossing several sizable rivers with marshy valleys, maneuvering through a string of lakes, and crossing the broad Dnieper River twice. A direct advance through the southern, or Mogilev, sector across a dozen rivers, including the Dnieper, which is European Russia's second largest. Most armies, like Napoleon's, have chosen the third route, which lies between the other two—the Moscow corridor.

THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1941

INJURED AS CAR RAMMED TRUCK

Steve Radochia, of 57 Richfield road, Arlington, owner and operator of an Oldsmobile coupe, was painfully injured shortly before 3 o'clock Sunday morning when his machine, while headed south on Cambridge street, ran into the rear of a Ford ton truck, owned by Bertha L. Schmitt, of Centre street, Newton, and in charge of Bertram L. Gurley of 196 Washington street.

The truck was parked on Cambridge street, opposite the residence of Mr. George W. Partridge. The impact of the collision hurled the truck against a tree, moving it several inches in the ground.

After striking the truck, the Oldsmobile crossed the street and sidewalk and entered the property of Dr. Richard J. Clark of Salisbury street, damaging three spruce trees bordering it.

Both machines were disabled and were towed away by the Central Garage wrecker, the truck being towed to Bonelli Motors and the Olds to the Central Garage.

Radochia was taken by Officer Edward Bowler in the patrol car to the office of Dr. Charles Rooney where he was treated for cuts about the forehead and face and an injury to his left arm.

NO RAGWEED ON NANTUCKET

Mrs. Gordon Mann of Euclid avenue, and her son "Dougie," have returned from a two weeks' vacation at Nantucket, where "Dougie," a sufferer from hay fever, had a great time without a sniffle during his entire visit. According to Mrs. Mann they really do a job on ragweed at Nantucket, the authorities there having inhibited the notion that it is good business to get rid of the stuff. Accordingly they put it all in the spring and the matter, the health authorities being ordered by the Senate to investigate in connection with a resolution for the destruction of ragweed.

Because of her son's hay fever tendencies Mrs. Mann has interested herself in the removal of ragweed, which, by the way, is NOT goldenrod. She has an appointment to appear before the State Department of Health at the State House next week to discuss the matter. The health authorities having been ordered by the Senate to investigate in connection with a resolution for the destruction of ragweed.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Specifications are to be made up and bids requested for painting the inside of the town hall auditorium before the end of the year, as the appropriation made for 1941 cannot be carried over to 1942.

The license for this theatre has been renewed for another year.

J. F. Winn Co. has been granted permission to use another 1000 gallon underground tank for gasoline.

Bids to be opened Sept. 8, at 8 a.m. are to be asked for tires for the fire department. It should be the desire of the Board to buy from a local firm if one is available.

The bubble which was on the common a while ago and was removed when the parking spaces were made is to be re-installed at an early date.

Public hearing will be held on Sept. 8, at 7:30 on a petition from Edison and E. Tel. companies for permission to locate a pole on Middlesex street approximately 160 feet southeast of Horn Pond Brook road.

There is only one session, thereby permitting sufficient rest and recreation for these younger pupils. Transportation is provided. The classrooms are sunny, colorful and completely equipped. School premises have been fully approved by State Inspectors. The playground is a spacious, grassy yard with all types of play apparatus.

Enrollment is limited. Prospects mailed upon request. School open for inspection.

CHILD STRUCK BY CAR

John Gillis, 4 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Gillis of 87 Cross street, sustained injuries to his head and knees Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 when he was struck by an automobile driven by Arthur E. Kendrick of 11 Holton street.

Mr. Kendrick told the police he was driving his Dodge sedan east on Cross street and had reached a point just west of Forest street when the little boy stepped from the sidewalk directly into the path of his machine.

He took the boy to the Winchester Hospital where he was treated by Dr. Charles Rooney, x-rays being taken to determine the extent of the injuries to his head. The child's mother was in McLean's room nearby when he accident occurred.

WEAVERS USE MIRRORS

Tapestry weavers are obliged to watch the progress of their work in mirrors, as a tapestry has to be woven from the back, declares Collier's Weekly. The weaver checks his work in a mirror facing the front of the fabric.

Sealed bids for furnishing the Fire Department with 1000 feet of hose, also 11 tires and tubes will be received at the office of the Board of Selectmen, Town Hall, up to September 8, 1941.

Bids must be in not later than 3 P. M.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Details may be obtained by applying to Chief of Department.

ELKS BLASTED WAKEFIELD

Winchester Elks, with first place in the Eastern Massachusetts Two League already in their satchel, continued to play winning ball last Sunday, blasting the Greenwoods of Wakefield at Wakefield to the tune of 12-3.

For six innings it was quite a ball game, the score being two apiece at the end of that frame.

In the seventh the Elks tied off on Gerard and drove in four runs, following with a three run barrage in the eighth and treating the home team to another three run pasting in the ninth.

Buster Kendrick had relieved Pete Provinzano, starting pitcher, and Quigley sent the versatile Dave Ahern to the mound. Dave got a great hand from the local fans and held Wakefield safely.

The game was the last of the regular league schedule for the Elks who finished the season in first place in the final league standing.

WINCHESTER GIRLS AT OGONTZ

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Andrews will be late summer visitors at the home of Mrs. Andrews' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whorf of Centerville. They have been spending the summer as counselors at the Ogontz Camp in Sugar Hill, N. H.

Miss Roberta Ray of 32 Calumet road who has been spending the summer at the Ogontz Camp in Sugar Hill, is one of ten girls to win the honor trip to Quebec, Canada. She and her sister, Miss Sally Ray, daughters of Professor and Mrs. Harold Blanchard of 32 Calumet road received blue ribbons in the advanced and intermediate class respectively.

Miss Joan Ray daughter of Professor and Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard, was one of ten girls from the Ogontz Camp who were chosen to make the three day canoe trip to Rangely Lakes in Maine. The canoers have returned to camp after a thrilling camping trip on Lake Moosehookmuguet.

Miss Cecile M. Long, who is temporarily managing the Home Craft Exchange, the family food shop at 39 Thompson street, is showing an unusual and attractive patriotic window display over Labor Day.

In the foreground of the window on a Red, White and Blue ground are Uncle Sam, very youthful seeming and a debutante for all his worldly trouble that impends, and a white eagle.

In the background is a cleverly conceived New York skyline with the Statue of Liberty, Chrysler and Empire State Buildings, State Capitol and Airport. It's all worth a trip down Thompson street to see.

DOUBLE JEOPARDY

The girls have a ball in their own way. They make life the only thing for which they have to pay as enter and pay as we exit, too.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

On Friday afternoon the annual Field Day of the Park Department will be held at the Loring avenue playground. In the morning qualifying trials in checkers, tennis, Croquet and basketball tournaments will be held. In the afternoon a long list of field events, open to any resident of Winchester, will be run off. This is to be seen by our annual doll carriage parade, an epic event, in the lives of some 30 youngsters. Throughout the day an exhibition of handcrafts, including such as on display at the shelter houses.

All prizes this year are theatre tickets, furnished by the following houses, Voburn Theatre, Scenesham Theatre, and Winchester Theatre. We must again pay our compliments to Manager George Carter of the local picture house for his unhesitating generosity to the town youngsters. It's always "How many do you need" with him.

The new five ball in baseball and we have seen three fine games played to date. The Cubs and Millionaires have met twice in a best three out of five games to determine the season's champion and each has won a game. In the first game the Cubs behind the superior pitching of E. Miglacci won by a 4-2 score. In the second game the Millionaires roared back with a 13-9 victory. A. Amico, captain of the Millionaires, clinched his claim of best league batter by hitting four hits in five times at the plate.

A few years ago this writer made a prediction that the high school material, particularly in baseball, would fall off and that there would be a few lean years ahead. After watching the correctness of this prophecy he now ventures an opinion that the next few seasons will see the side operate from the other side.

There are 10 or 12 boys going into high school this year who are dandy prospects for football and baseball. To mention a few: Miglacci, A. Amico, B. Goddu, Taboto, S. Walsh, R. Tracy, M. Buzzati, S. Berquist, F. Farrell, and D. Ganich.

When it comes to naming a boy who is always willing to help with odd jobs on the playground we must not forget John Mangano of 32 Irving street. John is the type of boy who stepped out and worked for three hours picking up papers and when asked how much he owed us said, "If I give you a dime will it be 10¢ or 20¢ right?"

It is never impressed on by most of his friends for they know him for just what he is—a fine, young industrious gentelman.

ZAKOLO BOYS LEARN FOOTBALL

"Zak" Zakarov, former Exeter and Harvard broken field running hero, and at present director of Camp Zakolo, Harrison, Me., is giving a few football strategy and fundamentals for his boys so that none of our lads will feel left out of things when the football season starts, and besides, many of our campers have been visiting many points of interest in the Quebec region.

TRAFFIC CIRCLE OPENED

One Way Idea Tried Out in Center

Starting last Friday and to be continued from week to week for an indefinite period, Winchester center traffic now operates without stop lights and with a circular flow. Caution lights now are the only signals in use except at such times as the railroad gates are lowered for the passage of trains.

To the advantages or disadvantages of the experiment will lay the determination for its continuance or rejection.

Thus far the scheme appears to be working fairly smoothly. Traffic flows through the bottleneck center without delay except for the trains. The pedestrian problem, which still remains to be solved, does not appear to be an important factor, does not appear serious. What this latter feature will develop when school opens and summer vacationists return, remains to be seen.

If the experiment is continued, certain important changes will undoubtedly be made. The "foot" at the north end of the island for instance, makes a left swing difficult; parked cars on the west side add to this inconvenience and the direct cross traffic west to east and south to north, are all features which will need attention.

Winchester residents should definitely understand that the experiment is being conducted as an experiment in traffic control, and that it is not intended to be a permanent feature in their midst. They should weigh the situation in all phases.

NEW TRAFFIC RULE

In connection with the try-out of the rotary circle in the center, Common street was made a one-way street yesterday, the entrance now being at Church street, west of the Winchester Trust Company and the exit being in the center. This is but one of several changes which may be made in the experiment of trying out the circle idea.

LIEUTENANT COMMANDER

FOUR RECALLED

The Star has learned that Lieutenant Commander Clarence H. Fogg, U. S. N., of 4 Maple street, who retired from active duty on June 30 after 38 years' service, was immediately recalled to active duty as Senior Navy Patrol Officer of the San Pedro-Los Angeles area, with headquarters at Long Beach, Calif.

Prior to his retirement, Lieut. Commander Fogg had been in command of the duty, which is similar to the army military police duty. On July 1 the Fogg moved from San Pedro to 224 Highland avenue, where he is now residing. They left Winchester two years ago, expecting to return this year but owing to the national emergency they returned to active duty.

Clarence H. Fogg, Jr., and his brother, "Red" Fogg, Jr., are in the Coast Guard last June and are entered as juniors at the University of California at Berkeley. Clarence is a business administrator student and Bill is continuing his pre-medical studies.

Bessie Dorothy Fogg, who graduated last June from the San Pedro High School, is a freshman at University of California, and her sisters Roberta and Margaret Ann will enter the Woodrow Wilson High School in Long Beach, Calif., upon their return from their summer camp on Santa Catalina Island.

EXCEPTIONAL EFFICIENCY

NOTED

Mrs. Geraldine Waite of this town has been doing excellent job as temporary assistant clerk of the Local Selective Service Board, 161, in the place of the Stoneham girl that left.

The permanent replacement must come from the Federal Civil Service list, otherwise Mrs. Waite would certainly be appointed to a permanent position, because she has shown exceptional efficiency during her short stay in the office.

UNION SUMMER SERVICES WILL BE CONCLUDED NEXT SUNDAY

The Union summer services under the auspices of the Congregational, Methodist and Baptist Churches held their first year beginning the first Sunday in July and ending the second Sunday in September will be concluded next Sunday morning at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church with the minister of the First Baptist Church, Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, preaching. His topic will be, "The East Winds of Life."

TO BE MARRIED SEPT. 20

Initiations are out for the wedding on Saturday, Sept. 20, of Miss Elizabeth Cary, daughter of Mrs. Burton Wolcott Cary, and Mr. John Paul Anderson. The wedding will take place at the Unitarian Church at 8-30.

ELKS AND SINGLARS MEET

SATURDAY EVENING EAGLE PLAYOFF FINALS

First and Fourth Place Teams to Battle for League Supremacy

Once again it's Winchester vs. Woburn when the Winchester Elks and Woburn Singlars meet for the first time in the league playoffs. The Eastern Massachusetts Two League will begin a three-out-of-five game series for the league championship tomorrow afternoon at Leonard Field beginning at 4 p. m.

The Elks finished the regular league season in top place with 51 points, leading second place Stoneham by five points.

The Singlars had a tough fight for fourth place, but managed to succeed in under the wire by defeating Melrose twice in a row to finish ahead of Melrose by three points.

In the semi-final playoffs the Elks will meet the Woburn Singlars in the first game. The Elks in all of the league games this year except one game which the Elks won at the end of the campaign.

The opposing pitchers for Saturday's game will be Pete Provanzano, twirling for the Elks, and O'Sullivan on the mound for the Singlars. Sunday's game will find "Red" Kennebec of the Elks opposing Porter of the Singlars.

A good attendance is expected tomorrow at Leonard Field for the opener with the second game to be played at Woburn on Sunday afternoon at the high school athletic field beginning at 3 p. m.

FORMER WINCHESTER BOY

MARRIED

The wedding of a former well known Winchester boy was recorded last Friday when Mr. Ronald Everett Simonds, of Boston, former resident of this town, was married to Miss Marjorie Elizabeth Parker, of Woburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Parker of Wellesley. The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCallan in Melrose, on Friday afternoon, and was performed by Rev. John Quint.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, wore a period costume of Mrs. Catherine McCallan of orange blue tulle, a finger tip length full veil caught to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried white gladioli. Her only attendant, Mrs. Laurence Vesce of Woburn, wore a taffeta gown in two shades of blue, and carried a bouquet of lily of the valley to match her flower coronet. Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross of this town was the best man.

The bride attended Lasell Junior College and is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley. Clarence is a business administrator student and Bill is continuing his pre-medical studies.

Patrick Daly, 21 Washburn avenue, North Cambridge, and Maria Howard, 234 Highland avenue, Winchester.

Salvatore Angelo Ferro, 11 Harvard street, Winchester, and Josephine Mary Grassia, 16 Concord avenue, Somerville.

WINCHESTER BOYS WIN

SCHOLARSHIPS

Two Winchester boys, Ward A. Albro and George R. Bancroft, Jr., are included in the list released this week by Dean A. Warren Stearns of Tufts College following his announcement that the Tufts College Medical School has awarded newly established Chapman Hayden Memorial Scholarships to 20 first year students.

The scholarships, averaging $250 each and equal to the recipient's first year's tuition, were awarded on the basis of individual needs and scholastic promise to students planning to enter general professional schools of the country. The Hayden Memorial Scholars, as the group is known, will be entitled to use in their succeeding years of study the Chapman-Hayden Foundation Loan Fund, which was established with a gift of $20,000.

SUPER MARKET OPENS

First National Gives Town First Innovation

Winchester residents and housewives greeted their first super-market in town this week when the First National Stores opened their new building at the center. The building, with its ultra modern fittings and conveniences has been under construction during the summer, it occupies the site of several older business blocks.

The First National Company are opening with their usual list of fine foods, fruit and meats and lowest prices. Ample parking space for automobiles has been provided at the rear of the market with an entrance and exit at the Woburn end.

Winchester housewives will do well to peruse the new super market's advertisement in this week's Star.

WINCHESTER CIVILIAN DEFENSE

MEETING TO BE HELD SEPT. 16

The announcement from State Headquarters that the Winchester Civilian Defense School will be held at a new location for the other communities, and that leading instructors known both in this country and in England would be part of a staff of a number of the other communities, has caused much enthusiasm in the local Defense Committee this week.

Defense Chairman Harold S. Fuller, of Dorchester, has announced that H. B. Smith stated that plans for the schools, to be attended by both men and women, are complete and will be first made public at a meeting which is expected to overflow the Town Hall on Tuesday, Sept. 16. The school will start a week later, on Sept. 22 and will continue for the next ten Tuesdays. Courses will include fire control, protection against incendiary and high explosive bombs, gas defense, decontamination, and other important subjects. Among the lecturers will be Lt. Col. Harry N. Leachman of the Royal Air Force.

Lectures from Chairman Fuller this week went to heads of 16 women's organizations in the town, asking each to nominate two representatives to enroll for the courses. Applications are being received by Mrs. Alexander S. MacDonald, 4 Ravenscroft road (rd. W. 0830) must be made by Sept. 15. In addition to Mrs. MacDonald, members of the Women's Union include Mrs. T. Grafton Albright, Chairman; Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, Mrs. William L. Davis, Mrs. Albert A. Haskell, Mrs. John Worthington, and Mrs. Joseph W. Worthington. Sumner Graves is Director of Defense Schools.

Plans for the big Sept. 16 meeting were completed at a meeting of Division held Wednesday night at the downtown headquarters in White Block. Principle features will be no first local showing of thrilling motion picture, entitled "Civilian Defense," air raid damages in England.

Chairman Fuller announced owing to the nature of the film, no children under 16 will be admitted. He also said that the school would be held in the Town Hall. There will be short discussions on the work of each local defense unit, and by Mr. W. Farley, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, who has expressed particular interest in the work of the Winchester organization.

Following the meeting there will be an opportunity for those attending to secure applications for enrollment in the school, and to discuss fire and police service, and the many other functions, will give assurance to a great part of the population of the town in case of emergency.

Meeting will be free to all adult citizens.

WINCHESTER ROTARY CLUB

Will Hold Meeting Wednesday at 5 P. M.

The Winchester Rotary Club enjoy a full meeting yesterday at 5 P. M. Country Club, not only a near 100 per cent of its membership attending, but a large group of visitors also. The newest member of the club, "Squire" Franklin, was made welcome in a special dinner. He illustrated a list of broiled serial, his favorite food. He was also further honored by an escort of trial and true Rotarians.

Mr. Angelo Maletta was the speaker for the meeting, presenting a timely talk on bay fever—now at its height. He illustrated his illustrations with talk with diagrams and gave his hearers much valuable information.

Secretary Frank Kibbie again called attention to the approaching fall conference of New England Rotary Clubs at Poland Springs early in October. Many have pledged their intention of attending and an interesting conference is anticipated.

FLAHERTY—CROSBY

Miss Mary M. Crosby, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Crosby of 57 Lincoln street, Stoneham, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph P. Flaherty, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Flaherty of 60 Union street, Woburn, at a 9 o'clock wedding ceremony performed in St. Patrick's Church, Stoneham on Labor Day morning. A cousin of the bride, Rev. Charles A. Donahue of the Sacred Heart Church, East Boston, acted as the officiating minister, also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. The church was decorated with tall Easter lilies, all white gladioli and ferns.

Mr. James Murray, St. Patrick's organist, played the wedding music with Mr. James Fitzpatrick as soloist.

The ushers were Mr. Charles E. Crosby of Stoneham, brother of the bride; Mr. John L. Quinn of Wakefield; Mr. William D. Sullivan of Winchester and Mr. George J. Widdows of Stoneham. The bridesmaids procession proceeded down the aisle led by Mr. Murray. Impressively played the Lohengrin wedding chorus.

The ushers led the processional party by the bride and groom. The bridesmaids, Misses Kathryn B. Flaherty of Woburn, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Esther M. Murphy, a cousin of the bride, of Stoneham, and Misses Mary E. Flaherty of Stoneham, the bride's sister, Mrs. Alice Crosby Walsh of Stoneham, serving as matron of honor walked next in line followed by two flower girls, Elizabeth Ann and Alice Joseph Walsh of Stoneham, nieces of the bride. Miss Crosby followed the bride procession, escorted by a brother of Mr. Henry J. Crosby, who gave her in marriage. Mr. Flaherty was attended by his brother, Mr. John T. Flaherty of West Roxbury, as best man.

Seated within the chancel during the service were Rev. James E. Fitzpatrick, pastor of the church, and Canon Conception Church; Rev. Arthur E. Murray, chaplain of the Academy of the Assumption, Woburn; and Rev. Francis Smith, of the Corpus Christi Parish, Abundant.

Mr. Fitzpatrick's selections during the mass included Schubert's "Ave Maria," "Heart of Jesus," "Gloria," "Sanctus," "Agnus Dei," and "O Sacred Heart."

Miss Crosby wore a period gown in classic white Chantilly lace over a deep blue tulle. She carried a long, full, full bishop's veil and a long court train entirely of lace. Her fingertip veil of a bridal illusion was caught with a white ribbon and carried a white ribbon bouquet of gardenias and white roses.

Her sister, Mrs. Walsh, was also period gown in apricot chiffon, standing with necktie and necktie long, full bishop's veil and full skirt. She wore a matching apricot tulle shoulder veil on her hair which was confined with a coronet of white roses and carried a white ribbon bouquet of gardenias and white roses.

Miss Flaherty and Miss Murphy as bridesmaids chose similarly designed dresses of white tulle and carried long, full, full bishop's veil and a long court train entirely of lace. They wore a matching apricot tulle shoulder veil on her hair which was confined with a coronet of white roses and carried a white ribbon bouquet of gardenias and white roses.

Carrying miniature old fashioned bouquets the two flower girls were gowned in long, high-waisted models of baby blue tulle, made with sweetheart necklines, short puffed sleeves and full skirts to the floor. Their coronets were of old fashioned floral and white roses.

A reception and wedding breakfast followed at the Mount Hood Country Club in Melrose.

Mr. Flaherty and his bride will be honeymooning in New York City, Washington, D. C., and upon their return they will live at 11A Warren avenue, Woburn. The bride's going away costume was a green sheer wool dress with a full skirt and a full skirt. The bride's accessories were in autumn brown and she wore a corsage of baby gardenias.

The bride is well known here in Winchester as a member of the staff of the Winchester National Bank.

WINCHESTER GIRLS HUSBAND

DEAD IN ENGLAND

A terse cablegram received on Monday night by Mrs. Barbara W. Moulton, of 124 Main street, announced the death of her husband, Mr. William Moulton, who was killed in action in England. No details were given until the mail arrives the family expects no further information.

The Moultons were married several years ago, and Mr. Moulton, a native of England, was called to the British Isles when he volunteered for war. He was a member of the British intelligence service.

Besides his wife here he leaves a little son.

BLOOD—KENDRICK

The wedding of two well known young people took place on Monday afternoon at the Second Congregational Church when Miss Frances E. Blood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Kendrick of 1111 North street, became the bride of Mr. George Edmund Blood of Stoneham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blood of that town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles L. Noyes, pastor of the church, at 4 o'clock.

There was a large attendance of friends and relative of the couple from Winchester, Stoneham and surrounding places.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white faille tulle with fitted bolero and long full skirt with sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was held in place with white gladioli and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli and baby's breath.

Miss Marjorie Kendrick, sister of the bride, was her attendant, wearing a dress of turquoise blue tulle with a full skirt and a full skirt. She carried light pink gladioli and baby's breath. Mr. Herbert Miller of Reading was the best man. The ushers for both ceremony and the following reception were Messrs. Paul Kendrick of Boston and Mr. Charles Kendrick of this town.

MURPHY—BOND

Miss Mary Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Bond of Clark street, was united in marriage to Mr. William J. Murphy, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Murphy of 67 West street, Medford in St. Mary's Church, Monday afternoon.

The Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church, performed the 4 o'clock ceremony. The church was decorated with gladioli and ferns.

A large reception followed at Haggerty Hall where a catered wedding supper was served.

Mrs. Florence Fisher Reardon, St. Mary's organist, played the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches at the service.

The ushers, Mr. John McCarron and Mr. David Meager, both of Medford, upon the arrival of the bridal party led the procession followed by the bride's only sister, Miss Ruth Bond of this town, who served her as maid of honor and Miss Bond on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. At the church they were met by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Charles McCarthy of Medford.

Miss Bond chose a princess creation in gardenia white mousseline de soie. Simply made it was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, and full bodice and skirt and her finger-tip veil of bridal tulle was confined with a tiara of bride's roses and valley lilies. She carried a slender bouquet of valley lilies and bride's roses.

Her sister as her only attendant was also princess gowned in sky blue tulle. Designed with puffed sleeves and a gathered bodice it had a full billowing skirt to the floor. Her head-dress was a finger-tip veil of sky blue tulle caught with a coronet of the same toned blue larkspur and tulle-man rosebuds.

At the reception the newlyweds were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Bond, the bride's parents and the parents of the bridegroom Mr. and Mrs. Murphy.

Mr. Murphy and his bride took the train to New York Monday evening and their wedding trip will also include visits to New Jersey and Washington, D. C., before they return to reside at 38 Orchard street, Medford.

The bride was educated in Winchester schools and graduated from Winchester High School. She was employed at the Winchester branch of the New England Laundry, Inc.

Mr. Murphy, employed at the Boston Navy Yard in Charlestown, was educated in Medford schools and graduated from Medford High School.

FRENCH INDO-CHINA IS UNION OF SIX ADMINISTRATIVE GROUPS

Colorful native monarchies occupying ancient oriental thrones make up part of the administrative system of French Indo-China, which a bulletin from the National Geographic Society points out is not a single colony but a union of six governmental regions. These "rulers," however, have little voice in the operation of this rich tropical country, even though the elaborate trappings and rituals of their courts are faithfully carried out. The actual administrator has been the French governor-general, assisted by two councils of natives and French officials.

Cochin-China Only Colony
Five of the six units of French Indo-China form a connected land the size of Texas, curving along the eastern side of the Indo-Chinese peninsula south of China. They are Cochin-China, the only section formally called a colony, and four protectorates—Cambodia, Annam, Tonkin, and Laos. The combined territory in an exotic land of rugged mountains, of jungles infested with such wild animals as tigers and elephants, of wooded rice-fields plowed by buffaloes, of beautifully-sculptured ruins of a civilization of the Middle Ages.

The sixth unit does not touch the remainder of French Indo-China. It consists of 200 square miles of land called Kwangchow, on the coast of South China, which France leased in 1908 for a 99-year period. This region lies some 225 miles across the Gulf of Tonkin from Hainan, the northernmost part of French Indo-China.

Bachelor King for Cambodia
Cochin-China, southernmost part of the country, came under French control in the middle of the 19th century. In 1867 the King of Cambodia agreed to French domination of his land, as did the Emperor of Annam, whose realm also included Tonkin. Their descendants still receive homage from the natives; but last spring a bachelor prince ascended the throne of Cambodia after the death of his aged father, King Sisowath Monivong.

When Laos became a French protectorate in 1893, the King of Luang Prabang, one of its provinces, retained his title and court. Laos, the wild mountainous interior of the Indo-Chinese peninsula, is the largest but least populated governmental unit. East of it, Annam stretches along the coast. Tonkin, to the north, was subjected to virtual Japanese control in the autumn of 1940. Both Cambodia and Laos ceded some of their territory last spring to Thailand under a Japanese-negotiated treaty ending a border war.

GILLOTTE—CUCOLO

Miss Ida Mae Cucolo of 13 Tremont street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Cucolo, was married on Sunday afternoon last, to Mr. Anthony Gillette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Gillette of 12 Cedar street, the ceremony taking place at St. Mary's Church at 3 o'clock, with Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of the church, officiating. The wedding and following reception was largely attended by the many friends of this popular couple.

The couple were attended by Miss Marie Cucolo, sister of the bride, and Mr. Michael Gillette, the groom's brother, as best man. Ushers for the occasion were Messrs. Benjamin Todesco and Francis Lambage, both of this town.

The bride wore for her wedding gown a dress of white faille tulle with tulle veil fastened to a tulle crown with lace medallions. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her father. Her attendant wore blue faille tulle with a can with medallions of flowers to match her bouquet of pale yellow gladioli.

A reception was held during the evening at the home of the bride's parents, the house and grounds being decorated with late summer flowers and colored lights and Japanese lanterns.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillette are enjoying their honeymoon in New York and Washington, and upon their return will make their home at 140 Swanton street.

Mrs. David Nelson Skillings of Amherst, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Virginia Skillings, to Mr. John Fertig Jewett, son of Mr. William Van Duxen Jewett of Amherst and Mrs. Marion Conner Jewett of Pasadena, Calif. CAMP ZAKALO

Returning to their homes after a summer at Camp Zakalo, Harston, Me., where they were leaders in many activities, were the Winchester campers who came back in superb physical condition, having acquired a number of new skills which they are eager to put into practice at home and at school, for which they received honors at Zakalo.

Carl Pihl, won his marksman trophy in rifle; his brother, Marshall, was active in Indian lore and woodcraft; and Jack Barnes, in addition to his triumphs in the water, specialized in nature work, arts and crafts and photography, as well as qualifying as pro-marksman in rifle.

BARTLETT SCHOOL

The Bartlett School, 36 Bartlett avenue, Arlington, will reopen Sept. 8 for its ninth season. This private school of eight classrooms, with eight experienced teachers, has classes ranging from nursery through third grade. Norine D. Casey, director, is a graduate of Boston Teachers' College with 16 years teaching experience and a former member of the Arlington School Committee.

The pre-school classes develop desirable habits of cooperation, adjustment, following directions and self-activity through a delightful and instructive program of song, games, plays and hand work. Seasonal parties are enthusiastically anticipated. The sub-primary places particular emphasis on first grade preparation.

The Bartlett School is very well known for success in teaching reading. The small classes insure individual attention. During the past eight years many Winchester children have attended this school and without exception have been promoted into the Winchester schools.

There is only one session. Transportation is provided. The enrollment is limited. Classrooms are sunny, colorful and completely equipped. A spacious grassy playground has all types of playground apparatus. Prospectus mailed upon request. School is open for inspection day or evening.

A subscriber to the Star writes:
I notice in the last two issues of the Star that there is contemplated a traffic circle in the center of Winchester. I am sure that the various temporary ideas are being tried instead of undertaking the large and better plan of the separation of traffics in Winchester. I hope no accidents occur in the center that will cause trouble that cannot be remained. Our subscriber refers, of course, to the adoption of the "Kellaway Plan." The Star has long advocated and sought the carrying-out of this plan. From various comments over several years, its adoption would be satisfactory to a big majority of our residents. Not only would this improvement eliminate the dangers and inconveniences attendant with our busy railroad crossing and "hottel-neck" center, but it would eliminate existing dangers to foot traffic and enhance the convenience of those residents who desire to trade in center stores. The "Kellaway Plan" has long been advocated. It is our opinion that could Winchester residents but once experience its advantages over present center traffic, they would wonder why it has never been carried out and put in operation, especially with all the billions of dollars which have been scattered about the country.

KEEP OFF—DEEP MUD

Have you noticed the remarkable beauty of our Upper Mystic Lake?
Keep off. Deep mud. How do you like this principal approach to Winchester? Do you remember this spot before our present wonderful improvement was started. Did any one who advocated dredging and cleaning this pond have in mind the present mud hole? No, we don't think they did. However, we have it with us—and it is liable to stay with us. The appropriation was made, the work was done, and who knew then what W. S. would do. The work was some lack of interest in this job where. Too bad the money for this work was over appropriated. Take your visiting friends there and get their reaction.

RECEIVES GOVERNOR'S APPOINTMENT

Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety

Captain Muriel Barnes Riverscroft road,
Winchester, Mass.

I am happy to advise you that you have been selected by His Excellency Governor Leverett Saltonstall and J.
W. Farley, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, to serve as Assistant Director to Mr. James H. Sheeran of Winchester. The towns in your area are as follows: Melrose, Stoneham, Reading, Wakefield and Woburn.

I certainly appreciate your willingness to accept this responsibility.

Sincerely yours,
Michael T. Kellor,
Regional Director
Metropolitan Region

REPRESENTATIVE ROGERS WATCHING OIL SHORTAGE

Ralph K. Davies, acting petroleum committee, is ready to let legislators demand that available tank cars be used immediately to transport needed oil and gasoline to New England, according to Congressman Rogers, who is in charge of the committee's oil shortage subcommittee.

This information Mr. Rogers says, transmitted on the radio, will be made up to oil coordinator's office and suggest one as to the use of oil.

MR. FIREPLACE WOOD USER

Dear Sir:
The demand for WOOD is great.
Simply enormous. Our price in fact has risen $1.50 per cord. Saving $2 at a time, we cannot guarantee this week long Labor and Transportation act is in effect.

If you call Woburn 019, I will be pleased to explain further.

Respectfully,
Roger S. Beattie,
3 Burlington Street,
Woburn

BRITISH WAR RELIEF SOCIETY CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Winchester Unit

On Wednesday, Sept. 10, at 10 o'clock the British War Relief Society will hold its annual meeting in the Church of the Epiphany will be held.
A large group of their war workers will be there ready to give advice and help to those in need of welcome new workers.

Come and bring a sandwich for lunch. Mr. Riley will have for us a delicious hot coffee ready at 12:30. If it is not possible to say all day, come in for a few hours work.

There are baby garments, pants, and blouses for boys and lovely soft woolen dresses for girls, waiting to be stitched and finished with a bit of hand work. We hope to keep the supply of clothing equal to the needs of all school children in England, whose clothes and uniforms are destroyed by bombs.

If there are sweaters or jackets or shoes your children have outgrown during the summer, do bring them with you on Wednesday or telephone Win. 1984 and they will be picked up.

O. E. S.

Winchester Chapter No. 175, Order of Eastern Star, cordially invites all who are members of the order to attend the 2024 stated meeting, to be held in the Masonic apartments on Monday evening, Sept. 8 at 5 o'clock (note time).
Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. After the dinner there will be an entertainment consisting of music and a short play, followed by dancing with music by Waldron's Orchestra.
Inspection will be Oct. 6 by Associate and Deputy Grand Matron, Sister Ella M. Fraser.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Frank J. Gentile has been granted a license to conduct a dance in Waterfield Hall on Sept. 19.
The Highway Department has been requested to paint cross walks on Washington street at the foot of Englewood road and Grayson road as a safeguard to pedestrian traffic to Leonard Field.
The rotary traffic in the center is to be continued for a while until it has had a thorough try-out after the schools are opened and more of the townspeople have returned from their summer homes.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

With vacations over and Winchester people getting back to business and school, there are increasing numbers of inquiries about "best sellers" or "what everyone is reading." It is interesting to note that the New York Herald Tribune list of "What America is Reading" which is checked and posted weekly at the Winchester Public Library, shows that a large percentage of these most popular books have been purchased by the local library.
Many books are in constant demand and for these, reserve cards may be produced at the desk to insure receipt of the book in consequent order.

The following books were recorded last week as "best sellers" and are in the Winchester Public Library:
Fiction
The Keys of the Kingdom by A. J. Cronin
This Above All by Eric Knight
Above Suspicion by Helen MacInnes
Random Harvest by James Hilton
The Captain From Connecticut by C. S. Forester
Mr. and Mrs. Cugat by Isabel Scott Borick
They Came to a River by Allis McKay

Captain Paul by Edward Ellsberg
H. M. Pulham, Esquire by John P. Marquand
Besties Are the Sails by Evelyn Eaton

The A & P was the first large nationwide market to open in Winchester. Winchester people will find the usual facilities at all A & P stores.

SWYMER-DELANEY

St. James Church in Medford was attractively decorated with mixed flowers and ferns Sunday afternoon, Aug. 31, for the marriage of Miss Madeline Veronica Delaney of Second street, Medford, daughter of Mrs. Martin G. Delaney and the late Mr. Delaney, to George S. Swymer of Richardson street, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John W. Swymer. Rev. Fr. Shea of St. James performed the ceremony at 3 o'clock and the soloist was John Casey, who sang the "Ave Maria" and "O Promise Me" by De Koven.

Miss Delaney was given in marriage by her brother, James G. Delaney of Medford. Her honor attendant was Miss Gertrude Murphy of Medford and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Lou Hendry and Miss Ellen Sullivan, both of Medford.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with inserts of white lace and a continental bridal veil. Her flowers were white roses combined with lilies of the valley.

The honor attendant and bridesmaids wore dresses of tulle with matching veils, the bridesmaids wearing blue and the bridesmaids yellow. All carried old fashioned bouquets of mixed flowers.

Mr. Swymer had for his best man Joseph Dwyer of Dorchester, and the ushers were Joseph M. Wells of Woburn and Walter Harrington of Medford.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Howard Johnson's English Hotel Room on the Fellowship in Medford. Mrs. Delaney, the bride's mother, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Martin Wells, assisted in receiving.

Upon their return from a wedding journey to Virginia Beach Mr. Swymer and his bride will make their home in Medford.

The bride is a graduate of Medford High School. Mr. Swymer, who is associated with Brown Bros. & Co., a company of Boston as credit merchant, manager, graduated from Winchester High School and was a member of the school's great unbeaten football team that won the Mystic Valley League championship in 1922.

With Smolensk now reported in ruins and behind the German lines, the next strategic goal of the Nazi legions on the direct road to Moscow is Vyazma, the National Geographic Society says. This vital rail center is about midway between Smolensk and Moscow, continues the bulletin. The Russian capital lies about 130 miles to the east.

Apart from its position on the Moscow-Vladivostok Europe rail line, Vyazma gains added importance as a communications hub because a northern rail cut-off passes through the city, joining the Moscow-Gomel southern rail route to the chief Moscow-Ukraine lines. This rail shortcut through Vyazma swings wide to the west of Moscow.

Vyazma's economic dominance of its region is of long standing; the town has been a trading center since before the important during district, it also does a good business, normally, in grain, flax, and hemp seed. The city, with about 25,000 people has leather works, match factories and oil presses and once was famous for a kind of gingerbread.

In the early days of its history, Vyazma was linked in overland commerce with the Gulf of Finland port of Narva. Captured by the Lithuanians in the 15th century, the city fell to the Poles in 1611, who in turn lost it to the Russians in 1641.

Octopus Can't Take It
The octopus may look like a tough customer, but it can't stand capillary. To a tank of the Waikiki aquarium in Honolulu reports that while delicate sea creatures may live to be old and feeble, the octopus usually dies after a short time in captivity.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The annual Field Day of the playgrounds was held at Loring avenue and was attended by a large and enthusiastic crowd estimated at over 800. An exhibition of sewing and handicraft was held throughout the day in the shelter house. A long list of events which included the top favorite doll carriage parade continued to hold the interest of the 80 competing youngsters. In this last event, Maria Fomberg of Water street, won first prize; Dorothy Pineda won second place and Virginia Cavannah of Cross street took third. The prizes were all staid dolls donated by the Park Department.

The guessing contest had 100 entries, the number of pieces of candy in a glass jar. Mary Henderson of Cross street was the happy winner who guessed that the actual count was 465. We are indebted to Mr. Preston, manager of the Wadsworth store, for his aid in selecting prizes.

The Millionaires under the capable management of Angelo Amico won the championship of the Senior League when they defeated the Cubs last Friday by a 7 to 6 score. These teams played a best three-out-of-five series and the closeness of the scores gave some idea as to the comparative strength of each team. The first game was won by the Cubs and the Millionaires took the next three in this order: 1-3, 11 innings; 8-6, 11 innings; and 7-1. The Cubs put up a strong game throughout the series but were under a terrific handicap when they lost Bob Golda for the series.

In closing we would like to thank the Star for the space they so kindly donated to us during the season. It certainly helped to create interest among the competitors and their friends and helped, also, to make our work much easier.

First Coins Minted

The first coins minted in the American colonies were the New England shilling, sixpence and threepence, minted in Boston in 1711. National coinage was started in 1793 and the United States mint was established at Philadelphia by resolution of congress dated April 6, 1792. The first coinage consisted of copper cents and half cents issued in 1793 and were followed in 1794 by silver dollars and half dollars and in 1795 by gold eagles and half eagles.

Etching Defined

Etching is the producing of original pictures by drawing on a copper plate covered with an acid-resisting ground; allowing the drawing, whose lines have bared the copper, to be eaten into the plate by immersion in an acid bath; rubbing a stiff ink into the sunken lines and then taking from this, by means of an etching press, a limited number of proofs.

Selectmen Extend Time for Experiment

The operation of the traffic circle in the center of the town has been continued for probably two weeks more. The selectmen have stated that in their opinion a further try-out of the innovation should be made. With the increased fall traffic the passage of school children through the square and other factors of an undetermined nature, no definite decision regarding its permanent continuance will be made at this time.

In fact, provided the circle works satisfactorily, it may be wise to continue it as an indefinite experiment. Public reaction thus far appears to be largely in favor of the circle. No complaints have been heard and no many have been heard in their praise of the idea. During the middle of the day it undoubtedly facilitates the quick passage of traffic. During the morning and evening rush hours, with the constant passage of trains, while the traffic pile up immediately and there is a considerable congestion, this thus out in a remarkably quick period.

The question of the passage of the fire apparatus is solved by the signal button at central headquarters. Operation of this signal throws all lights in the stop position with a green light across the tracks. The fire apparatus will go straight through as in the past.

It has been further suggested that in order to assist the foot traffic a warning bell be installed which will ring and stop all automobile traffic at certain points. This idea is similar to that now used in Watertown center.

WINCHESTER WOMEN IN CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Six Winchester women were among the 400 graduates of the Mass. Women's Civilian Defense School. The exercises were held in John Hancock Hall, Boston, with Gov. Lowell in attendance as the principal speaker. The graduates have now completed their course in Motor Transport, Mobile Canteen Units, Air Raid Warden and Radio Units, and will now instruct further volunteers in their local communities.

The Winchester graduates are: Helen Cotton, 29 Willard street; Afternoon Warden. Gussie MacAdams, 3 Kenilworth road, Morning Warden. Vera I. McKenzie, 1 Black Horse terrace, Morning Canteen. Helen Mae Milley, 63 Mystic Valley Parkway, Afternoon Motor. Elizabeth Robinson, 27 Irving st., Night Warden. Meredith Warner, 26 Crescent road, Morning Motor.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

An engagement announcement of interest to Winchester people is that of Miss Margaret Graciebrook Sewell of Old Town, Me., to the Rev. Gordon Edwards Gillett, formerly of Winchester and now pastor of the James Church in Old Town. Miss Sewell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sewall of Old Town. Mr. Gillett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gillett of this town.

Miss Sewall was graduated from University of Maine in 1938. Mr. Gillett was graduated from Winchester High School, Bowdoin College and Virginia Theological Seminary. He served one year as curate of Grace Church in New Bedford, while Bishop Loring was rector there. He went to Old Town in 1938. Mr. Gillett is also chaplain to the Episcopal students at the University of Maine.

MISS JOSEPHINE CULLEN TO ENTER CO-VEN

Miss Josephine A. Cullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cullen of Sheridan circle was given a party last week in honor of her departure for Framingham where she entered the novitiate of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Miss Cullen was presented with a purse of money with the best wishes of over 100 of her friends. Miss Cullen will know her home, where she attended St. Mary's School and was graduated from St. Mary's High School, she recently resigned her position with the Chrysler Motor Sales Corp. of Boston.

CANTARIAN CHURCH OPENS SEPTEMBER 14

"Why Did the Swastika Replace the Cross?" will be the question to which Mr. Chapman will give an answer in his sermon at 11 a. m. next Sunday. This will be the first service of the new church year. The nursery and kindergarten will meet during the church hour, though the school of Religion will begin its year's work until Sept. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bradshaw of Lloyd street have closed their summer home at East Dennis.

JOHN J. FLAHERTY DEAD

Was Member of Winchester Fire Department for Over 36 Years

John Joseph Flaherty, a member of the Winchester Fire Department for over 36 years and widely known to Winchester people, died suddenly at his home, 16 Oak street, early Thursday morning of a heart attack. He was 63 years of age. His death was most unexpected. He enjoyed his day off on Wednesday and was in his usual health until late in the afternoon, when he was suddenly stricken.

Mr. Flaherty was born in Galway County, Ireland, his parents being John and Mary Flaherty. Following the death of his mother, he accompanied his father to America, they settling here in Winchester, where he became a member of the Winchester Fire Department.

He attended the Winchester School, and for a number of years was employed at the Star Office, taking a position as printer. He later completed his schooling. He later entered the employ of the late George Russell and worked on his farm below the Winchester Fire Department. He was the driver of Engine 4. He was the oldest man in our Fire Department next to Chief David H. McGourcy.

He married Miss Mary Thornton of this town 37 years ago, and is survived by his wife and five children: John J. Flaherty, Jr., a present member of the Fire Department and Francis T., also of this town; Miss Marion J. and Miss Elizabeth E. of this town, and Mrs. Charles J. Caverly of Belmont. Four grandchildren also survive.

The boys on the Common, Town Hall and Fire Station were shown a half mast in recognition of his service to the community.

He will be buried from the home of his son John at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Fellow members of the Winchester Fire Department will act as pall bearers. Messrs. John J. Gorman, Hugh J. Skerry, Walter J. Skerry, Alexander W. MacKenzie, Walter J. Carroll and David J. Meskell.

The interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

MISS PARKHURST'S MUSIC GROUP

Miss Parkhurst is forming in Winchester a group of congenial "lover" who play the piano merely for enjoyment and relaxation.

An enjoyment of music is greatly increased by an understanding of its meaning and construction and by giving attention to the principles of beautiful tone production and technical requirements.

Students need not be advanced to derive help and pleasure from this course. Compositions, ranging from classic, romantic and modern music as well as arrangements of symphonies and operas.

Terms and one of its most lessons from October 1 to April 1, ten dollars.

Miss Parkhurst will be at her studio, 28 Church street, Monday, Sept. 22 to receive applications for both class and private lessons. Phone Prospect 6506.

WINCHESTER BOYS WIN HONORS

Two residents of Winchester have been awarded Hayden Scholarships by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, it was announced today. The recipients are James H. Grimes son of Mr. James H. Grimes of 21 Stone avenue; and Arnold H. Smith son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Smith of Francis circuit.

These scholarships were established by the Hayden Foundation as a memorial to the late Charles Hayden, who was a graduate of the Institute and one of its most local alumni. Recipients of the scholarships are required to pass examinations in the field of high academic and personal standards.

Mr. Grimes and Mr. Smith received their preparatory education at the Winchester High School and will enter Technology this fall.

10TH ANNIVERSARY OF THIRTIETH SHOP

It's our anniversary, but you, too, people of Winchester, have made it possible. The shop opens Oct. 6 and we are asking for all kinds of donations. Will you divide your giving this year? Much is needed abroad for the needy. Our shop is open to all who wish to help. Donations will be called for—Win. 0920.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Bradshaw of Lloyd street have closed their summer home at East Dennis.

MASS MEETING NEXT TUESDAY

Winchester Civilian Defense Committee Opens Program

All adult citizens of Winchester are invited to attend the public mass meeting in the Town Hall next Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Winchester Civilian Defense Committee. Director Harold S. Fuller announced yesterday that doors will be open at 7:20, and the committee expects that an overflow crowd will be on hand when the meeting opens at 7:45.

At that time, plans which have been formulated during the summer months will be presented to the citizens of the town. All committees are now fully organized and at work on their respective tasks. Plans for the Winchester Defense School for men and women, starting Sept. 23, are also complete.

The program for the meeting on the 16th will include a brief report by each Division Director of the Defense Organization. Addresses will be given by J. W. Farley, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety and Karl S. Cate of England and France. The motion picture "Warning" depicting airmen in England will be shown and the Legion Band will furnish music. It will be an interesting and important meeting. It is expected to draw the largest crowd in the history of the town.

Boy Scouts will cover every home in town, leaving an announcement of the meeting and a folder outlining the organization of the Winchester Civilian Defense Committee. While several hundred local residents have already enrolled for either training or service in the civilian defense work, the committee announced that there will be further opportunity to enroll immediately after Tuesday's meeting at which various branches of the work will be explained. Members of the Committee of One Hundred all well known citizens under whose auspices the defense committee functions received letters this week from Director Fuller telling of complete plans for the meeting and as a result the Tuesday meeting has been a principal subject of discussion in town during the week. Similar letters also went to all members of the committee organization.

JOHN D. WEST APPOINTED TO BOARD

The announcement was made this week of the appointment of Mr. John Dorman West of Wedgemore avenue as an associate member of the National Aviation Cadet Selection Board, now housed in the North Station office building.

Mr. West is a World War Naval Aviator No. 888, who served with distinction at the U. S. Naval Air Stations at Monticue and Arcadia, France, during the World War.

Associate members or citizen complements of this Board are being and have been appointed in appropriate geographical areas throughout New England. Their duties are to disseminate properly authenticated information regarding Navy flight training and to act as liaison officers with the press, the radio stations and with the public generally in their respective communities.

Mr. West has been supplied with application blanks and with all necessary literature.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Florence C. Pynn to Mr. Howard E. Chase, Jr., was announced at a dinner party, given in honor of Miss Pynn's birthday.

Miss Pynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Pynn of Ridgeway. Mr. Chase is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Chase also of this town.

Both young people were educated in the Winchester schools, graduating in the class of 1937. Miss Pynn attended the School of Methods at Ocean Park, Me. Mr. Chase is a well-known trumpeter, having played with a number of local orchestras. He is now serving with the 26th (Yankee) Division, U. S. Army.

No date for the wedding has been set.

WATER LOWEST IN YEARS

Chairman Edmund C. Sanderson of the Water Department states that this is the lowest water level in New England. Tax Officials to be held Sept. 17, 18, 19 at New London, Conn. Mr. Nichols will speak on the morning of the session on "Collection of Taxes." Through his enviable record as one of the best collectors in this state, his opinions and methods are being followed by other officials holding similar positions.

SERVICES RESUMED IN WINCHESTER CHURCHES

Regular Sunday services will be resumed in all of the Winchester churches this Sunday.

WINCHESTER SCHOOLS OPEN

Enrollment Less Than Last Year

Winchester public schools opened on Wednesday for the fall session with 44 less pupils than last year, although the present figures will probably be increased as prospective students now away return to town. As usual, the opening day was one of the warmest of the year, a feature which seems to accompany this season.

The following registration on the opening day by schools is released by the School Committee:

School	1940	1941
High School	930	886
Junior High School	606	599
Ridgeway School	43	36
Lincoln School	214	203
Mystic School	203	196
Nonan School	233	226
Wesleyan School	245	240
Wesleyan School	350	318
Totals	2465	2421

DOUGLAS-CARSON

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Carson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Douglas of 10 Tremont street, that town, was solemnized on Sunday afternoon at the Swedish Evangelical Mission Church of Lexington, Rev. C. Eric Peterson officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and Miss Isabel Crooks of Lexington was honor attendant. She wore a dress of white tulle with a train and finger-tip veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses with white delphinium and baby breath. Her attendant's dress was dusty pink tulle tulle. She carried pink roses with blue delphinium and baby breath. The groom, Mr. William L. Douglas, brother of the groom, was best man.

The four bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Thompson, Miss Mildred Carson, Miss Edna Erickson and Miss Grace Irwin, all of Winchester. They wore similar dresses of blue tulle tulle and carried pink roses with white delphinium and baby breath.

The church was decorated for the occasion with palms and baskets of flowers at the altar, the aisle ribbon was fastened at each end with flowers, and the carpet was white.

Ushers for the ceremony and the following reception were Messrs. James H. Douglas, Jr., Douglas, Winkley of Holliston, Oscar Carlson of Winchester and Carl Carlson of Stratford, Conn. Both Carl Douglas and the bride are graduates of the Winchester and Winchester High Schools, the groom being employed in the National Shawmut Bank at Boston following a wedding trip through New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont, where they will reside in their new home at 23 Henry street.

TO BE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS AT LEGION CONVENTION

John H. McCarthy, past Commander of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, has been appointed one of two Sergeants-at-Arms to the National Convention of the American Legion at Milwaukee, Sept. 14 through Sept. 18. The other Sergeant-at-Arms is William S. Koudel of Ohio, a life long friend of the Commander.

Mr. McCarthy will be located next to the Commander's suite in the Hotel Schroeder.

NEW DRINKING FOUNTAIN INSTALLED

A new drinking fountain was installed Wednesday in the center of the southern end of the railroad crossing. Members of the town highway and water departments made the installation, set at the center end of the Common and a new building. There has of late been a demand for such a convenience, and although the warm season has now nearly closed, it will undoubtedly be much appreciated by many.

COLLECTOR NICHOLS THE SPEAKER

Collector of Taxes Nathaniel M. Nichols will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Citizens of New England Tax Officials to be held Sept. 17, 18, 19 at New London, Conn. Mr. Nichols will speak on the morning of the session on "Collection of Taxes." Through his enviable record as one of the best collectors in this state, his opinions and methods are being followed by other officials holding similar positions.

COMING EVENTS

Flower Mission, Tuesday, Bring Flowers to the Winchester Station for the 9 o'clock train for Stratford, Conn.

Sept. 16, Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. Meeting of Winchester Civilian Defense School. Town Hall.

Sept. 16, Tuesday, 8 p. m. Regular meeting of Winchester League of Elks, L'Oranien Hall.

Sept. 17, Wednesday, 2 p. m. Better Homes Garden Club, Spokane. Miss Edna Carter of Dracut.

Sept. 18, Thursday, 7:30 p. m. Masonic Apartments. Mystic Glew Club rehearsal. Sept. 19, Friday, 7:30 p. m. Meeting of Winchester Royal Arch Chapter. Masonic Apartments.

Sept. 25, Thursday, Footprints Preserves. Point of Antiquities Committee pilgrimage to Indian Hill Farm, West Newbury, Mass. For reservation phone the line up for their first real game of the season against Framingham at Shore road field.

Wednesday afternoon's football practice found an all-time high with 65 boys in uniform at Manchester Field under the supervision of Coach Knowlton and Bartlett. Because of the hot summer heat, only light dummy scrimmage was permitted.

Coach Knowlton was particularly pleased with the work of some of the boys who will represent the reserve strength of the team this fall. While the season is just starting and none of these boys has been tried, in a real game, the spirit and drive and enthusiasm they are showing daily adds up to something that may well be one of the best seasons in many years.

Among those mentioned by the coach as looking good were Pete Sewell, and the boys who played last year. He is fast and ambitious, Cummins, a guard from Marshfield has a rugged head ready to work. Andy Amico, a new player of "Nate", Amico, one of Winchester's all-time stars promises to develop into a real triple threat backfield man in short order. Cronwell a sophomore is another rugged, hard-running, hard tackling backfield candidate who will be heard from.

Tom Derpo, Talcott, Jack Errie, Malace, Blake and Edmunds are backfield candidates who will all add necessary punch to the team. Young Tibbault, an end, Dave Holmes, a guard, Peppard, a tackle, Bodokian, a guard, Kimball, Aldrich, Emerson, Leary, a center, and Kenton, are some of the promising line candidates who are fighting for recognition.

The appearance of Bill West in the varsity backfield was felt in the signal of the varsity. Bill, with two years' experience behind him, should have a big year. He is a team player and a star in his own right.

Better right that date down on your calendar. Saturday afternoon, Sept. 20, at 2:30 p. m. Winchester vs Framingham.

JOHN BURCHARD GOES TO PRINCETON

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Burchard and family of Salisbury street are leaving Winchester to make their home for an undetermined period in Princeton, N. J. Mr. Burchard, holding an important position at M. I. T., has now commuted every week for over a year to Washington and his duties there have been constantly increased in this direction. A substantial part of the research for which he is responsible is carried on at Princeton at the University. It will therefore be possible for him to divide his time and afford a more intimate association with his family.

He has taken a home at 177 Prospect avenue, Princeton, and he says "may be in it myself a possible five nights a week."

His chance in residence is, he hopes, only temporary, and he is renting his home here and still will remain on the staff at M. I. T. The Burchards have resided here for the past ten years, and while they think Princeton a beautiful place to live, their regret is that they cannot have their Winchester friends with them. "A deficiency that is hard to make up."

FILENE'S IN WINCHESTER AND BELMONT ANNOUNCE OPENING OF RED CROSS SHOE SHOPS

Famous Shoes Introduced in Local Shops This Week

This week Filene's in Winchester and Belmont make the most important shoe announcements forthcoming from either store since their openings. Today the shoe shops in both stores began the display of the new Red Cross shoes for Fall and Winter. Famous the country over for outstanding quality and comfort, and increasingly important as creators of smart shoes for misses and women, the addition of the Red Cross name to the other distinguished names in Filene's shoe shops is a distinct advantage to suburban shoppers.

All women who enjoy the friendly showing Louis Lafon describing the beauty and charm of Filene's shoe shops and have learned of the comfort and up-to-the-minute styling of the exclusive Red Cross "limit" lasts that are giving thousands of women lately a more youthful set, will appreciate the opportunity presented in this latest Filene innovation.

Red Cross shoes are nationally known for their wide variety of lasts so that every normal foot can be fitted smartly and comfortably. Over 11,000 pairs of these shoes are sold daily.

In Filene's shoe shops, shoppers will find the same familiar faces to attend their individual needs in Red Cross shoes, salesmen have received special instruction in fitting Red Cross shoes so that customers may have their new Red Cross shoes fitted properly. Included in the Red Cross shoe size range are sizes for almost everyone from 4½ to 9½ AAA to C.

ART ASSOCIATION PLANS

Announcement of the 1941-42 plans of the Winchester Art Association was sent to its members this week.

In greeting members of the association, the officers say: "If cultural agencies are ever needed it is in such abnormal times as these. When radio, newspaper, and general conversation center so largely in the depressing news of the world we need other experiences as an outlet and antidote. This is another way of saying that if the Art Association is a community asset in normal times it is doubly so today."

A most interesting program has been planned for this season by the Exhibition Committee. Beginning with October with the single exception of April an opening tea and gallery talk will be held on the first Sunday afternoon of each month. While no opening tea was held in September the exhibition by Mr. Harold C. Landgreen of tempera paintings has been admired by many, and members and their friends are invited to visit the art gallery at the public library and view the collection.

The five active committees of the association, Exhibition under Mrs. George A. Marks and Mrs. Charles A. Underwood; Speakers under Prof. Lyle K. Bush; Membership under Mr. Wayne Davis; Publicity under Mrs. John E. Burchard and Hospitality under Mrs. Hollis W. Nickerson, are at work planning for a successful year.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

The Winchester Mystic Glee Club will resume its rehearsals starting Thursday evening, Sept. 18, in the Masonic apartments.

The glee club, which organized in 1940, is strictly a male chorus, and there is an opening for first and second tenors. Since its organization the club has appeared several times informally. The group is interested in furthering male chorus singing. Music lovers are invited to drop in at these weekly rehearsals.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Preservation of Antiques

The Fortnightly Preservation of Antiques Committee, Mrs. Paul G. Eberle, chairman, will make a trip to West Newbury, on Thursday, Sept. 25, under the guidance of Mrs. Earle E. Andrews, chairman of the day. Indian Hill Farm came to the Society of Preservation of New England Antiquities as a gift from Mr. Ben P. P. Mosley, and was formally dedicated to the public on June 21, 1941. One of New England's newest historic shrines, it contains antiques from many parts of the world.

Reservations must be made at an early date with Mrs. Eberle, Win. 0809 or Mrs. Earle E. Andrews, Win. 0017. Watch the Star for further notice.

Government's relation to business is no longer a matter of profit and loss; it has become a matter of remaining in business at all.

A Subscriber remarks that the traffic circle idea in the center is in his opinion the biggest gasoline saver the town has ever created. At least Mr. Goodwin will have no occasion to haul anyone in for "over 30" around it.

Efficiency at its zenith—The first supply shipment reaching an Alaska Post Box, however said, "For the refrigerators and the ground is frozen 100 feet deep. The refrigerators arrived even before the barracks were constructed."

Our Governor has announced that he will bow to President Roosevelt's decree and will proclaim our New England Thanksgiving for Nov. 20 this year. The President, we have read, will let the country go back to the original date next year, so as far as he is concerned he is amply vindicated. Plymouth, per force, will accept the new ruling for this year and change its Thanksgiving date. It has been held on the last Thursday of November since 1865.

The open season for taxes is on. Winchester people will start the job here next month when they settle with our well run and economical town for the benefits and privileges they enjoy. But they will pay for them six months the build-up has been progressing, with fear raised to fever heat, lowered by a ray of encouragement, and then smothered further and further into the clouds. The people are in for it. How insignificant all that boondoggling extending through the first six years, in building up political credit, seems now. If the votes had not cost so much and the money so freely thrown about, how it would help now. But our great rulers, know best—taxes in labor and in gasoline. And Winchester is one place which will pay. The present set-up seems destined to make us all members of one of the two classes—the poor and the rich. The so-called great middle class appears bound for the ash can. The build-up has been thorough, the outcome will probably be according to the usual New Deal methods now perfected through the past seven years, and the cause of the "middle class" is "cracy," most just. One may wonder, however, just how much is defense and how much is democracy (1941 democracy). We cannot resist quoting from Ralph Robey's article in the current issue of "Newsweek." Commentators are so common now, both in print and in person, that it is almost impossible to lean on any one shoulder. But Mr. Robey, we think, has a keen insight into today's conditions. He says:

"What the ultimate annual outlay will be when we get going full speed is not yet clear. President Roosevelt in his budget message last January estimated total government expenditures for the coming year at 17 billions. By the time Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau put out the program formulated, the figure had been raised to some 19 billions, and currently the amount is being put at 22 billions, an increase of 20 per cent over the original estimate. Such changes in the estimates are an important part of the record and need to be kept in mind because they are a clear indication of the fact that the Administration in its attempt to judge the financial burden that is ahead."

"England is following a policy that is extremely rigorous as to the curtailment of unnecessary expenses, some of taxation, and price control; we are following a policy that is almost the exact opposite. In a word, after two years of the war, our government still considers the problem of financing military efforts much as it viewed the financing of a grandiose WPA project."

SHOULD WATCH DOGS

To the Editor of the Star:

I wonder if it would do any good if you wrote in the Star urging people to keep their dogs away from the tracks and railroad stations, especially early in the morning when there are so many trains both ways. The reason I speak of this is that last spring and early summer, three small dogs, two exactly alike, came down several times to Westgate Station at just about the time the 8 o'clock train was due. They came from the West Side, played around the station and on the track and then crossed over and went on to the other side of the tracks. I have not seen them for the past two months but they appeared again the other day, just after the 8 o'clock train had pulled in. If they had been half a minute earlier, they would have met it on the track.

If they continue doing this, it does not seem possible that they can escape being hit by the train sooner or later. So I do hope the owners will keep them away from this danger.

Yours truly,
 Edith Cummings

PREPARE FOR KILLAWAY PLAN

Sept. 8, 1941

To the Editor of the Star:

I was delighted to read on the editorial page of the Winchester Star this last week your comments on the Killaway Plan. Whoever wrote it, or whoever urged you to write it, stated the matter very well.

And also, a little later in the paper, I saw that you had given the plan which he made some years ago. That was a wise thing to do, because a large proportion of the active men in Winchester have come into that town since that plan was made, and I think it will appeal to the type of men who have come into town since then.

Now, if I were to make a single suggestion it would be that while the war is going on (we don't know whether it will be one year or five, but it will end sometime, I feel sure) Winchester should get ready and all hands agree on this plan, if other folks think about it as I do. When the war is over there probably will be a tremendous amount of labor available, and material too, so if we knew exactly what we wanted, and were agreed and all worked together, we might find the time just right to do that much needed job for Winchester.

Keep right at it in every way you can and try and interest as many people as you can. It looks so simple to me and so really profitable to the town that I cannot see how anyone could hold back on it, provided we were all right financially to do it when the time comes, and very few towns are more likely to be all right than we are.

Sincerely yours,
 Lewis Parkhurst

THE RAILROAD STRIKE TREAT

Commenting on the announced results of the strike vote released today by railway labor leaders, F. G. Gurley, chairman of the Carriers Conference Committee representing the railroads, expressed disappointment because of the failure of the employees and railroads to reach an amicable settlement with respect to the pending wage demands and other features of the controversy.

The labor representatives in pressing their 900 million dollar wage demands are apparently seeking, Mr. Gurley said, to reflect the present artificial and temporary situation due to defense efforts in a permanently increased wage scale. Gurley stated that after the Mediation Board announced its inability to get the parties to come to an agreement, the railroads and carriers have expressed their willingness to arbitrate the controversy.

Demands of the five operating brotherhoods for an increase of 30 per cent in wages, with minimum increase of $180 per day. Moreover, they are demanding additional and more favorable working conditions and for a revised method of compensation. The demands for these unnecessary men constitute a further burden on the railroads and the railroads and would place as many as nine engines on certain types of locomotives, whereas two constituted the normal complement.

Demands of the fourteen non-operating brotherhoods are for an increase of 30 cents per hour in pay, with a minimum of 70 cents per hour, for vacations with pay.

The carriers have proposed certain changes in working rules designed to improve operating efficiency and to bring about fair and equitable treatment.

An agreement was reached with the five operating brotherhoods to resume mediation of the proposed changes in working rules after final disposition has been made of the employees' wage demands. The non-operating brotherhoods have refused at all times to discuss rules changes, nor would they agree, as did the other group, to a consideration of them, after the wage question was disposed of. The carriers proposed rule changes affecting the non-operating men will therefore be submitted to a board along with the wage question.

Gurley pointed out that the taking of a strike ballot is a device of the employees to create an emergency which will cause the President to not a fact finding board and not a ballot for a strike. Such a board would have 30 days in which to hear and reach a decision as to the relative merits of the controversy. Decision of the fact finding board is not binding on either party, but relies on the force of public opinion for acceptance.

THE SITUATION AT MORGAN MEMORIAL

In view of the close interest held by many Winchester residents in the Morgan Memorial, a short statement issued by the organization may prove of interest to many householders who have wondered recently why the usual collections have not been made.

1.—Closed Shop

The Labor Union demands a closed shop. It is quite obvious that a closed shop cannot be placed in a position where, when a person comes seeking employment in a work-relief project and it appears he is able to do that work, like heading to collect on our trucks, we should be forced to say to this man, who has not a dollar in his possession, "We can give you employment if you will join the Union." This would be ridiculous, where Morgan Memorial is simply trying to give a temporary lift. It would be to keep out of the Collection Department, but of all the departments in our work. It would destroy the reason for which we are organized.

2.—Arbitration

The Union is demanding compulsory arbitration of all matters in dispute, including the election and curtailment of work opportunities in our project. This cannot be granted, for (1) the management of Morgan Memorial must reserve the right to designate the method and amount of work relief. (2) To control the number of workers and trainees engaged according to the amount of relief resources in hand. (3) To maintain the purpose for which the organization was created. Naturally, only a very few workers at Morgan Memorial are considered permanent. Just as soon as a position can be found for persons who are working with us, out in regular industry, they are encouraged to take that position and leave room for others who are unemployed.

3.—Seniority

Owing to the fact that Morgan Memorial in all its departments tries to put on persons because of their need, because of the number of dependents, or because of conditions in the home, it is naturally very important it should have the right to change positions whenever it is for the benefit of the worker, without having to abide by the rule of seniority. For instance, if we had working on our trucks a man who had no dependents but a wife and another man who had a wife and three or four children, it might seem advisable to keep on the man with the larger family and seek some other work for the man who did not have so many dependents. Cases of this sort are brought to our attention all the time, and in order to help the person who ought to be helped, we have set up a fund. We want our case workers to assist those having the greater need.

Note—Present Financial Condition

At the present time the Morgan Memorial has been carried on at a loss of $28,974. This was after using all cash donations, subsidies and unrestricted funds. We paid out in the form of opportunity labor and direct relief the amount of $357,285.25, or about $7000 was distributed every week to people who were handicapped and who needed the end of their financial resources.

For the first five months of 1941 the total expense of all our Goodwill Workings was $295,206.95; our income from sales of waste material was $184,127.36, leaving a debit balance of $111,115.57. Besides this, we have raised a sum of $11,000 from individuals and the Greater Boston Community Fund. This shows that the industrial feature of our work has run at a loss of $100,000 for the first five months of the year. However, in the process of working over this material during the past month, we have saved $11,000 through labor and some direct relief, the amount of $137,089.85.

4.—Salaries

At the present time we are paying a minimum rate to our drivers of 31.25 cents per hour and to our helpers 40 cents per hour. On this basis, with the overtime on which we are paying time and a half, our regular drivers have averaged since the first of the year $26.05 per week; drivers who have been paid by the day have averaged $22.25 per week, and helpers who have been paid by the day have averaged $19.30 per week.

The deficit of our entire institution for the past five months, after using all unrestricted funds, is $111,115.57. In view of the fact that we are running so rapidly at a loss, it would be impossible at the present time to increase salaries of any one department. More money paid to any one department would mean less to distribute to others. The program of Morgan Memorial is a work-relief project, and like the WPA and other forms of work relief, we now feel that these men should be able to go out into regular industry and secure better and more permanent positions, this making room for others who may apply to us in their time of need.

Morgan Memorial

THANK YOU, MRS. DUTTING

To the Editor of the Star:

As a fairly recent Winchester citizen and resident, I have wondered if the older residents take the same pride in the local Red Cross that I do. At this time, particularly, we are certainly becoming very conscious of this community organization since a great many of us are "deputies" so to speak, in the great Civilian Defense Program. Knitting sweaters, rolling bandages, making dresses, distressing too, taking first aid courses for rescue work, or as motor corps members, planning against the hazards of bombing; these are but a few of the works of the Red Cross.

However I have not written this with the idea of dwelling upon the fine points of an organization. In particular, I have in mind saying a few words in praise of the Winchester Red Cross chairman, Mrs. George A. Dutting.

I have been a member in many well to do communities of the Red Cross, and never in any where the chairman was hired at a good salary.

Why should I FINANCE my next car locally?

WHEN you borrow here you establish credit standing with a local institution that is interested in you. You are able to place your insurance with a local agent. And it is convenient to make loan payments at this near-by bank.

FINANCE YOUR NEXT CAR THE BANK WAY

WINCHESTER NATIONAL BANK
 7-9 CHURCH STREET

Yet, in my opinion, none of them (paid or unpaid) filled the position as capably or as gracefully as you, Winchester chairman, and when I say capably, I mean with patience and thoroughness for freedom. Few realize the many difficulties that confront the leader of such an organization. In particular, she has need of great tact and diplomacy in dealing with others for help, in keeping up a cooperative spirit among the helpers and in striving to keep only the very best of the National Red Cross program as it applies locally; (and who doesn't know the sorrows that beset the path of the director of Volunteer workers).

The success of our chairman should be, in all fairness, a direct commitment to all those who take part in the activities within the Red Cross, and without doubt these assistants to the chairman have what it takes. I know I speak for them when I say, "Thank you, Mrs. Dutting."

MORE ON HAY FEVER

To the Editor of the Star:

In your issue of Sept. 5 you ask for comments from pollen infection sufferers concerning your alcohol cure for hay fever. I qualify as one who suffered 25 years from treatment for hay fever and now I qualify as cured five years ago. But, I do not take my alcohol through the nose, as you suggest. I am sure to M. D. will be so undignified as to answer your call for experiences or confessions, hence please accept comments from one who in past time sold much alcohol.

Your old farmer says it is just so simple to procure medicinal alcohol. I wonder if you have tried to do just that? Under what permit did you buy it? Which of the many formulas of medicinal alcohols did you get? What is the after effect if you got the wrong formula?

The purest medicinal alcohol is fine whiskey, and it is easy to buy, without a permit, free from medication. It may be labeled 100 proof. That means 50 per cent of pure grain alcohol with 50 per cent of water and oils. Now why pour that into the hand or take it through the nose? It is an effective stimulant in a glass of hot water and lemon juice at retiring, or mixed with a hot foot bath. But, the nasal douche in any form is a dangerous and obsolete treatment.

I have talked to many pollen sufferers. Most of them have had broken noses. That means obstructed passages. The irritation of pollen closes the nose. The real cure is to have courage and cash enough to be radical. Let the best surgeon use the knife and cautery to remove and reduce the obstructions. Then breathe deeply and freely, build up general health, treat hay fever like you do a common cold, and take your cocktails through the mouth, if you must have alcohol.

Other aids in hay fever are: sleep, exercise, salt air, an eyecup with saline wash, a neutral diet, good hygiene, hot spinal packs, the osteopath, cut out cigarettes. For eight years I took pollen injections at five dollars a shot. The doctor declined to join in an effort to fight rawweed, so I turned to a good osteopath and got good relief, then to the surgeon for full relief.

The ragweed plague increases yearly. Legislation might result in clean roadsides. Will somebody please put up a billion or an effort for defense?

Yours very truly,
 H. T. West

Which End of a Horse Comes First?

— Asks a New B and M Commuter, who says:

"I'm one of those guys who figured the family auto was the only way to go places, including going to work. Then a lot of my friends told me they're switching to the train for the Duration... So, I say, 'O. K., I'll try out the B and M.'"

Takes a Look at Time Table

"First thing I did—haven't done it for years—was to take a look at a Boston and Maine time table. 'How long has this been going on?' I says, when I saw what good service there is for my town. I didn't know there are 26 trains from Winchester to Boston every weekday, and 28 trains from Boston to Winchester."

Laughs Out Loud

"Second thing I did was to get down to the station a look of a long time before my train came in. (Actually, five minutes, all told.) Waiting is something I don't like. Then I starts to figure out all the time I had wasted in traffic jams, and then I laughed right out loud."

Which End of a Horse Comes First?

"Next thing I knew the old Iron Horse comes roaring in, and I see a lot of people all headin' up toward the first two cars despite the conductor telling us there was plenty of seats towards the rear. I figured the rear end of a horse gets there 'bout the same time the front end does, so I gets on the last car."

"Now, here's the pay-off. I sat down, opened up my newspaper, and next thing I knew we were at the North Station—and I hadn't got through the paper!"

"All day I kept wondering why I felt so good, and when I got home, my wife almost fainted when I suggested she ask the Browns over for a card game. I found riding the train's easier on the nerves and makes you less tired."

"IMAGINE ME riding the train and actually liking it!"

ORPIN-ECHOLS

Mrs. A. L. Leach of Clyde, Texas, announce the marriage of her sister, Ruby Henderson Echols of Houston, Texas, to Mr. Robert Clement Orpin of Winchester, son of Mrs. Robert C. Orpin of Winchester and Woburn and the late Mr. Robert C. Orpin of Winchester.

Dr. J. T. Griswold performed the marriage in the presence of the immediate family.

The bride was gown in navy blue crepe touched with romaine pinks and carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses.

The bridal couple will make their home in Houston, Texas.

KNIGHTS HELD OUTING

There was a large gathering of members and guests at the annual outing of Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus, Sunday at Lake Nahassett. The party left town at 9 a. m. and enjoyed a day of golf, softball, horseshoe pitching and other sports, with a most satisfying dinner at noon. The two-of-war was won by the Veterans, although the decision was difficult for a while. Leo Thibault was in charge of the outing.

HORN-ROSS

Mr. Albert L. Ross of Cambridge announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Bertha L. Ross, to Mr. Floyd H. Horn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Horn of 41 Canal street, at Harmony, Me., on Sept. 7th.

MARRIED AT WALTHAM

Miss Lillian L. Pugin, formerly of Winchester, was married Saturday, Sept. 6, at the First Baptist Church at Waltham to Mr. Jerome Thomas McEyer of Cartersville, Ga. Rev. Carroll O. Muring officiating.

The bride wore a fitted gown of white panne satin with train and veil of lace and orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was of white gladioli. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. John Lazzaro of Waltham who wore a full skirted, tight bodied gown of primrose yellow taffeta with Juliet cap of yellow velvet and carried orchid gladioli.

The bride was a graduate of Winchester High and after finishing school was until recently, connected with the Newton Hospital.

The groom is a graduate of Cartersville, Georgia schools and is at present office manager at the White Pigment Corp. of Waltham.

The couple were tendered a reception at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip White of 241 Cross street, Winchester and left shortly after for a honeymoon trip to Canada.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. McEyer will reside at 79 Robbins street, Waltham.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. Orrin Bathrick of Hammond place, West Medford, announce the engagement of her daughter, Barbara to John D. Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Barrett, also of West Medford, formerly of this town.

GILLOTTE-CUCOLO

Miss Ida Mae Cucolo of 13 Tremont street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Cucolo, was married on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 7, to Mr. Anthony Gillette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Gillette of 12 Cedar street, the ceremony taking place at St. Mary's Church at 3 o'clock, with Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of the church, officiating. The wedding and following reception was largely attended by the many friends of this popular couple.

The couple were attended by Miss Marie Cucolo, sister of the bride, and Mr. Michael Gillette, the groom's brother, was best man. Ushers for the occasion were Messrs. Benjamin Tolosco and Francis Lambiasi, both of this town.

The bride wore for her wedding gown a dress of white faille taffeta with tulle veil fastened to a tulle crown with lace medallions. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her father. Her attendant wore blue faille taffeta with a cap with medallions of flowers to match her bouquet of pale yellow gladioli.

A reception was held during the evening at the home of the bride's parents, the house and grounds being decorated with late summer flowers and colored lights and Japanese lanterns.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillette are enjoying their honeymoon in New York and Washington, and upon their return will make their home at 140 Swanton street.

WINCHESTER TEACHERS' GREETED

Mothers' Association Serves Delightful Tea in Gymnasium

At three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 9, the Mothers' Association entertained the teachers of all the Winchester schools in the high school gymnasium. Mrs. Warren Shoemaker, chairman of the social committee had charge of the tea. The gymnasium was attractively decorated with early fall flowers. Separate tables for each school were presided over by the presidents of the associations. Mrs. Langley C. Keyes, president of the Wyman chapter; Mrs. John Chipman, president of the Mystic chapter; Mrs. Guy P. Livingston, president of the Junior High school chapter; Mrs. John Morgan, president of the Noonan chapter; Mrs. Carmen Frongillo, president of the Lincoln chapter; Mrs. Neil Borden, president of the Washington chapter; and Mrs. Gustav Josephson for the High School.

Supt. James J. Quinn welcomed the teachers with a short, but inspiring message. Commenting briefly on the "crossed world" which faces both teachers and students today, Mr. Quinn urged his teachers to try to grasp and hold onto the great ideals and truths which have made living worth while. If teachers are to influence young people intelligently, they must themselves distinguish the true from the false.

While he urged teachers to hold fast to what they firmly believed to be good, at the same time he emphasized the importance of having open minds prepared to examine and utilize new ideas in the field of curriculum and method.

Above all he stressed the importance of the teacher's development of a deeper and truer understanding of young people and their problems of today.

He spoke briefly of the value of the professional meetings held by the different departments of the schools during the school year and of the goals which might be approached as a result of these meetings.

Mr. Quinn's message might well be summed up as an earnest plea for loyalty to the highest of teaching ideals, supplemented by a keen interest in improvement and a real desire to understand the perplexing problems of young people today. He placed his remarks with the announcement that the Winchester Teachers' Club Institute would be held on Friday, Oct. 3, with morning and afternoon sessions. The topic chosen by the committee in charge of the plans for the meetings was "Literature and Human Living."

Mr. Rollo Brown, well-known author and authority on teaching has been chosen as the principal speaker at the Institute. Mr. Brown has written significantly on many phases of teaching. His "How the French Boy Learns to Write" and "Travel by Train" are characteristic of his philosophy of teaching and living. Mr. Brown will speak both morning and afternoon. One of the topics to be discussed during the meeting is "How Shall We Combat Professional Apathy?"

At the conclusion of the morning session and the noon luncheon and social hour, the meeting will be divided into two divisions, one for the secondary school teachers and the other for the elementary school teachers. Mr. Zahner of the Groton School will lead the afternoon discussion for the secondary group. The leader for the elementary group has not been finally chosen as yet.

The Institute is a new departure and one that promises to provide a real stimulation at the beginning of the school year. Perhaps more than the annual Teachers' Convention it promises to bring to the Winchester teachers speakers of real merit who will discuss specific school problems freely and intimately.

Preceding the tea on Tuesday, Mrs. Robert Kenney president of the Central Association called a meeting of the entire executive board which includes the presidents of the separate chapters and the officers of the Central Association. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss plans for the coming year. Mrs. Kenney announced that each chapter had been asked to send two representatives to the Civilian Defense School to be held during the winter.

Every year this association sponsors some project for the benefit of the scholarship fund. Other years outside speakers have been procured to lecture to the Winchester group. This year due to the upset conditions of the world when everyone is asked to contribute to so many worthy causes the committee feels that it should keep the project within the community, and by spending less be able to charge less for the entertainment. Therefore, it will call upon local talent to present a evening of gaiety and fun in the form of a gay nineties musical sometime in November.

Mrs. Carle Zimmerman, chairman of the scholarship fund will be the chairman, with the able assistance of Mrs. Thomas Edwards and Mrs. Arnold Chandler.

Such an evening will necessarily need everyone's cooperation. If anyone reading this has a yen to dance, sing, clown or to relive a gay and noble era will she kindly get in touch with her chapter president—the Mothers' Association needs your help.

Some four hundred ships sailing in New England coastal waters have regular telephone service... just like us landlubbers. Of course, they don't talk telephone wires from the stern. The New England Telephone Company's Coastal Harbor Radio Station WOI furnishes a radio path to land telephone lines.

These floating subscribers not only can telephone home or to friends or to business associates on land but also can get weather reports Twice a day Telephone Station WOI broadcasts weather information furnished by the United States Coast Guard. Also, storm warnings from the Coast Guard are broadcast at two-hour intervals.

So whether you are sailing or plain land-bound, you are always in touch by telephone anywhere in New England.

SCRIMMAGE WITH MELORE
TELLS QUOTE A STORY

Winchester Looked Good Against Poole Men

Last Saturday morning the Winchester and Melrose football squads 40 strong each met at Manchester Field for two hours of intensive scrimmage, during which both coaches put three teams through their paces in an effort to iron out the rough spots of offensive and defensive play. At the conclusion of the session both Coach Knowlton and Coach Poole of Melrose expressed themselves as pleased with the results. While the play was hard and aggressive throughout, the best of spirit prevailed between the two groups.

Melrose, probably outwitted Winchester several pounds man for man throughout, and their second team was far more advanced and experienced than the local reserves. But Winchester's varsity eleven looked strong and in fine condition as they came back after an hour's rest to score two touchdowns to none for Melrose, while showing a rugged defense in the line, which is just what the local coaches are working for. If they can build a stiff offensive and defensive line, the first string backfield of Capt. Provinzano, Dorby, West and Ruzzotto will take care of the scoring with power and precision.

The other real task ahead seems to be to teach a lot of football to the reserves, who must be ready to step into the places of the regulars without showing up the attack of weakening the defense. And some of those second team boys have the size and the desire to play which ought to pay dividends.

Big Bob Jackson, shifted from tackle to end this fall is finding the switch a bit difficult at first, but his weight and speed are assets which should enable him to develop into an outstanding wingman for the Red and Black. At the other end is Dick Murphy, transferred from the backfield to end and working smoothly as a pass receiver and a heady player both on defense and offense.

Smaller and Whitemore both looked good at the tackles and both know a lot about line play having had experience at guard and end heretofore last year. Leo and Jim Tracy seem to have the nod as starting guards and both are rugged, determined, workers who will develop as the season advances into fine eyes in the line.

All Thanda at center is starting in where he left off last fall and with added weight and experience should complete a line which promises to open up the holes for the best backfield Winchester has seen for years. Pete Provinzano is probably right now one of the fastest backs and best openfield runners in the state. That covers a lot of territory, but Pete is a three year veteran and not only a fine ball carrier but a good punter and expert passer. In the Melrose scrimmage Pete intercepted a long pass on the goal line and ran it back to midfield. A few minutes later he uncorked a 40-yard pass to Derby for a touchdown. Derby, incidentally, played mid-season football and called the plays for the varsity. Bill West at fullback tore through the heavy Melrose line for several ten yard plunges, twisting and fighting for the last inch. Ruzzotto at blocking back paved the way for some of these gains with good blocks at the right time.

The results of the scrimmage showed what hard work and good condition can do. The coaches and the squad were encouraged and determined to work at the rough spots which such a workout was bound to reveal.

The blocking back was not consistently satisfactory to the coaches, and the tackling was ragged in spots. The backs will be pushed this week to run harder and to make their openings if they have to. The line will be forced to charge lower and with their eyes open all the time.

"Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world." These words from 1 John 2:15 comprise the Golden Text to be read Sunday, September 21, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The subject of the Lesson-Scripture will be: "Master, included among the Scriptural selections will be: 'I therefore the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called, with all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love; endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace' (Ephesians 4:1-3)."

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Embrace gently from matter into Spirit. Think not to thwart the spiritual ultimate of all things, but come naturally into Spirit through better health and morals and as the result of spiritual growth" (p. 481).

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for the beautiful flowers and the many other expressions of sympathy extended us in our bereavement.

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND By Peter Crouwell, Sarah Ann Wilson, who was buried for ten years, old, deaf and nearly blind. We notify our friends of her recovery. She walked outside Tuesday night, lost her way, got caught in burns and got very dirty. She has been a good dog and a good friend, and in spite of her infirmities still gets some pleasure out of life together with the affection of her family. Thanks Peter.

RALPH W. CONANT
HEADS TEXTILE-LEATHER DIVISION IN SALVATION ARMY 1941 APPEAL

Ralph W. Conant, president of Emery & Conant Company, 267 Summer street, Boston, has been named chairman of Division O, covering wool, other textiles and leather firms in the 1941 Salvation Army appeal for $200,000 in Greater Boston. This was announced by John E. Wilson, head of the Industry and Finance Division. Mr. Conant will also serve his third campaign as chairman of the wool group.

In Division O activities there will include some of Boston's largest firms in thread, cotton, cotton-waste, dry goods, felt, trunks-bags, women's dresses and coats, as well as many branches of the wool and leather trades. This division will embrace scores of executives and thousands of employees, Mr. Conant is working on a hurried and complete organization of his division and all its groups so that, soon after the "Kick Off" meeting on Sept. 16 many of the trade quotas will be reached.

Mr. Conant is serving his 35th year in the wool business and enjoys a wide acquaintance among the wool folk of the country. His recreation is golf. There are two sons and two daughters in the Conant family who make their home in Kirkstall road in Newton.

WINCHESTER ELKS WIN EASTERN MASS. TWI LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

CHAMPIONSHIP

Beat Sinclairs of Woburn, 9-7, and 9-5 to Clinch Crown

After Elks to win the Elks cup last Sunday afternoon, when Woburn, in a rain-sting match, defeated Fil Fil Saturday afternoon, Sunday's win clinched the best bats caught the hard hitting tanners away off balance. He made just two bad pitches all afternoon, throwing up a couple that were just too good for "Bing" Crosby and "Doc" Gil-

The Elks went out in front in the first. With only one away Noble scratched a hit past "Doc" Higgins, then playing second, stole second and reached third when Crosby pegged wildly. Coss fanned, but Riley

The Sinclairs evened it in the second. Jake McDonald hit past second, was sacrificed to second by Fitzpatrick, held up while Rod MacDonnell tossed out Gillis and scored as Crosby lashed a fierce liner to deep center which Bing's lack of speed and a corking line throw by Riley held to a triple.

From then until the ninth Farrell held the Sinclairs in the hollow of his hand, setting them down in order in four of the six frames and permitting just one single

The Elks meanwhile went ahead in the second when Kendrick reached on O'Sullivan's bobble and McIntyre walked. Murphy lashed a single past Curran to bring in Kendrick and Farrell got McIntyre over with an attempted bunt to Fitzpatrick on which the latter threw wide to the plate. MacDonnell hit into a twin killing

In the eighth with one out McInyre got on by smashing one at Fitzpatrick that knocked the Sinclairs' third baseman down, the only hit.

The Sinclairs still ran a sting in their tail. Paul Curran opened the ninth with a walk. McDonald got his third hit, a clean one to left and Fitzpatrick also stroled. With the bases filled Farrell gave Gillis one to his liking and the former Northeastern

The Elks' board of strategy talked things over with Farrell and let the little fireballer stay in there. He justified their confidence by fanningobby Higgins, tossing out Murohy first and fanning O'Sullivan for the third out, a nice comeback.

Sharing honors with Farrell was a work-horse catcher, Johnny Murray, who with a single, double and home run was the hitting hero of the matinee. Paul Cuyper, slick first man of the team, a "big" Irishman, such first as the sixth in a collision with the big left fielder, McIntyre, who stepped in front of the latter to stop Fitzpatrick's wide throw. He was grazed a bit, but was able to continue and got a nice hand from the crowd with whom he is very popular.

LOCATED IN CALIFORNIA

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Reynolds of Seneca road, with their daughter, Elizabeth, and son, Ralph, are now located in their new home at 1023 Cloverdale avenue, in Los Angeles, where Dr. Reynolds, a member of the faculty at M. I. T., is an over-seas professor for a year at the University of Southern California.

The Reynolds arrived in Los Angeles on Sept. 3 of a 4200 mile automobile trip which included stops at the University of Minnesota, Butte, Montana; Glacier National Park, Banff, Lake Louise, Spokane and Seattle, Wash., and Victoria, B. C. From Victoria they toured the Olympic Peninsula, south to Portland, Oregon, along the Columbia River Highway south to Crater Lake National Park and through Grant Pass to the California Redwood Drive, concluding with visits at San Francisco, Berkeley, the Yosemite and Sequia National Park.

COLUMBUS DAY CHARITY BALL

The Massachusetts State Council Knights of Columbus is planning to hold a monster Columbus Day charity ball at the Hotel Statler on the evening of Oct. 13 according to an announcement from the State Deputy, Walter G. Powers. This is the first time that the Knights have undertaken such an affair, but with more than 60 Councils in the Metropolitan area participating, everything points to a successful evening.

State Deputy Powers is eager to establish a charitable fund for the work which is done each year among the poor, by Boston Chapter. Also to further the work of the Columbian Squares, the junior organization of the K. of C. The boys camp in Hawley will also benefit from the ball, as during the summer more boys than ever wished to attend this camp. The ball donors groups in the several Councils throughout the state will also be rewarded for their efforts.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The first fall meeting of the Winchester district Nursing Association was held on Friday, Sept. 12, at the home of the President, Miss Adelaide Blomer.

Present were: Mesdames Homer, Spaulding, Jojo, Willing, Slocum, Hucks, Pond, Monroe, Richter, Russell, Burgee, Greiner, Spencer and Clark. The reports of the secretary, treasurer and finance committee were read and accepted.

Mrs. O'Leary reported 729 visits for the month of June, July and August.

In order to co-operate with the Civilian Defense Committee, the Association would like to have all Winchester women who are practical nurses, household attendants, or who have had nursing experience, communicate with Mrs. Jameson Slocum, 11 Crescent road, tel. Win. 2155, that their names may be added to the Winchester District Nursing Association roster.

THE MAPLE LEAF FUND, INC.

The American-Canadian organization for war-relief in the British Empire, nationally known as the Maple Leaf Fund, Inc., announces the names of new chairman and new directors. Officers: William H. Coverdale, president; John B. How, vice president; F. E. Gondron, (Lt. Col.), Vice President; Kenneth C. Bell, secretary. W. Wallace Turnbull (Capt.) treasurer.

The Winchester committee: Mrs. B. R. Gage, chairman, co-operates with the Mass. branch of the Maple Leaf Fund, headquarters, Hotel Vendome and acts in the capacity of production committee. A large consignment of goods has been received and will furnish work for many days. Workers meet regularly on Thursdays 10 a. m. in the Unitarian parish house, sewing room. Mrs. Grey will be on hand to furnish knitters with wool. Sewing and sweaters are much needed. Warm clothing has been shipped every month in the past year, and shipments will continue. Heavy coats, trousers, shirts and underwear for sailors in northern waters are urgently needed. Clean, warm garments may be left at 4 Lakewood road or at the work room Thursdays. On Thursday, Sept. 25, 2 p. m. a business meeting is called for reports from beginners to date and plans for future work will be explained. Come and bring a friend interested in the cause.

Planet Group

A planetoid is one of the group of small planets whose orbits lie between those of Mars and Jupiter. These are also called asteroids.

ANY WINCHESTER RESIDENT MAY JOIN ART ASSOCIATION

"Must I know anything about art to become a member of the Winchester Art Association?"

This question is being raised as the Association announces its program for the 1941-42 season. A program of monthly exhibitions at the Library, preceded the first Sunday of each month by tea and talk or demonstrations relative to interesting phases of art.

The answer is that many members are art-lovers, but that many more are citizens of Winchester who are merely interested in art and eager to associate themselves with this one of the town's well-managed organizations.

The growth of the Association and its appeal to the artist and the layman alike are marked. In a few short years over 250 people have become members. Its exhibits and teas frequently attract out of town visitors.

This month the Association is showing at the Library some of the tempera paintings by Harold Lindergreen. On Sunday, Oct. 5, the Association will hold its opening tea, with a gallery talk. The exhibit will be one of oil paintings by John Carlson and Emilie A. Gruppe.

The membership fee of the Art Association is a nominal one, only $1, and anyone wishing to become a member should leave his name at the Library or notify the membership chairman, Wayne E. Davis, 9 Marshall road, Win. 1237-M.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Conservation Committee under the direction of Mrs. Alfred W. Drew, chairman, is conducting, on Tuesday, Sept. 23, a trip to the Waltham Field Station where Mr. Paul Dempsey of the Massachusetts Agricultural College will speak. Mr. Dempsey always has a message of interest, and this trip should be enjoyable and instructive. The group will leave Fortnightly Hall at 1 p. m. For further details or arrangements, a bona fide transportation please call Mrs. Drew, Win. 1076.

Preservation of Antiques
Reservations for the Pilgrimage to "Indian Hill" in Newbury, on Thursday, Sept. 25, should be made not later than Wednesday noon, Sept. 18, with the chairman, Mrs. Paul Eberle, Win. 0065 or Mrs. Earle E. Andrews, Win. 0017.

It is necessary to know the exact number in the party. Cars will leave Fortnightly Hall at 12:45 sharp and directions will be furnished to members making the trip.

While inspecting "Indian Hill" visitors are urged to bear in mind that it came to the Society for the Prevention of New England Antiquities after standing idle and unoccupied for 35 years. If they will remember that the interest of Indian Hill is related to its period and the conditions of its creation rather than to any magnificence or beauty, they will then be able to enter into the spirit of the place and enjoy the good things which Major Ben Perley Poore and his successors have brought together.

The builder of the 38-room house was eccentric in many ways, and storied tell of Mr. Poore buying out right entire rooms-full of furniture or other articles that attracted his interest, moving all to "Indian Hill" and having a room built to house it. Rooms of dizzy angles, some high-ceilinged most of them low studded, some with round windows, some with square windows; rooms on different levels connected by low, narrow passage ways, make the old house, "one in a million."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE WAR RELIEF ACTIVITY

One war relief activity which has been little publicized is the Christian Science war relief committee, with main offices at 277 Huntington avenue, Boston. Two thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine cases, half a million garments, valued at $489,364.25, in the nine months of the committee's existence, is their record to date.

The work is an activity of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston and branch Christian Science churches throughout America.

It is the purpose of the committee in the United States to keep its depots in England supplied with an adequate amount of clothing and blankets for emergencies. So, the London committee is becoming known as a storehouse from which emergencies can be met. This was evidenced by the fact that it was crates of clothing from this committee which first reached Coventry; and when the great fire occurred in London, the Christian Science War-time Committee was able to meet an appeal for blankets. Fortunately, many hundreds of blankets had been shipped and had just arrived.

Three motor kitchens have been sent and a motor truck or van is maintained in England for quick deliveries.

The committee in Boston is grateful for the record of goods sent as well as for the fact that because services are so largely voluntary, its overhead expense is only 4.1 per cent. It also rejoices that less than one per cent of the goods shipped is all that has been lost by sinking.

The main depot for shipping to England is located in Boston, but shipments are also made from Portland, Oregon; New York City, and Los Angeles.

WINCHESTER MAN MARRIED IN BELMONT

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Ann Davison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Guy Davison of Belmont, to Mr. William Thomsen Wyman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ulysses Wyman of Albany, N. Y., a former well known resident of this town, took place in All Saints church, Belmont, Saturday afternoon at a 4 o'clock candle service. Rev. William Brewster officiated.

The bride wore an old-fashioned gown of white silk marquisette with a fingertip length veil of tulle caught to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis. Her maid of honor, Miss Doris Haag of Belmont, wore a blue faille gown and carried yellow pom-poms. The best man was Mr. Paul E. Lamarche of Winchester, and the ushers were Mr. Ralph K. Johnson of Syracuse, N. Y.; Mr. Benjamin H. Moody of Stoneham, Mr. Noel A. Raymond of Wrentham and Mr. David W. Walker of Salem. A reception at the Belmont Woman's Club followed the ceremony.

Mr. Paul E. Lamarche attended Colby Junior College and Boston University. Mr. Wyman was graduated in 1936 from Dartmouth where he was a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity.

KIRKPATRICK-WILSON MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Albert V. Wilson of Main street announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Jean Nichol Wilson, to Lieut. Richard Darrow Kirkpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Kirkpatrick of Morose. The wedding took place Sep. 13 at the First Presbyterian Church, Charleston, South Carolina. Both members of the immediate families and an uncle of the bride, Mr. Arthur M. Reid of Baltimore, Md., were present at the ceremony.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick attended Jackson College and graduated recently from the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing. Lieutenant Kirkpatrick was graduated from Tufts College in 1940 and is a member of the Engineering Division of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Pending further orders, Lieutenant and Mrs. Kirkpatrick will make their home in Beaufort, South Carolina.

WALLACE-ENGLEND

Mrs. Arthur Lincoln England of Bacon street announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Helen Margaret Engle, to Mr. Gilman Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Wallace of Southbridge, formerly of Winchester. The wedding took place on Aug. 11 at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York City.

TWO FIRES SUNDAY

The Fire Department answered two alarms last Sunday, the first coming at 3 o'clock in the morning from The Winchester Arms on Washington street where the steam thermostat was set too high. At 2:15 in the afternoon trouble with a range oil burner called the men to the home of Mr. William Thompson on Clark street.

Telephone service is organized to make calls for help easy and fast, and to give such calls preference over all other calls.

In case of accident or other danger all you have to do, if you don't have the number of the nearest police or fire station, is get the Operator and say "Emergency Police" or "Emergency Fire"... and give her your telephone number and your street address... She has available the numbers of fire stations, police stations, doctors, hospitals. She calls the one nearest your home—then "stand by" ready to rush through any additional call that you may make.

We suggest that the simple procedure be explained to every member of your family—especially the importance of giving the Operator your telephone number and address—the only means she has of directing help to your home.

HARRY D. BEAN AIDED IN RESCUE

Harry D. Bean of Black Horse terrace, well known automobile dealer and prominent member of the Winchester Ski Club, figured in the recovery of the body of Dr. Joseph M. Smith, former Lynn athlete, last Sunday afternoon when Dr. Smith met with an accident while flying his plane over Harbor.

The plane went into a dive and Dr. Smith, in endeavoring to avoid wrecking a group of sailboats in a race, stayed with his ship too long before jumping in a parachute. Mr. Bean, who was racing with Lynn Marsh of West Medford, and whose boat was nearest the flyer when he struck the water, took him into their sailboat. He was pronounced dead upon his arrival at the Long Island Hospital.

WINCHESTER MAN ON COMMITTEE

Mr. Ernest Gross, Winchester resident and prominent Lowell businessman, has been appointed chairman of regional publicity for the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety, according to an announcement this week from George Wiswell, chairman of the Public Information Division of the Committee.

For the purposes of the dissemination of public information, the state has been divided into seven regions, with a local publicity director for each region.

Mr. Gross is vice president of the Harvard Brewing Company.

A STORY OF WINCHESTER FOLKS

"Ed very sick" read the telegram. Pretty Pat Lockwood (Dorothy Patton Lockwood of Jaffra, Mass.) had left her young husband, Edson, recovering rapidly from malignant malaria when reluctantly she departed from her home at Jaffra College, Ceylon, with her small children to go to Kodaikanal, India, where "foreigners" of all creed and nationalities flee for a brief respite from the terrific heat of the lowlands.

But Ed had been doing well. Now this telegram came saying "Ed very sick." Terror struck at the heart. Pat, she started back immediately leaving her sons in the care of a friend and the family dog, Bunty. In war time India special leave permits are necessary. Her joint passport with Ed was in the mail!

So she boarded the ship with no passport. Fortunately the Port doctor knew her. Officialdom had a heart—and slashed red tape.

In Ceylon, four days later at the break of day, a slightly bewildered servant in the hospital bungalow answered her frantic query, saying, "Lockwood master went home yesterday."

Eight miles to the house in Vaddukottai. Pat rushed into her own bungalow. The cook looked dazed. "Lockwood master upstairs in bed," he stammered, believing himself a victim of an optical illusion.

Upstairs, "Ed" rudely awakened, muttered, "You nut!" while he patted a sob-shaken shoulder.

The mystery was soon cleared up. The message to Kodaikanal read: "Ed very fit. Letter sent." The message from Jaffra when sent, read: "Ed very fit. Letter sent."

Ed is Edson Clark Lockwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Lockwood, 9 Linwood street, New Britain, Conn., instructor under the American Board of Foreign Missions in Jaffra College, Ceylon. Pat is Dorothy Patton Lockwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Patton, 68 Valley road, Milton, who went out to India to marry her fiancé and now finds her hands full with a husband and four lively sons. Ed Lockwood is Brown University, Ph. B. and M. A. Pat is Brown University and Columbia. She was formerly a teacher in Mrs. Wheeler's School in Providence. During an extended furlough in 1936 Edson Lockwood taught mathematics in the Winchester High School.

Speaking of those four lively sons, the youngest is now nearly a year old. His name is Leonard M. Lockwood. Patton and Michael are 11 and 10 respectively and are away at school. They are "real boys." Mike fell on the playground and broke his right arm. As it still in a splint he chased a butterfly for the school museum two days later with such vigor that he fell and broke the arm in two places. He had to be taken to India for special surgery. But to Mike the trip was not a total loss. He came back with a green paper parrot and tales of ice cream twice at the home of the hospital superintendent in Madras, India, namely, Dr. Edward W. Wilder, brother of Howard W. Wilder, 20 Orient avenue, Melrose.

Correspondence from the boys in boarding school enlivens the Lockwood domestic.

"Dear Daddy: I sick," writes David. "James plays with me. I eat curli eggs chewing gum. Love to Daddy." And Michael writes: "David is sick and Patton is sick, and the funniest thing is Patton has chicken pox in his stomach. Nearly every boy in class is playing marbles. I'm pretty good."

Later Mike writes: "I went to church; a woman spoke about herself going and teaching the cannaballs about God. I played dominoes at rest hour. I put stamps in my album. Bobby and I made an airval. It works. I am making a game named 'Siere.' I am collecting flowers. That's you for your letters. We are practicing soccer. We want to play the fifth grade. Some of the boys in Kennedy smoked out a bee-hive."

There was first Patton, then Michael and then David. Public opinion demanded that the stork next bring a girl, preferably one with curly hair. At a surprise shower gifts were pointedly feminine. But Pat wondered—boys seemed to have become a habit. On Sept. 23, 1940, a seven-pound baby joined the Lockwood family—name, Leonard Merriek Lockwood!

Mails are erratic between Ceylon and New England these days. Letters may take two months or more in arriving and they are censored. Paper is scarce in Jaffra; newspapers are abbreviated; prices are rising. The entry into India of some 68 articles is banned or rigidly restricted; dried fruits, cocoa and motor cars, toilet requisites, glassware and cutlery, liquors, jam, fabrics, etc. War benefits flourish. Ceylon planned to send an airplane a month to the R. A. F.

Travel is slowed up by the war. It took Mrs. Lockwood four days for that epoch-making trip because of the mistaken word in the telegram although the distance was only 325 miles. All foreigners are registered in India and must notify the police if they travel from one district to another.

Jaffra College, Ceylon, where the Lockwoods work, is located in the romantic sounding but highly unpronounceable town of Vaddukottai. It has a student body of well over 600 and is a Christian institution of higher learning founded by the American Board in 1872. The mission itself was founded in 1816 by four couples who sailed out on the brig "Devad."

While all subjects are taught in English, courses are included in Latin, Tamil, Sinhalese. It is the only institution north of Ceylon with co-education in the upper classes. Unlike colleges in America the grades range from about the fourth grade through junior college.

Jaffra College has white-washed buildings in a beautiful tropical setting. There is a library of some 7000 volumes and in a glass case is a letter from George Washington written to Mrs. Norton of Boston.

Edson Lockwood not only teaches mathematics and science but is treasurer of the college. His other duties vary anywhere from supervising a 300 acre coconut grove; the appointment of teachers; the introduction of cricket or some other athletic activity; to a good tennis player himself to seeing that four or five hundred boys get inoculated against typhoid or chaperoned to a movie.

The very presence among Ceylon's youth of an attractive young American couple like the Lockwoods, with their thoroughly Christian wholesome home life and their message through daily contacts with the students, is a major contribution toward world peace and understanding between two peoples.

FOR RANGE OIL USERS TO REMEMBER

A committee of Woburn oil dealers headed by Joseph J. Donaghy has agreed to certain restriction in deliveries tending towards conservation. Of interest to their Winchester customers is the ruling that all range oil deliveries will be strictly C. O. D. to eliminate doubling back or re-ordering trucks for collections. No deliveries will be made on Sundays or holidays, or after 6 p. m. on Saturdays and after 5:30 p. m. on other days.

A. B. C. AUXILIARY MEETING

The A. B. C. Auxiliary will hold an open meeting at the home of Mrs. E. W. Erlanson, 22 Ridgeland road, Arlington on Tuesday evening, Sept. 23 at 8 o'clock.

The business meeting will be followed by a poverty sale. All members are urged to attend and visitors welcome.

Don't forget the date.

Bobby Farrell, who pitched the Elks to an important playoff victory over the Woburn Shrimshires last Sunday, observed his 18th birthday Tuesday with a small party for a few intimate friends at his home on Highland avenue.

Mr. John H. McManis of the John P. Squires Co., who makes his home at 21 Harrison street, was one of the speakers Tuesday evening at the American Legion's 18th birthday meeting of the University Club in Boston, at which the meat education program for the year was discussed. Mr. McManis stated that "the food that sticks to the ribs, is an important part of the country's defense program."

Wibla MacDonnell, well known local ball player, is back at Ward's Winchester store on Thompson street after spending most of the summer at the Ward's store in Scituate.

MR. FIREPLACE WOOD USER
Dear Sir:

The demand for WOOD is great. Supply uncertain. Our price is a lot longer at $15 per cord. Sawing $2 extra. We cannot guarantee this price long. Labor and Transportation are the problems.

CARLETON-HERRICK

The blue and gold of Navy uniforms added to the impressiveness of the marriage of Miss Martha Elizabeth Herrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Herrick of Ainsworth road, to Ensign Dean Willard Carleton, son of Mrs. Willard Tracy Carleton of Church street and the late Mr. Carleton, on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 20, in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church. White gladioli and stephanotis with tall tapers in candelabra made a most attractive setting. The ceremony, which was performed at 4 o'clock by Dr. Raymond Calkins of Cambridge, former interim pastor of the church, assisted by the pastor, Dr. Howard J. Chadley. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Herbert Lury of New York, aunt of the bride, whose selections included "Salut d'Amour" by Elgar, "Liebestraum" by Liszt and the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin by Wagner.

Miss Herrick was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor attendant Miss Eugene Peppard of Winchester. Miss Eugene Herrick and Miss Gloria H. Herrick, twin sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids with Miss Loretta Carleton of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Frank Carleton of this town, the bridegroom's sister-in-law.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with a sweetheart neck, long sleeves and a train. Her long veil of tulle was caught to a coronet of lace from her mother's bridal veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses, gladioli and stephanotis. The bride and attendants wore fairly dresses, the honor maid's being apricot and the bridesmaids, gold. All carried bouquets of contrasting button chrysanthemums.

Frank Carleton of this town was his brother's best man and the usher corps included Robert Higgins and James Fitzgerald of Winchester, Henry Ingersoll of Reading and Clarence Higgins of Hingham.

At the conclusion of the ceremony six Nal ensembles, acting as a quartet of honor, formed an arch with their swords, under which Ensign Carleton and his bride passed from the chapel. In the honor corps were Ensign Larry Gate of Reading, Ensign Walter Carlson of Malden, Ensign William Mitchell of Melrose, Ensign John Everett of Belmont, Ensign George Taylor of Concord and Ensign Dan Secord of Darien, Conn.

A reception was held in the church parish house which was decorated with tall tapers in candelabra and bouquets of bronze and apricot dahlias, gladioli and white lilies. The parents of the bride, the bridegroom and the maid of honor assisted in receiving.

Ensign Carleton and his bride left immediately after the reception for their home at 1000 Main street. The bridegroom reported for duty Sept. 22 at the Naval Communications School, to which he has been assigned. They will have their home temporarily in Norton.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, of Wyoming Seminary at Kingston, Pa., and of the Katharine Gibbs School. Ensign Carleton attended Winchester High School and Clark School at Hanover, N. H., graduating from both with the Class of 1941. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity and was recently commissioned as Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve after graduating from a training school for midshipmen.

C. D. OF A JUNIORS HELD COMMUNION BREAKFAST

Santa Marie Court No. 150, Junior Catholic Daughters of America opened its fall season on Sunday by attending the 8:45 a. m. Mass at the Immaculate Conception Church in the Holy Communion.

The Rev. James F. Fitzsimons, pastor, who is Junior Chaplain, celebrated the Mass and his sermon was most complimentary and encouraging to the Juniors. Present at the Mass were State Junior Chairman Miss Mary Healey of Dorchester, the Grand Regents of the Senior Councils of Woburn and Winchester, Mrs. Charles G. Hansen and Miss Helen Reagan respectively and visiting and Winchester councilors.

Following the Mass a communion Breakfast was served at Lydon's on Cambridge road, Woburn, with the Winchester Junior Chairman Miss Josephine Lydon as hostess. Miss Lydon welcomed the gathering and presented the Junior Vice Chairman, Miss Marie Moore who most graciously extended the appreciation of the Juniors to Miss Lydon, the councilors and State officers. A rising vote of thanks led by Miss Rita Carleton, a Junior, was also given Miss Lydon.

The Chairman, Miss Healey, addressed the Juniors and complimented them on the successful attainments of their court since their first period of organization last December.

The following Juniors were presented honor pins by Miss Healey for satisfactory honor work: Marie Moore, Rita Flanagan, Joan Hevey, Barbara Hevey, Margery Nowell, Anne DeFilippo, Helen McGowan, Rita Carson, Margery Boyle, Jean Power, Claire Noonan, Dorothy O'Melia, Betty Shea, Anne McGuerry, Eileen Welsh, Marilyn McGuerry, Grace Mirabella and Anne Mirabella.

COMMISSIONED ENSIGN

Dean Willard Carleton, son of Mrs. Willard T. Carleton of Church street, was one of 116 young men from the First Naval District, comprising Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, who have been just commissioned ensigns in the United States Naval Reserve upon graduation from Naval Reserve Midshipmen's Schools in the U. S. S. Prairie State, N. Y., and at Northwestern University, Chicago. The new officers are being ordered to active duty in the Navy.

ANDERSON-CARY

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Cary, daughter of J. M. Burton W. Cary of Onondaga road and the late Mr. Cary, to John Paul Anderson, son of Mr. Paul A. Anderson of Massachusetts avenue, Arlington, took place Saturday evening, Sept. 20, in the Unitarian Church which was attractively decorated with cedar trees, white gladioli and stephanotis. The minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, performed the ceremony and the bridal music was played by the church organ and the choir.

Miss Cary was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. William L. Davis of this town. Mrs. Paul H. Conins of Winchester was matron of honor, Miss Nancy Hollowell, also of Winchester, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Betty Moulton, Miss Ann Kimball and Miss Doris Williams of Winchester; Miss Doris Williams of Medford, Miss Marion Anderson of Arlington and Miss Betty Ludes of Haverhill.

The bride wore a white satin princess style gown with a beaded collar and a tulle veil caught to a beaded coronet. Her bouquet was of baby orchids.

The honor attendants wore dresses with gold faille bodices and rust skirts and their flowers were yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids carried bouquets like those of the honor attendants and their dresses were of blue and white, but with colors reversed, their bodices being rust and their skirts, gold.

Barton W. Cary of Winchester, brother of the bride, was Mr. Anderson's best man and the ushers were Gordon Braine of Boston, William Shuler of Philadelphia, Pa., George Reif of Woburn and A. R. Graustein, Jr., Robert Mann and Harold A. Bond, Jr., all of Arlington.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who assisted in receiving with the father of the bridegroom.

Mr. Anderson and his bride are to make their home in Shaler lane in Cambridge. The bride is a graduate of Colby Junior College and of the Chamberlain School. Mr. Anderson, who is associated with the Market Research Department of Lever Brothers Company, is a graduate of Babson Institute.

MAHONEY-DISSEL

White gladioli and chrysanthemums with a background of cybodium and muslin decorated St. Mary's Church Saturday morning, Sept. 20, for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Dissel, daughter of Mrs. Theodore A. Dissel of Fairview terrace and the late Mr. Dissel, to George Franklin Mahoney, son of Judge and Mrs. John V. Mahoney of West Roxbury.

The Very Rev. James H. Dolan, S. J., Principal of the Holy Cross Province of the Jesuit Order and cousin of the bride, officiated at the marriage ceremony, which took place at 10 o'clock, and was followed by a reception and a garden breakfast served at the home of the bride's mother.

Given in marriage by her brother, Theodore A. Dissel, and with her sister, Miss Brenda Dissel, as her honor attendant, the bride wore a gown of white satin with a train of blue and rose point lace which had been worn by her great grandmother. Her veil was of Spanish lace over tulle and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore dresses of emerald green velvet with light feathered hats to match and carried bronze chrysanthemums. Bridesmaids were Miss Esther Loftus and Miss Patricia Croughwell of Winchester, Miss Catherine Walsh of Boston and Mrs. Arthur Gilman Sullivan of New York.

John Hoyer of Cambridge was Mr. Mahoney's best man and the ushers were Paul Connolly of Jamaica Plain, Thomas O'Brien of Allston, James Casey of Brookline and John J. Mahoney of Dorchester.

After a honeymoon spent at the Lake Placid Club in the Adirondacks Mr. Mahoney and his bride will make their home in Shaler lane, Cambridge.

The bride is a graduate of Radcliffe College. Mr. Mahoney is a graduate of Harvard University and Harvard Law School and is a member of the Varsity Club.

AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP AT TECH

James H. Grimes, Jr., son of Mr. James H. Grimes of 21 Stone avenue, was one of 28 graduates of Greater Boston high schools to be awarded Hayden Scholarships at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Grimes was graduated from Winchester High School with the class of 1941. He was on the permanent honor roll of the class, a member of the Cum Laude Society and of the French Club, secretary of the Science Club and a member of the Junior-Senior Prom Committee and Traffic Squad.

The Hayden scholarships at Tech were established by the Hayden Foundation as a memorial to the late Charles Hayden, a graduate of M. I. T. and one of the Institute's most loyal alumni. Recipients are required to pass examinations and meet high academic and personal standards.

CHARLES ROUNDS IN NEW HARVARD SCHOOL

Charles E. Rounds of Norwell, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Rounds, formerly of Central street, this town, is one of nine students selected for the first year class at the new Harvard School of Dental Medicine.

Made possible by gifts from the Carnegie, Rockefeller and Markle Foundations, the new school, according to Dean Leroy M. S. Miner, "marks the beginning of an important experiment in American dental education. Students will be trained for five years in both theory and medicine and will graduate with M. D. and D. M. D. degrees.

ROACHE-PATTERSON

Miss Emilie Elizabeth Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Patterson of Boston avenue, Medford, and Mr. Francis Roache, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Roache of Harvard street, were married Friday evening, Sept. 19, at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's Rectory by the pastor of St. Mary's Church, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Rourke. The ceremony was attended by Mrs. Margaret Chamberland of Woburn and Walter Chamberland of that city was Mr. Roache's best man.

The bride wore a royal blue crepe street length dress with a matching hat and a shoulder corsage of bride-roses and bouvardia. Mrs. Chamberland wore a Lido blue crepe dress with an oak leaf brown turban and a corsage of premier roses.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York, Mr. Roache and his bride will make their home in Somerville.

The bride is a graduate of Medford High School and is a secretary in the employ of the Tuttle Silver Company of Boston. Mr. Roache is a graduate of Winchester High School and is employed by the Winchester Brick Company.

Notice To Our Customers

Due to large commitments in linens and homefurnishings made by us as far back as two years ago, we have been able to maintain pre-war prices on most of our merchandise until now!

It is our policy to prevent price advances for the advantage of our customers as long as possible. However, in view of replacement costs, we must advise you that practically all of our merchandise will reflect now generally higher retail prices in the very near future.

At present we still have a good stock of linens, blankets, percale sheets, bedspreads, bath towels, shower curtains, rugs, etc., most of which are at the same prices prevailing before the war.

We suggest that you purchase your requirements now at our present low prices.

WINCHESTER HIGH OPENED GRID SEASON WITH WIN

West's Touchdown Beat Framingham, 7-0. Crowd Disappoints

Winchester High School opened its 1941 football season in satisfactory, if not particularly impressive fashion, last Saturday afternoon on the Shore Road Athletic Field, defeating 7-0 a big Framingham High eleven that was considerably behind the local boys in all around development.

The crowd on hand for the game was a distinct disappointment, there being few in the stands aside from students. From the spectator area the afternoon was well high perfect, the weather being warm and pleasant, but few adults turned out for what looked as a good game and what was good game. In a way this isn't surprising, for there is no natural rivalry between Winchester and Framingham and it will take time to build one. Once local fans realize what a good attraction the Framingham game is there will be plenty on hand to enjoy it. Winchester and Framingham seem very evenly matched and the two games in the series thus far have been satisfactory in every respect.

A nall was thrown over Saturday's contest when on the very first running play attempted by Framingham after the kickoff John Halpin, the visitors' left halfback, sustained what was at first thought to be a severe head injury. After first aid treatment on the field by Dr. Harry Mueller, Winchester team physician, Halpin was carried to the sidelines and soon afterward removed in the police ambulance to the Winchester Hospital where he was treated by Dr. Philip J. McManus. His injury proved less severe than was at first thought and he was discharged from the hospital during the evening.

These who didn't see the game should not be misled by the size of the score. Winchester really outplayed Framingham by a much wider margin than seven points as the statistics clearly show.

Coch Knowlton's team ran up 10 first downs to one for Framingham, rushing for a net gain of 147 yards to 29 for the visitors. Winchester completed three of 10 passes for a gain of 80 yards, actually bettering that yardage, but having a 19 yard pass completion by Derby just before the half reduced to four yards by a 15 yard penalty for holding.

Framingham attempted two passes, completed neither and had one intercepted. One of Provinzano's heaves late in the game was intercepted and nearly cost Winchester the ball game. The locals lost 20 yards in two penalties, and fumbled four times, recovering three. Framingham recovered two of its three fumbles, and had no penalties.

Big Bill West, Winchester's junior fullback, had the distinction of scoring the season's first touchdown, on a 29 yard run from scrimmage, and he richly deserved the honor. "Mank" carried the ball roughly about twice out of every three times the first half and ripped off some substantial yardage. He still runs a bit too high but he proved very hard to bring down and hits very hard.

Jackson kicked off and Halpin got back to his 31. Added to a five yard off-side penalty Chisholm bucked for a first down at his 42, but here Winchester held and Ferrazzi kicked to the Winchester 22.

West spun through for 5 and Provinzano circled the Framingham right flank for a first down at the 35. In two lunges into the line West added another first down at the Framingham 45, and Derby got four on a reverse.

Provinzano picked a lateral from West off the ground and got four, then getting away off tackle for a first down at the 39. Derby added seven and West three for another first down at the 20.

On the next play West spun into the line, cut away from the secondary and throwing off several tacklers finally got over the Shore road goal line near the Winchester side of the field. Jackson converted with a perfect shot at placement.

Winchester narrowly missed another touchdown after the teams changed places for the second quarter. With the ball at the Winchester 33 Peter faded and shot off a pass on which Derby made a really great leaping catch, batting the ball down with one hand and whirling away from two tacklers to be spilled from behind at the Framingham 36 by a desperate falling clutch that knocked his feet from under him with a clean path to the goal line.

West picked up four and then spun through the line to lateral to Provinzano, Pete making a fine one-hand stop of the ball and reaching the 20 yard stripe. Here a lateral went askew and was recovered by Framingham, the half ending soon after.

Shortly before the end of the third quarter Winchester threatened again when Provinzano faded from his own 40 and rifled a pretty pass to Derby who was finally downed on the Framingham 15.

Here the locals tried some flossy stuff and finally lost the ball on the Framingham 23. Whittemore, however, immediately recovered a Framingham fumble at the 27, and a West to Provinzano lateral took the ball to the eight.

Here a fumble lost four and on second down Provinzano faded and tossed off a pass into the right flat that was intercepted by Benny Montenegro, Framingham quarter, who legged it straight down the sidelines.

West and Derby stood out in the Winchester backfield with Whittemore and Tibaud playing well on the local line. Big Bob Jackson, generally speaking, played a strong defensive game at end, but is naturally a bit uncertain on the offensive assignments of his new position and passed catching as yet. York and Montenegro were Framingham's stars. Following is the summary:

HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY RECORD AT STAKE

With only three of last year's varsity players in school this fall, Winchester High School's Girls' Hockey team has its work cut out for it if the excellent record established during the past years is to be maintained.

Capt. Cynthia Foote, Betsy Drake, and Ann Downer will form the nucleus of the new team. Many of last year's second team will step up to varsity positions. Coach Deborah Fenton has a big squad working out daily at Ginn Field in preparation for the opening game of the season with Medford on Oct. 10.

Following are the candidates: Letter members of last season's squad: First Team: Betsy Drake, Cynthia Foote, Ann Downer. Second Team: Doris Richardson, Peggy Carroll, Mary Lou Allen, Helen Elliott, Janet Davis, Sheryl Deane, Grace Fullerton, Anne Murray, Esther Cusano, Emma Duffett. Other candidates for consideration for positions: Nancy Barker, Polly Bourne, Barbara Bantell, Shirley Brackett, Ingrid Clark, Dorothy Carr, Dorothy Bolger, Edith Davis, Marilyn Drake, Marjorie Gentry, Mira Jones, Greta Davis, Helen Marshall, Howard Towelle, Lillian Charlotte, Laura Teresa, Miss Elmer, Mary Moore, Phyllis Russell, Claire Scullion, Barbara J. Smith, Frances Stratton, Elizabeth Sykes, Ruth Taylor, Virginia Terhune, Ann Thomson, Virginia Wallace, Anne Zamojski, Barbara Bowning, Polly Chapman, Nancy Dickson.

The needs of defense will occupy an important part in the Planning Conference of the Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards to be held in Boston, October 3.

HORSESHOE ASSOCIATION HAD FALL OPENING

The Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association had its annual opening of the fall season last week-end with an attendance that lacked only Stanley Willoughby Mobbs, perennial association champion who is now located permanently in California. Headed by the association's president, R. P. Teale, recently released from the pressure of his antique business at Provincetown, the turnout included the Secretary, back from vacation and even more off form than usual, Wild Willie McLaughlin, successor to the Mobbs crown; Roland Pridham, R. "Rodney" Walsh, Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine champion; Sherman Dodge, Jim Baldwin, Roy Winchester, Howard Witte and Larry Cooper.

Ideal weather lent zest to the competition and some closely contested games were recorded. Highlighting the session was the covering of a double ringer by R. Pridham during a real burst of fingeritis.

The feat occurred in a veritable clutch. Mr. Pridham and "Rodney" Walsh were opposing President Teale and the Secretary, the score was 22-21 in favor of the association "excess" and the game was the second of a three game series, of which the Pridham-Walsh duo had won the first.

It looked bad when the Secretary slapped on a double-header, but Mr. Pridham would not be denied and covered the shoes with two perfect winners that drew the applause even of his opponents.

The president and secretary finally won the game, but dropped the next one and the match when Mr. Pridham threw three double ringers, two in a row, and didn't fail to have one of his shoes on the stake every pitch.

Against such pitching, reinforced by some not too dusty tossing by "Rodney" Walsh, the President and Secretary were handcuffed and contented themselves with caustic criticism of each other's efforts with the shoes, to the great enjoyment of the gallery.

Champs of the session were "indubitably" McLaughlin and Walsh, Wild Willie being below his best form but still too good for the field. Federation of Planning Boards to be held in Boston, October 3.

State of Maine champ, who came up from the second court to scintillate for a bit and then faded when "Willie" put on the pressure.

There are many followers of Winchester High School football here, the Star who have been heartily acquainted of the hooping of visiting teams as they come into the Shore road gridiron by youngsters in the Winchester stands. We have developed this hooping of courtesy and sportsmanship in past seasons and heard with regret the undertone of hooping that mingled with the hooping cheer that greeted the Framingham boys as they appeared last Saturday. A year ago Winchester was welcomed with applause only as they entered into the fine Framingham stadium. As a matter of fact we cannot recall a rival gridiron where the locals have been hooped as they came into the field. Apparently hooping the opposing team before a game is strictly a Winchester custom. It surely is one that should be discarded and a little credit reflects upon a school or town so lacking in sportsmanship as to hoop those who are their athletic guests. Hooping seems definitely established in professional sport but has no place among amateurs, especially in Winchester which has always enjoyed a fine reputation for sportsmanship.

Individual complaints which have been received from time to time of the excessive speed of automobiles using the driveway on Manchester Field leading to town field were reinforced this week by another from Park Department employees who were especially concerned with the driving of one particular car, the number of which was given to the police. The fact that the operator of this machine turned out to be a Wakefield boy should by no means be taken to indicate that Winchester operators always drive as they should on the playground. Far from it. There have been many times when serious accidents at Winchester Field have missed death or injury more by good fortune than by any care exercised by the youthful operators who whirl about the track between the two fields. Apparently they do not stop for long at either playground and just why they chose the driveway leading to them as a place to demonstrate the speed of their machines and their own lack of driving judgment is hard to understand. Nearly all of them are youngsters, the "Hi Ho" and "Doozie Woogie" type. They should be brought up with a round turn by the authorities has been apparent for some time.

We suppose we should let our enthusiasm and patriotism ring out and chime in with our great rulers in Washington in adding our praise to their, the CWI and the CWI, for their sacrifice and assistance in our defense effort and their aid in preparing for the war. Somehow to the tune rings in our ears, and only time we are favoring at present the lullaby being tossed out to those patriots who are paying the price. Likewise we find it difficult to join in the Washington criticism of all industrialists. That tune holds no melody for us. We note with interest the great volume of strikes in our defense work, everyone delaying of the nation's preparedness for what is coming. That we should voice our praise for this delay is beyond our vivid imagination, although it seems to be a part of the new "American Order" and we suppose is an aid to the mystical process of making America fit to live in a new world. If a strike is struck and the government, in order to continue its work, takes it over. In the same paper we read of a congratulatory letter to labor from Navy officials. A great city plunged into darkness by a "quickie" strike and we read another letter of praise to labor from a Washington official. And accompanying all this praise we read constantly that our industrialists should wake up and get busy and do at least a little for defense. Outside the communitarian criticism there is no word but praise for labor. No one can blame labor for getting it while the getting is good. If our great rulers have decided to make the getting good, we apparently cannot help it—any more than we can stop this new "American Order." It calls us just as it calls those strikes reasonable in no less a degree the individual is a up technique. Caught on a dark night the Prometheus, belestrian, a man showed in his back and is relieved of his money. Caught with a rain order, the "firm" is left helpless until it yields to all demands. The technique evidently worked well in France until Mr. Hitler introduced more modern methods. Do you remember the price of the new program of France patterning its nation after the New Deal, and how high in French estimation the New Deal stood? France is not interested in the New Deal today. We believe in defense measures and in aid to those nations who are opposing Hitlerism. We would like to see our program forward and carried out with something besides the constant billion dollar appropriation. The only delay we have noted is the strikes so constant, if called. And so they are constant.

ly followed by another million dollars. No, we cannot chime in and sound the tocsin with our great rulers. We look at France and we look at America, and we wonder how much they differ. A Washington item reads that it has taken Mme. Perkins more than eight years to discover that the Communists in the Department of Labor. With this discovery she has discharged one of her industrial economists, accusing her of having tried to get one person in to work for the Communist Party and of being a member of various Communist organizations. If Mme. Perkins has not taken such steps of discovery, we might sing her praise—but who knows. Today's point seems to be rather how long and how many times it takes a man to discover the truth, not to throw together a few letters of praise and a glowing endorsement for his behavior in understanding the "American Order" means.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM ENGLAND

Winchester Rotary Receives Word From Namesake In Britain

The following letter from the Rotary Club of Winchester, England, was read at a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Winchester. From the English president, R. Sirhowy Jones, a former visitor and one who has occupied the pulpit in our Congregational Church, the letter holds much of interest.

To the President,
Rotary Club,
Winchester, Mass.

The Rotary Club of Winchester, Hants, England, sends greetings to the Rotary Club of Winchester, Mass., U. S. A.

Ours is not a numerous Club, but is representative of all the interests of this beautiful and historic city, the ancient Capital of England, dominated by the spirit of King Alfred the Great, whose monument with his massive figure keeps silent watch over us all.

The Bishop of Winchester is an honorary member, and one of the Canons represents the Cathedral, and the Head Master of our world renowned College represents the educational side of things, and all the leading trades and professions furnish their quota.

Rotary has an important part to play in the existing world conditions, and we rejoice in the numerous new points of contact opening in between the clubs of the U. S. A. and those of Britain. We were particularly interested in the recent conversations of the radio, the radio of the leading citizens of your city, and those of our own.

I had the pleasure of a personal visit to your town in October 1939, and of preaching at the First Congregational Church of which Dr. Chidley is the Minister, and met one or two members of your Club on that occasion and was greatly impressed by the charm and beauty of your surroundings, a lovely beautiful for situation is Winchester, Mass.

I am not going to speak about the War, except to say that for the past two months, things have been rather quiet here on the south coast of England, due to the fact that Hitler has been fully occupied on the Russian front. Of course, many of our own towns have been knocked out of recognition, but the spirit of our people is undaunted, and the will to win is stronger than ever. The restrictions of food rationing, and the curtailment of certain personal liberties are all borne cheerfully, and no one is really suffering anything like privation.

The War is not our seeking, but we here in Britain found that no other course was open to us, if we were going to save our soul and to care more for the preservation of human freedom and the Christian heritage than for life itself.

We are grateful for all the help the U. S. A. is giving us, and for the promise of much more to come. We have a deep-rooted conviction, that this terrific struggle which is going on, our cause is yours also.

When the War is over (and please God it may be sooner than appears possible at the present time) there will be great and difficult problems to be faced, which will demand all the best wisdom that the two great English speaking nations can bring to their solution.

We wish your Club all success, and your city every prosperity, and our prayer is God bless the United States of America.

With personal kind regards
Yours in Rotary,
R. Sirhowy Jones
(President)

WOBBURN HARRIERS IN 22-35 WIN

Winchester High opened its cross country season yesterday afternoon by losing to Woburn High over the 32 mile Woburn course, 35-22.

Campbell, who had an 11 second edge over Winchester's Briggs for first place, covering the course in 1m 13 sec. Winchester ran with 64 runners, including R. Plimmon, out with a strained tendon, and the meet surely would have been closer with him in action.

Following are the first 11 to finish:
1, Campbell, Wob.; 2, Briggs, Win.; 3, P. Pappas, Wob.; 4, Hawkes, Win.; 5, Norcross, Wob.; 6, G. Pappas, Wob.; 7, E. E. W. S. Whittey, Wob.; 8, Cullen, Wob.; 9, Parker, Win.; 10, Duffing, Win.

Winchester runs its next meet next week, Thursday with Melrose over the home course.

SETS NEW QUALIFYING MARK AT COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. Bead's 75 New Qualifying Record in Women's Championship

Mrs. Warren Bead of Charles River set a new qualifying record in the 424 state women's golf championship at the Winchester Country Club Monday when she covered the tricky local course in a three-under-par 75, her card being seven strokes better than that of Mrs. Donald M. Belcher of Worcester, the runner-up. The occasion marked the fourth time Mrs. Bead, three times State title holder, has won the qualifying medal.

The Charles River entrant played not but perfect golf to hang up her new record which, incidentally, erased her own old mark of 79 and shaved four strokes from the women's record for the local links. Her card follows:

Par: 82
1 5 5 5 4 1 3 4 3 2 38
Mr. Bead: 4 5 5 4 1 3 4 3 2 38
Mr. Bead: 5 1 5 5 3 1 1 5 5 10 78
Mr. Bead: 1 2 2 2 2 1 1 1 37 25

Among those who qualified for match play in the championship were three Winchester golfers, Mrs. Donald M. Belcher, former State title and Winchester club champion, who was fourth with a 10-15 85; Mrs. A. C. Buffum and Miss Adelaide Homer, both of whom had 95's. This year was the first time either Mrs. Buffum or Miss Homer had made the championship division. Winchester's outstanding for the second flight was Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Jr. 96; and Mrs. Phil Hendrick, 100. Third flight qualifiers were Mrs. A. M. Kimball, 102; Mrs. Maurice F. Brown, 101; and Mrs. J. B. Cecil, 105. Qualifying for the fourth flight was Mrs. C. E. Eaton with 109.

All three of Winchester's entrants were eliminated in the first round of match play in the championship division. Mrs. Belcher losing 6 and 4 to Mrs. Thelma Whitcomb of Dedham, Mrs. Buffum losing to Dorothy Sullivan of Charles River, 7 and 5, and Miss Homer losing to Nancy Bailey of Marshfield, 4 and 3.

In the second flight both Mrs. Farnsworth and Mrs. Hendrick went out in the first round, the former losing to Mrs. Warren Bead of Charles River, 3 and 2, and the latter, to Mrs. C. P. Eaton, Jr. of the Country Club, 7 and 5.

Mrs. Cecil won her first round match in the third flight from Mrs. Walter Cosgrove of Green Hill, 2 up, and Mrs. Kimball, was another winner, 7 and 6, from Mrs. M. W. Wirth of Tedesco. Mrs. Brown was eliminated in this flight and round, 5 and 3, by Mrs. T. W. Hodges of Tedesco.

In the first round competition of the fourth flight, Mrs. Christopher Hough of Tedesco put out Mrs. Emerson, 4 and 3.

Mrs. Cecil Second Round Winner
Mrs. Cecil was Winchester's sole representative to survive the second round of play. Winning her match in the third flight from Harriet Curtis of Essex, 2 up, Mrs. Kimball boxed out in this round and flight, losing to Mrs. G. B. Snow of Grand View in a closely contested match, 2 and 1.

CONSOLATIONS

In the championship flight, Miss Homer won from Mrs. Belcher in the first round by default, Mrs. Buffum being defeated by Margaret Jackson of Charles River, 3 and 2. Mrs. Farnsworth and Mrs. Hendrick were defeated in the first round of the second flight consolation respectively by Mrs. L. F. Ross of Oak Hill, 2 up, and by Mrs. R. G. Stone of The Country Club, 3 and 2. Mrs. Brown won from Mrs. B. M. Berry of Wellesley in the first round consolation of the third flight, 3 and 6.

MISS BRUNO AND HILLS TOWN MIXED DOUBLES CHAMPS

Dottie Bruno and her fiancé, Arthur Hills, won the Winchester mixed doubles championship for 1941 last week-end by winning in the final bracket from Helen Carroll, state junior doubles champ, and Window Nutter, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4.

Miss Bruno, former Winchester High captain and Radcliffe student, and Hills, a student at Dartmouth, had to come from behind in both sets as Miss Carroll and Nutter jumped to three game leads. Once they got going, however, they took command of the situation and their victory was convincing.

Miss Carroll and Nutter entered the final round by defeating Mary Keyes and Alfred Pennell Thursday evening in a postponed match, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

In women's singles Miss Carroll is a finalist, having defeated Miss Keyes in the only semi-final match played thus far.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Several outstanding books pertaining to specialized fields have been added to the shelves of the Winchester Public Library.

"Marketing" by four authorities on the subject, Ralph Alexander, Frank Surface, Robert Elder, Arne Alderson, is divided into four parts: 1) The Work of Marketing, 2) The Business Establishments Which do the Work of Marketing, 3) Problems of Marketing Management, 4) Planning Marketing Activities, 5) The Consumer's taste in the Marketing System.

An invaluable volume for students as well as for the general reader is the new "Oxford Companion to American Literature," written by James D. Hart and published by the Oxford University Press. Alphabetically arranged, this big book includes information about authors and publishers, gives summaries of books, poems and plays, and covers a variety of other subjects related to American literature.

With European travel an impossibility, Mexico, along with other little known places of this hemisphere, has become a popular place for American tourists. Consequently, interest in Mexican art, both ancient and modern, is more acute now than previously. "Twenty Centuries of Mexican Art" published by the New York Museum of Modern Art in collaboration with the Mexican Government is one of the most comprehensive books of its kind yet prepared.

An analytical treatment of labor problems, "Economics of Labor" by Richard Lester of Duke University, was prepared especially as a college text book so makes easy reading for everyone. Giving the historical background in both England and America, this book includes phases of the labor market, the labor relations act, information about the National Labor Relations Board, unemployment, organization of unions, workman's compensations, and collective bargaining.

"Modern Plastics Catalog" published this year by the Brecken Publishing Corporation is a record of the progress and research work in plastics. The catalog includes three valuable charts, Plastics properties, Plasticizers, and Solvents.

Prunes and Plums
All prunes are plums, though not all plums do for prunes. A prune may be any variety of plum which can be successfully cured without removing the pit, thus those varieties which have a large proportion of solids are considered good prunes. In some kinds of plums a fermentation occurs around the pit in the process of drying.

MRS. INGER S. McADAMS

Mrs. Inger S. McAdams, a resident of Winchester for the past 10 years, died Saturday morning, Sept. 20, at her home, 69 Woodside road, after a long illness.

Mrs. McAdams was 70 years old and a native of Denmark. As a young woman she came to this country and in 1901, came to Winchester from Woburn, making her home here ever since. She was a member of the Second Congregational Church and of its Bethany Society and also of the Danish Sisterhood Society of Woburn.

Surviving are two sons, Ralph of Winchester and Robert of Boston; a daughter, Miss Clarissa McAdams of Waltham; three brothers, Carl and Peter Paulsen of Woburn, and Christian Paulsen of Newark, N. J.; a sister, Mrs. Caroline Stockholm of Woburn, and a grandson, David McAdams of this town.

The funeral service was held Monday afternoon at the Second Congregational Church with the pastor, Rev. Charles L. Noyes officiating. Burial was in Woodbrook Cemetery, Woburn.

OPEN HOUSE AT CURRY SCHOOL

Parents who wish to further their child's education, young people who feel ill at ease at social functions, adults who would like recreation or perhaps desire serious study, must all realize that they cannot be brought through a standard mould. All have problems peculiar to themselves and must be treated as individuals. It is for this reason that the Curry School of Dancing is having open house this Saturday and is cordially inviting everyone interested to attend, whether they are registering for classes or not. This will give people the opportunity of meeting the faculty, all recognized authorities in their line, and discussing with them in a friendly, informal way any questions they may have concerning dance and dance training.

The doors of 76 Hillside avenue, Arlington Heights, will be open morning and afternoon the 27th (this Saturday) to any who may wish to attend.

Harvard was the first college founded in English-speaking America; the grammar school at Dedham was the first school supported wholly by taxation; Boston Latin School was the first Latin grammar school in America, and the Commonwealth was the first to demand that parents educate their children and to require public officials to enforce the laws.

WINCHESTER 4-H CLUB MEMBERS RECEIVED PRIZES

Fourteen Winchester 4-H Club members received prizes at the annual vegetable and flower exhibit of the Winchester 4-H Garden Club, according to an announcement of the prize awards made by George E. Erickson, County 4-H agent.

The exhibit, held the latter part of last week at the Winton Hardware Store in Winchester center, featured consecutive displays of vegetables and flowers grown by the club members during the past summer.

Mary and Martin Greaney, of 410 Cross street carried off highest honors with a display of carrots, celery, tomatoes and peppers. Second place honors went to Vito and Joseph Gleason of 33 Oak street, and to Jane DeToro of 19 Olive street.

Others receiving cash awards included: Frank Dattilo of 36 Chester street; Peter Agri of 152 Swanton street; Joseph Amico of 3 Spruce street; William Haggerty of 33 Hemlock street; Richard Brazeau of 151 Swanton street; Frances Canone of 51 Spruce street; Sebastian Faciolo of 2 Tremont street; Frederick Kimball of 33 Westley street; William Nash of 50 Nelson street; Catherine Michienzi of 124 Swanton street; and Jean Michienzi of 32 Chester street.

Twenty-five Winchester young people are enrolled in 4-H club work under the leadership of Richard E. Glendon of 4 Ware road, Harvard University student, and Dean Duncan of Pine Grove park, employed at the Winchester Cooperative Bank.

4-H Club work is a program of agricultural and homemaking projects carried on by boys and girls with the cooperation of the United States Department of Agriculture, Massachusetts State College, and the Middlesex County Extension Service.

FORNIGHTLY NOTE

The clubwomen's season will open this year with the New England Clubwomen's Clubs to be held at the Hotel Biltmore, Providence, R. I., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1. "Democracy—Our Heritage and Our Trust" is the theme of the People, by the People, and for the People will be the keynote.

At the opening session on Monday afternoon the committee on industry and agriculture will give their prospects, the subject being "The Function of Industry and Agriculture in the Defense of Freedom."

On Tuesday forenoon the report on highway beautification will be given, and awards presented to every club completing a project. There will be a talk on "The Place of Arts in Today's World" under the direction of the committees on art, music and literature, and a report on "Mothercraft."

Tuesday afternoon the presidents' round table will consider "Foundations of Democracy Which We Must Guard." The following phases of the subject "Faith," "Religion," "Health," "United We Stand," "Education," and "Youth" will be discussed by the various state presidents.

On Tuesday evening, Sept. 30, there will be a reception honoring Mrs. John L. Whitworth and Mrs. La Foll Dickinson, president and first vice president, respectively of the General Federation; also the officers of the New England Conference and the State Federation presidents. This will be followed by a dinner and address by Mrs. Whitehurst in which she will outline how the clubwomen through the United States, numbering more than 2,000,000, are being mobilized into a vast and impressive army of defense.

At the Wednesday morning meeting the chairman of education and American citizenship will report on "Training in the Defense of Freedom."

On the following day, Oct. 2, the first Club Institute will be held at the Boston Y. W. C. A. At this time luncheon reservations may be made for the fall Federation meeting at Northampton, Wednesday, Oct. 15.

PAINTINGS IN TEMPERA AT ART GALLERY

The Winchester Art Association is showing a unique group of paintings this month in its gallery at the Public Library. The exhibit is of decorative flower paintings done in tempera, an interesting process of measured color done directly on silk and cotton cloth as well as on paper. The cloth in this instance came from old Salem.

Mr. Harold E. Lindgreen, present director of Boston's Vesper George School of Design, is the artist of the current exhibition. Although Mr. Lindgreen is a young man, he is already considered an authority in the field of design, and his paintings in tempera are excellent examples of his talent.

The Winchester exhibit has 36 paintings of varied types, many in subdued tones, with a few flaunting brilliant blues, yellows and copper tones. One painting is of a large graceful spray of mock orange, white with yellow-brown centers against a shaded grey background; another, a single branch of forsythia, showing the different shadings of yellow, from the bright sun tone of the open flowers to the darker, wheat shade of the closed blossoms.

Appropriate for the autumn season is a spreading group of zinnias mixed with ageratum, the orange and deep rose colorings of the zinnias contrasting with the intense blue of the ageratum.

Several paintings use blues and yellows—one with the soft hues—a group of daffodils and acacia, both of pale yellow, mixed with delicate blue delphinium and dead-spring narcissus, while still another has the vivid violet-blue platycodon and warm yellow hemerocallis.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The regular fall meeting of the May State Historical League will be held in the Plymouth Antiquarian Society on Saturday, Oct. 18, at Plymouth.

Members of the League have been invited by the Brook Farm Centennial Committee to visit Brook Farm at 670 Baker street, West Roxbury, Saturday, Oct. 1 at 1:30 p. m. and to attend the commemorative exercises at 3 p. m. at the Robert Gould Shaw School, Mt. Vernon street, West Roxbury. Prof. Arthur E. Boster of Columbia University is to be the speaker.

MORE THAN 60 DOGS INOCULATED

Sixty-eight dogs were inoculated Monday at the first fall clinic held for this purpose in the basement of the town hall.

Dr. William Buckley, veterinarian, was assisted in handling the dogs by Miss Hilda Hope, health nurse, Miss Barbara Goodkin, Windever Robinson and Verner Carson. There was plenty of action and not a little human interest stuff on tap at the town hall during the session.

THRIFT SHOP OPENING

October 6, 10 a. m.
The Winchester Thrift Shop begins its tenth year of service on Oct. 6, 10 a. m.
This organization, built on fair dealing, closes out a decade of unusual helpfulness to Winchester and surrounding towns. Those who have clothing no longer needed or household furniture should get in touch with the shop without delay. Each article donated brings warmth or service to some needy person. Do you bit at home as well as abroad by standing by the Thrift Shop. Articles called for, Win. 0920.

WINCHESTER GIRL EXTENS OAK GROVE SCHOOL

With students from England to Honolulu and from the Canadian Provinces to Venezuela, Miss Ann Murray was welcomed to Oak Grove School for Girls in Maine at the formal reception given Saturday evening by the faculty to the students.

Miss Murray, who has been a student at the Brimmer-May School, is the daughter of Mrs. James O. Murray of Crescent road. She was among the group invited to the country home of Principal and Mrs. Owen, which is a favorite rendezvous for Oak Grove students each week-end.

RETURNED TO MacMURRAY COLLEGE

Miss Gladys Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lowe, 166 Highland avenue, has returned to MacMurray College at Jacksonville, Ill., where she will be a member of the junior class.

MacMurray College is in its 36th year with an estimated enrollment of about 630 students, the largest in its history.
This year for the first time MacMurray College is inaugurating a course in the training of students for teachers of the deaf. This plan of deaf training is worked out in cooperation between MacMurray College and the Illinois School for the Deaf, also located in Jacksonville. This year also marks the opening of the new Henry Pfeiffer Memorial Library for the first collegiate year, and it is the first year that the college will have available the income from the two and a half million dollar endowment gift which was made last spring by Mr. James E. MacMurray of South Pasadena, Calif.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTES

The school department cordially invites all parents of children in the first grade in Winchester schools to attend a meeting to be held at the Wymann School on Tuesday, Sept. 30 at 2 o'clock.
The discussion will deal with first steps in reading. $19-21

MEDFORD JOINS THE GREATER BOSTON COMMUNITY FUND

Harold S. Fuller of Winchester, chairman of the Metropolitan Committee of the Greater Boston Community Fund (left), and Judge Lawrence G. Brooks, president of the Medford Community Chest, as Medford joined the Greater Boston Community Fund this week, making a total of 12 local chests that have united in central financing of health, hospital and social service agencies throughout the metropolitan area during the past four years.

The Medford Community Chest this week joined the Greater Boston Community Fund, making a total of 12 local chests that have united in central financing of health, hospital and social service agencies throughout the metropolitan area in the past four years.

In making the announcement, Harold S. Fuller of Winchester, chairman of the Fund's Metropolitan Committee, said: "The cooperation of the Medford Community Chest as a member of the Greater Boston Community Fund gives added strength and vigor in carrying out our responsibilities for social planning and united financing throughout the entire metropolitan area."

James Nowell, president of the Winchester Community Chest, in welcoming Medford, said, "I am pleased that the Medford Community Chest has joined the Greater Boston Community Fund. The Greater Boston Community Fund and the Medford Community Chest are greatly strengthened because of this united effort and the benefits to both organizations will be many."

In joining the Greater Boston Community Fund, Medford will share the responsibility and benefits with Arlington, Belmont, Cambridge, Dedham, Hingham, Lexington, Needham, Newton, Watertown, Wellesley and Winchester—all of which are members of the Greater Boston Community Fund.

The member agencies of the Medford Community Chest which will benefit from participation in the Greater Boston Community Fund are: Medford District Fell-Land Council, Boy Scouts of America; Medford Visiting Nurse Association; Medford Council Girl Scouts of America; Medford home for Aged Men and Women; and St. Joseph's Conference, St. Vincent de Paul Society.

THE PARTY THAT WASN'T THERE

The telephone can ring and ring at most inconvenient times. Sometimes it takes a while to untangle yourself from whatever you're doing.

But when you get to the telephone as fast as you possibly can only to find that the party isn't there any more... well, it is exasperating.

Of course, your feeling is that whoever it was might have had a little more patience.

But if you stop to reflect a moment, you'll admit that it's no fun holding on to a telephone... waiting for someone to get around to answering it.

We just mention both sides of this familiar situation as a suggestion to both parties that a little more patience when calling someone on the telephone and a little more promptness in answering the telephone will save everybody a lot of time and needless irritation.

You see... we're rather in the middle in this matter.

COORDINATED CIVIL DEFENSE PLANS SET

Red Cross and OCD Announce Plan For Protecting Civilians

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Plans for coordinated efforts in protecting the nation's civilian population in event of an emergency were outlined here in a joint statement issued by Chairman Norman H. Davis, of the American Red Cross, and Fiorello La Guardia, director of the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense.

The statement embraces a six-point plan of coordination which will guide local Red Cross chapters and Councils of Civilian Defense in working out preparedness programs in rescue work, emergency medical care and training of civilians for volunteer jobs.

Facilities of Red Cross disaster relief for the mass feeding, shelter, medical and nursing care will be placed at the disposal of the OCD and its Councils, according to the agreement.

The statement follows:

"1. The Office of Civilian Defense is the official government agency to assure effective coordination of Federal relations with State and local governments engaged in defense activities, to provide for necessary cooperation with State and local governments in respect to measures for adequate protection of the civilian population in emergency periods, to facilitate constructive civilian participation in the defense program, and to sustain national morale."

"2. The American National Red Cross is the responsible agency for relief of suffering caused by disaster both in peace time and in the national defense emergency, by providing food, clothing, shelter, medical and nursing care and other basic necessities. Therefore, Red Cross Disaster Relief Service, nationally and in local chapters, will serve in emergency care and rehabilitation of individuals and families suffering from disaster caused by belligerent action during the national defense emergency."

gency in cooperation with governmental agencies—national, state, and local. In rescue work and emergency medical service caused by belligerent action for which the Office of Civilian Defense assumes leadership and responsibility, the Red Cross will make its services available as needed.

"3. The Red Cross acts as a medium of communication between the people of the United States of America and their Army and Navy. Cases of active service and ex-service men and their families should be referred to the Red Cross which is responsible for providing or securing the service and assistance needed. In carrying out these services the Red Cross makes maximum use of other community resources.

"4. Training of Office of Civilian Defense workers in first aid and nurses' aide service is provided by the Red Cross through its programs of training in first aid and nurses' aide courses. The recognized service of the Red Cross in training industrial workers and others in first aid is drawn upon.

"5. The Red Cross, through its Chairman as a member of the Civilian Protection Board, has made available all of its services as needed by the Office of Civilian Defense, both national and local.

"6. Councils of Defense and Red Cross Chapters in their civilian defense activities should develop their local plans of cooperation in accord with this joint statement of responsibility."

"INCHESTER MT. HOLYOKE CLUB

The Winchester Mt. Holyoke Club takes great pleasure in announcing that not only is Alice Dixon Bond to give her annual series of book talks in Winchester but that she will be able to give her usual course of six talks.

Because of increasingly widespread emergency, Mrs. Bond's series are becoming more difficult to secure. The committee is happy to announce the following dates as those of Mrs. Bond's talks: Oct. 7, Nov. 4, Dec. 9, Jan. 6, March 3, April 7. As in other years the talks will be given in the Winchester Library Hall at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Those attending these meetings will not only reap a reward of enjoyment and knowledge but they will enable some Winchester girl to receive a scholarship from the hands of the Winchester Mt. Holyoke Group.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Mystic School Chapter

The Mystic School Chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association is to have its annual reception for the teachers in the school auditorium on Monday evening, the 29th of September at 8 o'clock.

It's an informal affair and one which both parents and teachers should very enjoy.

ANNOUNCING THE NEW 1942 Pontiac Sixes AND Eights*

New streamlined Sedan Coupe in Pontiac's lowest-priced line.

- Triple-Cushioned Ride—even further improved—is still yours in 1942.
- New Bodies by better equal in quality—even exceed in beauty those of any previous Pontiac.
- Vital engine parts—pistons, bearings, connecting rods and crankshafts—are unchanged for 1942.
- For even easier handling, travel of the rear-shock lever has been reduced 30 per cent.
- While riding comfort has been improved by greater over-all length and weight, gas and oil economy is the same.
- For 1942 Pontiac front-wheel brakes have been increased in size and all four brakes are now triple-sealed against dust, dirt and water.

*ONLY $25 MORE FOR AN EIGHT IN ANY MODEL!

Proud To Be Doing Our Part

Pontiac is doing its part for National Defense by building a new type of rapid-fire cannon for the United States Navy. Two complete plants have been devoted to the exclusive manufacture of these cannon. Thousands of skilled craftsmen have been trained to operate the highly technical machines. Over two hundred sub-contracts have been awarded in order to get necessary materials in the shortest possible time. Of course, this means building fewer cars—but Pontiac places defense work ahead of everything else.

SURPRISINGLY ADVANCED in style and luxury, the new Pontiac Sixes or Eights for 1942 today come sweeping into the spotlight resplendently new in appearance, but still the same fine, faithful Pontiac in time-tried quality.

Two series of new Pontiacs include ten widely varied models—among them a Sedan Coupe in the lower-priced series.

New features are many. And in every instance, they represent actual improvement resulting from progress in design. We invite you to come in now to give these new Pontiacs your most thorough and critical inspection. You will find Pontiac today, more than ever, the Fine Car with the Low Price!
